Will Abolish Tax Adjusters-Registrars

Brandon's Plans Call For Wholesale Lopping Off, It Is Understood.

(From Montgomery Advertiser)

The sexton of the official cemetery has been notified to prepare two graves to receive the official bodies of tax adjuster and county registrar. They will sleep beside the remains of the State Board of Control and Economy. These patients are ill nigh unto death and all hope has been given up. This information is gleaned through a careful sifting of gossip regarding the plans of Governor-elect Brandon. The Governor-elect promised the people of Alabama if elected that his aim would be to abolish the tax adjuster. It is said that it has also been decided that the county registrars must also get the axe.

The abolition of the adjuster will catch 69 men who are now on the official pay roll. The abolition of the registrars will catch a great many more than the figure just named. Every county has one or more registrars. Montgomery county, for insiance has three. The combined heads which fall into the basket of economy will number more than 160.

It is understood that the county tax assessors will assume the duties of the tax adjuster. It is further understood that when the probate judge assumes the duties of county registrar, that his office can be used on any day of the year for the purpose of registering new voters whereas at the present time registration only takes place at certain intervals in many counties.

The news of the desperate illness and approaching dissolution of the county registrar will probably cause many a tear to be shed, it is said, among the newly made women voters. It is the county registrar who has opened the gates and sent the new woman voter on her ways to the polls. Naturally it is said, there is a certain amount of sentiment among the women for the registrars, but the probate judge could have served the women in registering them just as well as the registrar.

Wrapped securely in the bosom of the governor-elect is the plan of taxation after the adjuster goes. In the present system, the adjuster is the backbone. Carefully sifted gossip gives the impression that the governor-elect will retain the idea of a central [illegible] commission. It is also gleaned that the state commission will in some measure retain the power to make equalization of taxes in the event that the assessor should fail to secure an equitable valuation. This could be done by a state commission staff who could check the assessor's valuations and if found too low in any county further adjustment could follow. The governor-elect, his friends say, can be depended upon to submit a plan which will insure revenue for the affairs of the state.

A number of names have been mentioned for places on the new state tax commission. Gossip says that a fourth member may be added to look carefully after such matters as automobile licenses. The volume of money received from this source has become large and its collection means much to the state. It would surprise no one if Judge Louis Herzberg of Gadsden becomes chairman of the new state tax commission. Judge Herzberg has made an enviable record as probate judge of Etowah county. He is a man of broad vision, business acumen and well versed in questions of taxation. The news that he is to become the head of the new commission will give pleasure, Judge Brandon's friends say to the citizens of the state. Frank Marquis of Dora, one of Judge Brandon's most active supporters, both in 1918 and 1922 will be a member of the new commission. Mr. Marquis was a member of the state tax commission during Governor Henderson's administration and will bring to the new board, experience and knowledge which will be invaluable.

Who will be the other two members of the new state tax commission? Gossip [illegible], but it is gossip only and not worth attention because absolutely unverified. That they will be men measuring up to the standard of Judge Herzberg and Mr. Marquis, the governor-elect's friends predict.

The governor-elect, his friends say intends to keep faith with the people. He promised the abolition of the adjuster and so did a vast majority of successful aspirants for the legislature. Therefore it is stated that the governor-elect will have no trouble in carrying out this part of his program. The governor-elect promised economy in government wherever it could be secured without crippling the affairs of the state. That he will present a plan to the legislature which will keep Alabama moving forward, his friends are certain. He knows the affairs of the state, having served in state offices as well as county offices. It is said that he realizes that revenue must come if progress is continued and this revenue will be forthcoming without further burden on the property owner.

A Watermelon For New Year's Day

The Union-Banner force was given a very unusual treat new year's day when Mr. Thomas Powell, of Beat 16, presented us with a perfectly good watermelon.

We are now even with our friend Monroe Parrish who got a watermelon off the Christmas tree at Providence in 1921. "Mun" was evidently on the watch for another melon this Christmas, as he told us last week that it failed to show up on the tree. But he was still a little suspicious. Something must have told him that the watermelon was in the community, even though he failed to find it in his sock which he hung up for Santa Claus.

The fact that Mr. Parrish arrived at The Union-Banner office a few minutes behind the watermelon caused us to think that he was watching very closely for it. He evidently had the straight dope on the melon, for as he came into our door he had his big pocket knife open and a great smile played on his face just like those good old summer time smiles that are produced when a fellow is going down through the corn field and finds a big juicy fellow hid in the tall grass by the side of an old stump. Of course you all know how a fellow looks then as he draws his knife and prepares to "set in." That was just the way "Mun" looked when he came in our office new year's day.

But when we remembered how he treated us last year by eating his Xmas melon and not offering us a piece of it we just told him there was nothing doing.

If we can find a time when Mr. Parrish is not "stickin' around" we are going to cut it and have a new year's watermelon feast, something we have never had before.

The Union-Banner boys are indeed grateful to Mr. Powell for so kindly remembering us with this unique gift.

Harris-Harris Wedding

"Mrs. Sarah King announces the marriage of her daughter, Ora Lee Harris, to Mr. Cecil Ernest Harris, on Wednesday, the twenty-seventh of December, 1922, Heidleberg, Miss. At home Raymond, Miss."

Mr. Harris is a Chilton county young man, the son of our esteemed citizen, Mr. Henry Harris, and a brother of Messrs. H. A., Grover and Grady Harris. He taught in the schools of Chilton county for several years. About three years ago he went to Mississippi to win himself a place in the educational system of that state, taking up the principalship of the Raymond Consolidated School.

Besides winning his place in the educational system over in our neighbor state, we are not surprised that he has also won himself a place in the heart of one of the fair daughters of his adopted home.

The Union-Banner extends congratulations and best wishes.

POTENTIAL WEALTH

In all the propaganda from Europe and from American internationalists, we find not one word on the subject of British and French accessions of former German territory in Africa. When they are clamoring so hard for the United States to pay, directly or indirectly, the German reparations, why not make some allowance for the immense wealth, of future potentiality, secured by the Allies as a result of the war? Let our American Europomaniacs at least have the common honesty to tell all the truth.

U. F. of A. Meeting at Cane Creek

The people are invited to come out to Cane Creek, Friday night, Jan. 5th, and hear what the U. F. of A. has for them. We have something good for the people if they will but come out to hear what it is. Mr. John Parrish will address the crowd. Mr. Parrish has been in U. F. of A. quite awhile and he can tell you people something that will be worth listening at.

Mr. Parrish was a member in time to sell what he raised this year, so he can tell you people what good the U. F. of A. has done the people.

Yours truly,
VIRGIL SMITH,
Local Business Agent.

PAY ENVELOPE AND HARVEST RECEIPTS

According the statistics compiled by officials of the Department of Agriculture, the purchasing power of the farmer is now only 2 per cent above the 1921 level. That is to say, what the farmer has to sell will buy only 2 per cent more than it would in 1921. The reason for this is plain—the prices of things the farmer must buy have not come down from war prices in proportion to the decline in prices of what the farmer sells. The farmer is getting many times five per cent less for his labor than he got during the war. If the leaders of the new Farm-Labor Party can work out some plan to equalize the incomes of farmers and city laborers, the agricultural community ought to be duly thankful.

A Tribute To The Newspapers

The Union-Banner is very favorably impressed with what we regard as a most worthy tribute to the newspapers of Alabama, which comes from the Alabama Power Company, as follows:

"The Alabama Power Company believes in patronizing those who contribute to the progress and prosperity of Alabama. The press—daily and weekly—is the greatest contributo this progress. The press deserves the unstinted support, moral and financial, of every other contributing factor.

The Alabama Power Company uses printers' ink, because it believes this to be the quickest and surest way to get its messages to the people. The press takes the message into the home, around the fireside, and into the family circle. The press is the only medium offering this service. Through this medium we send our messages—not along the highways."

The above is the expression of the Alabama Power Company in an advertisement in the holiday number of "...pressa," the official organ of the ... Press Association, published ...town Newspaper Union. ... this great and pow... for the sound and ... which it takes of ... newspapers of State of Alabama, Chilton County.

I, L. H. Reynolds, Judge of Probate, in and for Chilton County, Alabama, do hereby certify that the above and foregoing is a true and correct list of the Pensioners in this county, as is shown by records in this office.

L. H. REYNOLDS,
Judge of Probate.

This the 2nd day of January, 1923.

Miss Clara Petersen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Petersen, spent the holidays with her parents and among Thorsby friends. She brought with her as aguest one of her companions in the office where she is employed. They returned to Birmingham Monday.

Captain Schroeder, of Birmingham, a retired U. S. Army officer, paid a visit to Captain and Mrs. Hutchinson at their home in Thorsby holiday week.

Mr. Sumner Gerald, having spent the holidays with his mother, Mrs. Hattie M. Gerald, and his sisters, Agnes, Ruth, Mary Ella and Iola, as well as a host of Thorsby friends, left Monday night to return to Piedmont College at Demorest, Georgia, where he will graduate next June.

Severe Indigestion

"I had very severe attacks of indigestion," writes Mr. M. H. Wade, a farmer, of R. F. D. 1, Weir, Miss. "I would suffer for months at a time. All I dared eat was a little bread and butter. . . consequently I suffered from weakness. I would try to eat, then the terrible suffering in my stomach! I took medicines, but did not get any better. The druggist recommended and I decided to try it, for, as I say, I had tried others for two or more years without any improvement in my health. I soon found the Black-Draught was acting on my liver and easing the terrible pain.

"In two or three weeks, I found I could go back to eating. I only weighed 123. Now I weigh 147—eat anything I want to, and by taking Black-Draught I do not suffer."

Have you tried Thedford's Black-Draught? If not, do so today.

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager)

The annual Christmas exercises of the Lutheran Sunday school, were held at the church Tuesday night, December 26th. A pleasing program was rendered consisting of recitations by the little folks, interspersed with music by the choir and several selections by an orchestra of home talent.

After the conclusion of the program there was a distribution to each member of the school, and some others, of fruit and bags of nuts and candy.

Mr. Robert Carlson gave a rook party on Thursday night, Dec. 28th, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Carlson. Among the guests were Messrs. Nels and Martin Nelson, Waldemir Lefstead, Geo. Johnson, Misses Ena Grenn, Mabel Howard, Anna and Inga Erdahl, Beatrice Johnson and Clara Peterson.

The Misses Anna and Inga Erdahl entertained Friday night, Dec. 30th. Progressive rook was the principal feature of amusement. Those present were Misses Agnes, Ruth and Mary Ella Gerald, Beatrice Johnson, Clara Peterson, Messrs. Robert Carlson, Waldemar Lefstead, Sumner Gerald, George Johnson.

Mrs. Speer, of Wetumpka, was the guest of Mrs. William Billingsley during the holidays.

Walter Petersen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Petersen, arrived home last Monday night after having served a two years enlistment term in the U. S. navy and a few weeks visit among friends in Iowa and elsewhere.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thompson, of Lock 12, spent several hours among Thorsby friends new year's day.

A notable event of this week was the annual dinner at the Congregational Church, provided by the Ladies' Aid Society, and which for many years has preceded, by an hour or more, the annual business meeting of the Church Society on the first Wednesday of each year. This dinner is given to members of the Church and Sunday school and to all others who consider this church as their place of worship, and contribute to its support. A sort of "Family gathering where the lines are not too strictly drawn." This year was no exception and the house was well filled with members and friends of the church and Sunday school who thoroughly enjoyed the social hour. At the business meeting which followed, the reports of officers of the church and affiliated societies showed the past to have been a very prosperous year which closed with all bills paid and money in the treasury.

Misses Helen C. Jenkins, Emily B. Ellsworth, Lois Leech and Catherine Perry returned, happy but very tired, from their holiday trip to New Orleans and other places of interest. They took the trouble to see as much as possible of the Southern metropolis which now stands next to New York as the greatest seaport of this country, and to note the great work, recently done and still in progress, for improvement of harbor facilities, also the wide and well kept streets, and splendid buildings of the newer quarter of the city. At Mobile they were guests of our Miss Agnes Leary in the beautiful suburban home of her uncle and aunt, Saltsman.

Mr. Waldemar Lefstead left Monday for Birmingham Southern College where he is in the Junior class.

The Congregational Ladies' Aid Society will be entertained Thursday afternoon of this week at the home of Mrs. Chas. S. Peterson.

Constipation

Constipation of the bowels is a stoppage of the sewerage system that removes waste matter from the body. It is as necessary that your bowels move regularly once each day, to carry off this waste, as it is that the waste pipes of your home be kept open and carry off the waste from the house. If you would enjoy good health, keep your bowels regular by taking Chamberlain's Tablets when needed.

RELIGIOUS SURVEY IS COMPLETED AT U. OF A.

Survey Reveals That 60 Per Cent Are Active Members of Religious Organizations at University.

University, Ala.—Completion of a survey of student activities at the University of Alabama during the first half of the present school session has revealed that more than 1,200 of the 1,950 students, or approximately 60 per cent, are active members of Sunday school and Bible study classes, and that the most prominent students are the leaders in the religious activities of the institution. In addition to the 1,200 students in the various Bible classes at Tuscaloosa churches and on the college campus, many others are active in student branches of organizations which combine religious training with social service and welfare work.

The results of the survey have just been announced by Dr. George H. Denny, president of the University, whose influence has consistently been used toward faculty an student participation in the work of religious organizations. Dr. Denny was instrumental in having the survey made, and he declared that its results were gratifying, in that they indicated the maintenance of standards at the State University which compare favorably with those of any college in the South.

"This record has been made in spite of innumerable handicaps," Dr. Denny said, "chief among which have been the lack of adequate dormitories and of an auditorium large enough to accommodate all of the students at religious convocations. The survey revealed that a larger proportion of the students living in the dormitories were members of Bible classes and religious societies than of those scattered here and there in boarding houses, those living away from the campus being to a certain extent out of touch with the organizations.

"The survey also revealed more clearly than ever before the need of a student religious building, which would be the center of student life. The building in which the student Y. M. C. A. is located and where many of the societies hold their meetings is old, poorly equipped for the purpose and by no means large enough. Construction of dormitories and a social religious building occupy a prominent place in the building program which the University hopes to be able to carry through with funds obtained from the Million Dollar campaign."

E. F. Allison, president of the Allison Lumber Company, Bellamy, Ala., entertained, for a second time this year, about 100 of his friends at a deer hunt on his famous game preserve on Dec. 26. All of the guests present were residents of Sumter County. Six bucks were killed, one of which is said to be the largest deer ever killed on the preserve.

The farmers in the vicinity of Greenville are losing no time while the fair weather is prevailing in getting their lands in shape for the 1923 crops. It is the belief of many people who are in close touch with the agricultural situation in Butler county that the farmers will give considerable attention to the production of cotton in 1923, but that they will not lose sight of the importance of planting sufficient food and feed crops.

Thousands of dollars worth of farm necessities are being offered by the friends of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation as state, county and individual prizes in the campaign to double the membership of the Federation which was started January 1st. It is said no donation in the list will be worth less than $100 and many will be worth up into the thousands.

The Tennessee, Alaama & Georgia Railroad has received new equipment, including steel coal cars, indicating that it is preparing for an increased business as the result of its extension to Birmingham. The company is said to be getting in shape for a fight for its share of the freight of this section and to be ready to facilitate the mining of coal which is expected to begin on a large scale as soon as permission for the extension is granted.

Splendid results have already been obtained by many towns from the "Advertise Alabama" exhibit recently conducted in the Grand Central Palace of New York city by the Alabama Power Company, it is said. Proof of this is found in a letter to W. J. Baldwin, who was in charge of the exhibit, from J. G. Scherf, secretary-manager of the Andalusia Chamber of Commerce, who said in part: "Since literature was distributed in New York we have already three inquiries from interested persons and feel sure that the efforts put forth by the Alabama Power Company in behalf of Alabama will bear fruit."

The head of a dog which had bitten two negro men was recently received by the state laboratory at Montgomery from Tuskegee and upon examination was found to show positive evidence that the dog was affected with hydrophobia.

Bids have been opened at Decatur by members of the Decatur school board on the proposed new high school building. The bids are 11 in number and do not include the coming light and heat arrangements. They range from $91,000 to $116,000 for completing the building.

J. P. Gentry, of Jemison, Route 3, was a visitor to Clanton Tuesday.

HAS SEEN EIGHTY NEW YEAR'S DAYS

Mr. Wallace C. Edler, of Thorsby, was a visitor to The Union-Banner office Tuesday. He stated that on Monday his eyes saw their eightieth new year's day.

Mr. Edler will be remembered by the readers of The Union-Banner as the man who started the publication of "The Union" at Clanton in 1903. He continued as publisher and owner of that paper until 1912 when it was consolidated with The Banner.

R. R. MERGERS

In the midst of talk of forcing railroads to merge into systems in order to promote economy and efficiency of operation, two important mergers are under way through the initiative of owners of the roads. This is the proper method. It is not at all likely that any government tribunal, ignorant of the practical problems of railroading, could make an arbitrary merger that would be as satisfactory and successful as a merger worked out by railroad owners and managers who best understand the natural channels of trade and can work out the best schemes for the handling of freight with the least loss of time and the smallest cost of operation.

Mr. James Baker, of Clanton, Route 2, killed a hog Friday which weighed 587 pounds, yielding 28 gallons of lard and 61 pounds of sausage. Mr. Baker says he had plenty of hog left after making the lard and sausage.

SCHOOL TEACHER'S FRIENDS MADE GLAD

One of them had this to say yesterday: "We never thought that poor Ellen would ever recover, she had suffered so long from stomach and liver trouble and had lost more than 40 pounds in weight. She took a bottle of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy upon the advice of her aunt and has steadily improved from the first dose. We are all confident of her complete recovery." It removes the catarrhal mucous from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded at Alred Drug Co.

IN MEMORY OF MRS. HATTIE RATLIFF

On Dec. 23 the angel of death visited the home of Mr. John Ratliff and bore from our midst the spirit of his wife, Hattie, age 26 years.

Hattie was sick only a few days when God saw fit to call her home. She had such a sweet disposition that made home happy, and ever wore a smile for those that knew her, and in death wore a smile such as a soul with God can wear.

It was hard to give her up but it was God's will and He knoweth best. Now may He watch over her remains which were laid to rest in the Sardis cemetery.

There is a place vacant in her home and the hearts of all that knew her that can ne'er be filled but let us cheer up and prepare to meet her beyond this vale of tears in the beautiful city of God.

The husband, children, parents, brothers and other relatives have our whole hearts sympathy.

ONE WHO LOVED HER.

CLANTON STARTS NEW YEAR WITH ANOTHER BUILDING BOOM

Beginning promptly with the advent of the new year, another building boom is started in Clanton. Work has already begun on the new building for the Main Street Garage, to be erected by J. Q. Wade on main street next to Broadhead's store. We learn that Mr. W. W. Fox is about ready to begin the erection of a warehouse for himself at the rear of the Chero-Cola building.

It is rumored that the Clanton Motor Company will soon begin work on their new building on the corner of Seventh street and Third avenue, across Third Avenue from Honeycutt's Blacksmith Shop.

We have heard it said that Mr. G. C. Walker plans to build an office building on his property at the Miss Minnie Muse place, Seventh street between Second and Third avenue.

There are other rumors of buildings that are being planned for 1923. It looks now like our town will see a program of extensive development in its business district during this year.

ANOTHER NEW STORE FOR CLANTON

Mr. Maurice Lande of The Leader, leaves Thursday for the markets of the East to buy goods for a new store to be opened up in Clanton right away. Definite announcement as to details of the new business will be made upon his return. Present stock of The Leader will be moved to larger quarters, which place is now occupied by The New York Store. Mr. Lande says he is well pleased with his business of the past year, and is making plans for a much larger volume of trade in 1923. Lande is one of the best hustlers who ever came to Clanton, and when he puts his shoulder behind the wheel you may look out for something to move and move fast. We predict that he will make a big showing in 1923.

Misses Louise and Juanita Connatser, of Thorsby, had as their dinner guests on new year's day Misses Agnes Kemp and Sarah Cox, Messrs. Wallace Cox, Hoyt Reynolds, Evans Edwards and Raymond Calloway. Little Misses Lucile and Clara June Cox were guests of the little Misses Connatsers.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the people of Lomax for their many kindnesses shown us during the sickness and death of our darling son and brother, Arthur Robinson, for the many beautiful flowers and for the car services given us. May God's richest blessings rest on them is our prayer.

Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Robinson and children.

SHERIFF LITTLEJOHN MAKES GOOD HIS PROMISE

We congratolate Sheriff Tom Littlejohn upon the fulfillment of his first promise to the people of Chilton county.

It was a kind of joke on him when he was making the rare for sheriff that he was "an old bachelor" and would not have anybody to cook for the prisoners if he was elected. To get around this objection Tom told the folks that if he were elected sheriff, the first thing he would do would be to get married. He has made good his promise. He was married by Uncle Dock Wells last Sunday night to Mrs. Lula Inez Powell. Now you fellows who may be expecting Tom to put you in "86" may rest assured that there will be a lady of the house to see that you are fed.

Mrs. Littlejohn is one of the most popular ladies of this community, having been connected with Elmore's Department Store for several years, where she has made many friends by her contact with the public.

Since her residence in Clanton she has taken an active part in church and social affairs, having been superintendent of the Cradle Roll of the Clanton Baptist Sunday school.

We feel sure that Tom will make us a much better sheriff since joining in companionship with this splendid lady. The Union-Banner extends congratulations, and best wishes for their future happiess.

GATES CLOSED AT MITCHELL DAM SUNDAY NIGHT

The escapement gates at Mitchell Dam were closed last Sunday night at nine o'clock, at which time the lake of Mitchell Dam Reservoir began its permanent formation. All this week the waters of the Coosa River have been gradually rising to heights hitherto unknown, and many an old landmark along the shores of the stream has been buried beneath the water, possibly never to be seen by the eyes of man again. The rocks of many of these river bluffs that have in the past served as shelter for the primitive Indian hunters and fishermen and pioneer river explorers will henceforth become the haunts of future denizens of the deep that shall inhabit this great body of water.

It is estimated that the lake will be filled within a week from last Sunday, after which time the waters of the Coosa will glide over the top of Mitchell Dam and take from there a new start in the mad rush for the Gulf of Mexico.

There will not be a more picturesque body of water in the United States than Lake Mitchell. As designated by Capt. Lay, it is destined to become in future the paradise of hunters and fishermen in Alabama.

TWO HURT IN R. R. MOTOR CAR WRECK

George Wyatt and Newt Sanders, two young men of Clanton, were seriously injured last Friday when a railroad motor car upon which they were riding, jumped the track just above Jemison. Sanders was an employee of the railroad company whose duties carried him from place to place along the line. The motor car was his means of conveyance. George was traveling with him when the accident happened.

It is not known just what caused the car to jump the track, but it is believed there was a rock or some kind of obstruction upon the rail. The two boys were thrown from the car and badly bruised by striking the ties and slag. Wyatt was hurt much worse than Sanders. The former received bad cuts about the face and head, several teeth knocked out and his jaw bone fractured. He has been in the Central Alabama Hospital for treatment and is reported to be recovering. Sanders was carried to the hospital where his wounds were dressed, but he was not hurt bad enough to make it necessary for him to remain there.

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over thirty years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher on the wrapper all these years just to protect the coming generations. Value of Land Abstracts

It is not safe to buy land or to lend money and accept land as security without first investigating the title of the land. Often there are unpaid mortgages, judgments, or other liens affecting the title, which an abstract would set out. Therefore, when buying land or lending money thereon, it is important that an abstract of title be furnished. A few dollars spent for an abstract is cheaper than going ahead and having a law suit a little later on.

PARENT TEACHERS ASSOCIATION TO MEET FRIDAY AFTERNOON 2:30

The Clanton Parent Teachers Association will meet Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

There are several classes of people who contribute to the ruin of any organization.

First—There are those who are not satisfied unless they can control everything.

Second—There are those who try to get their set elected to all the offices and if defeated go off to mope the rest of the year.

Third—There are those who will try to get a gang of their friends to attend one time to put over some pet plan of their own.

Fourth—There are those who think they have done their duty if they pay their dues for the year.

Fifth—There are those who are not broad-minded enough to put aside their petty quarrels and petty jealousies and work in harmony.

Sixth—There are those who want to bring their complaints to the Parent Teachers meeting instead of carrying them to the principal.

Seventh—There are those who join just to be able to say that they belong and never intend to go back any more.

All those are people who do not stop to think of the good of the organization and consequently help to kill it.

Parents, patrons and friends, if you do not belong to one of the above classes we want you to come to the meeting Friday afternoon. We shall expect you

IRA PEGUES,
Chm. Publicity Committee.

FIFTH SUNDAY MEETING

The Fifth Sunday Meeting of the Unity Association was held at Verbena last Saturday and Sunday. The weather was very inclement but there was a splendid interest manifested throughout the meeting. A splendid program had been arranged and every one who had a part was there to do his bit to make the services profitable. Those taking part were Rev. J. D. Hughes, Rev. W. A. Goss, Rev. S. J. Ezell, Rev. J. S. Judah, Rev. E. B. Prickett, Rev. E. A. Norris, Rev. Taylor, Rev. T. O. Reese, Mrs. Stonecipher, Prof. J. J. Rickens and Mr. Farr. Mr. Farr is one of our Home Board singers and a very splendid one, too.

We were very fortunate in having with us at this meeting Brother Reese and his singer. Brother Reese preached an excellent sermon at the 11 o'clock hour on Sunday. So did Brother Ezell at the 11 o'clock hour on Saturday. These men added much to the meeting.

The ladies of Verbena served an excelelnt dinner at the church on Saturday. We certainly thank them for this important part of the program they carried out so well.

BAPTIST ORPHANAGE THANKS YOUNG MEN'S S. S. CLASS

The Young Men's Class of the Clanton Baptist Sunday School, of which Miss Roberta Curry is teacher, recently made a contribution of $7.45 to the Baptist Orphanage at Evergreen. The class received last Sunday a message of thanks from the Orphanage as follows:

"We are in receipt of $7.45 from the Young Men's Class of Clanton Baptist Church, Miss Roberta Curry, Teacher. We extend to you our sincerest thanks.—Baptist Orphanage.

This was indeed a very creditable gift of the young men to the Orphanage, and their action should receive the complimentary approval of everyone. No cause is more worthy of remembrance than that of our helpless orphan children.

PLEASANT GROVE

Our singing society met Sunday evening with a very good crowd. I wonder why more people don't come out to our singings and see what a good time we are having. You are missing something good by not coming. If you don't believe it just come and see. Directors for the evening were James Franklin, C. L. Glass, E. L. Glass, A. H. Glass, Vester Campbell and Burl Martin. We had three beautiful quartets sung by A. H. Glass, E. L. Glass, C. L. Glass and Vester Campbell. Organists for the evening were Mrs. Eddie Childress, Miss Lena Glass and Nora Franklin. We wish to thank the visitors for their good help and give them a hearty welcome back at any time. We always appreciate help from other communities, as it is something to be proud of to be able to meet together and sing praises to God.

Our society meets every first and third Sunday evenings. We invite every one who will to come and be with us.

VERBENA QUINTET "LICKS" JEMISON

Sweet revenge came gratifyingly into the hearts of the Verbena Consolidated School basket ball team and its supporters on the Verbena court Friday afternoon, when they took the visiting aggregation into camp to the tune of 10 to 8. It was the hardest fought game of the season for the local boys; few fouls were called, each team making two points each on free throws. The game early developed into rough play by both teams, which kept the scoring down low. Two extra five-minute periods were required to play off the 8 to 8 tie at the end of the fourth quarter.

C. Lenoir, center for the visitors, was the outstanding star of the game, scoring the six points made by the visitors.

Score: Verbena, field goals, 4; foul goals, 2; Jemison, field goals, 3; foul goals, 2.

Verbena lost three pre-season games, two of which Jemison gathered in by close scores. Since the season opened the locals have taken one from Thorsby, two from Chilton High, and one, Friday, from Jemison.

The return game to be played in Jemison at an early date promises to be a good one.

ELECTRIC ELEVATOR AT CENTRAL ALA. HOSPITAL

The Board of Directors of the Central Alabama Hospital at Clanton announce this week that a modern and up-to-date electric elevator will be installed at the hospital right away. This action was determined at a meeting of the board of directors Monday morning.

Plans were made in the original construction of the building for the installation of this elevator, but it was delayed on account of a shortage in the building fund. The remarkable progress of the institution and the splendid patronage which it has received from the people of the town and county makes possible now the completion of this last item in the construction of the building.

The work of the hospital since its establishment here has been gratifying and highly satisfactory in at least two ways. In the first place it has rendered a very satisfactory service to those sick people who have been treated there, saving them a great deal of money and rendering them as good attention as they could have gotten anywhere. In the second place it has been entirely satisfactory as an investment to those who put their money into it, rendering a nice dividend to them already. Indications are now that this year will pay a bigger dividend than that of the first six months.

Let us not stint our interest and support of this hospital. It has proven many times its superb worth to our town and county.

LAWLEY

The W. M. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. Henry Head next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, definite plans will be made to get enough money to buy new carpet for the church which is very much needed. We hope all will be present.

Last Wednesday Mrs. Alex Latham was called to her daughter, Mrs. Dewey Benson, near Clanton, on account of the illness of her daughter.

On last Monday night The Clark Company gave a vaudeville here at the school house. Many attended and enjoyed it very much. It was a clean and an educational show. It isn't often we see such a show in small villages like Lawley.

Mrs. Lela Latham and little daughter, Evelyn, and son Douglas, were here last week from Tuscaloosa, visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mitchell motored to Randolph last Sunday afternoon.

The little baby boy of Mrs. James Bedford fell out the door during Xmas and broke his arm, but is doing fine now.

Little Annie Ray Hubbard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hubbard, section foreman here, has been very sick with flu, but is some better.

Mrs. Tom Waldrup and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Pratt Waldrup, of Randolph, spent last Wednesday with Mrs. Vernon Hicks.

MRS. MALISSA ADAMS

Mrs. Malissa Adams, wife of Samuel B. Adams, died last Friday night at 10:30 o'clock, on her 74th birthday. The deceased leaves a husband and eight children and a number of grand children. She was living with her son-in-law, Joshua Henley, at the time of her death. The remains were laid to rest in the Walnut Creek cemetery Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. Gibson conducting the funeral services. The friends of the family extend sympathy to the bereaved ones.

Mr. Stanford favors an arrangement whereby all pension warrants can be mailed to the pensioners, and thereby save many of them a considerable expense which they have to incur in coming to the probate office to get their pensions.

VERBENA-MARBURY GAME

The Verbena Consolidated School basket ball team invaded the lair of the Marbury Tigers last night and brought back their pelts to the tune of 17 to 10. The Marbury quintet used substitutes frequently in vain endeavor to stop the lighter but faster boys from the flowery town, but it was a vain endeavor. Both teams played fast and clean ball. Lewis for Marbury High, while Rutland and Hammel, forwards for Verbena, showed class for the visitors. Score: Marbury, field goals 3, foul goals, 4; Verbena, field goals 6, foul goals 5.

Verbena has won all five games played this season, one over Thorsby Institute, two over Chilton County High, one over Jemison High, and one over Marbury.

The Ala. Legislature

By W. M. WYATT,
REPRESENTATIVE OF CHILTON COUNTY

To the Readers of The Union-Banner:

During the time I am in Montgomery attending the session of the legislature, it shall be my purpose every week in this column to write briefly of such things under my observation as I think might be of interest to you. If you like what I may write I shall be glad that I was able to please you. If you don't like what I write I hope you will keep your displeasure to yourself.

When I got on the train Monday night to come to Montgomery I was impressed with the extreme scarcity of passengers traveling this way. The question was not solved in my mind until I reached my destination. I found that everybody had already got here. No kind of pleading nor any amount of money would induce a hotel to rent me a room. I don't suppose money would have been any inducement. I know pleading would not work for I tried that in large quantities on every hotel clerk I could find.

But it matters not who nor where you are, if you are in trouble, you always have a friend somewhere who will sympathize with you and help you if he can. Just as I was exhausting all my argument for a room at the Gay-Teague, who should walk in and take me by the arm but my good friend, Mark Tucker of the Western Newspaper Union from Birmingham? Seeing the plight I was in, he invited me to share his room with him. There was no bashfulness upon my part in doing so. If Mark had not come along and taken me in, I guess I would have had to "camp" on the porch at the Capital.

All the newspaper men in Alabama know Mark, but I'll bet they don't know him as well as I do now. You ought to see what a narrow bed he and I managed to sleep on Monday night. It was just about as wide as as ordinary cot. I don't think he pushed me out of bed more than a dozen times. Every time I got back in bed it waked Mark up, and he consumed the next half an hour trying to sell me a serial story to run in the Union-Banner. By that time I was asleep again and the next thing I knew I hit the floor again. Then back in bed again and a rehearsal of the serial story argument. If I succeed in "arguing" legislation as tirelessly as Mark does serial stories, you may expect to hear great things from your Representative ere this session has come to a close.

I hear quite a great deal being said by different members of the Legislature on the subject of changing our educational laws so as to provide for the election of County Superintendents by a vote of the people. I look for that proposition to gain enough support to acquire its passage.

John Farley told me the other day that he wanted a law passed to make hickory bark skin every day in the year. I don't know yet whether I shall be able to get that bill through or not.

Monday night was mighty busy around the hotel lobbies. Everybody was deeply interested to find out who was going to be elected Speaker of the House. I didn't see anybody then who knew exactly.

Soon after my arrival here I saw Rev. J. M. Graham of Thorsby, who is state manager of the anti-tuberculosis league. I understand this organization has some very valuable and worthy matters which they will place before the legislature. Alabama could and should do much more for thte prevention of tuberculosis and the relief of those who are sufferers from this terrible white plague.

The lawmakers of Alabama were in caucus and "confab" and an uproar in the lobby of the Exchange Hotel until just before noon Tuesday when the scene of activity was removed to the capitol. The big fuss was all about who should be elected as Speaker of the House. After the oath was administered to the members, the Democrats remained in the hall and had their final caucus which resulted somewhat unexpectedly to some, in the election of Judge H. D. Merrill of Anniston as presiding officer.

Tuesday's session was devoted wholly to organization. There will be another session Wednesday, after which it is likely adjournment will take place until after the new Governor is inaugurated. No real legislative questions are expected to arise for consideration before next week.

REHABILITATION OF PERSONS DISABLED IN INDUSTRY OR OTHERWISE

Mr. Hugh G. Grant, Supervisor of the Industrial Rehabilitation work of the State Department of Education, was in Clanton last week in the interest of his department. He visited The Union-Banner office and requested us to convey to our readers a brief story, outlining the plans and purposes of this rehabilitation program of the Department of Education.

What Rehabilitation Means

Vocational rehabilitation is a program providing vocational aid for persons of employable age who are handicapped through certain disabilities incurred through accident, disease or otherwise. The program is national in scope, Federal funds having been appropriated by the Congress of the United States to be used in those states whose legislatures accept the terms of the Federal act and match the Federal fund dollar for dollar. The Act is known as the Industrial Rehabilitation Act and is provided for by the Smith-Bankhead Law, the joint authors being former Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia and Representative W. B. Bankhead of Alabama.

Alabama is one of thirty-three states of the Union which has accepted the Federal Act and has the rehabilitation work in actual operation. The State work is carried on through the Division of Vocational Education of the State Department of Education through an approved plan of co-operation with the Federal Board for Vocational Education, Washington, D. C.

Briefly, the State Board of Education is charged under the law with the responsibility of offering vocational assistance to seriously disabled persons, residents of Alabama, who need such assistance to enable them to overcome their handicaps and return to gainful employment. There is no sentimentalism nor emotionalism in this program. Neither does the program involve charity nor any phase of almsgiving. It seeks only to assist vocationally worthy persons, handicapped physically, who are ambitious to become independent.

What the State Board Can Do Thru Its Rehabilitation Service

Under the Rehabilitation Law the State Board of Education is authorized to offer vocational assistance to seriously disabled persons, found eligible, in the following manner:

1. Provide vocational training courses in institutions, including schools, colleges, universities, business colleges and trade schools; pay tuition, fees (such as laboratory fees) and purchase necessary books and supplies, provided the person is receiving compensation for his injuries, or if not receiving compensation, provided satisfactory arrangements can be made by the disabled person, his relatives or friends to take care of his board, lodging and personal expenses during the period of training.

2. Arrange through the co-operation of employers so called placement or job training.

3. Pay the railroad transportation of the person from the home to the place of training and return home upon completion of training.

4. Where institutional or job training courses are not practicable either because of the advanced age of the disabled person, or because of the urgent need for immediate employment, assist the person, through the co-operation of employers, in securing a type of work in which he can carry on successfully in spite of his physical handicap.

5. In cases where in order to carry on the work successfully an artificial leg or arm or other prosthettic appliance is needed, provide such appliance upon recommendation of competent orthopoedic surgeon.

6. Assist the disabled person through vocational guidance, i. e., the giving of information concerning the technical requirements of certain jobs and the methods of qualifying for these jobs (the disabled person may be able to overcome his physical handicap by utilizing on the new job certain technical skill which has been acquired in performing other jobs).

7. Follow up all cases of disabled persons who have been placed in employment either after training or without training in order to insure as far as possible complete rehabilitation.

How You Can Assist in Developing the Rehabilitation Service in Alabama

1. If you know personally a seriously disabled person (man or woman, 16 years of age or over) of sound mind and not bedridden, worthy, and ambitious to become independent through vocational assistance, you can send his or her name and complete address to the Rehabilitation Service of the State Department of Education.

2. If you are a member of a club, lodge or other organization which is interested or actively engaged in real welfare work, i. e., the kind that seeks to assist the dependent but ambitious person to become independent, you can bring to the attention of your club the rehabilitation program undertaken by the State Board of Education, and, if there is a desire to co-operate, write to the Rehabilitation Service for information as to the manner in which your organization may co-operate.

3. If you are an employer of either men or women (16 years of age, or over) you can assist in this work in a very material way by offering certain types of employment to a person who is physically handicapped but who nevertheless can perform successfully a certain job in your business or plant perhaps, if only given the chance to demonstrate his ability; or, if a period of job training is essential before actual placement, you can co-operate in providing such instruction and facilities as may be necessary to fit the person to the job.

4. Finally whether or not you are in position to do any of the things recorded above you can assist in the work of rehabilitation by believing and giving expression to the fact that practically every disabled person (provided he is not bedridden, is of sound mind, and is ambitious to become independent) can be fitted through training, or proper placement, or both, for a job which he can successfully perform. This applies, for example, to the person with a leg off, both legs off, an arm off, both arms off, partial or total blindness, partial or total loss of use of legs through paralysis, stiffened and ankylosed joints, atrophied or wasted muscles, back injuries, as well as other serious physical disabilities which, however, do not render the person totally disabled.

If you know of any disabled persons who might be restored by this program it would be a favor to them if you would notify the proper authorities in charge of this work.

All communications with reference to the Rehabilitation Service should be addressed to State Department of Education, Attention Rehabilitation Service, Montgomery, Alabama.

The entire lower apartments were thrown together and fragrant narcissus together with flowering pot plants were effectively used. Here tables were arranged for the game of "42." After several games the hostess presented the honor guest with a pretty cut glass basket of white hyacinths while Mrs. Watts Moore was given a couple of hand made handkerchiefs for top score. A refreshing luncheon plate with coffee was served. The guest list embraced Mesdames P. T. Hinkle, Mallie White, John T. Ellis, Guy Higgins, T. H. FIDDLERS CONVENTION.

The Second Annual Fiddler's Convention of Chilton, Autauga, Elmore and Coosa Counties will be held in the school auditorium at Verbena on the evening of January 23, 1923. With a few changes and additions the attraction will be along the lines of last year's performance, only bigger, better and fiddlernier than ever.

We wish to announce that an unusually nice line of prizes willl be offered this year, more complete announcement of which will be given later. The biggest idea, the big heart throbs, the happy assemblage of the music and fun makers, will be the attractions that will draw the fiddlers here from all this section, and the folks will come from far and near to hear and see.

Now, I want to speak to the fiddlers, themselves. Listen— Were you here last year? Well, if you were, you know about it; if you were not, then you missed one of the dingbastedest best times you've heard of since the time when you were a boy and dragged a crooked, black, "litered" knot in front of the cow when paw was milkn'. Or, as the little 'steen year old would say, "It was perfectly lovely." You want to resin the old bow, pull it across the wires tuned for fiddlin, lay your ear low down, and say, don't forget your pattin' shoes when you come.

The competition is open to all fiddlers who play FIDDLES, and prizes will also be awarded to players who use other stringed instruments, whether as soloists or in orchestra. We want music, more music, and better music, and there are no strings to the proposition, (exceptin') on the instruments, of course. If you perform, write us; if you do not, but have a friend who does, tell him about this convention, and have him to write us. Or you just send the little affair to him. And give us any information you can. Benefit local school.

We believe we said Friday, Jan. 26, 1923, Verbena school auditorium, 8:00 p. m., didn't we? We surely did. Thank you.

Fiddlingly yours,
Fiddlers' Convention Committee,
Box 119, Verbena, Ala.

WANTS TO ELECT COUNTY SCHOOL HEADS BY VOTE

Senator J. W. Overton says Superintendents Should be Elected by Direct Vote.

Strong oposition to some of the educational laws of the state was sounded Monday morning by Senators and members of the House of Representatives, and it became known during the day that new legislation is to be proposed. One of the laws which is reported to be hanging fire is that which provides for the election of county superintendents of education by county boards of education instead of direct vote of the people. Senator John W. Overton of Randolph County stated that the people in his district want the law changed so that the superintendents shall be elected as other county officials. "It is a very unpopular law in my county. I believe the old method of electing by direct vote will get better educational results," said Senator Overton. He said he would be willing to introduce a bill during this session of the legislature abolishing the present law.

F. E. St. John of Cullman county, member of the House, is also in favor of the change. There are others, it is reported who have declared their intentions of supporting a bill which will provide for the election of superintendents by the people.

It also became known that representatives of several counties have proposed local bills for governing the election of superintendents.

Rumors were current that women's organizations in some sections of the state will oppose any change in the law. One report was that a delegation from one of the north Alabama counties will come to Montgomery, if the question comes up, to lobby against any change.— Montgomery Journal.

The great number of people in Chilton County who favor a change in the manner of selectnig the county superintendent of education so as to give the people a chance to vote for this official just as they do the other county officers, will be pleased to note the strength of sentiment which seems to be back of such a move already developing in the minds of many of the legislators.

This proposition, if brought up as a state-wide measure, would have the endorsement of Chilton County's Representative in the lower House. If it is not placed before the law-makers as a state-wide measure, a local bill to provide for the county superintendent's election will be introduced and urged for Chilton County, by our Representative, Mr. Wyatt.

The report of the manager showed a prosperous business for the past year and an 8-per cent divident on capital stock was declared. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, M. J. Soberg; Vice-president, W. L. Leary; Secretary, C. R. Foss; Treasurer-Manager, A. E. Reagan.

Messrs Walter Carey and Leo Heimer, after an extended visit at Tuscaloosa with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Phelan, spent a couple of days with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. S. Howard, leaving on Thursday to continue their trip to Florida.

The annual meeting of the Congregational Ladies Aid Society was held at the church at 2 o'clock p.m. Tuesday. Officers elected for the ensuing year were: President, Mrs. J. H. Goddard; Vice-president, Mrs. J. M. Graham; Secretary, Mrs. C. W. Karlson; Treasurer, Mrs. C. C. Petersen.

The Queen Esther Class of the Congregational Sunday School will give an entertainment at Bates Hall, Saturday, January 20th at 7:30 p.m. The program will consist of vocal, piano and violin music, a reading: A Pantomime, entitled "A Bachelor's Dream" and a play, "Aunt Deborahs First Luncheon." The charge for admission will be 25c for adults and 20c for all under 12 years of age. Part of the proceeds will go for missionary work in China and India.

The Helen Keller Literary Society of Thorsby Institute, will hold their regular meeting in Bates Hall at 7:30 p.m., Saturday, Jan. 13th. The program will be varied and interesting. A charge of 10c admission is made for all who are not members of the society, the money will be used for improving the equipment of the school.

The Senior Class of Thorsby Institute have decided on a design for the class rings and pins and will place the orders at an early date.

All members of the Senior class have written essays on one general subject, "The Near East." These essays are varied and take up the political, industrial and social aspects of this absorbing topic.

Under the direction of Miss Catherine Prery, the Dramatic Club is preparing to present two one-act plays in Bates Hall, on the night of February 3rd.

Since the Declamatory Contest will be held this year in February instead of May as in the past, the participants are hard at work in preparation for the event.

The annual meeting of Thorsby Fruit and Truck Growers Association will be held at the public school building in Thorsby, at 2 o'clock p.m., on Saturday, January 13th. All members are expected to be present.

The annual meeting of Thorsby local telephone company will be held in Thorsby Town Hall at 1 o'clock sharp, Saturday, January 13th. It will be to the interest of every boxholder to attend this meeting.

Mr. G. A. Lind, an evangelist from Chicago, held two very interesting services last Sunday at the Congregational church. Having arrived in Thorsby unannounced his audience at the morning service was the ordinary good attendance, when there are no services in the other churches, but at night the house was filled to capacity and all listened attentively to his interesting discourse.

People from the North and South and several from foreign lands have united under one banner in a company of Christian workers, while eleven denominations are represented in its membership, this church has never had a family quarrel. The Pastor, Rev. James W. Davenport, was a Tennessee boy who grew to manhood with but little education. After spending six years in an academy at Grandview, Tenn., he spent three years in Atlanta Theological Seminary and graduated. He is a big man in every way, loved by all who know him and a pastor for all in the community whenever wanted. The church offices are fairly distributed between Northern and Southern members and all are working harmoniously together. This church gives to Thorsby the distinction of being the only small town or rural community within the state that has a church holding regular services each Sunday. Often two services except when there is evening service (in the English language) in one of the other churches in town this church joins them; also once a month they unite with others in a union prayer meeting instead of holding their regular Wednesday night meeting.

In the matter of contributions for home expenses and for Benevolences the budget adopted at the annual meeting Wednesday night calls for $1325 besides the use of a parsonage for the pastor. This is a little more than for 1922 which closed with practically all bills paid and money in the treasury.

There are many other benefits which the community derive from having such an institution in their midst, but space forbids their enumeration here.

IN UNITY OF SPIRIT

Among the numerous annual meetings recently held at Thorsby within the past few days that of the United Protestant Church of Thorsby (Congregational) was notable in that it sets up another mile-stone on the highway of progress of co-operative Christian work in which every family in the community, regardless of denominational affiliation, is more or less interested. During the eighteen years since organization this church has consistently manifested a spirit of courtesy and good will toward the people and churches of other denominations, until they have come to understand that Sectarianism has little weight in a Congregational church, neither has Sectionalism.

COMMISSIONERS COURT IN SESSION HERE THIS WEEK

The County Commissioners of Chilton County were ni session at the Court House Tuesday and Wednesday, considering the proposition of changing the road between here and the river, which change has been made necessary by the impounded water from Mitchell Dam covering the old road a good distance out from the river. Nothing definite was done about the matter Wednesday night, but they will meet back again today (Thursday) and continue the work of making the change. The Alabama Power Company will bear the expense of these alterations.

Constipation

Constipation of the bowels is a stoppage of the sewerage system that removes waste matter from the body. It is as necessary that your bowels move regularly once each day, to carry off this waste, as it is that the waste pipes of your home be kept open and carry off the waste from the house. If you would enjoy good health, keep your bowels regular by taking Chamberlain's Tablets when needed.

The Value of Land Abstracts

It is not safe to buy land or to lend money and accept land as security without first investigating the title of the land. Often there are unpaid mortgages, judgments, or other liens affecting the title, which an abstract would set out. Therefore, when buying land or lending money thereon, it is important that an abstract of title be furnished. A few dollars spent for an abstract is cheaper than going ahead and having a law suit a little later on.

I AM MOVING AWAY

As I am moving away from Clanton, I am offering for sale all my property in Clanton, at very attractive prices.

I will sell my home place which includes a fine 6-room house, and 1-2 block of land, 4 lots in all, together with garage, barn, smoke house and chicken house. All the houses have cement foundations and tin roofs, cement walks. The residence is very nicely finished inside. This property is 3 blocks from court house, 2 blocks from main street, and 1 block from the new highway. I will sell all for $4,000.00. It would cost $5,000.00 to put the buildings on the lot.

I also have one lot of land, about 16 acres, including several lots facing Third Avenue South, in Clanton. The land has a lot of timber on back side. This is just 1 1-2 blocks from the new highway. Will sell this piece of property for $1,000.

Also have about 80 White Leghorn Hens, and 3 Roosters, all fine bred stock. Will pay for themselves in 30 days. Enough laying mash feed goes with them to last 30 days. Will sell for $1.00 each now.

Also have one fine Pointer Bitch 11 months old, spayed; will retrieve and set birds. Mighty fine for a puppy. Will sell her for $15.00 now.

I expect to leave Clanton about the 20th of January, and want to sell the above property before I go away. Will be glad for anyone interested to investigate. I am offering it all at mighty fine bargain prices.

How Our Young People May Be a Blessing

By W. B. Crumpton

God made two promises to Abraham in Genesis 12th chapter. "I will bless you" was one. The other: "I will make you a blessing". The last is the greater.

God verified both promises to Abraham. The same promises, in a thousand places, are made to God's children, the spiritual children of Abraham, today.

Jesus said, "I came not to be ministered to (to get a blessing) but to minister (to be a blessing)."

Paul told the Ephesians that God gave the church: Apostles, Prophets, Pastors, Evangelists, Teachers for the perfecting of the saints for the work of ministering. All Christians are saints. The work of the Christian is to minister. He needs to be perfected for that work. It is the business of the Preachers, Evangelists and Teachers to perfect him for that work. Thus he becomes a blessing, and being a blessing, he is most surely blessed.

What a different church would be ours, if every member tried every day to be a blessing to somebody. The whole community would be sitting up and wondering what had come over the people of the church.

The reason our church members do not try to be a blessing, is because the pastors, evangelists and teachers are not trying to perfect them for the work of ministering (or being a blessing).

The preachers cannot do it, because they change their fields so often and have to give their time to supporting their families. The New Testament idea was for the preacher to "live of the Gospel" and give his time to his church.

Young men and young women, I ask you: What have you decided upon for your life work? Do you want to be a blessing? After you are through school, what then? Ask yourselves: "Where can my life count for most"?

You have but one life to live here and you will not take long to live it. I am an old man, but it seems only a little while since I was a boy. Suppose I had lived a selfish life, who would care for me now?

Mark the selfish man! He lives for himself alone. He may succeed in making money; his friends will be those that money makes; but nobody loves him. Business men are afraid of him and when he dies, nobody cares. Before he is cold, his children begin to scrap over what he leaves, and the family name is disgraced in the courts.

Young Dr. Adrian Taylor of Mobile, when he had prepared himself for practice, asked: "Where will my life count for most?" He saw that there was a doctor in this country to every few hundred people. While in China, there was maybe, one doctor to a million or more. So he and his young wife went to China. Today, he stands at the head of his profession in the great hospital in Pekin, China.

One of the Chilton county boys, J. T. Williams, asked the question: "Where can my life count for most?" and went as a missionary to China.

You don't all have to become foreign missionaries. There is a great work right here where you live. Be a blessing to your church and pastor; be a blessing to your neighbors; be a blessing to the children, to the aged, to the sick, to the bereaved, to the poor. Be a blessing with whatever money comes into your hands, by religiously paying one-tenth to God's cause. Be a blessing by co-operating in all Christian endeavor, especially with the Baptists of your Association and State. We have great enerprises on foot sustained entirely by the voluntary offerings of our co-operating Baptist people in Alabama. Here they are: Our Orphanage, soon to move from Evergreen to Troy; a Baptist Hospital at Selma; our Mission Board at Montgomery; our Home Mission Board at Atlanta, Ga.; our Foreign Mission Board at Richmond, Va.; our Educational Institutions: the Judson at Marion and Central College at Tuskaloosa for girls and young women, Howard College at Birmingham and Newton College at Newton, for girls and boys. We have also the Old Ministers' Aid at Dallas, Texas. Probably as important work as any is Ministerial Education at Howard and Newton and the Theological Seminary at Louisville, Ky. The Baptists are a great people and by their co-operation they are accomplishing great things for God and humanity.

Reading the Alabama Baptist, the Foreign and Home Mission Fields and the Tracts and good books from the Colportage Department at Montgomery, we see how our people are becoming a blessing to the wide world.

MRS. JOHN RATLIFF

The hearts and homes of the citizens of the community were saddened by the tragic death of a beloved one—Mrs. John Ratliff—whose death occurred quite suddenly at her home on Maplesville Road Saturday, December 23, 1922.

Mrs. Ratliff was before her marriage Hattie Hayes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hayes. She was 26 years of age and a beautiful and lovable young woman. At an early age she married John Ratliff, son of M. M. Ratliff. To them were born one daughter and one son.

Mrs. Ratliff was a member of the Sardis Baptist church, a good Christian woman and beloved by all who knew her. Her presence will be sorely missed and tho she has departed to a better world she shall yet be present with us in thought.

The remains were carried to Sardis Baptist Church where funeral and burial took place Sunday afternoon, December 24. Rev. C. D. Messer conducted the services.

Mrs. Ratliff leaves her husband, one daughter, Ruth Kate, age 5, an infant son, mother, father and three brothers, besides relatives and scores of friends to mourn her loss. We extend our hearts in sympathy to the grieved ones. May they truly realize the saying of our Master, "In Life there is no death"—God, the Father of All Being Eternal Life.

A FRIEND.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of J. F. Henley, and the husband and children of Mrs. Malissa Adams wish to express their sincere thanks to the good people of this community for their help and sympathy during their recent bereavement. May God's richest blessings rest and abide with you all is our prayer.

Dept. of Archives and History, Thos. M. Owen, Director.

New County Officers Take Charge Monday

The newly elected officers of Chilton county launched out upon their voyage of six long years last Monday morning, January 15th. The progress of the county's official business suffered no loss on account of the change, as the incoming officials are men who are well able to handle the duties of their respective offices. They may be a little slow for a while, but in a few weeks they will "get on to the racket" and Chilton county's government will be safely and judiciously cared for, as it has been for the six years which have just passed.

Zeb Mims was at his desk transacting the numerous duties of the clerk's office, and we can rest assured that his sturdy business mind of many years experience, together with his staunch personality and enduring diligence will make us a circuit clerk which Chilton county will be justly proud of.

"Honest" Tom Littlejohn took charge of the enforcement end of the county's government. Tom has had a broad experience in several fields of work both inside and outside of Chilton county, and there is no doubt in the public's mind that he will make us a sheriff long to be remembered, on account of his devotion to duty and his respect for the laws of our county, state and nation.

The office of the Probate Judge put on no change of tenure, although Judge Reynolds also started out on another six-years stretch as chief executive of our county's affairs and as judge of our county court. Judge Reynolds is not a new man on the probate job, so we all know from the past that the interest of the county will at all times have his undivided attention.

"Uncle Jimmie" Mims of Collins Chapel was the only new county commissioner to come in. T. J. Dorminey was re-elected from his district. These gentlemen are well known all over the county, and we can willingly and safely trust the county's various business transactions into their hands. Of course, they still have the help of Messrs. Littlejohn and Walker.

Mr. A. L. Robinson was added to the county board of education. He, with Messrs. Wm. J. Billingsley, L. A. Calloway, J. L. Vines and J. P. Dykes, will have charge of our schools for the next two and four years.

Jesse Baker now has in hand the county's money. Mr. Baker is a worthy man of wide experience, and will make us a business-like and accommodating county treasurer.

SHERIFF LITTLEJOHN APPOINTS DEPUTIES

Sheriff T. J. Littlejohn announces the appointment of Mr. Will G. Culp as his chief deputy and Mr. T. M. Taylor as his second deputy. Mr. Culp has already been serving as deputy for several years and is well experienced in this work. He is a man of honest integrity and firm personality, and although he is very accommodating, he always performs his duty as an officer of the law.

Mr. Taylor is a well-known business man of Clanton, having been connected with the Clanton Produce Company of Clanton for several years past. He is a gentleman of high standing and will prove to be an asset to the law enforcement outfit of our county.

Work will be begun at once to get the road in shape to Mitchell Dam, where a ferry will be put in operation to take care of the traffic.

CHILTON HIGH WALLOPS JEMISON HIGH

The Jemison Hi boys motored down to the Chilton Hi court last Friday afternoon and they were taken entirely by surprise and played off their feet.

The Chilton boys were in the fighting all the way with all playing a fine brand of basket ball.

The Jemison boys were doped to win because of the stiff game played with Verbena a week before.

The final score was Chilton Hi 12, Jemison Hi 5.

All the team needs is support, so when the next game is played come and yell for the boys.

The next game will be with Thompson Hi at Siluria next Friday afternoon; and on the following Friday the game which all pupils of Chilton will want to win. Everybody knows we want to win always from Marbury especially, so come Friday week and help the boys win.

On Febuary 17th, the Chilton boys go to Montgomery to play Sidney Lanier. Don't laugh, because somebody might be terribly surprised when they see the score.

Coach Whatley is putting the boys through some strenuous practice, so they will be in good condition for Marbury Hi.

Mr. M. T. Watkins, Mrs. W. A. Darby and daughters, Misses Laura and Connie, of Jemison, were in Clanton on business Tuesday. Mr. Watkins and Mr. W. A. Darby are the proprietors of the Darby Drug Company of Jemison.

BETTER LATE THAN NEVER

In connection with the agitation for the cancelation of European debts to the United States it is interesting to note that Great Britain is just now patting herself on the back for her generosity in recently adopting a plan for the disposal of her share of the Boxer indeminities. After the united military expedition into China to suppress the Boxer insurrection and protect foreign residents in China, the Chinese government was forced to agree to pay certain indemnities. The United States immediately remitted her share with the proviso that China should devote the money to the education of Chinese students in the United States. That was 23 years ago. Great Britain is now relinquisghing her share—with strings to the relinquishment. According to the London Times, "The British Government does not propose to permit the indemnity, but the sum still due is to be devoted to the education of Chinese students under British asupices." The Times closes its comment on the subject by saying that "Such a use of the indemnity is an act of far-seeing statesmanship." It is some 23 years short of being as far-reaching as American statesmanship.

The many friends of Mr. George Wyatt are glad to see him able to be out on the streets again, after his very dangerous accident of a few weeks ago. He has recently been released from the Central Alabama Hospital.

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH BUREAU OF PUBLICITY

Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 15.—Appreciation of the work being done by the Inspection Bureau of the State Board of Health is daily expressed by the traveling men of Alabama, many of whom claim that they are able to recognize an Alabama hotel by the sanitary surroundings, without being told that they have crossed the state line from another state.

According to the report of Mr. C. A. Abele, Director of the Inspection Bureau, the average rating of the hotels has risen from 88.9 on the first inspection to 94.0 on the third inspection.

During the month of December, there were 22 hotels inspected which scored 90 and better.

Montgomery, Ala. Jan. 15—One of the most important pieces of work the State Board of Health has started recently, according to those who have studied the situation, is the survey of malarial conditions in Alabama.

Dr. Maxcy has mailed out a letter to the physicians of the State enclosing a questionaire which, when answered, will furnish the basis for detremining the necessity of conducting malarial control work and the sections where this work is most needed.

MITCHELL DAM, ALA.

He was killed instantly; the entire load entering body at (clanicle) or collar bone, ranging near the axis of the head.

He was crossing from Chilton to Coosa for a camp hunt with Mrs. Lushion and Luthion Easterling. They stated he was entering boat to go across and some way sitting gun in boat, hammer striking the seat and made the gun fire, and instant death was the result.

We thank the people of Mitchell Dam assisting us with conveyance to cemetery; Mr. Davis, night superintendent; Mr. Bryand, assistant superintendent; Mr. Barren, his foreman and also cableway engineer.

Joe John was a young man 21 years of age, employed by the Ala. Power Co. at Mitchell Dam. The deceased was laid to rest at Chestnut Creek cemetery, Coopers, Ala., Jan. 12th. He is survived by parents, one brother employed by the Ala. Power Co. with civil engineer department and four sisters, Mrs. I. D. Huett, Mrs. B. Hubbard, Misses Meadie and Loices Headley, and many other relatives and friends to mourn his vacancy here.

Joe John was a promising young man with many friends and also was a believer in his Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. He was baptised at Salem church. He stated a few days before death to his mother, his time on earth was short here on earth but was going to heaven.

Blessed is that servant whom when the Lord cometh shall find watching and waiting.

FIDDLIN' IN VERBENA

Verbena, Ala., Jan. 16, 1923.

Dear Folks:

Friday night, Jan. 26, 1923—Friday night week as you might say—at the school auditorium in Verbena, at 8 p.m., the Second Annual Fiddler's Convention of Chilton, Coosa, Autauga and Elmore counties will be pulled off. If you are not so fortunate as to live within these limits, why just come along and do not say anything about the other places you live, and we'll welcome you just the same. Fact is, there will be a great gathering of music lovers here from all parts round about, and we shan't disappoint them at all. Last year a few were kept away from the feeling that this was an affair that was all kinds of red tape, but the fact is, that all you have to do is to cut loose your shoe strings and come along and "jine."

Do you fiddle? Play a mandolin? guitar? ukulele? Are you a member of a stringed orchestra? Well, then, Verbena will welcome you on the evening of the 26th even more than on any other evening, for we want the young folks here and those that come to visit us that night, your friends and their families, to hear "Leather Breeches," "Old Dan Tucker," "Fisher's Hornpipe," "Devil's Dream," "Arkansas Traveler," "Turkey In the Straw," "Cotton Eyed Joe," or any old time favorite that will be in store on that occasion.

The contest will be open to all. There will be no "ifs" or "buts" about it—all the credentials you need is a stringed instrument along with you. We'll take care that you get your place on the program, that you may select your own music, play your own time, have accompaniment if you wish, play orchestra for prize, or in any manner, or creation, feasible. Come on down and help us make the biggest and best time of it. Talk it over with your neighbor, and get him to get ready and come. Write the Fiddlin' Committee, Box 119, Verbena, Ala., for any information, to to tell them of any fiddler or other player you may know who might come. We want their names.

Now about prizes. A nice list is being made up now. We hope to make this even better than those of last year. We will say, however, that a first prize of $10.00 cash will be given to the best individual fiddler. Then there will be other prizes, handsome ones, for other numbers on the program. No matter what you play, you have a splendid chance for a prize. We feel sure that any fiddler will be gratified to receive any that we shall offer. A competent committee will be chosen, with the approval of the fiddlers themselves, to pass on the merits of the different performer's work.

Don't forget the date—Friday, Jan. 26, 1923, nor the place, Verbena school auditorium, nor the thing—Fiddlers' Convention.

FIDDLIN' COMMITTEE,
Box 119, Verbena, Ala.

THOS. M. PARRISH TO PUT UP STORE IN CLANTON

MINORITY DEMAND RIGHTS

Henry Ford is engaged in another characteristic gesture to give the people an impression that he is filled with philanthropy. He proposes to share the profits of his railroad with the employees of the road. He controls the stock and can do as he pleases, but the minority stockholders are making a vigorous protest. They say that Ford and his associates can claim to be employees and share in the profits, and his new scheme will merely have the effect of denying profits to those stockholders whose holdings he has been unable to acquire. The matter has been presented to the Interstate Commerce Commission with a view to restraining the tactics of Mr. Ford.

A YEAR OF RECOVERY

"The year just closed has made economic history," says Armour's Magazine. "In the future it will be known as the year during which industry recovered from the depth of the depression into which it had fallen as the result of the waste of war." It will also be known as the first full year of the Harding administration, while the "waste of war" and "cost plus" may be chalked up against the account of the Democratic administration which preceded it.

PHYSICIAN SURPRISED

"Hearing of some good results from the use of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy I decided to try it on a chronic case of indigestion and gastritis I was interested in. After the first dose the patient was relieved of gas trouble and was soon able to eat radishes and many things he had not eaten in years." It removes the catarrhal mucous from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded at Alred Drug Co.

Before Baby Comes

THERE are thousands of expectant mothers who undergo much useless suffering for months before, as well as at the moment when delivery occurs. These months of suffering, with nerves and vital organs weakened, leave their effect upon the child. An eminent physician found the way to stop much of this unnecessary suffering—the same easy way which thousands of mothers have used for three generations.

Mrs. Walter S. Hadley, Bridgeport, Ind., says: "Before my little boy came I was so paralyzed in my hips and limbs I could hardly walk, and some days after a little extra exertion I couldn't walk a step. I felt it coming on this time; in fact, I could hardly get up when I sat down, but now, after using one bottle of Mother's Friend, I am so much better. I feel that I almost owe my life to Mother's Friend."

"Mother's Friend" is applied externally to the abdomen, back and hips. It penetrates remarkably, permitting the easier relaxation and distension of muscles, nerves, tissues and ligaments, and their constant easier readjustment during expectancy and at child-birth. Have no more fear or dread, mother! Start using "Mother's Friend" now—the sooner the better.

Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says: "With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse, and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used Mother's Friend and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor, because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes."

"Mother's Friend" contains no narcotics or harmful drugs. It is safe. For three generations "Mother's Friend" has relieved expectant mothers of much useless suffering. Mother! you must avoid mere greases and useless substitutes. Begin using "Mother's Friend" today. It is sold at drug stores—everywhere.

Constipation

Constipation of the bowels is a stoppage of the sewerage system that removes waste matter from the body. It is as necessary that your bowels move regularly once each day, to carry off this waste, as it is that the waste pipes of your home be kept open and carry off the waste from the house. If you would enjoy good health, keep your bowels regular by taking Chamberlain's Tablets when needed.

One of the loveliest of the season's social affairs was given on last Saturday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pitts afforded an inspiration for a dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Pitts.

An elaborate five course dinner was served. Later in the evening the guests enjoyed a real musical program. Mrs. Pitts, who is a very gifted pianist, having studied music at the Woman's College and Cincinnati Conservatory, delighted the party with several numbers.

An influenza epidemic at Gadsden and vicinity reached such proportions that it was necessary for the Etowah County Medical Society to postpone its annual banquet and installation of officers scheduled for January third. It takes a high-grade flour like Gilster's Best to make tender, flaky pie crust and light, delicate cake. Of course, Gilster's Best costs a little more than ordinary flour, but good cooks know that it is worth it.

In baking with Gilster's Best, be sure to use less lard than you ordinarily would. Because of its high quality and the extreme fineness to which it is ground, Gilster's Best requires less shortening.

GOOD FOR BRANDON!

The Union-Banner, though a Republican newspaper, is glad to say that we most heartily endorse the recommendations of Governor Brandon for economy and business sense in the administration of the affairs of our state government. One of the friends of our paper in Chilton county has repeatedly told us that he did not object to our being so strongly Republican. "But," says he, "It looks to me like you might sometimes see something good about the Democrats." To this friend in particular, and the people in general, we wish to say that we find many things in Governor Brandon's recommendations that are good and sound. In fact, he has put into his administration program many of the things which have always been advocated by this paper and the Republicans of this county.

from the State of Alabama and is

The Ala. Legislature

By W. M. WYATT,
REPRESENTATIVE OF CHILTON COUNTY

Well, here we are again this week, with a brand new governor, and the stage all set for some real legislative action. There has not yet been anything done in the house of much importance, up to Monday night. After we get Governor Brandon's message Tuesday the wheels of the house will start to rolling.

Monday was all taken up by the festivities of the inaugural program. The legislature met at 10 o'clock and adjourned a few minutes later for the inauguration.

It would not be at all possible in this brief space to describe this memorable occasion. Suffice it to say that the inauguration of Bill Brandon goes down in history as one of the most glaring occasions in all the records of Alabama. It was an event that was characterized by the participation of the common people of the state to a degree never equaled before. The old wool-hat fellows from the sticks felt as big on this day as did the city folk who rode in fine autos. And they did not hesitate to let their joy have full expression.

There was every kind of "Bill" known to Alabama in the parade. They ranged all the way from Billy Goat and plain old Hill Billy up to Bill Brandon, who was the chief Bill about whom all the other Bills were so joyous.

We noticed in the parade two Clanton boys—Broadus Connatser in the Tuscaloosa Band, and John Durwood Mullins, a member of the cadet company of the Starke University school. Broadus was "blowing" a saxaphone and John Durwood was carrying a musket that was almost as big as himself.

Among the Clanton people who witnessed the inauguration we saw W. J. Morris, Jim Best, Ed Wagoner, Dave Easterling, Grady Reynolds, W. W. Fox, J. L. Johnson, Ewart Corley, Rev. C. C. Wilkerson, Hugh Foshee, H. T. Pipes, H. M. Simpson. There were doubtless others. I am sure I did not see all who were here.

Grady Reynolds and I had dinner at the Exchange Hotel. It was what they called their "special inauguration dinner." One item in it was Eufaula pork. Grady said if that was all there was to Eufaula pork, he would take Chilton county razor back next time.

I have always wished that I might find a variety of hog that was made up of nothing but liver and chitlings. This Eufaula hog must be all skin, judging from the portion which made a part of my "inauguration dinner."

Governor Brandon's inaugural address was a reiteration of his campaign pledges. He seems to be holding to his determination to put things in Alabama on a better basis. The Democratic party owes it to our state to carry out such a program as is advocated by Brandon. Now will they do it? Well, we shall see what we shall see.

Hon. W. W. Monroe, of Fayette, was present at the inauguration Monday. It was the first time the writer has seen him since he taught school in Clanton in 1911. Mr. Monroe is now a prominent lawyer of Fayette. He has many friends in Clanton who hold fond memories of him and his lovely wife who were with us for four years.

Hon. Ed Doty, of the Lafayette Sun, was present to hear Governor Brandon deliver his message to the legislature Tuesday. He was granted the privilege of the floor and given a chair with other representatives of the press of the state.

Bob Vail, of Baldwin county, editor of the Baldwin Times, was also present in the house to hear the Governor's message.

Everybody who visits the legislature seeks out the seat of Mrs. Wilkins of Selma, and take universal pride in meeting Alabama's first woman to sit as one of the state's law-makers.

Lobby gossip Tuesday night revealed a considerable amount of sentiment in favor of the election of county superintendents of education by a vote of the people. Two general bills to provide for such election were introduced Tuesday, and in addition a local bill for Coffee county was introduced to provide for the election of this official. Other counties will try for such local bills if the general bill should fail to pass.

A bill providing for a gasoline sales tax of 2 cents per gallon, the proceeds to be used exclusively for road work by the various counties of the state, was introduced in the house of representatives by Mr. Glover of Henry county Tuesday. The bill provides that the proceeds from the tax shall be apportioned among the counties on a road mileage, basis and that the entire fund so derived shall be expended by the counties, none of it to go into the hands of the state highway department.

Mr. St. John, of Cullman county, introduced a bill Tuesday to repeal the general revenue act of 1919.

Representative Walton, of Chambers, introduced a bill to extend the present convict lease system of the state to Jan. 1, 1927.

The first bill introduced in the house at this session was to provide for the reduction of the salary of the governor of Alabama from $7,500.00 a year to $6,000.00 a year.

An appropriation of $200,000 is sought in a bill to create a state sanitorium for tuberculosis, and a tuberculosis bureau under the state board of health.

State officials will have to go beyond the family circle to secure their employees if house bill 33 by Mr. Fite of Jefferson becomes a law. The bill prohibits the employment of any relative by a state official.

The list of bills introduced at Tuesday's session included house No. 3, by Representative Long of Butler "To allow to convicts sentenced to the penitentiary such time as was spent in jail, after sentence and pending final adjudication of appeals, as a part of their sentences, provided that in such cases no release from jail was provided for or permitted by appeal bond or otherwise."

Mr. Long also introduced house bill No. 4 which provides for giving credit to prisoners for good behavior as follows: 2 months deducted from each of the first two years, 3 months from each of the second two years, 4 months from each of the third two years, five months from each of the fourth two years, and six months for each remaining year after 8 years. Where the sentence is under two years but not less than six months, a pro rata deduction as provided for the first two year period is granted, but no deduction is allowed for a sentence under six months. The bill provides that where several sentences are being served their aggregate shall be considered as one.

House bill No. 6 by Mr. Sessions provides for the election of a county superintendent of education for Coffee county.

House bill No. 7 by Mr. Sessions, is to create the office of county treasurer of Coffee county, define his duties and fix his salary.

House Bill No. 9, by Representative Culver, is "to provide for the withdrawal of any deposit of Mutual Aid or Industrial Association or corporation with the state when such corporation or association ceases to do business in the state and reinsures its policy holder in this state."

House Bill No. 13, by Mr. Henley, is to provide for the residence and designate the districts to be served by members elected to the county board of education of Escambia county.

House Bill No. 15, by Mr. Henley, is described as an act "for the betterment of county funds" and seeks to amend a section of the revenue act of 1919.

Representative Tunstall of Hale introduced house bill 16, to provide for the appointment of a joint committee to read and revise the manuscript of the new code prepared by Judge Mayfield, "and to prescribe its powers and duties."

House Bill 18, by Mr. Glover is to further define the duties of the state text book commission, and to provide for the publication of text books and distribution at cost of manufacture to school children.

House Bill 20, by Representative Glover, is to repeal section 6697 of the code of 1907, and release county judges from bonds as provided in that section.

House Bill 22, by Mr. Howze, relates to desertion or non-support of wives or children in counties with a population of 200,000 or over. House Bill 23, by Mr. Howze relates to dependent, neglected or delinquent children in counties with 200,00 or more population. House Bill 24, by Mr. Howze, authorizes the establishment of a division of domestic relations in the circuit courts of counties with 200,000 or more population.

House Bills 25 and 26, by Mr. Howze, are local bills to annul the dedication to public use of certain streets in Birmingham.

House Bill 27, by Mr. Howze, is "To authorize the United States to file notice of lien for any tax on the property of any person in the office of the probate judge or register or recorder of deeds of any county in this state, and to provide for the recording of such notice."

A fee of $10 is provided for this inspection.

More than $50,000 worth of war savings certificates were cashed at the Birmingham post office on January second and third, and an additional $25,000 were converted into treasury savings certificates, establishing a record for the number of certificates presented during a similar period. Post office officials explain that the large volume is the result of certificates being turned in by owners who were the largest purchasers and who do not need the cash except for regular investment purposes.

Indictments have been returned at Jasper by the United States grand jury against E. L. Reid, formerly cashier of the First National Bank of Russellville on a charge of embezzlement. A. L. Stucky, formerly assistant cashier, was also indicted on a charge of embezzlement. Officials of the bank announced several weeks ago that the bank was a few thousand dollars short and implicated the two former employes.

The toll of a midnight fire that destroyed the old brick building known for 50 years as Joe Sturgis' Shop building at Eufaula, was the charred dead bodies of James Barefield, age 70, and his daughter, Winifred, age 23, who resided in apartments on the second floor, and the broken wrist and badly burned body of P. T. Brannon, age 60, who owned the building and resided on the second floor.

Contract for resurfacing portions of Government, Royal and Water streets, Mobile, with asphaltic concrete was awarded to the Reed-Moore company of Wheeling, W. Va., who bid $1.18 a square yard. This concern was also lowest bidder on sheet asphalt at $1.28, and the Southern Roads company of Birmingham was lowest bidder on Warrenite bitulithic at $1.49. The total cost will be about $60,000.

Arrangements are being made for the meeting of the Fifth Southern Forestry Congress in Montgomery on January 29, 30 and 31. Col H. S. Graves, former chief forestry of the United States forestry service, will be one of the speakers. Governor-elect Brandon will deliver the welcome address. Lumbermen and conservationists from all over the southern states are expected to attend.

Designed in 1883 by Stanford White, who was shot and killed in New York several years ago by Harry Thaw, erected in 1884 at a cost of around $250,000, furnished in an extravagant maner and opened in April, 1885, the Ariston Inn, at Anniston, a historic hotel building, was practically destroyed by fire on the morning of January 3rd.

Letters notifying the successful firms that their bids for parts in the erection of the new Albany High school had been accepted have been mailed out. Announcement was made that the Gowans-Haley company of Nashville had been awarded the contract for the heating and ventilating the building.

Judge Thomas W. Wert, prominent Albany attorney, is the new commander of the Morgan county post of the American Legion. Judge Wert was elected unanimously to serve as commander for the ensuing year.

A representative of the Alabama Water Company was in Haleyville recently with the aim of arranging for a purchase of the municipal water and light plant there. There appears to be a general approval of the plan to sell.

Theodore Brent and others having charge of the Warrior river navigation enterprise, will ask the government for a complement of 14 modern steel barges to supplant the antiquated craft now in service, it is learned.

After suspension of school for three weeks the Lawrence County High School and the Moulton public school resumed work. The closing of the schools was because of an epidemic of "flu."

Articles of incorporation for the Equity Building and Loan Company, with a capital of $50,000, has been filed in the office of the Jefferson county probate judge.

To make the state of Alabama live within its income and to have a special legislative committee whose duty it will be to look into the advisability of all appropriations, is said to be one of the strong points of Governor Brandon's administration, according to present plans.

Recinding an order issued some time ago, Commissioner W. B. Cloe, of Birmingham, instructed the city comptroller's department to issue rooming house and hotel licenses for the time being without permits from him.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Littlejohn are at home to their friends now in the Sheriff's "Mansion," next to the jail. ABSTRACT OFFICE BEING MOVED

The office of Mr. M. D. Foshee, owner and manager of the Chilton County Abstract Company, is being moved from the Circuit Clerk's office to the office of the County Treasurer up stairs in the Court House. Mr. Foshee invites his friends to come to see him in his new quarters.

And just here, we wish to add a word on the importance of land abstracts. The day has come, or in fact it has always been, when it is not safe to buy land or lend money and accept land as security without investigating thoroughly the titles to the land so involved. Often there are unpaid mortgages, judgments or other liens affecting the title to lands, which an abstract would set out. These things would likely be unknown unless the abstract is developed to show the complete history of the particular piece of land. Therefore, when buying land, or in lending money thereon, it can be seen that an abstract of title be furnished, in order that you may know just what it is you are buying.

An abstract is not such a mysterious thing, although it is utiqte a job to compile one, and the greatest care should be taken by the abstractor to see that the many items that should go into the document are properly gotten up and arranged. The abstract is simply a record of all the transactions involving a given piece of land from the time it was released by the U. S. government to the present day.

A few dolalrs for an abstract that will settle everything in advance is cheaper than going ahead and having a law suit ltaer on.

Mr. Foshee owns the only set of stract books in Chilton county and is prepared to render the very best service in this line. His experience in land abstracting and courts and legal procedure makes him especially fitted for the work of establishing land titles.

I AM MOVING AWAY

As I am moving away from Clanton, I am offering for sale all my property in Clanton, at very attractive prices.

I will sell my home place which includes a fine 6-room house, and 1-2 block of land, 4 lots in all, together with garage, barn, smoke house and chicken house. This property is 3 blocks from court house, 2 blocks from main street, and 1 block from the new highway. I will sell all for $4,000.00. It would cost $5,000.00 to put the buildings on the lot.

I also have one lot of land, about 16 acres, including several lots facing Third Avenue South, in Clanton. The land has a lot of timber on back side. This is just 1 1-2 blocks from the new highway. Will sell this piece of property for $1,000.

Also have about 80 White Leghorn Hens, and 3 Roosters, all fine bred stock. Will pay for themselves in 30 days. Enough laying mash feed goes with them to last 30 days. Will sell for $1.00 each now.

Also have one fine Pointer Bitch 11 months old, spayed; will retrieve and set birds. Mighty fine for a puppy. Will sell her for $15.00 now.

I expect to leave Clanton about the 20th of January, and want to sell the above property before I go away. Will be glad for anyone interested to investigate. I am offering it all at mighty fine bargain prices.

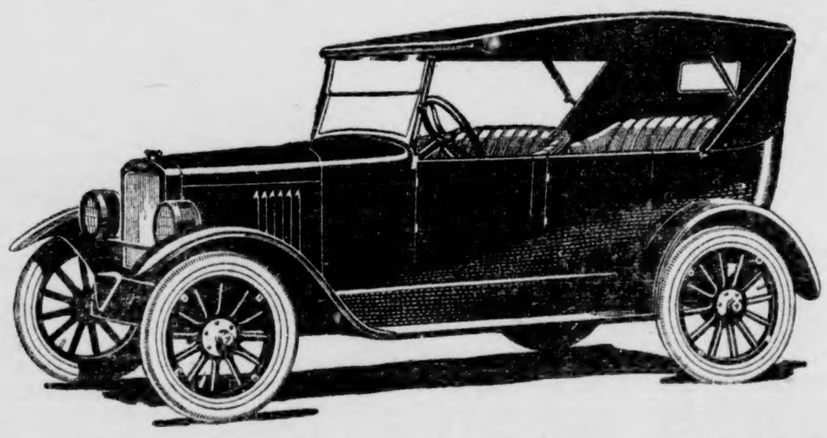
Economy Record Broken--- 33.8 Miles Per Gallon



4819 Miles Over All Sorts of Roads Went to the Making of This Record

300 miles over high mountains
400 miles of Mohave desert and sand
700 miles of Prairies and plains
200 miles of hard going mud
200 miles of Pennsylvania mountains
3000 miles of improved highways and city driving.

Over a distance of 4819 miles from San Francisco to New York, the GRAY encountered mountainous grades and desert trails that the average driver doesn't meet in a lifetime. In spite of these gasoline devouring difficulties, the GRAY car achieved a new world's record—an average of 33.8 miles per gallon for the trip. This record was made under the watchful eye of the observer of the American Automobile Association, who accompanied the car and made careful check on gasoline and oil consumption and mileage.

Remember a stock GRAY touring car was used. Let us demonstrate one to you. Cars on display at Carter's Garage, Clanton, Ala., and City Garage, Columbiana, Ala.

SUGGESTIONS IN BRANDON MESSAGE TO LEGISLATURE

Some suggestions from Governor Brandon's first message to the state legislature are:

Present budget system is recommended and asks that it be continued with the examiner of public accounts added.

Recommends that all expenditures by state, county and municipal governments be published in county papers or otherwise so that the public may be well informed on what is done with their money.

Recommends that all funds constitutionally directed for expenditure be kept intact for that purpose and sacredly guarded and used for no other purpose, nor that it be borrowed from or in any way misused.

Recommends that first moneys invested by state be used for educational purposes and that a constitutional amendment be submitted whereby additional millage tax may be voted by the people if they desire to properly finance common schools, state colleges and universities.

Says that lack of harmony between state institutions of learning creates discord and that "there is need for all and a great opportunity for all."

Recommends quick action for providing home for feeble-minded, already built, with necessary equipment and maintenance funds. Says this is only appropriation he will approve before financial survey is made and that only because the house is completed and is idle and unoccupied now.

Commends work of health department and asks for co-operation as far as possible with the condition of the treasury kept in mind.

Recommends abolition of Board of Control and Economy and setting up of convict board. Favors portion of convict earnings going to families made destitute by such conviction.

Recommends equality of taxation and that exempted properties which have been escaping taxation be taxed as other properties have been and will continue to be.

Recommends abolishing of all tax adjusters and that tax assessors be required to do assessing of properties. Recommends continuation of state tax commission.

Recommends per capita tax on all adults between 21 and 50 years of age, of $2.00 annually; tax on stocks and bonds and hoarded money; raising of mortgage tax and two cents a gallon on gasoline sold in state, to be used for upkeep of public roads.

Suggests passage of law prohibiting tax assessors from succeeding themselves, but extending present terms two years, in order to meet necessary changes by such a step.

Recommends meeting condition of Smith-Lever act for state farmers' benefits.

"Laws are made to be obeyed," says the message. "All laws should be rigidly enforced and the governor is responsible for such enforcement." This should be done locally, he says, but there should be a force to see that laws are enforced under direction of the state.

"Commercialization of the Holy Sabbath day should be prohibited," says the governor. He recommends that all games and amusements where admission fees are charged be prohibited on Sundays. "Providence will smile upon the people who remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy," he says.

Recommends study and changes of compensation law where its workings would be bettered by such changes.

Recommends co-operation in caring for Archives and History Department, bearing in mind status of the treasury.

Recommends that one registrar for each county be substituted for three, or that work be done in probate office.

Recommends enabling act so that Mobile port may be developed.

Recommends cutting State Highway Commission to three and says present commission is "top-heavy."

Commends work of the National Guard in the state.

Speedy trials are necessary in courts, he says, in order to meet expenses of the courts and payment of witnesses and jurors.

Commends suggestions of E. F. Ailison on conservation matters for the state, as already published in the state press.

Recommends adjournment of legislature after ten days until April in order that code committee be able to make report and that other investigations and surveys be made by recess committees of the two houses.

Asks that committees be appointed to sit during recess to confer with budget commission and ascertain financial status of the state; to determine its outstanding debts; income anticipated; income available; fixed charges of state; amount available for appropriation on code; and one to investigate all departments and cost of same and reducing fixed expenses as far as possible without impairing esrvice.

Queer Feelings

"Some time ago, I was very irregular," writes Mrs. Cora Robie, of Pikeville, Ky. "I suffered a great deal, and knew I must do something for this condition. I suffered mostly with my back and a weakness in my limbs. I would have dreadful headaches. I had hot flashes and very queer feelings, and oh, how my head hurt! I read of

CARDUI

and of others, who seemed to have the same troubles I had, being benefited, so I began to use it. I found it most beneficial. I took several bottles .... and was made so much better I didn't have any more trouble of this kind. It regulated me."

Cardui has been found very helpful in the correction of many cases of painful female disorders, such as Mrs. Robie mentions above. If you suffer as she did, take Cardui—a purely vegetable, medicinal tonic, in use for more than 40 years. It should help you.

INTERESTING FACTS

106,327 Ford Cars and Trucks Retailed in November

Approximately the same number scheduled for delivery this month

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN?

This volume of deliveries to actual owners is entirely unprecedented for this time of the year–

It has taxed the manufacturing ability of the Ford plant working at full capacity—

It indicates a volume of business during the rapidly approaching months of "heavy demands" which will be far beyond the maximum production schedule which the Ford Motor Company has set—

And that means a Ford shortage even more acute than the one which existed last Spring and Summer.

Dealers' stocks all over the country are low—there are no reserves to draw upon to meet the demands for delivery—

There is no way in which dealer reserve can be built up, as deliveries have been made to customers as fast as Cars could be manufactured since last April.

The only way you can protect your desire to obtain prompt delivery of a Ford even at this time is to place your order immediately.

This emphasizes more strongly than anything we could possibly say the necessity of your making prompt arrangements with a Ford Dealer for the listing of your order, particularly if you are contemplating the purchase of a Ford Car or Truck for use this Spring or Summer.

We believe you are entitled to know these facts as they actually exist.

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager)

The annual meeting of the Thorsby Fruit and Truck Growers Association, held at the public school building Saturday afternoon, reveals a vigorous growth during the past year both in membership and also the area of their distribution, also a great increase in acreage devoted to products for shipment, to nearby and distant markets, in strawberries alone some 200 acres are grown, which at the present writing promise a bumper crop. Watermelons, sweet potatoes and other products of the soil are shipped in car loads in season. The farmers of this section have been slow to realize the benefits of co-operative buying and marketing and have been content to let a few try it out which they have been doing for several years, gradually their number and the area affected has grown until recently the increase in both has been such as to indicate that the days of one crop farming have been left behind and our farmers are taking advantage of up-to-date methods, which increase their earnings and provide more of the comforts of life.

The officers of the Association, elected for the ensuing year are: T. J. Martin, president; Carl C. Peterson, vice-president; Ed Piper, recording secretary, and J. Walter Littleton, manager.

The directors are: M. J. Soberg, Carl C. Peterson, Chas. A. Peterson and T. J. Martin.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Guild of Thorsby, was held last Friday at the home of the President, Mrs. S. E. Norton. New officers elected were: President, Mrs. Hattie M. Gerald; Vice-President, Mrs. S. E. Norton; Secretary, Mrs. Chas. S. Howard; Treasurer, Mrs. E. W. Butler. The next social gathering of the Guild will be held at the home of Mrs. Chas. E. Lucas on Thursday afternoon, January 25th.

Directors were elected as follows: A. M. Grimsley, chairman; Chas. E. Lucas, Carl C. Peterson, Robert Johnson, J. H. Goddard, A. E. Reagan, J. R. Martin, E. W. Butler, Felix Eiland. BOOK-TRAINED "ECONOMISTS"

Recently a number of newspapers published a chart prepared by an "economist" showing changes in railroad income, gross and net. In some instances this chart indicated the net income as higher than the gross. We'd like to learn the method by which a railroad or any other enterprise manages to get its net income higher than its gross. Some economists need training in ordinary common sense.

MINISTERS AND LAYMENS CONFERENCE

The Ministers and Laymens Conference met in its regular monthly session with the Clanton Baptist Church, Monday, Jan. 15th.

A very interesting program was rendered. The most interesting discussion was centered on the question "What Constitutes Gambling?" The subject was ably discussed by Revs. Deason, Ezell, Norris and Hughes. It was brought out in a very forcible way how many of our churches and Christian people are propagating the gambling spirit by buying all manner of chances. To risk money on a game or a chance or uncertain contingency is to gamble according to Webster's Dictionary. It is evident that many of our people need to look into this matter all too prevalent, and a grave danger to our age.

It was also agreed that our Christian folks should cease lending their support to all games of chance whether for individuals or institutions. Many of our folks think it is alright if the money won or spent goes to an institution of public service. Such need to realize that the end does not justify the means.

It was also decided to hold all meetings at Clanton in the future unless specially invited by some other church.

EXPERTS DISCOMFITED

It looks as if the new tariff bill were going to beat the estimates of the "experts" by about $150,000,000 as a revenue producer, while exports are increasing, and imports indicate that Europe is selling more to us than ever before—the importers buying at low prices, but compelled to pay more into the Federal Treasury by way of duties. They are no longer having things all their own way in the American market, and, though paradoxical, the new tariff was followed by a lowering of living costs.

Letter of Interest By M. D. Foshee

Clanton, Ala., Jan. 22, 1923.
Editor The Union-Banner:

Will you please allow me space in your paper to express to the people of Chilton County as a whole and to my friends and supporters, my great appreciation for the honor that has been bestowed upon me for the last twelve years, in serving you as Circuit Clerk of your County. I was elected in 1910 and re-elected in 1916 serving you until 1923. I have enjoyed being associated with the people of this County in a business way and I feel that I have made some friends whom I shall carry with me the rest of my life. I have tried to serve the people the best I knew how, and at the same time subserve the best interest of the County. My only hope is now that in your minds, looking back over these 12 years, it may be said of me that I simply did my duty and performed that trust which the people had reposed in me.

Let me say that I hold no ill will for any Republican voter; it is the Constitutional right of a voter to vote for whomsoever he or she pleases and that I stand ready today and forever to help fight for the cause of the Republican Party, in any way that I may be able. I have not much sympathy for the man who is a Republican only for what he may get out of it and just as soon as that Party ceases feeding him he scampers to the Democratic Party. My friends I feel free now to speak my honest convictions and the sooner the Republican party is rid of such men the better our party will be. We have built up a strong party in the past and the way to keep it strong it to keep men in our ranks who are Republicans from principle only and to keep out those who are in our party because of a selfish greed only. So lets all work together and if there are any hypocrits and traitors among us lets get rid of them and keep only the men who are Republicans right.

In passing, I would like to speak of one matter and that is in reference to the disapproval of the bond for Contest. From what I could hear, some Democrats were inclined to criticize me for not approving the bond for security for cost in the contest case filed by C. D. Messer against L. H. Reynolds, but since the trial of this matter before the Circuit Court of this County, I have heard different expressions and the majority of them say I did only my duty. The evidence showed that I agreed with two of their Lawyers that they would go before some Notary Public or other officer and acknowledge that they had signed this bond and if the bond was correct in form I would approve it. And to be absolutely fair I picked out five men on the bond who resided here at Clanton and were readily accessible, and agreed to approve it if these five would acknowledge before some officer that they had signed the bond. I considered this only fair in the face of the fact that I had had information that some of the names on the bond were secured through misrepresentation. But what happened? These two Lawyers who agreed to do this, only brought one of these men back to my office to acknowledge signing the bond and none of the others ever appeared before any officer. The evidence adduced upon the trial of this cause will bear me out in these facts. Further more the cost in this contest case might go to twenty-five thousand dollars, and it is too serious a matter to trifle with, especially since I am held liable if this bond should turn out to be worth less. I felt that I was elecited by the people to take care of their interest; they had reposed confidence in my ability and I was only safeguarding your interest and mine and my successor in office, Mr. Zeb Mims, when I refused to approve the bond. Since the trial however, I have heard expressions from some of the sound-thinking Democrats that I only did what any reasonable man would have done under like circumstances. In conclusion, I would like to express my wishes to my successor in office, Mr. Zeb Mims, for a prosperous and successful term in office and I am sure he will never give the people any cause to regret having elected him.

I also wish all the officers of our County a successful administration and may they all serve the people faithfully and diligently.

Again expressing my appreciation to the people of Chilton County and assuring my friends that I am only too glad to reciprocate the kindness in my feeble way and to remember that my mind will never grow less with the memory of you, and the honor that you have bestowed upon me, I am,

Yours very truly,
M. D. FOSHEE.

The UNION-BANNER

BOB JONES COMING TO CLANTON FOR REVIVAL MEETING

The announcement is made by Rev. Wilkerson of the Clanton Methodist Church that Rev. Bob Jones, the famous evangelist of Montgomery, will be in Clanton to conduct a revival meeting beginning on February 11th. Rev. Jones is one of the most powerful preachers in the country, and he may be expected to shake Clanton up as never before.

EUROPEAN LOGIC

As curious specimens of logic, some of the arguments advanced for the purpose of involving the United States in purely European affairs ought to have a place in a comic treatise on metaphysics. The French spokesmen argue—You Americans saved us from destruction by Germany; now it is your duty to guard us for all future time. On the same line of reasoning, if one man saves another from drowning, it becomes his duty to serve as a protector and supporter of the unfortunate all the rest of his life. Recently the internationalists have tried to induce the United States to say just how much reparations Germany should pay. If they succeeded in this, their next step in propaganda would be the advancement of the theory that since the United States set the amount of the reparations, it is the duty of the United States to see that it is paid.

Mr. Maurice Lande, Manager of The Leader, returned last Thursday from Chicago, where he has been for the past few weeks buying stock. Mr. Lande is a hustling young business man, and is making preparation to open up another store in Clanton soon.

NEW HARMONY

Health of this community is good with the exception of Uncle Bob Williams, who has been very sick. We hope for his speedy recovery.

Mr. Colonel Blackwell and family motored to Selma Saturday, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Broadhead, Mrs. Monroe Headley, Miss Ollie Culp, Mr. Harvie Anderson, Miss Ruth Williams and Mr. Virgil Headley. All report a nice time, although they had a little car trouble as they came back.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Cooper spent Sunday afternoon at Mr. F. A. Bates' and report that they have bought them a car of the newest make—the Gray car. We wish them much success and few break-downs.

Mr. and Mrs. Ocie Payton visited at Mr. E. F. Jackson's Saturday night.

Uncle Bob Weaver attended the candy breaking at Mr. Sam Williams Saturday night.

Mr. J. P. Jackson called on Miss Rosa Bates Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. W. B. Cooper has returned home from an extended visit to relatives in Tennessee.

Mr. O. F. Bates and family, formerly of Selma, spent Saturday night and Sunday at F. A. Bates.

Miss Gertrude Jackson is spending the week with her father at Mitchell Dam.

Mrs. W. B. Cooper and Mrs. Harmon Culp spent Saturday evening with Mrs. T. G. Culp.

Miss Ollie Jackson spent Saturday night and Sunday with Miss Norene Headley.

We regret very much to say that we have lost our good friend, Miss Ollie Culp, who has moved near Stanton. We wish her much pleasure at her new home.

CARY ROBINSON HURT LATE THURSDAY AFTERNOON

Cary Robinson of Providence, Beat 16, was painfulyl but not seriously hurt late last Thursday afternoon. He was engaged in unloading some logs off his wagon when a prize pole flew up and hit him under the chin, breaking his jaw bone in two places. He also sustained one or two cuts on the lip and under the chin. Mr. Robinson was brought to the Central Alabama Hospital where he is now receiving treatment. Late reports say that he is doing well.

HIRE A HALL

A prominent college professor wants "a suspension of all tariffs the world over for five years." He has the unanimous approval of the cheap labor of Europe and Asia which would like to market its products in the United States whether the American workman has a job or not. Why doesn't the professor get out and run for Congress upon a program of throwing down the bars for the admission of the products of cheap labor from everywhere in the world? He would find that the same voters who believe in keeping out cheap labor also believe in restricting the importation of products of cheap labor.

Doubling Up.—A teacher of music in a public school was trying to impress upon her pupils the meaning of f and ff in a song that they were about to learn. After explaining the first sign, she said, "Now, children, what do you say; if f means forte, what does ff mean?"

"Eighty!" shouted one enthusiastic pupil.—Youth's companion.

BETHSALEM

Health of this community is very good at present except Mr. G. H. Pierce, who has been on the sick list for the last week. Though we are glad to state that he is improving some now.

Mrs. Susie Vinson and her daughter, Josephine, spent Saturday with Mrs. Ethel Billingsley.

Miss Dolly Pierce had as her guests Thursday night, Misses Macie, Alvie and Bunie Adams, Myrtle Mims, Estelle and Gertrude Friday, and Messrs. Elbert Bowles, Dewey Hill, Albert Davis, Meritt Wilson, Richard Adams and Curtis Dennis. They all reported an enjoyable time.

Mr. Tommy Carter was the honorable guest of Miss Josephine Vinson Sunday. They went to Indian Grove to the singing and reported a nice time.

Miss Dolly Pierce spent Saturday night and Sunday with her esteemed friend, Miss Susie Huett, and had a nice time, of course.

Mesdames Jim Hill, Jim Pierce, Wiley Friday and Sidney Askins all spent a short while with Mrs. Susie Vinson Sunday afternoon.

Miss Rolly Pierce and Mr. Albert Davis visited Misses Josephine and Alta Vinson Sunday afternoon.

Misses Jessie Mae Pierce and Alphie Cagle spent Saturday night with Mrs. Lula Gray.

WILL ASK FOR ROAD EXTENSION

A petition of citizens will be presented to the Court of County Commissioners at their next meeting asking for an extension of the Wyatt and Miner Public Road from where it now ends, in an easterly direction about two miles to a point at or near the Bud Mims place, at which place the extension will connect with the public road which now extends from the Iron Ore Hill to Hog Creek. The proposed new piece of road will cross Hog Creek near the old Red Jones place.

BETHANY NEWS

We are glad to state that health of this community is very good except a few of the boys around here had the blues awfully bad for the past few days.

Miss Dolly Pierce, of Bethsalem, spent Saturday night with her esteemed friend, Miss Susie Huett. She reports a nice time.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Dykes spent Saturday night with Mrs. J. M. Dykes.

Mr. Tommie Gray spent Saturday night with his aunt, Mrs. Alice Chambers.

The school is progressing very nicely now under the able supervision of the matchless teaching faculty. We rendered a funny little program Friday afternoon. Several of the people were visiting school. We invited them all to come back when they can.

Miss Dolly Pierce dined with Miss Susie Huett Sunday.

Mr. Elsie Patterson was the honorable guest of Miss Lena Dykes Sunday afternoon.

Rev. J. A. Raines filled his regular appointment at this place last Saturday and Sunday.

A truck load of people from this community motored down to Indian Grave to the singing Sunday afternoon. They report a nice time.

Miss Virbie Gray dined with Misses Mary and Emma Gray Sunday.

A crowd of young people spent a few enjoyable hours at the home of Miss Lena Dykes Sunday afternoon. We added much to our enjoyment by making some pictures.

Everybody come to the singing next fourth Sunday afternoon. Don't forget your 1923 books!

Superintendent Urges Payment of Poll Tax

In ancient times the franchise was a royal privilege bestowed upon loyal subjects, but in a democracy like ours it is a constitutional right of every intelligent, law-abiding citizen. Citizenship involves on the one hand protection of the individual by the state, and on the other allegiance to and support of the government.

No man or woman can discharge fully the duties of citizenship without exercising the right of suffrage. It is peculiarly important in Alabama that all persons qualified exercise their right to participate in the affairs of government. To do this, every citizen between the ages of twenty-one and forty-five years must pay annually on or before February 1st the constitutional poll-tax of $1.50. This tax goes wholly to the schools.

Every business, civic and social organization and also every school teacher should urge upon all who are liable the imperative duty of paying poll tax, thus becoming eligible at all times to participate in civic affairs and, at the same time, have a part in further supporting the work of our schools.

Respectfully,
HOWARD L. FOSHEE,
County Supt. Education.

THE APPRECIATION OF THE CARLETON FAMILY

To the Pattonville charge for their kindness shown us during our father's illness and death:

I was sent here from our annual conference held at Sherman, Texas, Oct. 18, 1922. Therefore I had only been here a few days when my father came out from Alabama to spend a while with me, was taken down sick in a few days after his arrival here at Pattonville. He continued to grow worse until he died Jan. 8, 1923.

But strangers as we were to this community, these good people of Pattonville and the surrounding communities did not for one moment neglect our father nor our family. They did everything to help him in his suffering; by visiting him, giving him nice food to eat, or nice fruit; sweet were words of cheer; and stood right by me in my sorrow, helped me as though they were my brother or sister, and as though my father was the father of the whole community. They saw that I had plenty fuel for fire, food for the table, without cost on my part, and gave me money any time that they thought I might need it.

As a rule I have always had good nice people where I have been sent to preach. They have always treated me nice and good as their pastor, but it does seem to me that the people of Pattonville, and the surrounding communities have excelled all the people that I have ever known, for kindness, loyalty, to the church, and to God.

I feel that if I do not do good for this people here this year it will be my fault, and that I ought to be excluded from the church. However, I do not feel that I can ever repay them for their great kindness shown us. My brothers and sister who visited me during my father's sickness feel the same gatitude toward these good people as I do, and have ask to write this piece for the papers regarding them.

May the almighty God bless my work here this year to the upbuilding of His kingdom, and for the salvation of many lost souls.

Humbly yours,
W. W. CARLETON.

PERMANENT PROSPERITY FOR SOUTHERN FARMERS

"Why wouldn't it be a good idea to start right now establishing permanent farm prosperity on every Southern farm, to take the place of the regular see-saw into debt and out of debt that has been going on for fifty years or more," said H. G. Hastings of Atlanta, prominent agricultural leader, recently.

"Enough money has come into the South during the last twenty-five years for cotton to have made this the wealthiest agricultural section instead of the poorest. Where has all these billions upon billions of dollars gone?

"These cotton dollars have largely gone to the North and West for bread and meat, gone never to return. Our foolishness, our slavishness to the one crop system is the reason. Our foolishness has put our farm land values on a $10.00 to $50.00 per acre basis and largely helped to put Illinois and Iowa lands on a $300.00 to $400.00 per acre basis.

"It is world wide experience with no exception that there can be no regular permanent prosperity to the regular food buying, grain buying cropper or farmer. Every dollar's worth of food and grain produced on home acres is a dollar saved. It means that much freedom from debt, high interest and dealers' profits.

"Food, grain and forage production on home acres sufficient for the family, the working live stock, the cows and meat animals, poultry, etc., is the first step toward permanent farm prosperity and there can be no permanent farm prosperity on anybody's farm until these necessary items, fully sufficient for home needs, are produced on home acres, not only in 1923 but every year.

"It's a good time now to start the prosperity program off right. The first thing in line is a real home garden, properly prepared, planted and kept replanted through the year. Lots of farm folks tell us that one-third to one-half their living comes out of their garden. Corn and other grain and forage crops take care of the live stock. Hogs and poultry cannot fatten or produce eggs on air and water. So it is all along the line. Make food instead of buy food for home use. It beats 'get rich quick' schemes and steadily followed insures permanent farm prosperity."

PREDICT COTTON TO PASS THIRTY CENTS

"Action of the cotton market practically guarantee that the price of cotton will go over thirty cents," it was stated in a market news dispatch received at the local cotton exchange in Montgomery yesterday. The predictions of the "bulls" that cotton will continue to advance was accompanied by an increase in price on the local market of thirty-seven points, or about three-eights of a cent, yesterday. This represents an increase of about $3 per bale in price on the American market, and the mark of 28.25 cents reached is the highest since 1920.

At the market's close Saturday, a price of twenty-eight cents, the highest recorded up to that time, was reached. On Monday the price dropped off twelve points, but the increase of thirty-seven points yesterday placed the price one-quarter of a cent higher than has been previously recorded.

A comparatively small sale of cotton on the local exchange was noted yesterday. Only thirty bales changed hands, and this indicates that local cotton holders are confidently expecting higher prices in the near future.

Facts About Child-Birth

AN eminent physician has shown to thousands of expectant mothers just how to be free from dread, and from much of the suffering which many mothers experience for months, right up to the moment when the Little One arrives!

Mrs. Wm. Washington, 107 Louise Ave., Nashville, Tenn., says: "There is positively no woman on earth that would be without 'Mother's Friend' during expectancy if she only knew the value of comfort."

"Mother's Friend" is externally applied to the region of the abdomen, back and hips. It relieves the tension on nerves and ligaments as month follows month. Finally, it makes child-birth a joy instead of a painful dread.

Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradfield Regulator Co., BA-47, Atlanta, Ga., for a free wonderful book containing information every expectant mother should have. Get a bottle of "Mother's Friend" today. It is sold by all druggists—everywhere.

POLL TAX PAYMENTS ARE ESSENTIAL

Upon first thought you may have reached the conclusion that it is not necessary to pay your poll tax this year. But let us consider this matter a little bit, and see further.

There will no doubt come out of the present legislature, several propositions in the form of Constitutional Amendments that will require the vote of the people of the state to accept or reject. You will no doubt be interested in these things. They are of vital concern to every citizen of the state, and you should be able to vote on them. Unless your poll tax is paid, you cannot vote on them.

Governor Brandon and a large number of friends of the common schools are advocating the submission of an amendment for a head tax of $2 on every person between 21 and 50 years of age—the same to be compulsory. You cannot vote on this amendment unless you are a qualified voter. In other words if you refrain from paying the $1.50 poll tax now, the other fellow may vote a $2.00 tax upon you when this measure is submitted to the voters this year.

The poll tax might be allowed to remain at $1.50 and run from 21 to 60 and be made compulsory. Would it not be better for all our people to make up their minds to pay their poll tax rather than to be made to do it?

Indications are that the law of registration will be changed so that voters may register at the court house any day in the year. Unless your poll tax is paid, you will not be able to register.

There will likely be more big questions submitted to the people this year than ever before. You should be qualified to exercise the rights of a citizen in passing upon these things by casting your vote for or against them, as you believe to be right. Unless your poll tax is paid, you will be denied this right.

A three-mill state tax to be divided between the higher institutions of learning and the common schools will lekely be submitted to the voters of the state in the form of a constitutional amendment following the present legislature. Also the question of a constitutional convention for the purpose of framing a brand new constitution for our state. Would you like to be able to vote on such important questions? If you would, you should pay your poll tax.

Then last, but not least, we might call your attention to the fact that your common schools need the poll tax money. For that reason, if no other, you should be interested in paying the $1.50, in order that you might help your schools.

Don't forget—men and women—that the first day of February is the last day upon which you will be able to pay your poll tax for this year. The time is short, and you should get busy now. The tax collector informs us that only a very small number of people have paid this tax this year.

NO REWARD FOR LOYALTY

What can a man hope for who enters the government service as a career? Let us look at some actual cases. Here is the story of one as told by E. J. Ayers, chief clerk, Department of the Interior. He cites it as a case similar to that of many others in his department, and says there are many others who are in worse circumstances:

"The records of our department show that he entered the service as a laborer at $660 a year, after a service of three and a half years in the United States navy as a first-class fireman, with an honorable discharge. He has been with us for more than thirty-three years, and is sixty-six years old, and has given more than half his life to the service of the government.

"He owns a little property three miles beyond the Chesapeake Junction, and he gets up early in the morning, before daylight, and comes in to work and goes out after dark at night. Today he is getting $840 a year. He has raised a family of nine children—three of whom are now dead—eight boys and one daughter. His elder sons are married and have established homes of their own. Two of his sons were in the military service in France, and his daughter, twelve years old, lives with her grandmother, where he is supporting, educating and clothing her.

"He is a white man, a very intelligent man, eminently qualified for this particular line of work. His wife is dead. He is his own housekeeper and he does the cooking and the washing and the ironing.

"His home was established in its present location because it was not thought practicable to raise a family in the district, and he bought a piece of property in Prince George's county three miles beyond the railroad terminal, which distance, as I said, he walks twice a day, leaving in the morning most of the year before daylight, and returning home by dark. This small place consists of a shack and a few acres of land on which he has a mortgage of $1,000, and you can judge that he enjoys no conveniences other than the small house, which protects him from the elements.

"The house is divided into four rooms, the partitions being of paper tacked to the framework, there being no laths or plaster.

"The small stove standing in the center of the room he has used for more than twenty years, and the pot on the stove contains his Sunday dinner, which he has prepared for himself, consisting of white navy beans and fatback. These beans are now costing him twenty-five to thirty cents a quart, and the fatback costs him forty cents a pound. It could have been purchased a few years ago for seventeen cents a pound, and the beans for ten cents. He does not get any fresh meat because he cannot afford to buy it.

"To my mind it seems a pity that the United States government should employ men of that type, or any other type for that matter, and not give them enough to live on decently. It is particularly a pity in this case because he is somewhat superior to many of the employees. He has stayed with us as a matter of faithfulness to the government, and has stayed with us when he could make more in one week outside of the government than we pay him for one month.

"Others have left us, but instances of that kind have been very few. At one time I had in our auditorium our employees and I made an appeal to them to stand by us during the war period, and there were more than 300 of them present, and they all of one accord assured us that they would stand by us and would give us the benefit of their labor in our department during the war period, notwithstanding the fact that the price for labor outside was a great deal more."

This curious pride in their work and loyalty to the government and the government service was a thing that cropped up in the most unexpected places.

As one employee put it: "I think you will find that every service seems to be quite proud of its work. I know you will find it in our service as far as compensation and such as that are concerned. The pay in this office is small, but that element, that feeling in a man's mind that he is really helping to accomplish good work and helping this government to function well, is really part of it. I find in all my talks with employees that they really feel proud of their work, and that pride is really what gets things done. I think that is true everywhere in the whole service, and particularly throughout the executive departments."

That is curiously true, and it is one of the reasons, possibly the chief reason, why men stay on in the departments year after year at a low rate of pay and not much possibility of promotion.

UNION SERVICES AT BAPTIST CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY NIGHT

Announcement is made that there will be a union service at the Clanton Baptist Church next Sunday night at 7 o'clock, all the denominations of the city participating. The main feature of the occasion will be an address by Thomas V. Ellzey, General Superintendent of the Alabama Sunday School Association, on the subject of Sunday School work. This event will be the inauguration of a special campaign which will lead up to the revival meeting that is scheduled to begin here on February 11th, in charge of Rev. Bob Jones of Montgomery. All the citizens of the town are urgently requested to attend this meeting on next Sunday night.

SEVERANCE TAX PLANNED BY SENATOR DUNCAN

The Alabama Legislature will be called upon to decide whether or not this state shall have a severance tax law. Senator George W. Duncan of the first District is preparing and will introduce a bill to this effect in the Senate this week.

The bill of Senator Duncan will provide a three per cent tax on the value of all coal, and iron taken from the mines of Alabama. On all other raw products such as lumber, limestone, graphite, marble, oysters, turpentine, and other raw products, he will propose a two per cent tax.

The idea which actuates the senator in fostering this bill is that the state should derive revenue from the commercialization of its natural resources which are being depleted by persons who place them on the markets of the country. This bill will no doubt provoke a lively fight in the legislature.

JOHN DAVIS GOES TO PENITENTIARY

John Davis left Clanton Tuesday morning, and went to Montgomery to begin a sentence of one year and one day, which sentence was imposed upon him by the Circuit Court of Chilton county, upon a charge of making liquor. The case has been pending for the past four years. A recent decision of the higher court affirmed the decision of the Chilton Circuit Court, and Mr. Davis forthwith delivered himself to the convict department to ebgin the sentence. He reported at the office of the Convict Department in the Capitol, from where he was sent to Kilby Prison for apportionment.

IMPORTANT REAL ESTATE DEAL

Mr. Ed Giles, who lives two miles south of Clanton, recently purchased of Dr. J. E. Gowan the vacant property a block south of the county high school building. This property contains in all about eight and one-half acres, or about twenty city lots.

Mr. Giles says he will begin at once to erect residences on this property. This deal means a great deal to Clanton, as we are in urgent need for more residences for rent.

Dr. Gowan also has a big building scheme on hand which will push right away.

NOTICE OFAPPLICATION FOR PARDON

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, Ocie Mims and Washie Mims, will make application to the State Board of Pardons for pardon or parole. The said parties were convicted in the spring term, 1922, of the Circuit Court of Chilton county.

JUDGE REYNOLDS URGES YOU TO PAY POLL TAX

Clanton, Ala., Jan. 25, 1923.
Editor The Union-Banner:

Please allow me a small space in your paper to remind the Republicans to pay their poll tax. This tax is now due and will be delinquent after the first day of February. This means that you will have the first day of February in which to pay your tax, but this will be the last day. This is going to be an important year as far as elections are concerned, as there will be one or two Constitutional questions to be submitted to the people, respecting propositions in which we are all vitally interested.

This tax only cost one dollar and fifty cents, and every cent of it goes to the schools of our county. So for two controlling reasons we should all pay this tax, first that we may have the liberty to speak out our convictions among our fellowman and may have the assurance of knowing that we are legally able to go to the polls and vote those convictions, and secondly there is no nobler cause than that of Education.

This is one great liberty that we still have and the duty is now incumbent upon us to exercise it. Besides there is that feeling in a man or woman when their poll tax is paid that he or she has a voice in this great government of ours, and does not have to look to some other man or woman for their opinion. You must also remember that if you miss this year your poll tax will be twice the amount next year.

Let me especially urge the women to pay, as no woman who is qualified to register can be more than three years delinquent. You have been given equal rights with men as to voting, but that right means nothing unless you qualify yourself to vote.

You have only about one week left to pay this tax in. So let's all get busy during this time and especially urge every Republican man and woman in this county to pay their poll tax.

Respectfully,
L. H. REYNOLDS.

The way has been opened in the opinion of city officials and attorneys for the settlement of the controversy in connection with Albany's street paving program begun several years ago but held up after partial completion through exhaustion of funds and court injunctions. A settlement has been reached between the municipality and the successors of the Decatur Land Company in regard to the cost of improvements. It is understood the cost has been scaled down to present prices.

Examiner Haskell G. Davis has proposed that the interstate commerce commission deny the application for the extension of the Tennessee, Alabama and Georgia railroad from Gadsden to Odenville and Birmingham on the ground that it would parallel existing lines, because it in itself is undesirable and, in his opinion, would not yield a return on the investment, according to a message received at Gadsden from Washington.

COOPER SINGING SOCIETY

Will you kindly permit me to use a short space in your paper to say a few words in regard to our singing?

The one last Sunday evening seemed to be the best for some time, as everybody put forth their best effort. Many good singers were on hand together with a house almost filled with listeners.

The song services began with Prof. L. T. Grant acting as chairman. The directors for the afternoon were: Messrs. Lee Robinson, O. B. Devaughn, Mack Boswell, Archie Devaughn, Ralph Grant, Ammie Boswell, R. T. Grant, Luther Little and L. T. Grant.

We believe we have one of the best societies in the county. So we wish to continue to be—will you help us?

We still meet every first and third Sundays in the afternoon. Come see and hear what we are doing and bring someone with you. All visitors receive a hearty welcome.

SOUTH'S TEXTILE INDUSTRY

The cotton mills of the south are going ahead of those of New England and further expansion of the cotton manufacturing industry points inevitably to this section. These now established facts are the logical result of the south's advantages in a field which, but for misapprehensions concerning economic conditions here, would long ago have been indisputably hers. New England's tremendous lead, always heretofore maintained, has disappeared, the center of production gaining at last the first place in the manufacture of its own staple. Evidence that the advantage in this industry is now in favor of the south is furnished by the bureau of census, to which every mill makes a monthly report of its operations. An article in a recent issue of the New York Journal of Commerce on this subject draws attention to the fact that, while the northern mills have twenty-one million spindles and the southern mills have sixteen million spindles, the mills of this section ran last year twenty-four per cent. more spindle hours. While the New England mills ran at seventy-four per cent of normal, the mills here ran at one hundred and ten per cent. of normal.

These facts show that southern mills are handicapped only by a shortage in spindles. The northern mills are handicapped by several things. The matter of labor there is a frequent source of difficulty, but that has not been the determining factor in the situation. For, during periods last year when there was no trouble of this sort, the south's supremacy was not affected. In this connection, it was the south's lack of skilled labor that was formerly supposed to furnish an important reason against its competition in the manufacture of cotton. This argument has been effectively disproved.

The strongest factors in favor of the south are of a more permanent nature. Higher cost of fuel and transportation are admittedly among the handicaps of New England. In these items the south, with its water power and short haul from the cotton fields, has the telling advantages. They are advantages which are bound to count more and more. Trade predictions are that the future growth of this industry will be in the south. —Birmingham Age-Herald.

The fact of the unrest among Eastern cotton manufacturers and of their strong intentions to come south, should open the eyes of the Clanton Chamber of Commerce. If there is anything Clanton needs most at this time it is some kind of a big factory. Let us "strike while the iron is hot." Now is the time for us to act, before someone else gets the lead on us.

Queer Feelings

"Some time ago, I was very irregular," writes Mrs. Cora Robie, of Pikeville, Ky. "I suffered a great deal, and knew I must do something for this condition. I suffered mostly with my back and a weakness in my limbs. I would have dreadful headaches. I had hot flashes and very queer feelings, and oh, how my head hurt! I read of and of others, who seemed to have the same troubles I had, being benefited, so I began to use it. I found it most beneficial. I took several bottles .... and was made so much better I didn't have any more trouble of this kind. It regulated me."

Cardui has been found very helpful in the correction of many cases of painful female disorders, such as Mrs. Robie mentions above. If you suffer as she did, take Cardui—a purely vegetable, medicinal tonic, in use for more than 40 years. It should help you.

The Ala. Legislature

By W. M. WYATT,
REPRESENTATIVE OF CHILTON COUNTY

The house of representatives Tuesday refused to reconsider its action of last Friday whereby the convict lease system was extended for another four years. The motion to reconsider and take back track on the convict bill was made by Judge Sollie of Dale county, and supported strongly by several members, including the lady from Dallas, Mrs. Wilkins. A motion to table the motion to reconsider was made by Mr. Long of Butler, and the motion of Judge Sollie was laid on the table. Thus, so far as the action of the house of representatives is concerned, the convict lease system in Alabama stands extended for another four years. There is a provision in the bill, however, empowering the governor to conclude the system in whole or in part, at any time within the four year period, when the finances of the state and other features of the convict problem will justify such change.

I feel sure that the people of Chilton county will learn with much interest of an action by the house on Tuesday afternoon, whereby an appropriation of $20,000 was voted to continue the work of cattle dipping and tick eradication. But let me have the prvilege of stating right here and now that your representative did not vote for this appropriation. There were many others who did not vote for it. But the majority favored the appropriation. Another companion bill to the dipping appropriation carried an appropriation of $7,500 for the eradication of hog cholera and tuberculosis in cattle. This measure was likewise adopted by a majority over the protest of a number of the members. It is a bill that is as worthless and as outrageous as the dipping bill, and lays a predicate for future appropriations and future legislation that will be worth nothing to the people of Alabama.

Dr. C. A. Cary of Auburn, the autocrat of the agricultural department of Alabama, was on hand with a horde of his lieutenants, to help push these appropriations over, in order that the numerous fat jobs of the tick inspectors might continue, drawing their substance from the pockets of the tax payers and returning no good whatever to the fellow who is to pay the freight.

Representative Henley of Escambia county, declared that the tick business has cost his county more trouble and money than did the world war; yet, like a good Democrat, Mr. Henley voted to continue the appropriation.

The bill by Mr. Long to allow convicts the time spent in jail pending appeal and after sentence to count on their sentences, was lost. The defeat of the bill was caused by the contention of some members that the measure would tend to shorten the sentence of Theo. Lacy, who is now in the penitentiary, serving time for the alleged theft of about a hundred thousand dollars of the state's money.

The bill by Mr. Long to abolish the county tax adjusters and increase the state tax commission to five members was reported favorably by the committee on Tuesday afternoon.

Representative Parker of Coosa county introduced a bill providing that absentee ballots shall be sent direct to the beat in which the voter resides, instead of to the Probate Judge, and another bill providing for a registrar in each beat to be paid 25 cents per capita for voters registered.

A bill was introduced by Mr. Gaines providing for the regulation of the sale of watermelons in Alabama, requiring watermelons sold in carload lots to be weighed and counted and a written statement made as to contents.

A bill to restore majority rule in Alabama was the feature of the senate session Tuesday afternoon. The bill was introduced by Senator Garth, of Madison, and proposed to repeal section 26, of an act to regulate primary elections in the State of Alabama. The bill was referred to the appropriate committee.

The bill is in line with the mandate of the Democratic convention held in Montgomery in September which went on record as opposing the second choice minority rule and in favor of the majority rule. In addition the state committee at its recent session in Montgomery went on record as opposed to minority rule and in favor of majority rule in the affairs of Alabama.

An identical bill to that of Senator Garth was introduced in the house by Representative Hampton.

Another interesting feature of the senate session Tuesday afternoon was the introduction of a bill by Senator Craft, of Mobile, proposing a pension of $30 per month for Confederate soldiers and sailors. This bill was also deferred.

Senator Griffith, of Cullman, introduced a bill to amend the Bedsole act which would increase the allowance of sacramental wine to be brought into Alabama from three gallons to five gallons. This bill went to the temperance committee. This bill conforms to the Volstead act.

Senator Martin introduced a bill which would regulate the marketing of watermelons in Alabama and would provide that the number and the weight of melons in a given car should be marked in the bill of lading. His bill was introduced at the request of the watermelon marketing associations of the state.

The anti-Sunday amusement bill, acted upon by the senate temperance committee last week, was the only measure reported out of committee, and was set down on the calendar for the next legislative day, Thursday morning, when a hard fight is expected.

The severance tax bill of Senator Duncan was the first measure introduced. The bill provides for the levying and collecting of a tax upon all of the natural resources severed from the soil and waters of the state, and disbursing the funds accruing to the public schools, normal schools and three state educational institutions.

Senator Garth, of Huntsville, introduced a measure which proposes to amend schedule 129 of section 361 of the revenue act of 1919, and another amendment to section 26 of an act to regulate primary elections in Alabama.

Definition and regulation of real estate brokers and salesmen, and the creation of a state realty board is sought in senate bill number 68, by Senator Brower of Jefferson, who also introduced a measure that would make it an immediate violation of the law to pass a worthless check, and fixes penalty for the violation.

Senator Carmichael, of Geneva, introduced a bill that would fix the remuneration, salaries, fees and allowances of the judges of probate courts in counties whose population does not exceed 30,000.

Submitting senate bill No. 71 by request, Senator Sloane of Fort Payne, introduced a measure that provides for the election of solicitors in each circuit, determining the pay and also providing for the appointment or election of deputy solicitors.

Senator Hildreth's bill, No. 72, proposes an amendment to section 13 of the act concerning the establishment, discontinuance, construction, use and maintenance of the public roads, bridges and ferries of the state. Senator Craft, of Mobile, followed with a bill fixing the amount of pension to be paid soldiers and sailors of the Confederacy. He also introduced successive bills providing for an appropriation of $10,000 to meet a $30,000 appropriation from the federal funds for deepening the entry at Bayou La Batre, another requiring instruction in public school in carefulness in crossing dangerous streets, street car, railroad and other tracks; and the latter, requiring regular instruction in kindness to and preservation of animals.

Senator Howle introduced a measure that would make superintendents of the public schools elected by the vote of the people, while Senator Martin followed with a bill providing for the loading, shipping and sale of watermelons.

Under the provisions of Senate bill No. 79, submitted by Senator Martin, of Houston, proceeds of the proposed gasoline tax would be apportioned to the various counties of Alabama according to the number of miles of road in each county.

Amendments to sections 1191 and 2472 of the Code of 1907 are included in bills 80 and 81, introduced by Senator Martin.

Senate bill No. 82 provides for experiments and demonstrations in the production of cotton and other crops under present boll weevil conditions, under the direction of the commissioner of agriculture and industries and the governor. The bill also calls for experiments in quick acting nitrogenous fertilizers and the creation of a fund for nitrate experiment work.

The act creating the state department of examiners and accounts would be amended under a bill tendered by Senator Foster of Tuscaloosa, while the succeeding measure, entered by Senator McNeill, of Fayette, provides for the election of a trustee for the Alabama state department of archives and history.

Senator Brower submitted a bill which would regulate the office of sheriff in counties of over 200,000 population, while the final measure, introduced by Senator Craft, makes it compulsory for motorists to come to a complete stop before crossing railroad, interurban and street car tracks in rural districts.

The expected fight on the part of Senator Griffith to remove the bill abolishing the office of state law enforcement officer from the adverse calendar did not materialize Tuesday afternoon. According to Senator Griffith, the measure will be resubmitted in the form of a new bill, which will eliminate certain flaws said to have existed in the original bill.

A resolution which would enable the secretary of the senate to employ five additional clerks was adopted, 31 to 1.

Resolution of Sen. Jones, of Barbour, asking a select committee to investigate his bill providing for the erection and maintenance of a printing plant to produce school books at cost was referred to the committee on finance and taxation. Senator Craft's resolution extending an invitation to H. S. Graves, of Yale University, Henry E. Hardtner and E. F. Allison, forestry experts, to address a joint meeting of the senate and house during the forthcoming forestry congress here, was adopted, while a resolution, asking a joint committee be appointed to investigate and report state prisons and reformatories was referred to the committee on finance and taxation.

Lloyd M. Hooper, Selma, representing the fourth district and Mrs. W. B. Peebles, of Aliceville, tenth district, both succeeding themselves and their terms expiring in January, 1931; W. T. Sheehan, Montgomery, second district, succeeding J. C. McLeod, Virgil Bouldin, Scottsboro, eighth district, succeeding Shelby S. Fletcher, and W. H. Tayloe, Uniontown, state at large, to succeed himself, these terms to expire January, 1935, and Mrs. Edgar Clarkson, Tuscaloosa, Sixth district, succeeding herself and L. Sevier, Birmingham, state at large, terms to expire in January, 1939.

The house joint resolution, endorsing the prospective appointment of former Governor Alf Taylor, of Tennessee, for secretary of interior, was referred to the committee on rules.

A request to defer the meeting of the joint budget committee, scheduled to meet shortly after the recess, was contained in a message from the governor.

Five of the six bills on the calendar for Tuesday afternoon were adopted, Senator Waddell's lawyer bill was postponed until Thursday at the request of the author. Bill 35, proposing an amendment to sections 1408 and 1409 of the 1907 code, concerning municipal issuance of bonds, which was introduced by Senator Nolen, of Alexander City, providing for substitutes to act for probate judges in cases of illness or unavoidable absence.

Senator Foster's measure, amending the election laws so as to provide more than two voting boxes in precincts was passed, 33 to 0.

Senator Oliver's bill, proposing a rearrangement of the boundary line of Talladega, was adopted, as was the measure introduced by Senator Garth, of Huntsville, which would create a board of county commissioners for Madison county.

Joint resolution to reconvene at 10 o'clock Thursday morning was adopted by the senate.

FEED BILL PRESENTED

A bill to take the inspection of the feeding of prisoners in county jails out of the hands of the state and placing this power with the county board of revenue was introduced in the house Tuesday by Representative Powell, by request. The bill includes the recommendations of the sheriff's conference recently held in Montgomery.

It provides for a scale of allowances per prisoner of 60, 50, 40, and 30 cents per day depending upon the number of prisoners, and represents a moderate increase over existing rates.

The bill went to the committee on claims and fees.

The Value of Land Abstracts

It is not safe to buy land or to lend money and accept land as security without first investigating the title of the land. Often there are unpaid mortgages, judgments, or other liens affecting the title, which an abstract would set out. Therefore, when buying land or lending money thereon, it is important that an abstract of title be furnished. A few dollars spent for an abstract is cheaper than going ahead and having a law suit a little later on.

TAX EXEMPTION BILL ADVERSED BY FRIENDS

Seven senators of the finance and taxation committee Tuesday afternoon voted to adverse the bill which would repeal waterpower exemptions instanter. They constituted a majority of the committee and when Chairman Ellis put the vote and found seven senators voting to adverse the bill, he did not put the question on the other side. Those voting to adverse the bill abolishing exemptions instanter were Martin of Houston, Garth of Madison, Powell of Macon, Randall of Bibb, Brower of Jefferson, and Brooks of Escambia.

Six of the seven senators who voted to adverse the bill announced that they voted to adverse it to be certain that it would receive action before the adjournment of the short session. They said that they would move to take the bill from the adverse calendar at the first parliamentary opportunity.

The vote to adverse the exemption termination bill came after an hour's flood of oratory on the part of the proponents of the bill. Senator Brower of Jefferson, and a member of the trainmen's union, was the author of the bill and he spoke first and in its favor.

Several senators made the suggestion that the matter go over for a time until the senators could become more familiar with the effects of the passage of the bill. This turned loose the floodgates of oratory. The senate chamber fairly resounded to the high pitched voices of two or three senators. There were no constituents present and no stenographer to quote them and the oratorical flood passed on.

It could be seen early that proponents f the Brower bill were in the majority, insofar as getting the bill reported in some form was concerned. They could not muster enough votes for a favorable report but did muster the seven necessary for an unfavorable report.

After the bill is reported adversely to the senate, the Brower adherents of the bill must make a motion to take from the adverse calendar. Under the senate rules it will take eighteen votes for the Brower adherents to prevail. An interesting fight is promised on the floor of the senate when the motion to take from the adverse calendar is made.

Uncle Ted's Bedtime Stories

WHAT WOULD LINCOLN SAY?

It was cold outside and a brisk wind was blowing harder and harder every minute, piling the snow in huge drifts across the road. Ruth and Jack had been out all afternoon playing in the snow and had just finished a big evening meal, consumed by the appetite of youth plus that wholesome longing for food brought on by hours in the crisp, fresh air of winter.

"Almost a blizzard," said Uncle Ted as he pulled the curtain to one side and looked into the night. "I'm afraid that snow fort you built this afternoon is not strong enough to hold back old Jack Frost."

"I hope it won't get covered up," said Jack. "We worked hard enough building it."

"That's the way with life, though, Jack. We work hard at various things, building them inch by inch and then some force over which we have no control comes along and destroys our work. That is bad enough, but what seems worse to me is to see something built up by years and years of effort and then threatened with destruction because of blindness or stupidity. It is just this sort of thing that we have faced in this country ever since the Great War and we should think more deeply on the subject today than ever before. I am thinking of the necessity for the United States to keep cool and stay on this side of the Atlantic while France is attempting to force Germany to the terms of the Versailles Treaty. Her action in occupying the Ruhr district and taking over the coal mines is questioned by many and may delay the coming of permanent peace in Europe and even herald the coming of another war.

"You both know that upon the first intimation of this action by France, our President called all the remaining United States troops home from that sector they were holding along the Rhine. That action told the world that we are determined to keep our hands off! It is not our argument. While Great Britain and France hint for cancelation of the allied debt to the United States, nothing is said of the spoils of war obtained by these countries in the form of valuable territories while the United States get nothing. Not that we desire more territory. It has never been our policy to grasp other countries and peoples or parts of countries. I am looking at the entire European situation from our own viewpoint which is 'America first—no meddling in European affairs.'

"We were fortunate in the choice of men to guide us through the early days. Washington, of whom I will tell you more some other time, made plain that one of the first and most important things to remember was to keep clear of anything that would tie us to Europe and her troubles. That was said when Europe was in far better shape than she is today. With the affairs of Europe in worse condition now, and our country with its immense territory and resources requiring constant attention, it is even more important that we keep clear of the bitter controversies that afflict Europe.

"On February 12, we commemorate the birthday of the great man who guarded his country through the great crisis of the Civil War. I speak of Abraham Lincoln who was born in Kentucky, February 12, 1809. As a boy, one of the books he loved the most was Weem's Life of Washington. When he became president he carried with him the teachings of George Washington and they became his own convictions—that the United States should not become entangled in European alliances, and that such meddling can only spell disaster. You children may well study the life of this wonderful man who made his own way from a hard working farm boy to the White House.

"I am telling you of him now because his birthday anniversary comes so soon and because he struggled to make this country a united stronghold for liberty. If he were alive today, Abraham Lincoln would fight hard against anything that would endanger that liberty and would apply the principles of Washington in warning us of the disaster that would certainly follow any attempt on our part to mix in European disturbances."

LA GRIPPE STRUCK ALABAMA HARDER THAN ANY STATE

Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 22.—"The report from Washington that the lagrippe epidemic had hit Alabama harder than any state in the country recently, with the exception of Mississippi, is true," said Dr. S. W. Welch, head of the state department of public health.

The Washington report says that 2,152 cases of la grippe had been reported from Alabama.

"The epidemic was a very mild form of influenza and was distributed universally over the state," said Dr. Welch, "but the peak of the wave was reached in the Tennessee valley some time ago and has passed."

Dr. Welch said that it was necessary at that time to close a number of schools because of teachers and pupils being sick.

"Not a single fatality has been reported to this office, however, as the result," declared Dr. Welch.

FAVORABLE REPORT SEEN FOR SUNDAY CLOSING MEASURE

According to Senator J. C. Inzer, who is at home for the legislative recess, the temperance committee of the state senate on next Tuesday will make a favorable report on the bill designed to prohibit baseball, picture shows and other amusements on Sunday. The bill is expected to pass with the narrow majority of three votes. It is thought that Montgomery and Mobile counties will endeavor to amend the measure so that it will not apply to the large cities of the state, Mr. Inzer said, but he does not believe they will succeed.

UNIVERSITY LETS CONTRACT FOR NEW DORMITORY WING

John Laycock of Tuscaloosa has been awarded the contract to build an additional wing to Tutwiler Hall, a girl's dormitory at the state university. The building will cost approximately $59,000, not including heating and plumbing and will be almost an exact duplicate of the other wing of the building. This structure will contain 40 rooms and will be ready for occupancy when the next fall term opens.

The Gray Challenges the World to Beat This Record!

33.8 Miles per Gallon of Gasoline for 4,819 Miles, San Francisco to New York

A stock Gray touring car has just run from San Francisco to New York on 142.5 gallons of gas—an average of 33.8 miles per gallon for 4819 miles.

Under the direction of the American Automobile Association, it crossed the continent to prove that the Gray gets most from a gallon.

No other car has ever approached this achievement. It stamps the Gray as the wonder car of the industry.

Yet the Gray that set this sensational record is strictly a stock car. It was selected at random from the factory yard by the representative of the American Automobile Association. He rode in it all the way. He measured each gallon of gasoline, he locked the tank, he carried the key himself. He checked the mileage with scientific accuracy. Every minute of the twenty-six days on the road, he made this car prove what it can do.

Therefore the Gray stands today unquestionably the most economical stock car ever manufactured. It has won official sanction upon its sensational mileage claims. It has stood the test. It has performed the feat no other car ever accomplished.

Thus the Gray proves the worth to you of fine engineering striving for light weight coupled with high efficiency. It proves that it can give you, day by day, more miles from a gallon of gasoline than any other car ever built. See the remarkable Gray. Ride today in this world's record car.

INTERESTING FACTS

105,799 Ford Cars and Trucks Retailed in December

Approximately the same number scheduled for delivery this month

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN?

This volume of deliveries to actual owners is entirely unprecedented for this time of the year–

It has taxed the manufacturing ability of the Ford plant working at full capacity—

It indicates a volume of business during the rapidly approaching months of "heavy demands" which will be far beyond the maximum production schedule which the Ford Motor Company has set—

And that means a Ford shortage even more acute than the one which existed last Spring and Summer.

Dealers' stocks all over the country are low—there are no reserves to draw upon to meet the demands for delivery—

There is no way in which dealer reserve can be built up, as deliveries have been made to customers as fast as Cars could be manufactured since last April.

The only way you can protect your desire to obtain prompt delivery of a Ford even at this time is to place your order immediately.

This emphasizes more strongly than anything we could possibly say the necessity of your making prompt arrangements with a Ford Dealer for the listing of your order, particularly if you are contemplating the purchase of a Ford Car or Truck for use this Spring or Summer.

We believe you are entitled to know these facts as they actually exist.

The entertainment of "Queen Esther" class of the Congregational Sunday school, given last Saturday night at Bates Hall, was unique and interesting. It opened with a march by twenty-three young lady members of the class, all dressed in white, each of whom on entering the stage door received a candle which they lighted at one of the two located at the center of the stage. Other lights were lowered while they continued their march until all had formed a semi-circle extending entirely around the stage. With Miss Jenkins at the piano, they sang in unison a song entitled, "Follow The Gleam," indicating the many torches lighted at the torch of teacher or friend. Other numbers on the program were well rendered and the whole entertainment was very creditable to all having a part in it.

On Saturday night, Feb. 3rd, the Dramatic Club of The Helen Keller Literary Society, will present two, one-act plays under the direction of Miss Catharine Perry.

The Ladies' Guild of Thorsby, will hold their regular monthly social at the home of Mrs. W. L. Leary, instead of Mrs. Lucas, as announced last week, on Thursday afternoon, Jan. 25th.

Mr. B. I. Dilger, of Birmingham, motored to Thorsby Saturday evening to visit Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Paxson, and Sunday took Mr. and Mrs. Paxson to Lock 12 to visit Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Peterson, of Albany, spent Sunday with Mr. Peterson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Peterson. Mr. Peterson expects soon to be stationed at Coopers, and they will again make their home in Thorsby, making trips to and from his work by train.

Mr. Veska Martin has moved his family to Jemison this week, where he has secured a position in Mr. W. H. Goodgame's saw mill.

Mrs. Herbert Peterson, and children, and Miss Leora Goodgame, spent the week-end with Mrs. Vera Anderson in Birmingham.

Benjamin Graves and sister, of Birmingham, visited Mrs. J. L. Harris in Thorsby several days. Mrs. Harris is a sister of each of these young people.

Miss Inga Erdahl visited Birmingham to attend two musical entertainments, one given by Alberto Salvi, noted Italian harpist, and the other by Racmaninoff, Russian pianist.

THORSBY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

On Tuesday night the regular meeting of this organization was held at the Congregational Church. The principal speaker of the evening was Mr. L. L. Crump, of Anniston, editor and publisher of "Southern Opportunities" Magazine, which, although published in the South, circulates chiefly in the northern states. Mr. Crump laid before this body an advertising proposition, its object being to publish a series of illustrated articles, covering a period of one year, which shall convey to readers of the magazine, some of the many advantages of farming or residence in Thorsby or its vicinity. The the contract price on this deal, Thorsby Chamber of Commerce will receive, not only the benefit of the magazine's large circulation, but 66 copies of the magazine each month during the year. It is the purpose of the Chamber of Commerce to get names from members of the Chamber, and others, of people living at a distance from Thorsby, who might become interested or have friends who might be induced to seek a home or a farm or other business in this section.

To this end Mrs. Nels Peterson, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, requests that the name and address of such people shall be handed to him this week, that copies of the magazine may be sent them free as they are issued.

THORSBY PUBLIC SCHOOL

The Thorsby Public School has developed a situation which demonstrates the pressing need for more room and adequate facilities wherewith to carry on this very important work. At a called meeting last Sunday of members of the Congregational Church, in Thorsby, after the morning service, application was made by Mr. Chas. A. Peterson, representing the local public school board, for a room in their church building, in which to accommodate the beginners in the primary grade of the public school. This department now has 57 children crowded into a room designed for 25 or 30 children, and the school has now attained an enrollment of 150 scholars, which entitles it to a four room building and four teachers.

Thorsby public school building was built 27 years ago, in the early days of the organization of the town, and no additions or material changes have been made since. Either its projectors had a wonderful vision of the future needs of public education facilities for Thorsby or else there is on the part of many of her people of today a woeful lack of perception of her present needs.

The request from the public school board was promptly referred to the board of trustees of the church, who within half an hour had met and voted unanimously that it be granted, having been convinced that there was really no other suitable place accessible to the children which was available. However, this action by no means settles permanently the proposition which confronts Thorsby people.

Last fall a thoroughly representative committee of our citizens, after long and thorough study of the whole situation of site and ways and means, made a report, recommending that a certain site containing five acres, on which they had secured an option, should be purchased, and a suitable building should be erected thereon, in co-operation with the State Department of Education, and that to finance the proposition a bond issue should be made by The Town of Thorsby, extending over a period of fifteen years, for the sum of $5000. To swing this deal would require the addition of $2 per year on an average for each taxpayer then in the district, or $30 in the fifteen years to pay off the bonds and interest.

This proposition was submitted to the voters of Thorsby and defeated by five or six votes. In the heat of the campaign much criticism and abuse were heaped on the committee as a whole, and several of its members in particular, serving to alienate the vital interest of several of our very worthy citizens, in the matter, who had given freely of their time and money to place in the hands of the people some concrete and definite solution of the matter. Since that time (so far as known to the writer) not one of the opponents of the committee plan, has made any definite proposition or evinced any interest in showing or starting to develop a better way. Almost anybody CAN DO NOTHING, but if progress is to be made in giving Thorsby children what justly belongs to them, somebody or group MUST set things in motion.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. G. White had as their guests last Sunday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Wales Kindrick, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Davenport, Mrs. J. O. Johnson, Mrs. Wash Johnson, Mr. Meady Driver and Mr. Robert Scott.

OUR CONTRIBUTION

British newspapers have recently explained the rapid increase in the value of the British pound sterling by saying that Britain's "invisible exports" more than counterbalance her imports of commodities, and her merchant marine income is cited as one important item in this invisible source of national income. Undoubtedly the explanation is sound. The United States is contributing very largely to that portion of British income by failing to maintain an adequate merchant marine under the American flag.

MEETING OF UNITY-CHILTON ASSOCIATIONS

A very important meeting of the Executive Committee, and officers of the W. M. U., Sunday School Convention, and B. Y. P. U., are requested to meet Rev. J. E. Barnes, one of our state workers, at the Clanton Baptist Church Friday, Jan. 26, 1923, at 10 o'clock. All religious leaders in every phase of our work in both associations are requested to be present without fail.

Constipation

Constipation of the bowels is a stoppage of the sewerage system that removes waste matter from the body. It is as necessary that your bowels move regularly once each day, to carry off this waste, as it is that the waste pipes of your home be kept open and carry off the waste from the house. If you would enjoy good health, keep your bowels regular by taking Chamberlain's Tablets when needed.

NEW BOLL WEEVIL DESTROYER MAY REVOLUTIONIZE COTTON GROWING CONDITIONS IN SOUTH

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 19, 1923.

A boll weevil destroyer, which promises to revolutionize cotton growing conditions in the South, has been perfected by Prof. William S. Cox, president of Cox College, who also operates a large cotton plantation in Bullock county, Alabama.

Prof. Cox, who is a graduate of Auburn and Cornell Univesities, and a widely known chemist, has been conducting experiments for several years in an effort to perfect a practical and effective posion for combatting the boll weevil.

That his process is a success is proved, he states, by the fact that he has used it on his own 1800 acre plantation for the last two years, and has been able to grow cotton under the same normal conditions that existed before this section of the country became infested with the boll weevil.

In addition to this demonstration, his statement is given added weight by a number of letters from other farmers, who have tried it successfully and who give the method their enthusiastic endorsement.

The Cox Bool Weevil Destroyer is a soluble posion, applied in liquid form by means of a spray. The spraying inoculates the plant with poison and forms a gas two and one-half times heavier than air. This gas cloud enshrouds the cotton field and instantly kills the weevil breathing it.

The poison, according to the testimony of reliable farmers, is not only deadly to the grown weevil, killed by the gas fumes, but the liquid poison, absorbed by the plant saturates every fiber and part of the plant structure and kills all of the larvae. In this way the plant is thoroughly freed from all weevil contamination, although the plant itself is not injured in any way by the poison.

The superior advantages of the Cox method as compared with calcium arsenate are explained as follows: Only a fewap plications to each crop are necessary. It is easier to apply than calcium arsenate, and is not affected by rains, inasmuch as it is a soluble poison and goes into the plant. The farmer can use the Cox method at much less cost than calcium arsenate, and it is far more effective.

In order for a product of this kind to be manufactured in the state of Georgia, it must first have the approval of the state department of agriculture. The Cox Bool Weevil Destroyer has received the endorsement of the state board, and will be manufactured in large quantity in Atlanta. Besides the state agricultural department this new method for fightnig the bool weevil has been endorsed by a large number of cotton growers throughout the state, who are confident that it will be only a short time before the Cox method will be in universal use.

PRESIDENT HARDING PROMOTER of JUSTICE

Washington, Jan. 31.—"If President Harding achieved no other success during his incumbency of the presidency, his leadership in bringing about the righting of the wrong imposed upon China by Japan would entitle him to go down in history as one of the great world benefactors," declares the Republican Publicity Association, through its President, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr. "His calling of the Washington conference accomplished that end and removed a cause of contention which would certainly have resulted in the utmost bad feeling until some future war had wrested from Japan the former Chinese province of Shantung.

"Shantung comprises an area of 56,000 square miles in which reside some 38,000,000 Chinese. Not only that, but we are informed that 'Shantung is known as the cradle of Chinese civilization. Confucius and Mencius were born here, and here is the sacred mountain of Tai-Shan.' Not primarily because of long possession and unquestioned title, nor because of Chinese population, but because of its associations with the Chinese religion, China would never have ceased her efforts to regain Shantung.

"On the flimsiest sort of pretext Germany acquired concessions in Shantung in 1897 which gave her practical control through her economic dominance. Upon declaring war against Germany in 1914, Japan seized the German rights and possessions in Shantung and proceeded upon the theory that she had acquired practically an indefeasible title and right of complete control. This right was disputed by China with a vehemence that foretold an endless controversy. It was apparent to all students of the situation that the almost countless millions of the people of China would press their claims regardless of the amount of ultimate bloodshed. Temporary weakness mignt delay her success but there would have been no yielding of the purpose until it had been attained.

"When President Harding called the Washington conference on limitation of armaments he displayed farseeing statesmanship by mentioning among the subjects for discussion the settling of controversies on the Pacific which carried threats of future wars. Largely through the tactfulness of President Harding and Secretary Hughes the representatives of China and Japan were induced to continue discussion of the subject when at frequent times it seemed as though a final break must come. The ultimate result was that Japan agreed to yield and has yielded the rights she claimed in Shantung upon the payment of a reasonable amount representing the value of the German railroad she had seized. It may be fairly said that having become convinced of the error of her claim, Japan acknowledged that error frankly and fulfilled her promise of withdrawal in letter and in spirit. Japan can stand before the world with a clear conscience; China has the satisfaction of seeing a wrong righted; the Chinese people are free from the constant irritation that would be felt by alien possession of her most sacred shrines.

"President Harding has not only rendered a good service to the Orient but has retrieved the good name of the United States. President Wilson gave approval to the treaty under which Japan attempted to retain Shantung. His act, so far as he was able to make it so, became the act of the United States. Our government, however, was prevented from becoming a party to such an atrocious agreement by refusal of the Senate to ratify. Had the treaty been ratified the controversy would have been continuous until one of the bloodiest wars in history would have been fought on the Eastern shores of Asia.

"As a promoter of peace, President Harding is entitled to high rank in the history of peace accomplishments."

Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 31, 1923. —One of the greatest bodies of speakers ever assembled in Alabama will be heard at the Alabama State Sunday School Convention in Birmingham, April 17-19, according to acceptances received by Thos. Elizey, Superintendent of the organization.

Men of national renown will be the principal speakers, while many others of South-wide or State-wide distinction are included. One hundred people will have part in the program in various capacities, in addition to 250 to 300 in the great pageant.

The speakers will be headed by Dr. Hugh S. Magill, formerly of the National Educational Association, but now secretary of the International Council of Religious Education.

During Dr. Magill's service with the Educational Association, so thorough was the work, the membership ran up from 10,000 to 125,000. Dr. Magill is planning great things in the Sunday school work of America and sister nations, and he will give special attention to making the State Sunday School Association meeting at Birmingham in April one of the crowning events of the year.

MRS. ELLA BAKER

Mrs. Ella Baker, age 38, wife of Jesse Baker, died at the family home two miles east of Clanton at 10:15 o'clock last Friday, after an extended illness.

Mrs. Baker was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Taylor of this city, and was the mother of three daughters, namely: Mrs. Wm. J. Mims, Allene Baker and Corrine Baker.

This was indeed a Christian lady, whom everybody loved who had any dealings with her. She was an active member of Temple Church.

The remains were laid to rest in Temple Cemetery Saturday afternoon in the presence of a large host of sorrowing friends and relatives. Rev. L. P. Adams conducted the funeral services.

The Union-Banner extends its deepest sympathy to the bereaved husband and children and also to the other relatives of the deceased.

Does not dismay them.

Straight legs and bandy ones,
Bum legs and dandy ones,
Akward and handy ones,
Flirt with the breezes.

Round legs and flatter ones,
Thin legs and fatter ones,

Costs a Little More

Gilster's Best is not a cheap flour. It is a quality product, made for those who know and appreciate finer flour. It costs more to manufacture, and sells for a few cents more than cheaper flours.

But the delicious flavor, the dependability of your baking, and the fact that Gilster's Best requires less lard more than make up for the slight difference in cost.

Washington, Jan. 31.—The almost universal success of the Harding administration in doing the right thing at the right time was illustrated in the withdrawal of American troops from the German occupied territory. There were some Americans who wanted the administration to withdraw the troops many months ago. On the other hand, there were other Americans who wanted the administration to undertake the settlement of the differences arising out of the Versailles treaty, which course would undoubtedly call for more American troops in Europe. It has been impossible, of course, to satisfy either the few interventionists on the one hand, or the few extreme isolationists on the other. The administration chose a wise middle course.

American troops were long retained on the Rhine, not at our instance, but at the urgent request not only of the allied nations but of Germany as well. It was represented, and was undoubtedly true, that peace and order could be better preserved by American troops than by others. The bitter antagonism which German residents felt toward troops of the allied nations was not manifest in the attitude toward troops of the United States. On the contrary, there was the kindliest feeling between American troops and the German people.

But the time finally arrived when France felt that she ough to take aggressive steps to enforce compliance with the reparation decisions which Germany alleged she could not meet. Whether Germany can or cannot comply with the demands and whether France and her associates can or cannot compel compliance, are questions which the United States ought not to undertake to determine. The best thing the United States could do was to step aside and give France, Italy and Belgium an opportunity to do what they clamed the power to do—to compel compliance with the reparation decisions. The controversy is one between parties to the treaty of Versailles who are directly interested in the reparations problem—something to which we were not a party and in which we have no direct interest.

The Harding administration acted wisely and generously in leaving our troops on the Rhine as long as they could be useful there and as long as their presence was desired by all the nations concerned. When it became evident that changed conditions removed the need for their continued presece, and, in fact, made their presence a menace to our continued friendly relations with all parties to the controversy, the troops were promptly ordered withdrawn.

The act cannot be reasonable construed as an indication of unfriendly spirit toward either the Germans or any of the Allies.

Inactive Liver

"I have had trouble with an inactive liver," wrote Mrs. S. Nichols, of 4412 Spencer St., Houston, Texas. "When I would get constipated, I would feel a light, dizzy feeling in my head. To get up in the morning with a lightness in the head and a trembly feeling is often a sign that the stomach is out of order. For this I took Thedford's Black-Draught, and without a doubt can say I have never found its equal in any liver medicine. It not only cleans the liver, but leaves you in such a good condition. I have used it a long time, when food does not seem to set well, or the stomach is a little sour."

If it isn't Thedford's it isn't BLACK-DRAUGHT Liver Medicine.

REPRESENTATIVE OF CHILTON COUNTY

BILL TO ABOLISH HIGHWAY BODY IN THIS STATE

A bill to abolish the present state highway commission of twelve members and to substitute therefor a commission of three members has been introduced into the house by Representative Ashcraft, of Lauderdale, and favorably reported by committee. Early action by the house is expected on the bill.

The caption of the bill is "To further provide for the location, construction, repairs and maintenance of the public roads, bridges and highways in the state of Alabama." It provides that the members of the new state highway commission of three men shall receive $10 per day and traveling expenses, and further provides that no contract shall be let by the commission without the approval of the governor.

ABOLITION OF BILLIARD AND POOL HALLS SOUGHT IN MEASURE BY GRIFFITH

Abolition of pool and billiard halls in Alabama is the objective of a bill introduced into the senate Tuesday afternoon by Senator Griffith, of Cullman.

The measure, which was submitted by special consent, shortly before adjournment of the senior legislative body, stipulated that it shall be illegal to operate a pool or billiard table within the state for gain or reward.

Pool and billiard tables that are operated by Y. M. C. A.'s and other similar clubs and organizations for the benefit of its members, and where a financial gain is not obtained, will not be affected by the measure, according to Senator Griffith, but public pool and billiard halls will be absolutely banned.

GASOLINE TAX BILL TO TO MEET OPPOSITION

One of the stiffest fights that has featured the legislative session so far was expected yesterday when the bill to place a two cents tax per gallon on gasoline comes up in the house. It is generally understood that the framers of the bill are willing to compromise with the various members who are fighting for all of the money to go to the counties in 67 equal parts. It is said that the framers of the bill are willing for fifty per cent of the revenue received to go to the state for the highway commission, while 50 per cent will go to the various counties equally.

There are irreconcilables who favor the entire revenue of the gasoline tax going to the counties. These irreconcilables, including Representative St. John, of Culiman, are not willing to a compromise of any sort. Representative St. John has prepared and will offer an amendment to the bill on the floor providing that the entire proceeds of the gasoline tax be put into sixty-seven equal piles to the credit of the sixty-seven counties and to be expended under the direction of the boards of revenue or county commissioners of each county.

"I feel that the counties should have the direction of the spending of this money, which is to be derived from the gasoline tax," said Mr. St. John. "Already the state commission has the entire funds from the license tax on automobiles. The money from the gasoline tax should go into the various counties equally and it should be provided that the money must be expended by the counties on the maintenance of roads. The counties can maintain many miles of road with their share of the tax while if the state highway commission gets it, the entire amount might go into two or three counties and many counties of the state would never receive a penny."

Representative St. John feels that the greatest single accomplishment of a legislator in this legislature would be for him to be able to go back to his county at the adjournment and say "I have secured you from $25,000 to $40,000 per year for your county roads to be expended by your revenue board or board of county commissioners.

"I do not believe that the centralization advocates will be able to muster the votes to defeat my amendment to give the counties the gasoline tax," said Mr. St. John. "I don't see how any legislator can go back to his home folks and tell them that he deliberately voted away from them money which they could have gotten and to which they are entitled."

A number of other representatives expressed themselves just as did Mr. St. John.

BILLS TO PROVIDE PUBLICITY FOR VARIOUS STATE DEPARTMENTS ARE INTRODUCED

Fourteen bills, thirteen of them providing for the giving of publicity in newspapers to the activity of various state and county officials and institutions, and one providing for the issuance of railway passes to newspaper men in exchange for advertising, were introduced into the house by Representative Walton, of Chambers, Tuesday.

One of the bills introduced by Mr. Walton, to amend section 3317 of the Code of 1907, provides for a semi-annual itemized statement by county boards of revenue, to be published in a newspaper, showing receipts and disbursements, the reports to be published January 1 and July 1.

The various bills introduced by Mr. Walton are sponsored by the Alabama Press Association. With the exception of the one just mentioned, the titles are such as to explain the contents. The bills were referred to a wide variety of committees, giving practically everybody in the house a chance to pass judgment on the bills in committee.

FOREST PROTECTION URGED BY DELEGATES BEFORE LEGISLATURE

Addressing a joint session of the senate and house of representatives of Alabama, three spokesmen for conservation, reforestation and forest fire prevention from the Fifth Southern Forestry Congress, appealed to the Alabama legislature to pass sane, sensible and reasonable laws on conservation and forestry. The joint forestry hearing was held yesterday afternoon in the house of representatives' chamber at the state capitol, but constituted a part of the program of the Fifth Southern Forestry Congress which is being held during the first half of this week at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium.

J. G. Peters of Washington, D. C., a representative of the United States Forest Service, was the first of the three speakers to be heard at the joint session. Mr. Peters recounted some of the various uses of wood, and told how, without it, life would be practically impossible. He then told of the manner in which the forests of the United States are being so rapidly depleted and destroyed, saying that this problem, that of conserving our fast vanishing forests, is one of the greatest economic problems of America. The speaker stated that the timber is at present being cut four times as fast as it is growing.

"The state of New York," Mr. Peters declared, "has not been able to furnish enough lumber within its boundaries to fill the needs of the people of that state since the time of the Civil War. Pennsylvania's lumber production is only enough to supply the Pittsburgh district, and here in your own state of Alabama the need of conservation of forests is being felt."

Forest fires are the greatest destroyers of the forests of this country, Mr. Peters stated. He urged legislation toward the prevention of forest fires.

"The United States government annually appropriates $400,000 for the conservation of forests," Mr. Peters said. "Twenty-six states receive a portion of this money, and there is no reason why Alabama should not secure her share of it."

M. L. Alexander of New Orleans, commissioner of conservation for the state of Louisiana, spoke also of the great necessity for conservation and told how Louisiana operates the department of conservation of that state. Louisiana last year appropriated $360,000 for the department, $60,000 to be used for forestry, $75,000 for mineral conservation and $225,000 for general conservation work, Mr. Alexander stated.

Skin Ablaze with Eczema

Constant Itching Almost Unbearable!

We know there is one thing that stops eczema, and that is more red-blood-cells! S. S. S. builds them by the million! You can increase your red-blood cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist. We know that as blood-cells increase in number, blood impurities vanish! We also know that night follows day. Both are facts! But have you, eczema sufferers, ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Thousands just like you have never thought about it! Skin eruptions, eczema with all its fiery, skin-digging torture and its soul-tearing, unreachable itching, pimples, blackheads and boils, they all pack up and go, when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting-giants of nature! S. S. S. builds them by the million! It has been doing it since 1826! S. S. S. is one of the greatest blood-cell builders, blood-cleansers and body builders known to us mortals! When you put these facts together,—then to continue to have eczema and skin eruptions looks more like a sin than a disease. Mrs. Arthur N. Smith, Pearl St., Newark, Ohio, writes:

"My little girl had a very bad case of eczema. She began taking S. S. S. and is well now. I thank you very much. I tell my friends what a good medicine it is. I cannot talk too much about it, for I know it is O. K."

Here is your opportunity. S. S. S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Because S. S. S. does build red-blood-cells, it routs rheumatism, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, beautifies the complexion, builds you up when you are rundown. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

YOUNG MEN'S SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS

Miss Roberta Curry is the teacher of the Young Men's Sunday School Class, and we sure have got a fine class, although some of the boys seemed to be absent Sunday. Now, boys, don't do that; we have had as many as forty in our class and we need at least fifty. We can get that many easily if you will work. Talk to the boys and tell them to come. I do my best and I have caused many to come.

Next Sunday is the time we want all of the boys to come. We have a fine program for Sunday and we want as many as forty or fifty boys to be present. Don't be bashful boys, come on and let's do our part, if we can't do anything but sing a few songs—let's do that much.

We want all the members of our class to work hard for a large attendance next Sunday. Our teacher is working hard, and we boys should try to get every one we can to be present next Sunday morning.

POOR ORIGINAL

OAK HILL

On the first Sunday we had two fine sermons by the Pastor, Rev. L. H. Jones. The following Tuesday night, Wednesday and Wednesday night we had the pleasure of hearing a man from Chicago lecture on the great Methodist Episcopal church and what it has done and what it is doing at the present time. It was very helpful, both instructive and inspiring and was a great treat to all who heard him.

We have a good Sunday school. The attendance and interest is increasing and we have one of as fine singing societies as the county affords, which is a part of the great Usited Singing Society that met htre last Sunday evening with a very large crowd in attendance. The house was filled immediately, and was called to order by President E. L. Glasscock. Ex-President J. P. Bean sing the opening song, followed by prayer, then the following directors were called and directed from one to four songs each: L. R. Cobb, J. B. Northcutt, Burl Martin, Akins Collins, James Franklin, Vester Campbell and A. H. Glasscock. Organists, Miss Genie Collins, Flossie Cobb, Esther Atkinson, Lena Glasscock. The singing was fine and enjoyed by all present. Two beautiful quartettes were rendered in memory of our beloved friend and brother, Mr. L. K. Durbin, who lost his life on the railroad crossing at Jemison Friday morning, Jan. 26, 1923. When the songs were finished there was scarcely a dry eye in that great audience, for he was a good man and was loved by all and will not only be missed by his family but by the entire community. The quartette was composed of Professors A. H. Glasscock, James Franklin, Akins Collins and Vester Campbell.

Come again friends, we love to see you and hear you sing those sweet songs of praise to Him who doth all things well.

The Value of Land Abstracts

It is not safe to buy land or to lend money and accept land as security without first investigating the title of the land. Often there are unpaid mortgages, judgments, or other liens affecting the title, which an abstract would set out. Therefore, when buying land or lending money thereon, it is important that an abstract of title be furnished. A few dollars spent for an abstract is cheaper than going ahead and having a law suit a little later on.

INCOMPETENTS ARE KEPT

The annual turnover in the government service is something almost incredible. No business corporation, however strongly established, could long endure the heavy annual drain on its resources. Hundreds of men leave the government service daily; and new, untrained people have to be taken on and taught to do the work. This costs money, as every employer knows.

The resignations from the government service are chiefly from the supervisory and most highly paid positions and from the very lowest grades. The men at the top, if they have any initiative or ability or ambition to make a name for themselves, are offered private employment at double or treble or more what the government can pay them. The people in the lowest grades leave for private employment when opportunity affords because in too many instances they actually cannot keep body and soul together on their government pay.

It is the people in the middle class who stay on the longest. The whole constant process makes for a steady deterioration in the quality of the government service and tends to retain the mediocre in public employment.

The civil service commission, through which the great bulk of government employees are brought into the service, is acutely aware of this condition Its reports give emphasis to the difficulty constantly experienced in securing and retaining competent employees. The rotation in office has become increasingly frequent and vitally impairs the efficiency of the service.

During the war there was a lower rate of turnover in the mechanical forces than in outside establishments. The proposition of separations, however, is excessive in clerical, professional and technical positions, in which the rate of turnover sometimes amounts to a third of the force in a year.

During the nine months preceding the armistice more than 60,000 appointments were made in the civil service and about 28,000 separations occurred—that is, for every two appointments made one person left the service. For a period of similar length following the armistice only 60 per cent as many appointments were made, but there were nearly 33 per cent more separations. In this period almost as many positions were vacated as were filled.

The exigencies of the war required a great expansion of the clerical forces at Washington and elsewhere and this was accomplished by a labor turnover several times above normal. The percentage of declinations of appointments among eligibles on the civil service register increased in many instances from 30 to more than 50 per cent—that is, more than half the men and women who successfully passed civil service examinations and were offered jobs under the government refused to take them. It is estimated that more than 950,000 of those who met the test were appointed during that time.

"The civil service commission says flatly:

"Those familiar with the federal service at Washington know that the service is now hampered by the retention of incompetents whose removal is rendered difficult by influences which are incompatible with the efficiency of the service. Preferences and exemptions increasingly clog the departments with persons who, no matter how inefficient, are difficult to remove, and whose retention tends to destroy the discipline of the service."

Among these inefficients, of course, are the superannuated and the physically incapacitated. The bureau of efficiency estimated, before the passage of the superannuation retirement law, the number of employees in the civil service of the United States seventy years of age and over as follows:

	Number
Railway postal clerks	197
Rural letter carriers	454
City letter carriers	230
Post office clerks	387
Mechanics	328
General employees, Dist. Columbia	1,484
General employees elsewhere	1,613
Total	4,693

The commissioner of pensions supplies the following compact statement of the age of the employees in the pension bureau:

Number in the classified civil service, 874; age of the oldest employee, eighty-eight; number over eighty years of age, 26; number between sixty-five and eighty, 206; based on age of sixty-five, number eligible for retirement, 292; percentage of employees eligible for retirement, 33.4; average age of all employees, July 1, 1919, fifty-eight.

These old men and women bear the burden of the administration of the complex, intricate and involved procedure under the pension laws having to do with the disbursement of $222,159,292 in 1920 to 600,000 and some-odd beneficiaries.

JACK B. CRYSEL DIES

Jack B. Crysel, 65, pioneer of Jemison, Ala., died Sunday night at his residence. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. B. Lawrence. Pall Bearers were: J. D. Armstrong, Dr. P. T. Hinkle, H. F. Chandler, Grady Reynolds, H. F. Downs and H. T. Pipes, of the Masonic Order, of which Mr. Crysel was a member.

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock from his residence. Burial was made in Jemison Cemetery, with Mr. Martin of Clanton, in charge.

Mr. Crysel, who is widely known throughout the Jemison district, was active in Masonic circles, being a member of the Jemison Blue Lodge, Clanton Commandery of the Knights Templar and of the Zamora Temple, of Birmingham.

Mr Crysel was married March, 1884, to Miss Vera Bedwell of Heflin, Ala. He is survived by his wife, three daughters, Mrs. A. L. Cooper, Columbiana, Ala.; Mrs. John Patton, Charlston, W. Va.; Mrs. H. B. McGahey, Tuscaloosa, Ala., and one son, Mr. Samuel C. Crysel, Jemison. He joined the Baptist church at Jemison in 1919, and was a devoted member.

Mr. Clarence Evans, of Birmingham, visited relatives in Clanton Saturday and Sunday.

OUR FARMERS HAVE A MONEY MAKING CHANCE

"The year 1923 presents a wonderful chance for money-making to level headed common sense farmers all over the South," said H. G. Hastings, prominent agricultural leader, recently.

"By this we do not mean an expanded cotton acreage over that of 1922, but just the contrary. There were enough acres planted in cotton last year to furnish, under normal season of growth, all the American cotton that the world can afford to pay a price for that will reward the cotton grower adequately for his work.

"Every effort will be made by cotton speculators and the European cotton mills to encourage larger acreage. The present price of cotton distinctly encourages our folks to go 'cotton crazy' again just as they always have in high price periods in past years. Every time there has been increased cotton acreage in high price periods there has followed a mountain of debt and farmer bankruptcies the following fall and winter.

"Increased acreage in cotton in 1923 should be fought like fire. Stick to that acreage which has been found safe under weevil conditions. Cultivate and fertilize to increase yield per acre as much as you please, but don't increase acreage. If you do you simply play into the hands of the speculators again.

"Plant every available acre outside the limited cotton acreage in food, grain and forage crops. No farmer can afford to buy food and grain from merchants when that food and grain can be produced on home acres at certainly not more than half the store price.

"Further, every dollar's worth produced on home acres in the way of needed food and grain for home consumption means a dollar less spent or gone into debt for. If we all 'lived at home and boarded at the same place' most of our cotton money would stick in our pockets or to our account in the bank instead of all going to pay debts. The money that sticks is the money that counts."

WEIRD AND MYSTERIOUS LETTER

Purported to Have Been Written By the Savior and Found at the Foot of the Cross—Its History.

The Greenfield (Tenn.) Times has published what is purported to be a letter from Christ written just after His crucifixion on the cross. The letter was published at the request of Miss Ruby Crutchfield, Trezevant, Tenn., who said that she had had the letter three years, and that bad luck had continually followed her until she decided to obey its injunction and have it published. The letter says: "And he that hath a copy of this letter without publishing it to others shall not prosper. But he that publisheth it to others shall be blessed by Me, and if their sins shall be as many as the stars of the night, and if they truly believe, they shall be pardoned."

History of the Letter

Mrs. Fannie Wortman, of Marion, Ind., knows something of the history of the letter. It was when she had the letter published that Mrs. Crutchfield is supposed to have gotten possession of it. The following is taken from a Marion paper: "Mrs. Wortman says she lived in Dallas, Ga., until last August, when she came to this city. She said the letter given below was first found under a stone at the foot of the cross on which Christ was crucified and that on the stone was written, 'Blessed is he who shall turn me over.' No one knew what this inscription meant until a child turned the stone over and discovered the letter written by Christ Himself. The letter came into the hands of a man who had been converted and who kept it as a sacred instrument of the Savior. He, however, refused to have it published, according to the orders of Christ, and as a consequence he never prospered. He kept the fact that he possessed the leter a secret, and on his death gave it to his oldest son. Thus the letter was kept in the family for over a thousand years and was brought to this country by early settlers."

It was kept a secret by the family while they lived in Virginia, but they never prospered, and ill-luck continually followed them, as it did their ancestors. On the death of the only daughter, the letter was turned over to a lady by the name of Mrs. Townsend, who, not wishing to disobey the orders of Christ, at once had it published in The Tribune, of Rome, Ga., Oct. 31, 1891. The Citizen, of Dalton, Ga., copied the article and Mrs. Wortman, of Marion, Ind., clipped it from this paper. She states that she never gave it out for publication for a number of years. She has never had it published and states that she has had bad luck since she has been keeping the article and believes that her misfortunes have all come from the fact that she never gave it out for publication. In the letter was written the Commandments of Christ and signed by the Angel Gabriel ninety-nine years after the Savior's birth.

The Letter

"Whosoever works on the Sabbath day shall be cursed. I command you to go to church and keep holy the Lord's day without any manner of work. You shall not idle or misspend your time in bedecking yourselves in superfluities of costly apparel and vain dressing. For I have ordered it a day of rest. I will have that day kept holy. That your sins may be forgiven, you will not break my commandments. But observe and keep them, they being written by my hand and spoken from my mouth. You shall not only go to church yourselves, but also your man servant and your maid servant. Observe my words and learn my commandments. You shall finish your work every Saturday at 6 o'clock in the afternoon, at which hour the preparation for the Sabbath begins. I advise you to fast five days in the year, beginning on Good Friday and continuing the four days following in remembrance of the five bloody wounds I received for you and mankind. You shall love one another and cause them that are not baptized to come to church and receive the Holy Sacrament, that is to say, baptism, and the supper of the Lord, and be made a member thereof. And in so doing I will give you long life and many blessings. Your land shall be replenished and bring forth abundantly and I will comfort you in the greatest temptation. And surely he that doeth the contrary shall be cursed. I will send hardness of heart on them, and especially on hardened and impatient unbelievers. He that hath given to the poor shall find it profitable. Remember to keep holy the Sabbath day I have taken as a resting day to myself.

The Injunction

"And he that hath a copy of this letter written by my hand and spoken by my mouth and keepeth it without publishing it to others shall not prosper. But he that publisheth it to others shall be blessed of me. And if their sins be as many as the stars of the night, and if they truly believe, they shall be pardoned. And they that believe not this writing and my commandments will have my plagues upon you and become concerned with your children, goods, cattle, and all other enjoyments that I have given you. Do but only think of what I have suffered for your sake. If you do it, well for you in this world and the world which is to come. Whomsoever shall have a copy of this letter and keep it in their house nothing shall hurt them, neither pestilence, lightning nor thunder. And if any woman be in birth and put her trust in Me she shall be delivered of her child. You shall hear no more news of me except through the Holy Scriptures until the day of judgment. All goodness and prosperity shall be in the house where a copy of this letter shall be found. Fin-issued."

Mrs. Wm. Flack, 115 N. 12th St., Leavenworth, Kansas, says: "'Mother's Friend' is the best help in the world for an expectant mother. I am the mother of three children and have found 'Mother's Friend' fine."

"Mother's Friend" is externally applied about the abdomen, back and hips. It penetrates wonderfully, and in this way allows the muscles and ligaments to relax easily and readjust themselves to the changes during expectancy and at child-birth.

Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradfield Regulator Co., BA-45, Atlanta, Ga., for free booklet containing valuable information every expectant mother should have.

"Mother's Friend" contains no narcotics or harmful drugs. It is safe. There is no substitute. Avoid useless greases and plain oils. Start using "Mother's Friend" now—the sooner the better. "Mother's Friend" is sold at drug stores—everywhere.

ALABAMA NEWS HAPPENINGS.

A Resume of the More Important Events of Interest Condensed To An Epitomized Form.

During 1922 the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad branch across Sand mountain handled 9,744 tons of freight into Gadsden and 37,566 tons out of the city, according to General Manager Fitzgerald Hall, who was the principal speaker at a recent Kiwanis luncheon at Gadsden, but it is a losing proposition with fairly good passenger business, and costs $1.24 for every dollar it takes in on the line, Mr. Hall declared. He plead for the moral and material support of the people of Alabama, promising that if allowed to run its own business with reasonable regulation and is given some latitude for its own initiative it will give the maximum service at the pinimum of cost.

The state highway leading into Goodwater from Sylacauga is now being gravelled and the road is topped to traffic. There is about two miles of this strip of road leading into town, and it will require a month or more to complete the work. The travel into Goodwater from Sylacauga and other points west will have to detour at Mt. Olive and go by way of Parkdale into Goodwater.

License cost in Albany will stand this year without reducution, it has been indicated by the city council, after requests had been received from representatives of several lines of business asking for reductions. Members of the council have declared the city had obligations to meet this year which would require as much revenue as last year and the councilmen can see little chance for reductions.

G. Moretti, of Pittsburgh, Pa., accompanied by Dr. A. A. Hammerschlag, president of Carnegie Tech, recently spent a few days visiting at Talladega. Mr. Moretti, a famous sculptor, is the man who put Alabama white marble before the world, first visited Talladega 22 years ago and when he investigated the marble in that section declared it superior to the Italian product.

An invitation to Vice-President Calvin Coolidge to visit Montgomery when he come to Alabama this month to speak at the dedication of the $2,000,000 government hospital exercises at Tuskegee has been extended by the Montgomery Chamber of Commerce jointly with the mayor and city commission. Mr. Coolidge is scheduled to deliver an address in Tuskegee on February 12.

While the campaign for the Community Chest will be carried on until the rural sections of Etowah county are given a chance to contribute, the executive council has decided on the apportionment of the funds among the six participating organizations. The sum of $15,000 has been pledged, but it is hoped to increase the amount to $20,000.

Friends of the Walker county highway commission are fighting the Walker county road law bill, which will be introduced in the legislature by Representative Towel of Walker. The bill calls for the abolition of the county highway commission, members of which are appointed by the governor of Alabama.

A general campaign to double the membership of the Covington County Farm Bureau by the close of February has been launched in that county. As a basis for an organization to secure these goals, eight communities of the county have been organized, each to elect a representative to the governing body of the entire county.

Thomas Martin, with the aid of the community club at Jacksonville and Congressman Lamar Jeffers, has had installed two Colt's machine guns and a French millimeter cannon in Jacksonville public square. All three guns saw service overseas during the World War.

Clarence Saunders and Ray McKay, two 14-year-old high school boys, have been arrested by City Detectives Smith, Wade and Dason at Anniston and charged with burglarizing the Anniston Hardware company store, Russell Bros. photo gallery and the Anniston steam laundry.

Walker county farmers have done more winter plowing this year than they have ever done in any previous year, according to statements made by farmers in Jasper

VISITING HOURS AT THE HOSPITAL

The management of the Central Alabama Hospital wishes o announce through the papers the following visiting hours:

From 9:00 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.
From 3:00 to 5:00 p.m., and 7:00 to 8:30 at night.

It is found that when visitors are admitted at all hours the patients do not have the proper time to rest and take their nourishment undisturbed. Neither, can the nurses do their best when the patients are receiving visitors all hours.

Too lengthy visits or too many visitors in a room at one and the same time is not best for patients.

RESOLUTIONS TO THE SENATE BY THORSBY BAPTIST CHURCH

Whereas, Our Sunday dates back to Christ, when the apostles met on the first day of the week to worship and to contribute as the Lord had prospered them to the support of the cause of Christ;

And whereas the first day of the week has since that day been recognized as the Christian Sunday, and whereas its blessings as a day of rest, and worship is as old as the first apostles of Christ, and whereas the day so long honored and observed by Christians as the Lord's day has became to American Christians an American Institution;

Be it therefore resolved by the Baptist Church and Sunday school of Thorsby, Ala., that we extend our gratitude to our Honored Senator, S. M. Adams, for the brave and courageous fight he made to preserve this holy day, and we hereby pledge our prayers and sympathy to him and the other Senators who stood so nobly by our Sunday and against commercializing our American Sunday. Signed by Deacons of Thorsby Baptist Church.

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager)

Mrs. Sally Freeman, wife of Obadiah Freeman, died at their home in Jemison shortly afternoon Saturday at the age of 62, after a lingering illness. She leaves besides her husband, two sons and three daughters, Mr. Geo. Freeman of Thorsby, Mr. Percey Freeman, Mrs. Della Milkey, Mrs. Culoh Reynolds and Mrs. Sudie Kincaid. Interment was at Pine Hill, Sunday evening.

On Saturday evening, February 3, the Dramatic Club of the Helen Keller Literary Society will present two one-act plays, under the direction of Miss Catherine Perry, as dramatic coach.

In the play, "The Maker of Dreams," Myrtle Jones will appear as Pierrette, Forrest Glenn as Pierrot and Mr. H. D. Durbin as the Manufacturer.

In the second play, Gretna Green, and Leo Langston will appear as Thomas Linley, the father, Miss Ruth Martin as Aunt Avis and Gladys Flummer as Maria Linley.

Judging from the beauty and effectiveness of former programs arranged by Miss Perry, it is expected that the evening's entertainment will be most pleasant. The usual charge of ten cents for non-members of the society will be made. The attractive posters that may be seen down-town are also the work of Miss Perry.

A business meeting of the Helen Keller Literary Society was held on Monday afternoon in the Assembly Hall at Bates Hall. The meeting had been called for the purpose of electing officers for the new semester. The newly elected officers are Robert Shepard, President; Codie Bell, Vice-President and Opal Garrick, Secretary.

The semester examinations were concluded on Friday, January 26th. The pupils are looking forward with much interest to the publication of the Semester Honor Roll. It is hoped that the honor rolls will be ready for publication on Friday.

In the last Honor Roll published by Thorsby Institute, the name of Mary Ella Gerald was not given its usual place on the first honor roll for scholarship because she was not able to take the examinations at that time. Later examinations placed her in the list of pupils who had the highest rank of scholarship for the six weeks and her name is placed on the first honor roll for that period of time.

The second number of the Lyceum entertainments will be given on February 13th at Bates Hall. The program will consist of a scientific lecture by Glenn L. Morris. Many expreiments will be performed throughout the lecture.

Headley-Keene Wedding

Miss Jessie Keene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Keene, was quietly married to Mr. Alfred Headley of Adams, Sunday morning at the home of the bride's parents south of Pletcher. Rev. John Deramus performed the ceremony. The young couple left immediately after the ceremony by motor for the home of the groom's parents, near Clanton. Only relatives and close friends were present.

Mr. Davis Cleckler, who was taken to a Birmingham infirmary two weeks ago for an operation, has returned to his home in Thorsby much improved and it is hoped he will not be confined to the house for more than another week.

The electric light plant has been moved from Higgins' mill and installed in the basement of Thorsby Garage, where it will be run with independent power under the direction of Mr. E. N. Bentley and Mr. Felix Eiland. They are supervising several changes in installation which it is hoped will prove beneficial in giving more even and constant current.

Mr. J. R. Martin, the present owner of the site of the A. K. Horn Drug Store, burned more than a year ago, has made considerable repairs on the building, adding some twenty feet to its length and providing for either the manufacture or storage of ice in the basement at the rear. The completion of the building is held up by inability to get such lumber dressed at Higgins mill as he needs on the job, and the necessity of hauling his rough lumber to Jemison, where Wm. H. Goodgame, a citizen of Thorsby, has recently started a new planing mill. The Higgins company seem to be running at full capacity on contract work making freight car material.

Mrs. Anna Villadsen reports good sales on her fine pecan trees, and showed us a letter from a customer, who ordered a lot just from seeing in transit, the kind of stock she was shipping to another man, who had promised to plant a sample in the court house yard at Centerville, if one was added to his order. He got the extra tree. Mr. L. L. Crump, editor of Southern Opportunities, while in Thorsby a week ago expressed in strong terms his surprise at the quality of her trees. We think Mrs. Villadsen worthy of all praise for her stick-to-it-ive-ness under discouragements that would have induced many to give up a business in which returns were so slow, but today she holds an enviable position in this growing industry.

Mr. C. H. Tomsen and Mr. T. R. Scove of Cleveland, Ohio, made a trip to Pensacola last week and report a fine time in that rapidly growing city.

The program was very interesting and the attendance good. Next Sunday, Feb. 4th, is "Christian Endeavor Day" and there will be a special program for the occasion. All young people are cordially invited.

Mr. J. B. Crysell, of Jemison, died Monday night and was buried Tuesday evening at Pine Hill Cemetery by the Order of Shriners, of which he was a member.

Last Saturday the Misses Lucile Howard and Ethel Peterson gave a pleasant party in celebration of their birthdays. BLEED THROUGH

GEORGE WASHINGTON AND TODAY

There may have been colder days but neither Uncle Ted or any of the oldest inhabitants could recall the fact.

"Wow!" yelled Jack as he opened the front door. "I'll say it's cold. Aren't you afraid your car will freeze up, Uncle Ted?"

"Not now because I drained out all the water. Wouldn't trust the anti-freeze."

"Come on Uncle Ted and tell us a story, 'cause mother said we had to go to bed early," said Ruth.

"All right," began Uncle Ted. "I told you something last week about Abraham Lincoln and I also said I would tell you something about George Washington some other time. George Washington's birthday comes on February 22 and it should be an honored day wherever real Americans are gathered. It is most timely to look over his history now because he would have had so much to say were he living today regarding the European situation and the duty of the United States.

"The chief hero of American independence and 'Father of His Country' was born in Virginia, February 22, 1732. When his father died, George was only 10 years old. In 1747 he went to Mount Vernon, which was then owned by his half-brother Lawrence where he had access to many books and where Lawrence taught him the use of arms and the art of war. I haven't time to go into the details of his life but you already know that he married Martha Custis in 1759 and settled down at Mount Vernon, then his property through the death of both Lawrence and George's niece. He soon became rich, as wealth was measured in those days, and was a successful farmer.

"When war with Great Britain became necessary in April 1775—the Continental Congress soon after unanimously elected him Commander-in-chief of the American forces. That war for independence was a long one full of suffering and sacrifice. If we would but study it more often we would have a greater appreciation for our country and there would be few who would consider anything for a moment that might weaken the independence gained at such a cost.

"After years of warfare and suffering by the colonists, Cornwallis, the British commander, surrendered to Washington in October 1781, and American independence was assured. Washington was a strong and able leader throughout the entire struggle but he refused to become a king, as many of his followers wanted. That to me is the outstanding incident in his whole life, so far as we are concerned. Washington was made president of the Constitutional Convention in 1787 and shortly after was unanimously elected our first president. In 1792 he was re-elected. On December 14, 1799 he died at Mount Vernon.

"In several respects George Washington was a man of remarkable power. He was a practical and successful man of affairs and a leader of men. He was not brilliant as an orator but he had wisdom and a fine appreciation of right and wrong. His great ambition was to do the best thing for his country at all times. That is one reason why we must respect his judgment in all things and particularly his judgment as to the attitude our government should take toward foreign countries.

"Let us look back upon the policies and teachings of George Washington and see what he would do were he in the White House today. In 1796 Washington left public life in a famous speech known as his 'Farewell Address.' It is a wonderful address and you should both study it carefully through the years to come. Washington fresh from his contact with foreign governments well knew the pitfalls when he said:

'Against the insidious wiles of foreign influence the jealousy of a free people ought to be constantly awake; since history and experience prove that foreign influence is one of the most baneful foes of Republican government.'

"Later he said:

'The great rule of conduct for us in regard to foreign nations, is, in extending our commercial relations, to have as little political connection as possible. . . . Europe has a set of primary interests, which to us have none, or a very remote relation. Hence she must be engaged in frequent controversies, the causes of which are essentially foreign to our concerns.'

"How well, kiddies, this applies and holds true today. President Harding is following the Washington policy—extending our friendly commercial relations but keeping us free from political connections."

Our Society is not what we would like for it to be but we are working hard on the new books and hope to have several learned by next second Sunday evening. If the home people will come to realize what it means to build up their home church they will surely come out to the services held at the church oftener.

CAME HOME TO DIE

"Three years ago I came home thinking 2 or 3 weeks would be my limit to live. I had suffered for 15 years from colic attacks and severe liver and stomach trouble. I happened to see an advertisement of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and purchased a bottle at the drug store and after taking the first dose I felt better than I had for 15 years. I am now in the best of health—thanks to Mayr's Wonderful Remedy." It removes the catarrhal mucous from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded at Alred Drug Co.

Everything Points to the Greatest Spring Demand for Ford Products in Company's History

1,202,517 Ford Cars and Trucks were delivered to retail purchasers in the United States alone during 1922—Actual deliveries for last month greatly exceeded any previous December in the history of the Ford Motor Company—

It was the ninth consecutive month in which more than 100,000 Ford Cars and Trucks were retailed—keeping the Ford Plants working at capacity to meet dealers' requirements—

In many parts of the country dealers are already finding it necessary to specify later delivery dates on certain types because there are no reserve stocks to draw from—

Commercial users, business houses and farmers, anticipating their future requirements, are placing orders and taking delivery of Ford Cars, Trucks and Fordson Tractors to insure against delay—

Everything points to the biggest shortage of Ford Products this Spring that has ever existed—

The only way you can be sure of obtaining delivery of a Ford Car, Truck or Fordson Tractor is to list your order immediately—

We have given you these facts as they actually exist so that if you are planning to purchase a Ford Car, Truck or Tractor for use this Spring or Summer, you can list your order now and take advantage of our dealer's first opportunity to make delivery.

COLD WEATHER HITS ALL ALABAMA HARD

NORTHERN AND CENTRAL ALABAMA SUFFERS SEVERE BLIZZARD ON MONDAY

The whole northern and even central part of Alabama, the first of this week was held fast in the grip of the severest cold wave we have witnessed in years.

Birmingham Monday night was emerging from the grasp of icy fingers which paralyzed power lines and wires communicating with the outside world early Monday morning, tieing up street car lines, demoralizing school sessions and generally inconveniencing the business and private life of the district. Trains entering the city ranged up to two hours behind schedule, making only one residence district mail delivery possible. Falling wires broke down the fire alarm system of the city and one fatality resulted from a lad skating across a fallen high tension wire.

Demands on coal yards Monday were so heavy that dealers fear a fuel famine if the cold spell continues. Business establishments operated without steam heat if they were customers of the Birmingham Railway, Light and Power company, all available steam being used to make electricity. Scores of automobiles were pulled in by wrecker cars, disabled by falling trees. Residence sections of the city suffered damage irreparable for years, when beautiful trees were uprooted and torn by the weight of their ice-laden branches.

The cold seemed to be gradually moving southward, and Tuesday Clanton and Chilton county was feeling the effects of the huge snow storms only a few miles north of us.

NOTICE

The Federal and State officials who have control of tick eradication in Chilton county, will come before the Commissioners Court at 10:00 o'clock a.m., February the 12th. I would be glad for as many people as can who are interested in tick eradication would meet with the court.

The Commissioners Court will also appoint new Road Apportioners for Chilton county. The court will be glad to have all parties that are interested in public roads to be present and advise with the court and assist us in getting the very best of men for Apportioners.

L. H. REYNOLDS,

McADOO'S CREED.

There is one matter which the American people should never overlook: The success of Mr. McAdoo is the success of government ownership—socialism. The former Secretary of the Treasury is completely sold on that idea. He had a taste of class adulation while he was at the head of the railways when they were under the government. His name was on every bill-of-fare in the dining cars and on the lips of every employee whose inflated wages came from public taxation at McAdoo's demand. It was a great machine that he had started, and if he ever gets another chance he will build one to include a lot of other industries besides railroads. Then what a bunch of votes a man could clinch with wages elevated by way of taxation. It would amount to putting in his hands the means for perpetuating his policies either as President, or as the power behind the throne.

Are They Jealous? — Prohibition still holds sway in America. And at this time of year the emphasis is on the "still" and the "sway."—The Passing Show (London).

HIGH SCHOOL LIBRARY RECENTLY DOUBLED

It is believed that the high school has a library far better than the average found in other county high schools. Through the efforts of the students and friends of the school the number of volumes has recently been doubled. During the first term of school the Literary Societies in a contest with each other raised a sum of $97.00 for the library. Through county and state aid we were able to secure $30.00 worth of books in addition to these. We are very grateful to Prof. Pegues and Mrs. Curry for their contribution of books to the library. We wish also to express our thanks for a good number of books contributed by the ladies of the Civic Association of our town.

The books were selected by the faculty of the high school with the greatest of care. Only those books were selected which furnish students with the most wholesome reading and which were supplementary to the books studied from day to day.

The students are very proud of the library largely the results of their efforts. It is pleasing to note that the great majority of the student body are using this splendid collection of books. The librarian is kept busy three afternoons each week in issuing the books to the students. Parents are urged to assist the teachers in arousing an interest in the reading of good books while students are growing up. If this habit is not cultivated during the school days the chances are that it will never be formed. James Russel Lowell says, "In fighting the forces of ignorance and evil, the school summons to its aid for the uplifting of the child, the most powerful influences which it can command. This is why we teach him music and art and bring him the best in literature. The love of good books is the chain which binds man to the stars."

We have made a good beginning. We will welcome the efforts of any individual or club of the town in behalf of the high school library.

NO FAGGING FOR EUROPE

Gen. Harbord states that from the time Gen. Joffre, representing the French, and Gen. Bridges, representing the British, came over here in 1917 until the date of the armistice it was the ceaseless endeavor of their respective governments to use American soldiers merely as replacement troops in their own armies. From first to last Gen. Pershing had to contend against the constant British and French demand, first for American companies and then for American battalions, to fill up the depleted foreign ranks. Gen. Harbord points out that it was due to Pershing's effective resistance to those importunities that our boys who gave their lives in the war had the glory of dying under the American flag rather than under the colors of some foreign nation.

The fact shows how, ever since the United States first took a hand in European affairs, it has been the unremitting effort of the allied governments to use American men and wealth for their own selfish ends. They tried to foist the league of nations upon us, then Armenia, then the Turkish-Greek mess, then as guarantor of France against Germany, then the Russian problems through the Genoa conference, then Russia again at the Brussels conference, and then as mediator in the reparations dispute. Through it all there has been relentless propaganda to make American taxpayers pay the 11 billions of debt that Europe rightfully owes the United States. But the American people do not take kindly to being used, and are animated by just the same sort of determination that inspired Gen. Pershing in 1918.

RABBIT HUNTING DAY IS DRAWING NEAR

MANY SEALS SOLD

Editor Union-Banner,

Won't you please give prominent place in the next issue of your paper to this announcement from us, that through the teachers of the Public Schools of Chilton County Tuberculosis Christmas Seals were sold bringing in the sum of $104.89. Some of the teachers sold all the seals that were sent them and called for more and sold them; some of them did not find sales for all their Seals, but it appears from the reports that practically all of the teachers in Chilton County did take an active interest in raising funds for anti-tuberculosis work throughout the State and in Chilton County. The records indicate that those excelling in the sale of Seals were Miss Lena Franklin, Mrs. J. L. Harris and Mr. J. L. Harris, of the Thorsby Public School. The sales from that school amounted to $15.74.

Please allow us to say to the teachers and friends throughout the County that, in addition to the work already done in Chilton County by the Field Director of the Alabama Tuberculosis Association, other work will be undertaken, and we will be glad to furnish Modern Health Crusade literature at 50 per cent of the wholesale cost so long as our supplies last. We hope the teachers of Chilton County will avail themselves of this opportunity to further health education among the schools.

Yours very sincerely,
JAS. M. GRAHAM, Field Director.

UNITED FARMERS MEETING AT CANE CREEK.

Editor Union-Banner:

Please allow me space in your paper for a few lines. It was announced in your paper about Mr. O. M. Mastin coming to this place to lecture about the U. F. of A. I want to say that all who did not go out to hear him sure did miss a good lecture. His subject was co-operative marketing. He told how the state of California was in the same boat as the farmers are here, until they decided to do something. They got together and fixed them a plan whereby they could make all their grapes into raisins, and they could sell the raisins better than they could the grapes. He told several more very interesting things which I will not try to write about. I am sorry there were not more people out to hear him. There was some sickness and a big fox hunt in the community, and some other things which kept some people away. The members of Cane Creek Local want Mr. Mastin to come back out here again, as he can tell us many things of value and interest.

To those who are not members of the United Farmers, I want to say that you ought to get lined up with this big organization, which is doing so much at this time to better the conditions of the farmers of our county.

IN MEMORY

On the morning of Jan. 26, the death angels winged their flight to the home of Mr. Jessie Baker and wafted to the great beyond their faithful and idolized wife and mother, Mrs. Ella Baker, casting a mantle of sorrow on her many friends and relatives.

After many weeks of patient suffering she bravely faced death and surrendered her life back to her maker, who had preserved it for thirty-eight years. She was a loving wife, a devoted mother and a good Christian woman, always loyal to her church and Sunday school.

She leaves a father, mother, husband, three children and a number of sisters and brothers to miss her smiles and presence through life.

She was laid to rest in the silent cemetery at Temple Church to await the coming of the great and glorious day.

She is sweetly sleeping,
In that land of the blest,
Safe in God's eternal keeping,
Where all is joy, peace and rest.

She did not fear death and was ready to die when God called her home. Just a few hours before death she sang "I Need the Every Hour."

Her cousin,

SOMETHING WORSE.

Once a friend of Mark Twain's was conversing with him regarding a terrible affliction of a person known to them both. The friend said:

"Can you imagine anything worse than having diphtheria and scarlet fever at the same time?

"Yes," replied Mark; "can easily imagine something worse than that—for instance, rheumatism and St. Vitus's dance."—Everybody's Magazine.

CATTLE DIPPING QUESTION BEFORE COMMISSIONERS

You will notice elsewhere in this paper an announcement by the Probate Judge that the Federal and State officials who have control of the tick eradication in Chilton county will come before the Commissioners Court at 10 o'clock on next Monday, February 12th.

You will remember that two or three months ago, after the inspectors reported some ticky cattle in one of the northern beats of the county, Dr. Cary, the State Veterinarian, came before our commissioners and ordered them to appropriate money thus and so for tick eradication, which the commissioners flatly refused to do. For this reason a quarantine was placed on all the cattle in the county by Dr. Cary.

Judge Reynolds is asking the citizens of the county who are interested in this question to meet with the commissioners on next Monday and help them thrash out the question.

WATCH 'EM SIFT HANK

Henry Ford's brother-in-law says the manufacturer will run for President on the Democratic ticket if he runs at all. That is as we supposed. The economic heresies of Democracy are a near approach to Mr. Ford's extraordinary ideas of government. Henry says history is mostly "bunk," and the Democrats look upon the economic history of the United States as bunk when they try to substitute a tariff law at variance with American experience of over a century.

CARD OF THANKS

SYSTEM IS ALL WRONG

The great difficulty that stands in the way of discussing Uncle Sam as an employer is that there is no such person. The men who stand in the relation of employer to their subordinates are nothing but employees themselves, and temporary ones at that, with a very fleeting tenure of office. Cabinet officers and members of congress, to whom the rank and file of employees look for guidance for a solution of their problems, are simply fleeting figures that come and go, with their own interests to serve. They testify freely enough as to conditions of government employment. Senator Carter Glass, recently secretary of the treasury, for example:

"The largely multiplied business of the government cannot be conducted with efficiency and economy unless there be attracted to and retained in the public service a group of highly trained, well-paid and permanent officials of supervisory grades. Uncertainty of tenure in some instances and inadequacy of compensation have closed the public service to many men of the best type or forced them out of government employ at the moment of their greatest usefulness.

"The war has increased the public debt more than twenty-five fold and has augmented the functions and activities of the government in many ways. The duties are greater and the responsibilities are larger than those of other days, to the standards of which it is not to be expected that the government will ever return. The conditions are such that failure to take the necessary action to invite and hold in the public service men of exceptional ability and of real distinction in their fields can result only in grave burdens to the taxpayers of the country and in possible disaster.

"Already the transaction of the business of the government is hampered by deficiencies of personnel due to the return to private life of many men of large capacity who during the period of active warfare were willing and glad to serve their country at great personal sacrifice. I have come to learn that there are heroes in the civil establishments as well as in the military services, self-sacrificing patriots who toil year in and year out for a bare pittance when they could command salaries double or treble the amounts they receive from the government, but who, for the love of their country and for the love of their work, have rejected alluring offers in the field of private enterprise. They were too fine and too patriotic to leave their posts.

"Under the compelling force of patriotism they made willing sacrifices during the war, but with the return of peace the government cannot expect to retain these employees indefinitely, because in justice to themselves and their families they will sooner or later accept the larger opportunities that are open to them in the world of business and industry unless the government proposes to pay them salaries that at least reasonably approach the value of their services.

"Only prompt action by the congress to build up a permanent and dignified civil service which will include men of great ability and high attainments can prevent mistakes and failures in the transaction of the public business, the consequences of which may be calamitous."

Ex-Representative Good, who was chairman of the appropriations committee of the house, is equally frank:

"Today duplication in the government service abounds on every hand. For example, eight different departments of the government, with large overhead organizations, are engaged in engineering work, in navigation, irrigation and drainage; eleven different bureaus are engaged in engineering research; twelve different organizations are engaged in road construction, while twelve, with large overhead organizations, are engaged in hydraulic construction and sixteen are engaged in surveying and mapping. Sixteen different bureaus exercise jurisdiction over water-power development. Nine different organizations are collecting information on the consumption of coal. Forty-two different organizations, with overhead expenses, are dealing with the question of public health.

"The Treasury department, the War department, the Interior department and the Labor department each has a bureau dealing with the question of general education. These departments operate independently; instances of co-operation between them are exceptional. Each of these departments is manned at all times with an organization prepared to carry the peak of the load and maintains an expensive ready-to-serve personnel. A lack of co-operation in the executive departments necessarily leads to gross extravagance. The system is wrong, and congress alone can change the system."

Really Too Much.—"He was driven to his grave.,,

"Sure he was. Did you expect him to walk?"—ord Jeff.

FROM PROGRESSIVE FARMER

Let's keep our present acreage in money crops and double our acreage in grain and legume crops; and do this by using more power and machinery.

One of the greatest needs of the South is for us to greatly increase the use of horses, mules and other sources of power, with improved implements and machinery.

Cotton and corn stalks contain more than thirty pounds of nitrogen to the ton and all of this is lost when they are burned.

Crabgrass, crowfoot, bromsedge and other weeds and grasses contain on an average more than half as much nitrogen to the ton as 10-2-2 fertilizer and all are excellent for humus-making material, all of which is lost when they are burned.

We need to be everlastingly conscious of the big fact that whenever any vegetation is burned, it loses all of its humus-making power and all of its nitrogen.

Feed crops should be produced for the increasing of soil fertility. Legumes are the best soil improvers as well as feed.

GROCER THANKFUL

"I had been sick nearly 20 years with stomach trouble and was slowly starving to death as everything I ate caused terrible gas and pain and my food did not digest. I was reduced to 115 pounds. A friend advised me to take Mayr's Wonderful Remedy about 4 months ago, which I did and now weigh 151 lbs., and can eat anything. I am very thankful for Mayr's Wonderful Remedy." It removes the catarrhal mucous from the intestinal tract, allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. AMEN, JUDGE JONES

In charging a Montgomery County Grand Jury Monday, Circuit Judge Walter B. Jones had the following to say regarding the menace which now confronts the United States.

"To my mind the three things which today most seriously menace the peace and welfare of the United States are: (1) the effort to unite church and state; (2) the effort of some classes of our people to obtain special and exclusive privileges for themselves, forgetting the common welfare and (3) the effort of some of our people to destroy our government of law, and to set up in its place a government of men."

"The effort to unite Church and State" is an old and treasured heritage of the Roman Catholic Church. It is their aim to see the government of the United States put under the domination of the pope, thus having "the church" dictate the laws of our land. This would mean an end to freedom and peace.

"The effort of some classes of people to obtain special and exclusive privileges for themselves," is a question which the State of Alabama should stop and think about today. The law providing for the appointment of some of our county officers is a result of the efforts of this class of people. Here's hoping that the state legislature keeps the common people in view instead of special classes.

"The effort of some of our people to destroy our government of law," etc. There are people in our land and county who do not honor the laws of our state and nation, but who feel that they have a right when their personal interest is at stake to lay aside the statue laws and substitute one of their own to suit their particular case. Some of these people go so far as to take the life of their fellow-men when things don't go to suit them. This is truly a menace to government founded on the principle of "Equal rights to all."

The Ala. Legislature

By W. M. WYATT,
REPRESENTATIVE OF CHILTON COUNTY

The main outstanding feature of the Legislature of 1923 is considered to be its trend toward the policy of "local option." Not however in the sense that the term "local option" was once considered to apply in Alabama politics to nothing but the liquor question. There is nothing on the minds of the legislators concerning liquor legislation. They all dismiss that matter instantly with a blank reference to the national dry amendment, and the question. What is the use for us to worry about liquor laws when that business is under the ban of our Uncle Samuel Pluribus Unum?

In the present house a very large percentage of the members are apparently more interested in their own counties than anything else. The whole idea seems to get back to the plan of local liberties for the people of the individual counties, and a general trimming of the centralized powers at Montgomery. This attitude has been manifested on many occassions. Especially was it noted in the consideration of such measures as the highway bill, the gasoline tax bill, the tax adjuster bill, and many others which I do not presently recall.

But chiefest of all the bills that have been directed against the centraized powers at Montgomery was that which demanded that the people of the different counties have the right to elect their own county superintendent of education. The house has gone on record as strongly favoring such change. The central machine which has been built up by the State Educational Department at Montgomery is very repulsive to a majority of the representatives, and they were very unmerciful in their remarks concerning this department during debate on the bill last week.

The tendency of the present house has been to attack "machines" and commissions of practically every description. The tax adjuster machine has been crushed at one fell swoop, every member of the house voting in favor of the demolition. The educational machine has been heavily bombarded from all quarters, and if the Senate will show the kind of mettle that has been displayed by the majority of the house this school teacher machine will go the same route as the tax adjusters.

The state highway commission has likewise come in for its share of the grueling, and in fact that machine was saved from a smash only by an act of grace. The medical machine of the state received some very unpleasant jibes at the hands of some of the members while debate was raging on the chiropractor bill.

The big daily newspapers of Alabama are taking special advantage of their opportunity to lambast the present legislature. They divide their criticism about equally between the House and Senate. The House has incurred the wrath of the gods of bureaucracy by the passage of the superintendent of education bill; while the Senate has, according to the oracles of wealthy corporations and gods of special privilege, committed the unpardonable sin by the passage of the bill that will require water power development to pay taxes. When a man says that the people of Alabama are not competent to select their own county superintendent of education, and that the big fifty million dollar water power trust ought to be exempted from paying taxes, he is talking a language that is foreign to me. I believe the House will follow the Senate in the adoption of the tax exemption repeal bill: and I hope the Senate will follow the House in the adoption of the bill providing for the popular election of the county superintendents of education.

This back to the people sentiment has been a strong argument in the consideration of the water power has successfully passed the senate, exemption repeal. This measure and has a favorable report before the house from the committee on corporations. It is most likely that before the house adjourns this week it will have completed the destruction of the machine by which so many millions of dollars of Alabama property have been escaping taxation, thereby avoiding its own proper share in the expense of operating our state.

The house on several occassions has shown a trend toward conservation in the matter of guarding the money of the tax payers which goes to pay the salaries of officials. For exampie when the bill creating the new board of convict supervisors was passed, it was with an amendment which cut the salaries of the two new officials a thousand dollars each per annum. The bill providing for election of county superintendents fixed a salary for these officials which cannot be considered extortionate; $1,500 to $3,000 a year for all counties under 75,000 population, and a maximum of $5,000 a year for any county in the state.

The work of the house so far has been largely to abolish, to reduce offices, and to tax automobiles and corporations. In view of this pronounced friendship of representatives for the people, it will be interesting to note what will happen when the general revenue bill comes up at the summer session. Present indications are that as much money as possible will be gotten by taxing automobile owners and water power companies and perhaps by a severance tax upon natural resources that are being commercialized. Many of the great appropriations that are to come up in the revenue bill are liable to find hard sledding if the house sticks up to its present indications of economy.

Tuesday the house by a vote of 43 to 42 failed to adopt the senate bill which provided for increased pay for the Circuit Judges of the state. The plea of opponents of the bill was on the grounds that the legislature had pledged the people not to increase salaries of any officers.

It is most certain now that the legislature will adjourn Thursday or Friday for the long recess till summer. Practically all the important measures have been disposed of and the members are anxious to get back to their homes.

The gasoline tax bill struck a snag in the senate Tuesday and was amended so as to provide for half the tax to go to the state and half to the different counties on a 67 pro rata basis. When the bill came back to the house with the senate amendment, the house refused to concur in the senate action. Sentiment in the house is overwhelmingly in favor of the original provision of the bill as passed in the house last week to divide the entire tax equally among the 67 counties to be used exclusively for road building purposes. A joint conference committee of the house and senate has been appointed to see if some satisfactory settlement can be reached between the two bodies to save the measure from complete loss.

The abuse that is being heaped upon the legislature by the big state dailies for the stand of the representatives and senators on the tax exemption bill and the superintendent bill is grating on the nerves of some of the members. Tuesday a number of them snatched a few minutes for personal privilige and proceeded to pay their respects to these papers in very caustic terms. It is indeed regrettable that these papers have seen fit to so severely criticise the legislature for its actions, when it is commonly known that the sense of the legislature on these measures is directly in line with the wishes of the vast majority of the people of the state.

Just as soon as the Governor of Alabama has time to sign the repeal bill, the Alabama Power Co. and other such corporations in this state will be subject to payment of taxes on all their property just the same as other people. The repeal of tax exemptions was made an accomplished fact Tuesday afternoon when the house by a vote of 95 to 5 passed the bill which had been passed by the senate one day last week. There was much gratification among members of both houses upon the repeal of this tax exemption because everyone of us felt like we had brought about the very thing which is desired above all others by the people back home.

It is not yet known what will be the fate of the superintendent of education bill which was passed in the house last week. It would not be any surprise to me to see this measure laid over in the senate until the summer session.

Children of Alabama shall never know that an effort was ever made to teach them that they are direct descendants from a tree climbing ancestor of a joint resolution introduced into the Alabama state senate this afternoon by Senator Horton is favorably voted upon.

The resolution would meet with the rosiest dreams of the famous William Jennings and is to the effect that no atheism, agnosticism, Darwinism or any hypothesis whereunder man is linked in blood relation to any other form of life shall be taught by teachers, principals, instructors, superintendents, trustees or what not in schools, colleges or universities supported by taxes in Alabama.

In the preamble to the resolution the senator takes the position that the constitution of the state establishes no religion and that no religious test is necessary to the holding of public office. He bases his resolution upon the theory that evolution comes under the ban against religious instruction.

The Value of Land Abstracts

It is not safe to buy land or to lend money and accept land as security without first investigating the title of the land. Often there are unpaid mortgages, judgments, or other liens affecting the title, which an abstract would set out. Therefore, when buying land or lending money thereon, it is important that an abstract of title be furnished. A few dollars spent for an abstract is cheaper than going ahead and having a law suit a little later on.

THE CRIME WAVE AND THE CIGARETTE

Drunkards are Known to Weep and Repent, the Cigarette Friend Seldom, if Ever

In order to diminish the crime wave we must deal with the criminal's brain, instead of with the body. Punishment, however severe, is not a remedy for crime. It is evident that crime is rampant in our country and is steadily increasing. Never in the lifetime of men living today, has life been less secure. Criminals no longer take chances in hold-ups. The least indication of defense on the part of their victim is the signal of death. Young men with criminal tendencies have been trained to kill during the war, and they don't know how to stop. One writer has said that every thing that can be done is being done by officials in our large Cities to prevent alarm by keeping the news of crime out of print as much as possible. But despite these efforts, enough gets into print to cause serious alarm, and a feeling of insecurity by the good citizens of our large cities after dark. The records show that during the month of last December thieves obtained nearly one million dollars in homicide cases. In the same period there was over one hundred unsolved murders.

About ten months ago four young men late one afternoon employed an automobile driver to take them out in the country about twenty miles from the City of Knoxville, Tenn. The automobile driver was accompanied by a friend of his. That night one of the blackest crimes that ever stained the pages of the history of the good State of Tennessee was committed. The four black-hearted criminals were addicts of the cigarette. Less than sixty days ago one of the most dastardly crimes of the South in open day-light on one of the leading streets in the City of Atlanta, Ga., was committed by a young criminal of 19 years. This young man was a cigarette fiend. From newspaper reports he had to smoke his cigarettes during his trial. While the jury was out considering whether he should spend his life in prison or on the scaffold, he was smoking one cigarette after another as fast as he could. His father had a good supper brought in to him, and during the time he was eating his supper he would have to stop eating to smoke his cigarettes. A few days ago it was reported that a young married man of our city had been arrested on a very serious charge and had been put in prison. On visiting this young man at the prison, I found that he had sent out by a friend and purchased a large supply of cigarettes and was very busy smoking them. For years I have traced the relation existing between crime and cigarettes and never yet have been able to find a dastardly crime committed by a young man who was not an addict of the cigarette. You may not know it, but it is a fact that 95 per cent of all the youthful criminals are cigarette smokers. If you doubt this statement, call on the Juvenile Courts. In a Southern city a few months ago when the city was being terrorized by youthful automobile bandits, we said to a friend that was a detective, "Haven't you found that in nearly every case these young criminals are cigarette fiends?" to which he replied, "In every case."

The cigarette smoke brings about degenerative change in the brain cells of the youthful victim. In fact it causes a moral insanity. The young cigarette addict usually has the following history. He begins to smoke on the sly, and is for a time unsuspected by parents, changes are observed in his deportment in the home. Nervous symptoms appear. He spends less time at home and is restless and jerky. He becomes less careful in his dress and neglects more frequently his others' needs, and is apt to manifest a lack of courtesy toward father and mother and other inmates of the home. As time goes on he becomes coarse in his remarks and jokes. He loses his interest in school. He finds it is difficult to study and falls behind in his class work. A few days ago we had a talk with a school teacher and this teacher described the young cigarette addict in school, and the story was a sad one. At the same time our taxpayers is paying for the schooling of these cigarette addicts, and teaching amounts to nothing with them. The day soon comes when he drops out of school altogether. He associates more with boys of his kind. They meet in questionable places. These boys are unwilling to work and money they must have, to keep up their career. This leads to the quickest and easiest way of obtaining money.

Some months ago one of our great men said to the writer, "If this cigarette craze continues among our boys as it has in the few years past, the next generation of boys won't be worth killing. "To which I replied. "Friend there will be none to kill, the cigarette is capable of accomplishing that job."

We pass rigid laws to shut out of our Country defectives and criminals but we permit and sanction by law, for a few paltry pence of revenue, an evil that is turning many of our most promising youths into defectives and criminals. Good men and women will go to the ballot box and vote for men as law maker that will allow this tragedy to still continue. Good father's unthoughtedly will use these damnable agents of the devil in the presence of their dear sweet boys until they absorb the odor of these cigarettes and find themselves under the influence and a desire for them before they ever smoke one. And if it is right for the father to smoke them it is right for the boy. We are told that it has become quite a fad for the young ladies of some of our larger cities. We think it is time for us to halt and see where we are, for when womanhood of America lay aside their modesty and purity, we as a Nation are gone. Shall we continue to close our eyes to this monstrous evil that is leaving its blight on our youth?

"Feeling Fine!"

"I was pale and thin, hardly able to go," says Mrs. Bessie Bearden, of Central, S. C. "I would suffer, when I stood on my feet, with bearing-down pains in my sides and the lower part of my body. I did not rest well and didn't want anything to eat. My color was bad and I felt miserable. A friend of mine told me of

CARDUI

and I then remembered my mother used to take it. . . After the first bottle I was better. I began to flesh up and I regained my strength and good, healthy color. I am feeling fine. I took twelve bottles (of Cardui) and haven't had a bit of trouble since."

Thousands of other women have had similar experiences in the use of Cardui, which has brought relief where other medicines had failed.

If you suffer from female ailments, take Cardui. It is a woman's medicine. It may be just what you need.

Harding's Renomination Forecast in the Senate

Washington, Feb. 5.—Prediction that President Harding would be renominated by a unanimous vote of the republican national convention in 1924, was made in the Senate today by Senator Watson of Indiana, one of the republican leaders of that body and one of those whose names have been mentioned in connection with the party's nomination next year.

Senator Watson, in the course of a reply to Senator Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, who had declared that the recent designation of Senators Wadsworth of New York and Lenroot of Wisconsin as assistant republican leaders was directed against the possible presidential candidacy of the Indiana senator, said that "when 1924 comes around the republican party will stand united and militant and will without a dissenting vote, renominate President Harding.

Lodge Replies

Referring to a statement that Senator Wadsworth was to represent the conservative and Senator Lenroot the progressive wing of the republican party, Senator Harrison said that if all republican wings were to be represented there would have to be more than two assistant leaders.

Senator Lodge also replied to Senator Harrison, declaring that in reality he had created no new offices in the republican organization of the Senate and had appointed no assistant leaders, but that he had repeatedly asked advice and would continue to do so.

The republican leader took occasion to praise Senator Curtis, in whom he said the republican party in the Senate "never have had a more painstaking or harder working whip," and Senator Watson, of whom he said "there was no senator here with whom I have consulted more or whose advice I have more often taken."

Claims Democrats Divided.

Senator Lodge directed the attention of Senator Harrison to the fight for leadership on the democratic side of the Senate chamber and said there were numerous species of democrats, there to be satisfied also.

Senator Watson, who before today's discussion began had conferred with President Harding at the White House, told his colleagues that he not only believed Mr. Harding should be renominated, but was in favor of re-election of Senator Lodge as republican leader, if the Massachusetts senator desired it.

The Indiana senator added that he had not thought to be assistant floor leader.

"So far as the republican party is concerned, there is no division as to national leadership, and no discord as to leadership in the Senate," he declared.

"Rheumatism? Me? No, indeed, it's all gone, every bit of it! It's sunshine and joy for me now for the first time in years. I feel a wonderful glory again in the free motion I used to have when my days were younger. I look at my hands and think of the twists and swellings they used to have. I bend way over to the floor. I haven't been able to do that in many years. I can thank S. S. S. for it all! To me it was a rising sun of joy and liberty. Brothers and sisters in misery, do not close your eyes and think that health, free motion and strength are gone from you forever! It is not so. It is here and now for all of you. S. S. S. is waiting to help you." There is a reason why S. S. S. will help you. When you increase the number of your red-blood cells, the entire system undergoes a tremendous change. Everything depends on blood-strength. Blood which is minus sufficient red-cells leads to a long list of troubles. Rheumatism is one of them. S. S. S. is the great blood-cleanser, blood-builder, system strengthener, nerve invigorator. It stops skin eruptions, too, pimples, blackheads, acne, boils, eczema. It builds up run down, tired men and women, beautifies complexions, makes the flesh firmer. Start S. S. S. today. It is sold at all drug stores in two sizes. THERE IS NO PARTING THERE

It was midnight on the ocean,
Not a street car was in sight;
The sun was shining brightly
And it rained all day that night,
'Twas a summer night in winter,
And the rain went howling, squealing,
A barefoot boy with shoes on stood
Sitting on the ceiling.

It was evening and the rising sun
Was setting in the north,
And the little fishes in the trees,
Were gaily flying forth.
The rain was pouring down,
The moon was shining bright,
And everything that you could see,
Was hidden out of sight.

While the organ peeled potatoes,
Lard was rendered by the choir,
While the sexton wrang the dish rag,
Some one set the church on fire,
"Holy smokes" the preacher shouted,
In the rain he lost his hair;
Now his head resembles heaven,
For there is no parting there.

Lord Help the Wildcat.—Two hunters in the North Carolina woods had chased a wildcat to a clearing and were terrified to see the beast jump into the window of a cabin from which the sound of a woman's voice had just been heard. On the porch, rocking comfortably and apparently unperturbed, sat Friend Husband.

"Yeah."

"Good Lord, man, get busy! A wildcat just jumped in the window!"

"Yeah? Well, let him git out the best way he can. I got no use for the pesky critters and danged if I'm goin' to help him."—American Legion Weekly.

Up to Posterity.—Thebauld, ex-service man, had died. Two friends were discussing his affairs at the close of the funeral.

"Did he will anything to his wife?" asked Thomanson.

"Nobody knows yet," replied Morrison. "He left her his bonus."—American Legion Weekly.

(S. E. NORTON, Manager)

Mr. Burt Bosworth of Birmingham came to Thorsby Sunday night to see his father, Mr. Thomas J. Bosworth, who for some time has made his home with his son James, at Thorsby. "Uncle Tom," as Mr. Bosworth is known to everybody in Thorsby, is 84 years of age and has been feeble for several months but until recently has been up and about the house. At this writing he is confined to his bed and it is generally believed that his life's end is near.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Davenport have been some anxious days and nights during the serious illness of their only child, a baby boy, the little fellow was reported to be much better at this writing.

Miss Versie Littlejohn, Manager of "The Leader" says their new goods are now arriving and she will be proud to show the people of Thorsby and vicinity some really new fabrics, colors and styles in "Ready-to-Wear" goods. We are pleased to note the return of Harry Morgalis, to assist her in handling their business.

Miss Bertha Littleton, who recently took a position with the First National Bank at Clanton, says she is enjoying her work very much and finds their new home near Thorsby station conveniently accessible to trains on which she goes to and from her work.

While these two enterprising sisters are busy with their work, their mother stands guard in the home and sometimes entertains her old time friends, as on last Tuesday when "Mother" Billingsley spent the day with her.

Mr. Arthur Villadsen and Mr. Earl Leary were week-end visitors at Thorsby.

The Baptist Ladies' Aid will meet with Mrs. Ben Franklin Thursday afternoon, Feb. 8th, and on Friday night, Feb. 9th the ladies of the church will present the long heralded "Tom Thumb Wedding," for which an admission fee will be charged, 35c each for grown-ups and 15c per head for little fellows.

Rev. John Benson, wife and little daughter, of Silver Hill, motored to Thorsby last week, where at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Foss, they were tendered a reception on Friday night, Feb. 2nd. A prayer service was held after which a musical program was rendered. At its close Mr. Foss in fitting words expressed regret of many people in Thorsby at losing Mr. Benson from Alabama, where for several years he has been actively engaged in the ministry in connection with Lutheran mission churches. A part of the program of the evening was the presentation to Rev. Benson of a neat sum of money as a token of esteem, from his many Thorsby friends. Rev. Benson preached last Sunday, morning and evening at the Thorsby Lutheran church. The Bensons will leave Alabama about the end of April to prepare themselves for the work they are to take up on the mission field in China.

Mr. Harry Petersen, who a few days ago took a position with the L. & N. R. R. at Coopers, has more recently been appointed Station Agent at Oxmoor. Harry is a fine fellow whom everybody likes, but appears to be a victim of a seemingly absurd custom among railway employees, which they term "rolling" which gives the right to oust any one who has served less time in a department than the one who may happen for any cause (except inefficiency) to be out of employment, and permits him to take the place of the newer employee. A kind of "spat 'em out and spat 'em in" game which if a fellow can stand it long enough for all above him in length of service to die off or get other jobs, will at last land him in a position of more or less security.

The home of Mr. Wm. C. Neal, is reported sold to Mr. Leonard Hayes, who will probably move in as soon as the transaction is completed.

Miss Cola Ruffin, of Thorsby Institute, spent Saturday and Sunday with her parents at Helena. She reports very rough weather with snow, sleet and much ice.

The Lyceum Committee of Thorsby Institute presents next Tuesday night, February 13, a number which promises to be one of the most attractive entertainments Thorsby has had for a long time. Mr. Glenn L. Morris, a scientific lecturer who, for some years, has made a special study of electricity, will have the stage covered with his apparatus and will explain and demonstrate many of the phenomena which have puzzled all of us who have thought at all about them. Mr. Morris carries with him what is supposed to be the smallest wireless outfit in the world. He shows how ships and airplanes are controlled from a distance. He produces an electrical storm on the stage. Those who fail to see and hear this Lyceum number which is the last for the season, will miss the big event of the year for Thorsby or for Chilton county.

The Lutheran Ladies' Aid will meet Thursday, Feb. 15th, at the home of Mrs. T. E. Gronquist.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis Cleckler welcomed a new son at their home in Thorsby on Wednesday, Jan. 31st. Both mother and son are reported doing well, also Mr. Cleckler, who recently returned from a Birmingham hospital.

Mrs. S. C. Wood gave a surprise to her doctor husband last Saturday night, Feb. 3rd, in the form of a stag dinner in celebration of birthday anniversary for the doctor. They report having a good time.

Mrs. Wood's sister, Miss Parnell, of Selma, is her guest for a few days and at the end of this week she is expecting to entertain a Miss Warren, a trained nurse, also from Selma.

Mr. A. E. Reagan has sold to Mr. G. S. Thompson of Calera, his house and about three acres of land. Mr. Reagan has bought from Robert Johnson a building lot 50x140 feet, just south of Howard Brothers Greenhouses, and intends to erect thereon a new home in the near future.

The honor rolls for the first semester at Thorsby Institute were announced at the chapel exercises on Friday morning, February 2nd. While for the term examinations it has not been possible for a student to obtain a position on the honor rolls who had any mark below a certain standard, a position may be obtained on the semester honor roll if the daily grades have been sufficiently high to bring the final grade up to the desired standing. For several years the semester honor roll has been based upon the final grade obtained in a subject. If no final grade is found to be below 85 per cent and the average is 90 per cent or above, the student is entitled to a place on the first honor roll. If no final grade is below 75 per cent and the average is 85 or above the student is placed on the second honor roll. The two honor rolls will be given below. The attendance and punctuality honor roll is also given for the last six weeks and for the entire semester. The names of the eighteen students who have been perfect in attndance and punctuality for the first semester will be the eligible contestants for the prizes given in memory of Richard Hastings Butler.

The Dramatic club of the Helen Keller Literary Society presented a very interesting program on Saturday evening, February 3rd. The business meeting was conducted by the newly elected president, Eugene Davenport. In the absence of the Secretary, Gladys Flummer, Mary Ella Gerald was appointed as secretary pro-tem. The program consisted of two one-act plays and a piano duet rendered by the Misses Agnes and Ruth Gerald. Because of the story weather the audience was not as large as usual but the enthusiasm and appreciation of the manner of presentation of the plays were most abundant. All of the actors showed careful training and both plays were presented in an artistic, finished manner. Since there have been many requests for a repetition of the evening's program it may be possible to have the plays given at a later date when more people will be able to see them.

UNCLE TED'S BED-TIME STORIES

Last Budget Meeting Shows Tremendous Economy

"So that's what is worrying him is it?" said Uncle Ted after Freddie had been talking about his father's comment on the income tax.

"I know it's bad enough but we all ought to be mighty thankful that we are living right here in the United States. In England the government is getting about 25 cents out of every dollar earned. France is taxed to the last drop and everybody knows what condition Germany is in. As for the other countries of Europe I can't think of any I would want to live in as compared with the good old U. S. A.

"Besides, children, our President and those who are working with him at Washington have accomplished wonders in bringing down the expenses of running the governmet, which means that our taxes of all kinds will be greatly relieved. In face of the tremendous expenses incurred during the war and the natural results following the war, it seems to me that we can feel justly proud of the genuine business methods that have been used in running our national affairs from Washington.

"As long as we are on this subject let me tell you something about the recent meeting of the budget staff. President Harding has been attending all meetings of the budget staff but this last time he was unable to do so because of illness. Vice-President Coolidge was there and read a message from President Harding, and the big thing that was reported was that the receipts for next year will exceed the expenses by $120,000,000! That's what you call real business methods. When any big corporation can make $120,000,000 more than it spends it shows highly efficient management.

"Better than that is the fact that this new budget system is showing the various departments that they can so plan their work a year ahead that they can ask for much less money from Congress. Then too, there are many things needed in every branch of the government that can be bought in bulk where they formerly were purchased by the individual departments in small lots. This meant much higher prices. At the meeting last July it was estimated that there would be a deficit this fiscal year in running the government of about $700,000,000. Instead of this, after six months of real economy, the deficit has been cut to less than $100,000,000.

"However, President Harding is not content with this record. He urged that the departments keep on co-operating as they have, so that the remainder of the deficit may be wiped entirely out. As Ben Franklin said: 'A penny saved is a penny earned.'

"I cannot imagine what more the taxpayers could want than this record to give them the utmost confidence in the present administration. After all, it is the way the Federal government is run and the way our domestic problems are handled that mean success or failure to the United States. It shows that the Harding policy of more business in government has brought results.

"After praising the co-operation of the department heads and pointing out the economies of which I have told you, President Harding, in his message, said:

" 'It is a pleasure to state that the estimates of appropriations submitted to Congress for the fiscal year 1924 are $120,000,000 less than the estimated receipts for the year and $196,000,000 less than the appropriations for the current year. Whatever pressure may have been brought to bear on the executive departments of the government with reference to their estimates, there must have been in the departments concerned a spirit of sacrifice and co-operation to make this real achievement possible. Treasury conditions, however, demanded such co-operation and sacrifice.'

"General Lord stated that the government is spending about $10,000,000 a day, emphasizing how absolutely necessary it is that the government be run in a true business way when such a tremendous amount of money is being spent.

"What we all need to do is to think of our country as a whole and not to become selfish upon some little thing in which we are interested. Everything Points to the Greatest Spring Demand for Ford Products in Company's History

1,202,517 Ford Cars and Trucks were delivered to retail purchasers in the United States alone during 1922—Actual deliveries for last month greatly exceeded any previous December in the history of the Ford Motor Company—

It was the ninth consecutive month in which more than 100,000 Ford Cars and Trucks were retailed—keeping the Ford Plants working at capacity to meet dealers' requirements—

In many parts of the country dealers are already finding it necessary to specify later delivery dates on certain types because there are no reserve stocks to draw from—

Commercial users, business houses and farmers, anticipating their future requirements, are placing orders and taking delivery of Ford Cars, Trucks and Fordson Tractors to insure against delay—

Everything points to the biggest shortage of Ford Products this Spring that has ever existed—

The only way you can be sure of obtaining delivery of a Ford Car, Truck or Fordson Tractor is to list your order immediately—

We have given you these facts as they actually exist so that if you are planning to purchase a Ford Car, Truck or Tractor for use this Spring or Summer, you can list your order now and take advantage of our dealer's first opportunity to make delivery.

BIG STILL RAID WAS PULLED THURSDAY

Sheriff Tom Littlejohn, in co-operation with federal and state prohibition officers, last Thursday pulled off one of the biggest still raids in our history over in the western part of the county. In all there were four stills captured, two of them were of 100-gallon capacity each, and the other two were of 200-gallon capacity each. The two larger stills were in operation when the officers came upon them. They arrested at the stills Eugene Selmon, Ida Black, Martin Harris and Luther Harris. Two other people who were at the stills succeeded in getting away.

Sheriff Littlejohn says the stills were what is commonly known as the Shelby county type. One of the men who were arrested stated that he had been in Shelby county for some months taking a post graduate course in the finer arts of moonshining, and had only recently returned to Chilton county to practice his "profession."

The raids were conducted in a secluded portion of the county, about five miles northwest of Stanton. In addition to the destruction of the stills and the capture of what liquor there was on hand, the officers destroyed several hundred thousand gallons of beer that was waiting to be distilled. The men arrested were brought to Clanton and placed in the county jail.

Sheriff Littlejohn was assisted by Federal Deputies Gillespie and Cox, and State Enforeement Men, Dunn and Caine.

Sheriff Littlejohn has requested The Union-Banner to state in this connection, to the people of Chilton county, who want to get rid of the wild cat whiskey business, that he is here ready and anxious to help them accomplish their desires. The sheriff cannot do the job alone. He must have the assistance of the people of the communities where this business is being conducted.

We would suggest that those people who want to help drive this business from our county quit cussing the sheriff for "not doing his duty," and get busy now and help him get a line on the wild cats. Sheriff Littlejohn is a fair and square man and an honest officer of the law. He wants to do the right thing, and deserves the help of the good people of the county.

GREAT EVENT AT JEMISON ON WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

Announcement is made that there is in preparation full arrangements for a big time to be staged at the Jemison High School on the night of Feb. 22, Washington's birthday.

The details of the occasion are not yet complete, but the advance announcement indicates that there is going to be much fun and amusement for everybody who may attend. The festivities are to include a fiddler's convention, fishing pond, fat babies, fresh eats, and other things.

The occasion is under the auspices of the Jemison High School, and we are sure that when the details are all complete, it is going to be an occasion well worth the time and attention of all who enjoy a happy time.

Don't forget that the time is to be Friday evening, Feb. 22, 1923. Watch this paper next week for further detailed announcement. And begin now to make your preparations to be there if you want to have lots of fun.

IS TOBACCO INJURIOUS TO THE HIGH SCHOOL BOY?

Is tobacco really injurious to the boy in high school? I have always believed that tobacco was not good for the growing boy, either physically or mentally and hence have always prohibited the use of same about the school premises. This habit has become so prevalent among the young people of our country and we are so little concerned about what the boys are doing that I have been led to make some investigations to really determine whether or not tobacco is really injurious to the young boy who has lately formed the habit.

My aim has been to determine whether the use of tobacco—principally the smoking of cigarettes—impairs the mental efficiency of the growing boy. The boys of the high school have been very co-operative in furnishing the information needed for a definite and correct conclusion. The boys were divided into three groups. Those who use tobacco habitually were placed in Group A. Those who use tobacco now and then were placed in Group B. And those who did not use tobacco at all were placed in Group C. 18.75 per cent of the boys of the high school belong to Group A, 31.25 per cent belong to Group B, and 50 per cent belong to Group C.

Now if tobacco has no effect upon the mentality of the boy we would expect these tobacco users to make the honor rolls upon this same percentage basis. The honor roll for the first semester covering a period of four and one-half months has been taken for a basis of study. According to the above figures we would expect the habitual tobacco users to furnish 18.75 per cent of the boys for the honor roll, but we find that they furnish only 13.33 per cent of them. We would expect those of Group B to furnish 31.25 per cent of the boys for the honor roll while they furnish only 20 per cent of them. And then we would expect the non-users to furnish only 50 per cent of the boys who make this distinction but they actually furnish 66.33 per cent.

Now you may draw your own conclusions. These are cold, bare facts. If tobacco has this significant effect upon the boy during the early period of his life what may we expect after this habit has gotten such hold on him that he cannot turn it loose? It has been my observation that the use of tobacco robs the boy of will power. He is slothful, has no determination and is not at all times dependable. In the vigor of his youth he does not think that the habit is doing him an injury.

HAVE YO SEEN HARVEY?

Town Marshal, Harvey Foshee, is engaged this week in the collection of street taxes. He says the town is going to make a "clean shucking" of street tax this year. All street taxes are due and payable before the first of March. After that he says he is going to organize the pick and shovel brigade for the special benefit of those who have not paid their taxes.

The streets of Clanton stand in dire need of some improvements. It is hoped that the taxes paid will be sufficient to iron out some of the bumps and gullies that are so numerous.

Joe Robinson, of Birmingham, spent a few days with relatives and friends in Clanton this week.

A number of people are taking advantage of our special club offer of three or more subscribers at a dollar a piece. Those who want the best newspaper you have ever had in Chilton county for a dollar should get in with a couple of your neighbors on this offer. It will not last very long.

Clanton Mayor Sounds The "Key Note"

Shall We Further Neglect the Many Opportunities That Lie Within Our Grasp?

The Union-Banner is glad to give space this week to a splendid communication from our Mayor, Dr. Gragg, concerning the future possibilities and further progress of our city and surrounding community.

His discussion deals with three distinct phases of our future as a progressive growing town: First, the drainage of the swamp lands that surround us on almost every side; second the extension of the limits of the city to take in many other people who properly belong in the city; third, the very important question of securing the location of some kind of industries in the city.

We agree with Dr. Gragg that these three things are the first steps necessary to be taken in our campaign of development. And this fact should burn on the mind of every citizen—that such steps should be taken at once. Why delay further?

Below is the letter of our mayor, which we submit to the careful study of every man, woman and child in Clanton:

Since our state law-making body is resting on its arms and county politics is not running so rife, I would like to call the attention of the people of Clanton and surrounding community to some matters that come closer home to us.

First, the mosquito question. No, they don't bother us now! But you will recall that they were terrible last summer and it has been that way pretty nearly every summer since I have known anything about Clanton and will be till the swamps, which almost surround our town, are drained and the breeding place of the mosquito destroyed.

I conferred with our state health office about the matter last summer and a sanitary engineer came up at the state's expense and made a preliminary survey, and reported that our surroundings could be easily drained and that would put an end to the mosquito trouble.

The state board of health has offered to send a man to make the entire survey of a drainage project for us. The division engineer of the L. & N. R. R. has also said he is ready to help us. What shall we do? Shall we go on as we have been or shall we take a forward step in cleaning up our swamps; rid ourselves of the mosquito; make the now worthless swamp lands worth hundreds of dollars per acre; and have also the prettiest little city in the state? For no one can deny that Clanton would be a beauty with its surrounding swamps cleared and converted into dry land.

Second, Clanton has outgrown itself. We are, as before mentioned, crowded down between two creeks in a narrow triangular shaped space only a few hundred yards across at its widest point. Therefore, we have only a few hundred inhabitants, while our voting precinct has about 6000 or probably more now.

This causes our town when viewed from its population, its area, or any other way as far as that matter, to appear unduly small, little, narrow and insignificant.

Suppose we took in the same area as some of our sister towns right here in a few miles of us in this county. We would then be a city of probably 5000 people and would be looked on as such and would have many rights and priviliges that we do not now enjoy under our state laws governing towns and cities.

Now, I am not insisting that we have this unless it is best. But don't you believe it is best? Think it over seriously and if it is best let us act while it is time.

Third, as I see it, Clanton is at the point where we must have some large industrial establishment, which will carry a good payroll or it must stop growing and become a dead town. There must be wage earners. Money does not grow on trees and is not often picked up in mule tracks, and if we do not provide a means of having a payroll, where is the money to come from?

Our Chamber of Commerce is making an effort to bring our county and our town to the notice of capitalists in the hope of doing something along this line. I hope they will accomplish something, but I must say that I think more hope of their efforts being crowned with success, could be held out if the general public would realize the fact that our community is what we make it, and that if we expect much out of an undertaking we must put something in it.

Now, if I may have space I want to say something more about a cotton mill in your next issue. Can we all pull together for our general good?

V. J. GRAGG.

Friends, neighbors, citizens, the time for Clanton to do something is NOW. Can't we lay aside our political foolishness for the sake of making our town better and bigger, and unite our efforts to attain the development which should be ours?

This newspaper is here and now dedicated to the accomplishment of those things which Dr. Gragg mentions in the above letter. We feel that we are joining hands with a mayor and town council and a chamber of commerce whose hearts are in the task of bringing about this progress. Let every citizen declare for the things which our mayor has called to our attention so forcibly, and we can soon begin to see the results of our efforts.

LARGE CROWD AT TICK MEET MONDAY

In response to the invitation of the Commissioners Court of Chilton county, there were a vast number of citizens present at the Court House Monday when the Court took up the matter of dipping cattle in conference with the federal authorities. Dr. R. E. Jackson, federal officer in charge of tick eradication in Alabama, was present. Every community in Chilton county was represented by delegations of its citizens who showed an interest in the disposition of this important question.

Considerable discussion was engaged in concerning the status of Chilton county as regards the work of tick eradication. Proceedings of the past year were recounted, in which it was shown that the entire of Chilton county had been placed under quarantine by Dr. Cary, the state officer, because it had been found that a few communities in the county had some ticks. Previous to the placing of this quarantine, the entire county had complied with all reuiremqents of the state and federal authorities by the stipulated methods of dipping cattle and had been released from quarantine.

After the discussion had been made thorough, and a complete understanding reached of the entire situation, a motion was made to this effect:

That the Commissioners Court of Chilton County make provisions for the necessary number of inspectors, and to locate the infested areas in the county; that upon the location of such infested beats, pastures, herds or areas, the Court to provide for the dipping of those infested cattle; with the understanding that all cattle in the county not found to have ticks be released from quarantine by State authorities, so that immediate shipping of cattle not tick infested may be resumed by those who may desire to engage in shipping and transportation of cattle.

The above motion was enthusiastically endorsed by the men present at the meeting, and the same was adopted with but one dissenting vote.

Dr. Jackson stated that he had no authority to make any agreement with the citizens or the Commissioners Court, as he is a federal official; and that this matter is strictly in the hands of Dr. Cary, the State supervisor. He declared however, that he would make recommendations to Dr. Cary that the agreements adopted in this meeting be carried out, and he felt sure that Dr. Cary would agree to comply with the same.

As soon as it can be determined whether or not Dr. Cary and the State authorities will accept the terms of this meeting, it will be definitely known what policy will be followed by the County Commissioners in the matter.

It was universally expressed by those in attendance at the meeting that all were perfectly willing to dip cattle where it is proved that they have ticks; likewise it was evident that no one was willing to re-dip cattle which have no ticks.

It is hoped that the outcome of this matter will be as pleasant as possible for the people of Chilton county. Of course we do not expect anybody to find any great pleasure in dipping their cows, but that is like many other things we don't like. We have to do them just the same. Let us hope that some day we may not have to dip cattle any more.

W. Y. Keel, of Bethsalem community, was here Monday at the tick meeting. Mr. Keel is a wide-awake citizen and always shows an interest in things that are of vital concern to the county.

Between the living room and dining room, a portiere of ribbons with a valentine suspended on the end was arranged, where each guest clipped one and Miss Katheryn Kennedy cut the lucky one and was also presented a box of candy. The refreshments further conveyed the valentine idea. Those enjoying this pretty affair were Misses Floyd, Josephine Littlejohn, Kathryn Littlejohn, Elizabeth and Carrie Mae Willis, Gertie Mae Fiquette, Janette Wallace, Frances Higgins, Evelyn Nix, Elizabeth Johnson, Louise McSwain, Katherine Hayes, Jane Roberts, Julia Ruth Hester, Pauline Wells, Katherine Kennedy, Charlsa Pyron, Mary Goodney Jones, and Anna Lloyd Harris.

Valentine Party Enjoyed

A beautiful affair of Friday evening was a Heart Dice Party given by Mr. Charles Moore when he was host to the Junior class of the High school.

Quantities of red hearts suggesting the valentine season were showered from the walls, adding to the colorful setting, where tables were arranged for hearts. A large valentine held the table numbers and at the close of the game, high score at each table was awarded same.

The punch table was centered with a tall vase of exquisite red carnations, around which was a festoon of dainty valentines. Miss Kathleen Mullins dispensed the punch. Late in the evening a dessert course was served and a "heart favor" was presented Misses Ford, Sara Mullins, Aurabell Martin, Sara Cox, Jewel Minor, Mae Williams, Alma Klinner, Flossie Wilson, Myra Moore and Estelle Littlejohn, Messrs. Burton Mullins, Barney Burnett, Crit Jones, Joe Hester, Arthur Littlejohn, Raymond Roberts, Udah Curlee and Sam Upchurch and Mrs. Alverson.

Card Club Meets

Mrs. Hosea Downs was charming hostess on last Wednesday, having as her guests the members of the Card Club and friends. Red carnations were used to adorn the rooms where three tables for the game of Bridge were arranged. After a spirited game Mrs. Heard was found to hold highest scort and was presented a hand painted salt and peper shaker. For guest prize a dozen red carnations were presented Mrs. Harvey Chandler.

Late in the afternoon a refreshing salad plate with iced tea was served to Mesdames Heard, Arthur Johnson, Carrie Mullins, Eric Hart, Ross Mulline, Frank Callen, Hance Alred, Grady Reynolds, Sam Johnson, Winn, Harvey Chandler and John Browder.

Mr. Feby Deramus, of Verbena, was a guest at the Bob Jones meeting on Tuesday night.

Mrs. Sam Johnson left Monday for Raleigh, N. C., after a few weeks stay with her mother, Mrs. A. C. Harper.

THE BOB JONES REVIVAL

The great revival meeting which is being conducted by the famous evangelist, Rev. Bob Jones, in Clanton, is attracting the largest crowds ever witnessed at a meeting here before.

Rev. Jones is one of the most forceful preachers that we have ever heard. His terrible denunciations of sin are powerful, and his sermons are making people realize their hopeless condition as never known before.

It is regrettable that his meeting cannot continue longer than this week. If Bob Jones could stay in Clanton a few weeks longer he would doubtless accomplish things here that have never been approached by an evangelist before him.

DR. JOHNSON GOING TO NEW ORLEANS

Dr. Arthur Johnson will leave some time next week for New Orleans, where he is going to spend a couple of months in post graduate work upon the treatment of diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat, and the fitting of glasses.

He informs us that upon his return to Clanton, he will in future confine his practice entirely to office work. Those who come to see him will then be assured in advance that they can find him at his office.

Charley Foshee, of Billingsley, attended the tick meeting here Monday.

Uncle Mose Popwell, of Bethel, one of the oldest citizens of our county, was in Clanton Monday attending meeting of commissioners court.

Mr. J. N. Littlejohn, of Thorsby, Route 1, brought The Union-Banner a club of three subscriptions on last Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben W. Lowe, of Clanton, announce the arrival at their home, of a fine baby girl on January 21st, 1923.

A bunch of fellows were talking on the streets about the revival meeting. One of them said: "Ain't Bob Jones pouring it in 'em?" It is peculiar that most of us sinful beings like to make ourselves believe that the preacher is talking to the other fellow.

ROAD MATTERS UNDER CONSIDERATION OF COMMISSIONERS

Among other things that came up for the attention of the Court of County Commissioners at their session this week was the matter of the county road organization for the next two years. To this end the court has announced the appointment of road apportioners who shall have supervision of the roads in their various districts. The list of apportioners is as follows:

District 1 of Beat 4 includes all of Beat 4 east of the railroad and north of Second Avenue in Clanton and Walnut Creek. District 2 includes all of Beat 4 west of the railroad and north of the Maplesville Highway. District 3 includes all of Beat 4 west of the railroad and south of the Maplesville Highway. District 4 includes all of Beat 4 east of the railroad and south of Second Avenue in Clanton and Walnut Creek.

Beat 16.—J. L. Easterling, R. M. Robinson.

These apportioners were commissioned by the court for a term of two years. It will be the duty of these apportioners to recommend overseers for the various roads of their districts, which overseers will then be commissioned by the court to look after the roads which are designated to them by the apportioners. Apportioners may re-appoint old overseers where they see fit.

IS THERE A KU KLUX KLAN IN CLANTON?

This is a question that we have heard asked many times in recent months. The nearest thing to a definite answer that we have heard was the assertions of Rev. Bob Jones at the Tabernacle Tuesday night. The evangelist held up to his congregation fifty-five dollars in currency which he stated was given to him by the Ku Klux Klan of Clanton to go into the collection plate.

In the course of his remarks, Rev. Jones paid the highest compliments to the Ku Klux, stating that it was without a doubt one of the finest organizations existing in this country today. He bitterly denounced the base motives and incendiary tactics of those enemies of our civic righteousness which are directing their efforts toward the destruction of the Ku Klux. We believe he was right when he said the Ku Klux was worthy of its place in our country, and had come here to stay for all time.

Rev. W. W. Robinson, of Providence, Beat 16, was a visitor to Clanton Monday. He visited the Bob Jones meeting.

BOUNTEOUS BIRTHDAY DINNER

An occasion of much joy and festivity was the birthday dinner given by his children and friends to "Uncle" Riley Robinson on last Sunday. The dinner was prepared at the old man's home, near Providence, and all of the children brought along a basket to add to the table. A more delicious and fuller table than this one has not often been had on an occasion of this sort.

Besides a few close friends of the host, all of his children were present to enjoy the festivities with him and his dear old life-mate. Their names follow: Rev. W. W. Robinson, Mrs. J. M. Wyatt, Mrs. W. L. Bates, Mrs. John Bates, R. M. Robinson, Mrs. T. G. Wyatt, C. H. Robinson, G. C. Robinson and John E. Robinson. A number of the grand children were also present.

Just before the noon hour the old man was filled with gladness and elation when he was presented with a brand new suit of clothes, given him jointly by the sons and daughters.

This affair was in celebration of the seventy-second birthday anniversary of the above named, and the spirit of joy and good feeling will be long remembered by the participants.

I think that Clanton is a prosperous little city, and from the looks of the collection plate at the Sunday morning services, I believe it will remain prosperous.—Bob Jones.

ALABAMA NEWS

Former Governor, Thomas Kilby, who has returned to his home in Anniston after a business trip to New York City, has issued a statement to the effect that the financial condition of Alabama was in excellent dition when he turned the affairs of government over to Gov. W. W. Brandon on January 15 and indicated that he would have something interesting to say in reply to the governor's message some weeks ago that the treasury of Alabama was facing a large deficit instead of enjoying the prosperity expected by the new officials at the end of Governor Kilby's term.

Curiosity of a negro who is employed at the Anniston incinerator resulted in the discovery of the body of a new born white baby boy wrapped in a piece of counterpane which had been hauled in a wagon making the rounds of some of the garbage cans. The negro reported his discovery to the sanitary officer, and an investigation was begun to ascertain to whom the baby belonged and how the body found its way into a garbage can.

The reported intention of the Illinois Central and the Frisca lines to enter the Gadsden district through construction of the T. A. & G. extension has revived the story current last summer that the Southern railway contemplates running its thru Cincinnatti-New Orleans trains into Gadsden from Attalla so that the A. G. S. passenger train might come by that city with only a slight loss in schedule time.

The spelling championship of Gadsden is to be decided at the courthouse February 20th. The Business and Professional Womens Club have invited the other women's clubs of the city to join them in challenging the members of the men's clubs to an old-fashioned spelling bee for the benefit of the fresh air camp of the county tuberculosis association.

At a recent meeting of the Muscle Shoals Real Estate Board at Sheffield plans were advanced in the matter of organizing a local building and loan association. The movement has always been considered and indorsed by the Rotary Club. It is proposed to give impetus to building more homes in the Sheffield community.

Judgment of the Talladega Circuit Court in convicting and sentencing to death Frank Graham for the murder of Deputy Sheriff Burk while that officer was in the discharge of his duty has been affirmed by the supreme court of Alabama. Together with the affirmance, the court has set Friday, March 15, as the date of Graham's execution.

Dr. W. G. Smillie, county health officer of Covington county, has left Andalusia for an extended trip to Washington, New York and Boston, where he will attend an important health conference and attend other matters pertinent to the county's health unit.

Governor Brandon has signed an order releasing Charlie White, young national guardsman of Gadsden, who is serving a court martial sentence of 100 days in the county jail for striking Captain William Heaton at drill one night last fall.

The Baptist Church of Columbiana will begin at once the erection of an addition to their present building. The Sunday School auditorium for the primary department will be enlarged and an additional story added.

More than fifty Alabama educators have signified their intention of attending the convention of the National Education Association, department of superintendents, at Cleveland, Ohio, February 24 to March 2.

Papers of incorporation for the new Country Club at Selma have been passed by the directors of the organization and the next step forward will be the selection of a site. The organization has 730,000 subscribed.

A rest room for the benefit of women trading in the business district of Hartselle has been opened by Thomas Stewart in his new business house, which is now ready for occupancy.

VERBENA SCHOOL JOURNAL

The Union-Banner is in receipt of Number 1, of Volume 1, of the Verbena School Journal, a new monthly school publication which is to be published monthly by the Verbena Consolidated School. We hereby extend our congratulations to the students of the Verbena School, whose work it is to compile the matter that makes up this splendid little publication.

We have had occasion in the past to observe a number of school papers of the character of this one, and we can say without hesitation that the Verbena School Journal is in every way equal to the best that we have seen. Many schools of much larger volume and higher grade than the Verbena School have not issued a better paper than theirs.

We hope that the people of Verbena and community will continue and even increase their interest in the effort of the school to publish a monthly paper. It is a movement that is very valuable to the pupils of the school, and nothing will help more than the paper to arouse the interest and enthusiasm of the students in their work.

More of our schools could support a monthly publication of this kind, and it is our opinion that they would find it a very worthy addition to their educational activities in every sense of the word.

Consistency is a jewel everywhere except in the small-sized brain of some would-be politicians.

The preacher who announces to his congregation that he has a "call" to another church where the salary is bigger isn't "called." He is 'rais-ed."

There is enough religion in our town to save the soul of everyone of us, if those who have this religion also had grace enough to divide up with the other fellow.

The Birmingham News says it is the friend of country editors. The Birmingham News is not a friend to anything or anybody but the almighty dollar. It is all things to all men, if there is any money in it.—LaFayette Sun.

We have often wondered what sort of arrangements they are going to have in heaven for those church members in Clanton who will hardly speak to each other on the streets here. Probably God will make deaf mute angels out of this class of "Christians."

Governor Brandon has promised to give the members of the legislature a watermelon-cutting on the Capitol lawn when they return to Montgomery for the summer session. Then we would suggest that the legislature reciprocate by giving Bill an appropriation-cutting when the revenue bills come up for consideration.

Some people we know will pat you on the back when they meet you on the street, and come around your place of business and borrow your hand-saw or screw-driver, and do various other things to try to fool you into believing they are your friends. Then when you turn your back they will stab you. Such people are the very devil's goats.

Why shouldn't the country editors of Alabama have a political machine? The doctors have theirs, the lawyers have theirs. We hope to see the day come when the editors have their machine, and we further hope to see this machine mash the tails of some of the birds in the present state senate.

This editor wishes he had a newspaper in the home town of some of those senators in the present legislature. I would like for some of those birds to see how I look next time they come around to put their "announcement" for office in the paper. It might also be of some interest to them to see the "send-off" which I would give them "on the side."

We Retract.—The Literary Digest says there is no such word as "gotten." How about "Mine Gotten Himmel!"—Birmingham News.

The Ala. Legislature

By W. M. WYATT,
REPRESENTATIVE OF CHILTON COUNTY

Adjourning Saturday afternoon, members of the 1923 general assembly of the Alabama legislature completed the sixteenth and concluding legislative day of the Winter session and departed for their respective homes throughout the state after a term of five weeks, when 325 bills were introduced, and approximately 50 bills and measures were enacted. Reconvening of the state body for the Summer term will take place at noon, July 10, with 34 additional legislative days scheduled to be held during the remainder of July, August and several weeks of September.

Although both houses of the legislature adjourned simultaneously at 1:30 o'clock, an hour and a half after the time set by the rules committee's resolution, unexpected delay was uncountered, due to slight revision in the sheriff's bill, reimbursing sheriffs of Alabama for expenses encountered in feeding prisoners, and the clocks in the senate and house chambers were set back several times before the task was finally completed.

At the time of adjournment, 40 bills and a number of resolutions adopted during the preceding sessions of the two houses had been signed, with 18 prospective acts still awaiting Governor Brandon's signature of enactment. These were signed during the afternoon. A majority of this number were expected to be signed immediately or within the next few days.

Although a decided majority of the bills introduced during the present session were of minor importance, at least six measures were of vital interest to the entire state, and four of the number were passed by the senate and house.

Probably the foremost of these was the Ashcraft gasoline excise tax bill which experienced such rough sailing in the course of its passage. Introduced by the Lauderdale County representative, as a purely class tax for the express purpose of improving the state's highways, this measure was suddenly adopted by the administration as a means of replenishing the state's treasury, and its final passage was not accomplished until it had been rewritten, revamped, resubmitted and bitterly debated upon.

Next in importance was the Bonner blue Sunday legislation which was rejected in the senate by a narrow margin. The bill to make the offices of county superintendents of education elective, was another measure of state-wide import which also created a hurricane on the legislative seas of Alabama. The bill was passed by the lower house but at the time of the recess, was still under consideration by the senate committee on education. The convict lease measure, although passed in both houses by a flattering majority, was, nevertheless hotly contested, especially in the house. Two other bills of general importance to Alabamians which were enacted were Senator Brower's bills, repealing the waterpower exemption act of 1907 and enlarging the powers of the Alabama Public Service Commission. Both measures experienced no extreme difficulty in passage and have received Governor Brandon's final signature of enactment. Although of slightly less importance than the preceding measures, Senator Griffith's anti-pool and billiard room bill, which was recently passed by the senate, is considered one of the outstanding legislative measures to be brought up at the short term.

Brandon Sounds Note

Governor Brandon's address to the house and senate, at the beginning of the present administration, embraced the plea of economy and prudence. Legislators were requested to refrain from submitting bills calling for appropriations, and in a general way this program was adhered to both by the senate and house, although traces of opposition developed during the closing days of the legislature, especially in the lower house.

Among the administration measures to pass were the bills abolishing state and county tax adjusters, increasing the state tax commission, eliminating the state board of control and economy and reviving the convict board. The gasoline tax bill was another measure sponsored by the Brandon administration which has become a state act.

During the past term, probably the greatest fight witnessed in either house was the dramatic battle for the adoption of Senator Bonner's blue Sunday law. With both sides evenly drawn, the bill caused a raging debate on the floor of the senate which lasted approximately five hours, during which time the argument was based either for or against the subject of strict observance of the Sabbath. Bonner's measure was rejected in the upper house by but one vote, and subsequently the issue was raised in the house when Representative Sollie introduced two similar bills in the house, the first of which was submitted the day following the defeat in the senate.

The gasoline bill, experienced its first bruise when the house passed the Ashcraft bill with an amendment which gave the counties an equal portion of the entire proceeds, instead of the funds being dispensed by the state highway department. After passage in the junior legislative body the administration forces soon began a fight which ultimately resulted in the adoption of a new bill, giving half the proceeds to the state general fund. A conference committee was necessary before the gas tax measure was finally passed, and even then it did not pass by a decisive majority, in spite of Governor Brandon's activity in its behalf.

Rebellious representatives in the house were successful in their recent fight for the bill which provides for the election of county superintendents, passing the bill despite the broad frown of administration leaders. The measure, however, has not been acted upon by the senate, and is to be considered by the education committee during the recess.

The convict lease, chiropractic and newspaper pass bills were additional measures over which fights occurred. Of this number, the convict lease bill was the only one to escape.

Pleas for Economy

Many other bills and measures precipitated petty bickering in the senate and house, but in practically every case, opposition was caused from objection to the small appropriations and expenditures called for. Measures such as the tick eradication bill and resolutions increasing salaries of state officials were opposed by a minority which argued they were supporting an economy platform.

General characteristics and inclinations of the senate and house have differed radically in many cases during the past legislative term. While the senate has been almost solidly in support of the Brandon administration in virtually every issue which has occurred thus far, the house has shown a militant nature in some instances.

Election of county superintendents, the gasoline bill and several other minor measures are probably the most outstanding cases of rebellion. In the case of the gasoline bill, J. Lee Long, of Greenville, a member of the conference committee and recognized as one of the leaders of the all-county faction, urged adoption of the administration bill as a patriotic measure and his influence, it is believed, sufficiently turned the tide against a possible deadlock.

Prior to adjournment committees representing both houses of the legislature, were appointed by the senate and house to sit during the recess for consideration of important legislative matters to be brought up at the adjourned session.

Recess Committees

These committees are as follows:

Code committees: Representatives Walker, Wall, Goodwyn, Luck, Rountree, Embry, Howze and St. John, of the house, and Senators Waddell, Tunstall, Hildreth, Carmichael, of the senate.

The heavy rains that are falling here now are saturating the earth with the life giving fluid that will be given out during the spring by Mother Nature to keep alive and flourishing our growing crops and family gardens. These rains are also filling all the low places in our adjacent swamps with water which will stand there next summer and furnish breeding places for millions of mosquitoes. It is all right for as much water as possible to soak into the earth, but when the ground gets full, the surplus should pass down our streams, and not stand about the low places to become stagnant and filthy. Yes, we need the swamps around Clanton drained. Our hope is that something definite may be done in this direction this summer.

H. J. Grooms, of Beat 12, was among those attending commissioners court here Monday.

J. W. Gore, T. K. Littleton and E. E. Littleton of Route 8, were visitors to The Union-Banner office on Tuesday. They formed themselves into a club of three in order to get advantage of our special dollar-a-year subscription rate. You can do the same with your neighbors if you will try.

The State Board of Health promised last summer to send an engineer here during the rainy spring season to look over our drainage possibilities. The idea was that the engineer might be here when the creeks were "full" so us to get some idea of how much water the drain ditches would have to carry away. It looks to us like now would be a pretty good time for him to come along. The swamps will be flooded from now until May.

OUR DOG POPULATION

Do you ever notice or think about how many superfluous and unnecessary dogs there are in Clanton? Reports come in to us from all sections of the city that the dogs keep up so much fuss at night that people can't sleep, and some three or four cases have been reported where one or more dogs attacked school children on their way home. One case was reported where a full grown man was seized by two large dogs and was in danger of being badly hurt when someone came to his rescue.

It is all right for people in town to have one dog, provided he is worth his keep, but it is a public nuisance besides being dangerous, for a whole army of trifling, useless hounds, collies, terriers, fiests and all other species of the canine family to be continually promanading the streets all day, and keeping up such a noise howling and barking at the stars every night that no one can sleep.

We think this is a matter which the council should take up, as it is one in which the whole citizenry of the town is concerned. Why not pass a law of some kind regulating the ownership and use of dogs within the corporate limits?

TAXING THE CORPORATIONS

We notice that some of the big and little papers of the State are giving the legislators at Montgomery a severe roundup for repealing the law exempting the big corporations of the state from paying tax on their holdings. They give as their reason for wanting the corporations exempted the inducement that it offers outside capitalists to come into our state.

Well, we do need big concerns to come here and plant their coin in our soil; but there is another side to the question: Can we afford to show partiality to the moneyed man and neglect the common folk? If we are going to exempt the corporations from taxation, why let's exempt the small man too. When a young man starts out with only one old gray mule and ten acres of land, let's give him the same send-off that we do the big fellows. There is just as much sense in one as the other,—if not more in the latter, because most of the time when a young man is launching out into life he really needs help and encouragement, while the big corporations already have millions to do business on.

There is only one thing to this argument, and it is whether we are going to give help and encouragement to the foreign fellow who already has money to burn, and dig our revenue out of our brothers and fellow-beings here at home, or put them both on the same scale and require them both to come across with their pro-rata part of the tax money. The latter looks nearer right to us.

By their unjust assaults upon the legislature of Alabama, some of the big daily papers of this state have done much harm to the country editors. Yet these same big dailies insist that they are friends of the country press. They are not friends of the country press or anybody else except the big rich corporations. We hope the members of the legislature will bear in mind this fact—there is a difference between the country editor and the high-salaried propagandists who write the editorials for these corporation agencies known as daily papers.

The Value of Land Abstracts

It is not safe to buy land or to lend money and accept land as security without first investigating the title of the land. Often there are unpaid mortgages, judgments, or other liens affecting the title, which an abstract would set out. Therefore, when buying land or lending money thereon, it is important that an abstract of title be furnished. A few dollars spent for an abstract is cheaper than going ahead and having a law suit a little later on.

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers. When the Little One arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first produced the great remedy, "Mother's Friend." Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says:

"With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used Mother's Friend and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes.

Note: Write for valuable free illustrated book, "Motherhood and the Baby," containing important authoritative information which every expectant mother should have, and all about "Mother's Friend," to Bradfield Regulator Company, BA-23, Atlanta, Ga. RAID AT JEW TOWN

Jew Town, near Mitchell Dam, was accorded an "official" visit by Sheriff Littlejohn last Saturday. The sheriff states that himself and Deputy Smith nosed around the place for a short while, searched some houses here and there, but failed to locate anything. After a while they started off up the hill back of the "town." As they went along they began to kick over some pieces of pine bark and one thing and another, and as they did so, began to uncover various and sundry bottles filled with corn whiskey. They got more interested presently and concluded to make a thorough search of the woods. They found bottles of whiskey under bushes, papers, rocks, in old shoes, tin cans, and in every conceivable place where the ingenuity of a boot-legger might conceive of hiding a bottle of his spirits. When the search had been completed and all the bottles collected, the officers had in their possession twelve gallons of liquor. The same was destroyed as no evidence could be found that would connect anybody with the contraband whiskey. We guess that somebody in Jew Town missed his "Sunday joy" as a result of this hillside search.

MUDDY ROADS

Automobiles coming into Clanton from the surrounding country show evidences of very muddy ronds, being spattered from top to bottom with red colored liquid earth. The recent rains have put some of our roads in a rather bad condition. We noticed Monday morning several saw mill men on the streets who were looking very doubtful of the advisability of trying to keep their operations going in the face of such weather. We may look for business to be a little slow now until the spring rains give way to the warm sunshine days which we hope will follow them at an early date.

Increase Your Red-Blood-Cells. That's the Sure Way! S. S. S. Builds Blood-Cells; This Means Strength!

Do you know why insurance companies refuse to insure a great many men because they are under weight? Simply because to be under weight often proves low fighting-power in the body. It often means you are minus nerve-power, minus red-cells in your blood, minus health, minus energy, minus vitality. It is serious to be minus, but the moment you increase the number of your red-blood-cells, you begin to become plus. That's why S. S. S., since 1826, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women, a plus in their strength. Hollow cheeks fill out. You stop being a calamity-looker. You inspire confidence. Your body fills to the point of power, your flesh becomes firmer, the age lines that come from thinness disappear. You look younger, firmer, happier, and you feel it, too, all over your body. More red-blood-cells! S. S. S. will build them. Ladies and gentlemen, a peaky, bony face doesn't make you look very important or pretty, does it? Take S. S. S. It contains only pure vegetable medicinal ingredients. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

VERBENA W. M. U.

We feel that our Woman's Missionary Society is growing to be a great deal stronger than it has been in the past. The ladies are uniting closer in the work for our Master's cause.

We were glad we could elect again for our president Mrs. Stonecipher. We feel that she has greatly helped our society and to have her with us longer will mean a great deal. She is proud to have for a helper as vice-president Mrs. Hubbard, a splendid Christian woman and worker.

A few weeks ago we took up a study course, "The Wandering Jew in Brazil." This course which is ably conducted by Mrs. Horace Davis, leader, is very interesting to all. We are glad that the majority of our society is already enrolled in the class.

Mrs. W. H. Strock, our treasurer and G. A. leader, is doing a good work.

If you have not already visited the Girls' Auxiliary, you would be surprised to see the little girls doing such wonderful work. We are glad to have girls walking in the paths of righteousness in their early age.

Mrs. Guy Caffey, R. A. leader, is doing her bit to train our young boys for Christian service. Mrs. Judson Strock is also working faithfully with our Sunbeam Band.

On last Thursday Mrs. H. B. Oliver entertained the ladies taking reading course. After the class and special business a delicious salad plate and coffee was served to twenty ladies.

Maddox, Rena Hayes, Zemma Hayes, Mrs. Eva Childress, Hazel Maddox, Mary Watley and Myrtle Robinson. Organists were Mrs. Eva Childress, Miss Nora Franklin and Miss Mae Maddox. If you don't believe we have a crowd of little girls here who can really direct a class in singing, just come and see for yourselves as we cannot prove to you any other way.

Mr. Johnston has been experimenting some time with cabbage and other produce in that section. Last summer he prepared to plant half an acre in cabbage and the heads developed to large dimensions. Anyone in that district giving only ordinary care to a winter cabbage patch can net $250, Mr. Johnston declares.

MARY OF 1923

Mary had a little lamb,
Oh, many years ago;
Its fleece was bright
And snowy white,
To school it went, you know.

Grown calves along,
And she can throw the bull.

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager)

On Sunday afternoon, Feb. 11th, Mr. Thomas J. Bosworth died at the home of his son, James Bosworth in Thorsby, aged 86 years, 6 months and 11 days. The funeral was held the following Tuesday, under the auspices of Thorsby Lodge of Masons, of which deceased was a member. The service was conducted by Rev. James W. Davenport, pastor of Thorsby Congregational church.

Mr. Bosworth is believed to have been Thorsby's oldest citizen, in point of years of age. He had lived in Thorsby for 21 years, and so lived that he was "Uncle Tom" to most of our citizens. During his life in Thorsby he served a term of two years as Mayor, and having been an attorney in his mature years was probably the best informed in legal matters of any of Thorsby's incumbents of the Mayor's office. Mr. Bosworth was a veteran of the Civil War, having served for most of its duration, in the Federal army. Soon after his discharge, he was married in 1865 and had four sons and one daughter. His wife, daughter and oldest son have passed on before him, leaving one son at Portland, Indiana, where he was born and lived until coming to Thorsby. Besides his son James, at Thorsby, another son, Burt, is living in Birmingham. Both these sons accompanied the remains to Portland, Indiana, for interment.

The Thorsby Parent-Teachers Association meets on the first Friday night of each month. The next meeting will be held at the Baptist church. The organization needs every patron of the public school.

Miss Nolia Robinson came home Saturday night and intends to make a visit of several weeks. Miss Robinson has for some time been in the employ of the Forbes Piano Company, in Birmingham.

Thorsby Chamber of Commerce are putting on a system of boosting sales of real estate in town and the country around Thorsby. For the current year, once in two months there will appear illustrated articles in "Southern Opportunities," illustrative and descriptive of Thorsby section in the way of industries and other matters which may be of interest to subscribers and readers of the magazine, which although published in Alabama, circulates chiefly in the North, where thousands of people live who want to know about the South and its advantages to a great variety of industrial pursuits. In carrying out this program the Chamber of Commerce is spending a good bunch of money in a very practical way and they invite investigation by all who want to sell or buy property. Mr. Nels Petersen is secretary of the organization and will be glad to furnish information as to details of the plan.

Miss Helen C. Jenkins, principal of Thorsby Institute, will entertain the members of the senior class of the school at her home, "Campus Cottage," on Saturday night, Feb. 17th.

On the same evening Miss Emily B. Ellsworth, associate principal, and Miss Elizabeth J. Robinson, librarian, will entertain at their home, "Teachers' Cottage," all boarding students, not members of the senior class.

Mrs. Harry Thompson, of Lock 12, and her mother, Mrs. Conway, spent several days with Mrs. D. M. Paxson last week.

The Ladies' Guild of Thorsby will be entertained Washington's birthday at the home of Mrs. Ed. Piper, Thursday, Feb. 22nd.

It was the privilege of the writer to attend chapel at Thorsby Institute last Monday morning when a Lincoln memorial program was put on, the details of which are given below, but what was said and done under the various heads mentioned was certainly inspiring to old and young alike.

The chapel exercises at Thorsby Institute on Monday morning, February 12th, were given over to the observance of Lincoln's birthday. After the song America the Beautiful, Codie Bell gave a sketch of the life of Lincoln. The famous Gettysburg address was delivered by Plato Deason and was followed by the reading of the Second Inaugural Address by Robert Shepard. Among the quotations from Lincoln that were read by Bertha Bowles were such familiar ones as "You may fool all of the people some of the time and some of the people all of the time, but you can not fool all the people all of the time;" "I have found that most people are about as happy as they make up their minds to be;" "Every individual is entitled to do as he pleases with himself and the fruit of his labor so far as it in nowise interferes with any other man's rights." Other numbers on the program consisted of the reading of Whitman's Oh Captain, My Captain, a paper on Lincoln Anecdotes by Ethel Hronsby and a recitation of the conclusion of Longfellow's Building of the Ship by Nora Lee Lessley. A short talk was given in regard to the Lincoln Memorial University, a school standing as a living memorial to Abraham Lincoln and located at Cumberland Gap, Tennessee. As a closing number to the exercises the school recited the American's Creed, composed by William Tyler Page and then gave the Flag Salute, followed by the singing of the Star Spangled Banner.

Better Speech Week, from February 19 to 24, 1923, will be observed at Thorsby Institute and there will be special chapel exercises, four minute talks, pantomimes and special contests given by students of the school in the effort to improve the oral and written English of the school.

Mr. Burt Bosworth and family came from Birmingham Monday morning to attend the funeral of Mr. Bosworth's father, Thomas J. Bosworth.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Harsley, of Birmingham, spent the week-end with Mrs. Aaron Littleton, mother of Mrs. Harsley.

Mrs. Littleton seems to have had a family reunion last Sunday, as all of her children, except Mrs. Farrington, of Bessemer, were present.

Mrs. Carrie Billingsley entertained at dinner last Sunday, in honor of Mr. Heath of Howard College, who is regularly engaged as preacher at the Baptist church.

THE SECOND ANNUAL FIDDLERS' CONVENTION

The second annual Fiddlers' Convention of Chilton, Autauga and Coosa counties was held at the Verbena school auditorium, Friday night, January 26.

There was a good attendance at the meeting. In fact there were a lot of people there who could not get in because all the seats were occupied and a lot of people were standing up near the entrance.

The music was enjoyed by everybody, young and old, for they could not help listening attentively when the musicians cracked down on such pieces as "Turkey in the Straw," "Hop Light Ladies," and many other selections.

Fifteen out of the total number of seventeen musicians were awarded prizes as follows:

Ten dollars was given by the citizens of Verbena, awarded to the best individual fiddler, Mr. E. H. (Watermelon) Johnson, from Hayes.

THE STORY OF COTTON SEED

Once there was a little cotton seed,
A farmer planted in the ground,
The rain drops fell up on it
And the sun shone all around,
So there it lay so snugly
Close to nature's breats
Close to nature's breast
And when the rain drops softened
The soil above its bed,
It pushed through, like a stately plant,
And lifted up its head.

The farmer came out in the morn
To view the plant at early dawn
He says "I think we'll have a bumper yield"
For I never saw a finer plant growing in any field."
And as the days and weeks passed 'round
The farmer hoed and tilled the ground
Until the summer sun shone hot and dry
And then he layed the cotton by
The little cotton plant had grown into a stalk you see
And was loaded down with blooms and bolls
As pretty as could be.

Then when the autumn days drew near
And brought with them their sunny cheer
The children came, the field to see
'Twas just as white as white could be
And the little plant shown forth so bright
All in its robe of fleecy white
Up until now each played their part
So faithful in this drama
The sun, the rain, the wind, the dew
And also did the farmer.
So now the harvest time is here
The children come with faces bright
They work and talk of what they want
When father sells the fleecy white
And when a load is gathered out
The children scamper 'round about
To help the farmer off to town
Where the speculator stands around
The farmer drives upon the street
To greet the first one he may meet
With "What will you give for my cotton?"
He answers him, "The markets rotten.
Prices off to-day, 'way off to-day
About three cents is all we pay."

The farmer's face clouds with regret
He thinks of all his work, but yet
It must be sold for his family's needs are most bereft
And he sees no way to help himself
So homeward he returns, all feeling at a loss
To know just how to manage up the cost
The little ones must be denied
Of many things they need
And to have disappointed them
Is very hard indeed.
So circumstances drifted along
About the same old way
Until a man named M. W. Lamb
Made known his plans one day
And then announced to the world
The old U. F. of A.
And throws its brightness far
To guide the farmers weary feet
Just like the evening star
It stands for only what is just
So stand united now, we must
The future's bright, the cause is right
And so to all I say
Three cheers for M. W. Lamb
Three cheers for the U. F. of A.

We would like to give the names of everybody who attended the tick meeting last Monday. But what's the use? Just say they were all here and leave it at that. It would not be far wrong to make such an assertion.

Medicines that aid nature are always most effectual. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy acts on this plan. It allays the cough, relieves the lungs, aids expectoration, opens the secretions and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. Thousands have testified to its good qualities. CLANTON PARENT-TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION MEETS

The Clanton Parent Teachers' Association met last Friday afternoon. Although the weather was very unfavorable, there were present a goodly number of parents, who are always loyal to the school. A very interesting program was given by the pupils of the Grammar School.

Especial credit should be given the social committee for the excellent way in which they acquitted themselves, bringing refreshments through the rain to help make the social feature a complete success. Those on that committee are Mrs. Cox, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Rasberry, and Mrs. Culpepper. The members thank them for this fine example of loyalty to an accepted duty.

A book shower was the special feature of the day, but due to the inclemency of the weather some did not bring books. Many promised to send them by pupils. Twenty-two were given Friday. If it was not possible for you to be present last Friday, the school will be grateful if you will send a book for the library.

The Association has purchased a picture to be held each month by the room that has the largest number of parents present. Those having children in more than one grade are counted for each grade. The third grade won the picture Friday, having nine parents on hand. This grade also won the picture donated by the Study Club for the best average attendance and punctuality for the month of January. It is up to some of the other grades to get busy

M. C. Rawlinson, of Pletcher, was a pleasant caller at The Union-Banner office Monday. He brought us a club of subscribers.

Rev. Job Reynolds, of Jemison, was in Clanton Sunday spending the day with his son, Judge L. H. Reynolds. While here he attended the Bob Jones meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Harris, of Raymond, Mississippi, were visitors to relatives in Clanton Sunday.

The Grand Chorus of National Prosperity

Washington, Feb. 20.—"The commercial pages of the daily press continue to tell the story of returned prosperity," declares the Republican Publicity Association, through its President, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr. "Increased bank clearings, increased building permits, increased orders for steel, increased output of pig iron, are all indisputable evidences of a sound foundation for the optimism that exists throughout business circles in the United States.

"A resume of the facts in these and other particulars gives an interesting and encouraging picture of the upward swing of industry and trade. At the end of January, 1923, the United States Steel orders aggregated 6,910,000 tons as compared with 4,241,000 tons at the same time one year ago. Pig iron production during the month of December, 1922, amounted to 3,229,000 tons as compared with 1,644,000 tons in the same month a year before, showing an increase of approximately 100 per cent.

"Bank clearings, which register with approximate accuracy the amount of business in progress, show an increase of about 15 per cent thus far in the present calendar year as compared with the corresponding period last year. Money is not only moving more freely, but more of it is being saved by people of small means, as indicated by the fact that savings banks deposits are $1,500,000,000 greater than a year ago. Holders of Victory Bonds on which interest has ceased have been slow in presenting them for payment, thus demonstrating that they are not pressed for money. Repayments of loans to the War Finance Corporation have been prompt and more extensive than many had expected.

"In 136 cities for which building statistics are compiled by Bradstreets, the aggregate value of structures for which permits were issued in January 1923 was $166,162,000 as compared with $121,594,000 in the corresponding month of 1922. From every part of the country reports are received of scarcity of labor in all the building trades, with wages of skilled labor as high as $12 and even $15 a day. There is ready demand for the lumber output.

"Prices of all the principal farm products have increased over a year ago. At the end of 1922 corn was worth 50 per cent more than a year before, cotton had increased nearly 50 per cent, wheat 10 per cent, wool 70 per cent. The aggregate increase in the value of farm crops in 1922 over 1921 is estimated at $3,000,000,000.

"With a steadily increasing export trade, and a materially improved situation in our foreign relations as a result of the adjustment of the most important of our foreign loans, the outlook for foreign commerce during the present year is all that could be desired. The improvement in foreign exchange values, the lessened danger of foreign controversies, the promotion of peace in the Western Hemisphere, the reduction of Federal expenditures, all confirm the evidence of our domestic situation that we are well started on an era of industrial and commercial prosperity."

A number of people are taking advantage of our special club offer of three or more subscribers at a dollar a piece. Those who want the best newspaper you have ever had in Chilton county for a dollar should get in with a couple of your neighbors on this offer. It will not last very long.

To Educate People on Malaria Control Work

Montgomery, Ala., Feb.. 20.—For the purpose of educating the people of Alabama on malaria control work, the following catechism is the first of a sries which will be published in the newspapers of Alabama:

What is malarial fever?

A disease of man, common in hot, wet countries.

What is malarial fever sometimes called?

Chills and fever, bilious fever, swamp fever.

Is this disease found in the United States?

Yes. Along the coastal plain from Connecticut to Texas, over nearly all the Mississippi Valley, and in a number of valleys on the Pacific Coast.

What causes malarial fever?

The presence of certain small organisms in the blood of the person who has the fever.

What do you mean by an "organism?"

Something that is alive and thus has the power to reproduce its kind. It may be alive and thus has the power to reproduce its kind. It may be alive as a plant is alive, or alive as an animal is.

Is the organism which causes malarial fever a plant or an animal?

It is an animal, and in the blood is said to be an animal parasite.

What do you mean by a "parasite?"

An animal or plant that lives at the expense of another, like the mistletoe, love vine, rust on corn, or the hookworm, flea, etc. The malarial parasite lives in man only by feeding on the blood cells of the man.

How do you know that these parasites are found in the blood of those who have malarial fever?

Because with the microscope we can see them in the red blood cells of a man sick with malarial fever.

They are very small bodies floating in the blood, shaped much like a biscuit, with thickened edges, they give the blood its red color, and are a most important part of it. They are essential to life.

CARD OF THANKS

With deepest sincerity we wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to our relatives, friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy shown during the long illness and death of our dear beloved mother, Mrs. C. Hall; also for the many floral offerings. Thanks to Rev. Buford Lawrence for his words of comfort at the home and grave; also to Dr. C. N. Parnell for his untiring efforts. All have our everlasting gratitude.

FATHER AND DAUGHTERS.

NO ONE STOPPING HIM

The chaplain of Columbia University says it would be a practical application of the charity of Abraham Lincoln to remit the allied debt to this country. He is wrong. The transaction would involve breaking faith with every taxpayer and Liberty Bond owner in the country, and the saddling of an additional burden of $11,000,000,000 upon the public treasury. That was not Lincoln's brand of Americanism, neither did he extend charity at the expense of his countrymen. If the learned Columbia divine wishes to do his part toward the cancelation of the debt he can send his Liberty Bonds to any of the debtor governments, but he should not urge others to do the same.

People Should Study Fertilizer Closely

Why do people buy cheap fertilizers? We believe it's because they don't understand what they are getting. Why do we want to buy sand and pay freight and do the unnecessary handling? Had you not rather have two tons of 12-3-3 than to have three tons of 8-2-2? You have the same plant food and save freight and handling of one ton. See some one that is able to explain fertilizers and learn what you want. We have people that can figure this for you, who have farmed and experimented, if you will see J. N. Dennis, W. T. Bean, J. D. Collins, J. T. Wilson, or any other person acquainted with scientific farming.

HE FAVORS DRAINAGE

We see in the papers where they are talking drainage. We are glad to see this. Why should we sit still and see our best land covered with water and brush when it can be covered with corn and pumpkins, when properly drained. Let's get busy and do this work. We can get some help if we will only make some efforts. Clanton has a bright future if we will drain the swamps.

Gilvey Foshee Having High Life in Florida

The Union-Banner received a card the other day from our friend, Mr. G. O. Foshee, who recently sold out his property in Clanton, and with his wife, went to Florida, seeking the Fountain of Youth, and a land of pleasure. And from the tone of his card we would guess that they have pretty nearly found what they went to seek.

Here is what he says. All who know Mr. Foshee will fully realize just how much pleased he surely is in such surroundings:

"Well, we are here, and having a fine time. I caught twenty fish today. The biggest one weighed two pounds. I never did see the beat of it in all my life (and I have been through Arkansas, too). Sorry we did not come here ten years ago. There is something to see and something doing all the time. . . Be sure to send me The Union-Banner every week. My address is 'Uncle Tom's Cabin, Lakeland, Florida.' "

Cabin, Lakeland, Florida."

Mr. Foshee says the biggest fish he caught weighed two pounds. If Uncle Dick Jones had been telling this fish tale he would have added another paragraph and described the enormously big "whopper" which he "hung" and let get away just as he was about to land him. That one probably would have weighed a hundred pounds, and would have been something like ten or twelve feet long.

Mrs. Nancy Carroll Died in Mobile

News reached Clanton Monday of the death of Mrs. Nancy Carroll, wife of Elzie Carroll, which occurred at a hospital in Mobile, Ala., Monday at 11:00 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll were living in Pascagoula, Miss., where Mr. Carroll was taking government vocational training. The deceased was the daughter of the late Rev. C. C. Mitchell, who died six or eight years ago.

The body was brought to Coopers Tuesday and interment made in Chestnut Creek Cemetery.

Income Tax Specialist Is Coming to Clanton

Mr. Thos. K. McEwen, Deputy U. S. Collector of Internal Revenue at the Montgomery office, says in a letter to The Union-Banner that a deputy collector of internal revenue will be at the postoffice in Clanton on March 5th and 6th, for the purpose of assisting persons in making out income tax returns. His letter is as follows:

"Editor Union-Banner:

"I will thank you to publish the following notice in the next issue of your paper:

"A Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue will be at the postoffice at Clanton, Ala., on March 5th and 6th, for the purpose of assisting any person who may be due to file a Federal Income Tax return for the year 1922 in preparing such return.

"A return must be filed by every person whose gross income amounted to $5000.00 or more, or whose net income is $1000.00 if single or if married and not living with husband or wife and $2000.00 if married and living with husband or wife.

"A return must be filed in each of the above cases regardless of the amount of personal exemption and credit for dependents."

The people of Clanton are urged to take note of this announcement, as it is of value to those who are required to make income tax returns. Those who are not familiar with the forms and the filling of same according to law will find the assistance of this Deputy Collector to be very valuable to them. Remember the date, March 5th and 6th, at Clanton Postoffice.

United Farmers Meet at Court House on 24th

A. B. Baxley, state manager United Farmers of America, will speak at Isabella School House Saturday night. The public is cordially invited. Refreshments will be served.

United Farmers Making Drive in Alabama

Mr. A. B. Baxley, state manager of the United Farmers of America, has plans all perfected whereby this organization is to make a great drive forward in this part of the state. Special meetings are announced for the following places, at which the public will be invited to hear prominent speakers discuss the work of the United Farmers: Sylacauga, Thursday, March 8th; Columbiana, Friday, March 9th; Centerville, Tuesday, March 13th; Tuscaloosa, Wednesday, March 14th; Vernon, Saturday, March 17th.

There will be speaking at the above times and places by able speakers, including M. W. Lamb of Blytheville, Ark. "Mr. Lamb is the man who conceived and worked out the great principles that are absolutely solving the problems of the farmers of the South," says Mr. Baxley. "Mr. Lamb will meet the issues fairly and squarely, without sham or pretense. He is a real dirt farmer. Regardless of your vocation or condition in life, you will do well to hear him," continued Mr. Baxley in his statement advertising these meetings.

At Clanton, Saturday, March 10th, and at Fayette, Thursday, March 15th, there are to be meetings for members only of the United Farmers. All members in reach of these two places are urged to attend these meetings.

All the meetings announced above are to be held at 10 o'clock a.m.

Oak Grove Church Nearly Finished

Mr. W. A. Glass of Oak Grove community above Jemison, was a visitor to The Union-Banner office last Saturday. He authorized us to state that the new Oak Grove Baptist Church is about completed and will be ready for the first service on next Sunday.

Mr. Glass reports that the church and its auxiliary agencies are doing a good work in this progressive community. He says the Sunday school and B. Y. P. U. are enjoying a good attendance, and receiving the hearty support and co-operation of the good people who live in that community.

The Union-Banner wishes to congratulate the people of Oak Grove for their splendid church and community spirit. The work which they are surely receive the blessings of God, and return to them as bread cast upon the waters.

Fiddlers' Convention Jemison High School

There will be a Fiddlers' Convention, Oyster Supper and other attractions at Jemison High School on Friday evening, February 23rd, at 7 o'clock. Everybody is invited to come and help pay for our desks.

$600,000 A MONTH

Four wealthy society men in New York were sentenced to four months in jail on conviction of bootlegging. It was testified that they had sold about 30,000 cases of liquor at a profit of around $80 per case, and yet their friends thought the court was very harsh on them. How many readers would be willing to go to jail for four months if they were given $2,400,000 for so doing?

New Methodist Church Is Now a Sure Go Here

The Methodist people of Clanton have had under consideration for the past year or more the matter of building a new edifice for religious services of their church. At the close of the Bob Jones' meeting last Friday night they took a long step towards the definite final settlement of their building plans. Including the subscriptions made that night and some others that have been made since, the total amount now pledged for the erection of the new church stands at thirty thousand dollars. We are informed by one of the leaders in the Methodist church that they plan to erect a $35,000 building. This same party stated that there were a number of people who intended to subscribe to the building fund who have not yet done so.

The location of the new building has not yet been determined. There are several places under consideration by the church. The Methodists are to be congratulated upon the success of their efforts thus far, and it is a certainty now that before many more months they will have a church building in Clanton that is fully in keeping with the other phases of the city's growth and development.

The Bob Jones revival, which closed Friday night of last week, has no doubt done our town and community much good. As evidence of this we have been able to see many "signs." We could see it in the faces of the hundreds of people who attended the services. We have observed it in the expressions of many people whom we have heard talk about the meeting, and who openly declare the benefits the meeting did them and resolve to live better lives. Further indications of the success of the revival campaign is seen in the fact that on last Sunday following the close of the revival, and in compliance with the request of Rev. Jones, something over twenty people presented themselves for membership in the Baptist and Methodist churches. We have had no report from the Presbyterian church.

That Clanton is taking great forward steps in church development and religious work is one of the best indications that our town is a highly desirable and wholly fit place in which to live and rear a family and make a decent living.

A DECISION WANTED

Regardless of party affiliation, the whole country will agree with President Harding that Congress should take decisive action one way or the other on the merchant marine bill. He stated the matter tersely but comprehensively when he said:

"Congress owes to itself, to the executive branch of the government and to the American public some decisive action. Mere avoidance by prolonged debate is a mark of impotence on a vitally important question. I plead for a decision. If there is a favorable majority, the bill should be enacted. If a majority is opposed, defeat will be decisive."

Action one way or the other is what the country wants. A Congress that can't act is about as irritating as an automobile that won't run.

Our good friend, W. J. Headley of Pinedale, was in to see us Monday. He brought in a club of seven subscriptions to The Union-Banner. Thank you, Mr. Headley!

THE OLDEST BANK In Chilton County

RATHER SERIOUS

After a political defeat, Abe Lincoln once said that he felt like a boy who had stubbed his toe. It hurt too bad to laugh and he was too big a boy to cry.

Sort of a serious situation. Many a man feels that way after taking a financial tumble, too. The best way to avoid disaster of that sort is to keep your funds in a good bank like ours and use it for making safe investments suggested by your banker. It is always much better to be safe than sorry. Our bank is always at your service.

American Farmers and The Protective Tariff

Certain national farm organizations, under pressure from partisan Democratic politicians looking forward to 1924, have been putting out silly anti-tariff propaganda seeking to delude the American farmer into the belief that he is harmed and not helped by protective legislation which will directly build up American manufacturers. The farmer is told by these sophistical demagogues that he gets little help from a protective tariff on his own products, and that the tariff on manufactured articles is a tax upon him.

But the American farmer will not be told by anyone but a designing demagogue, someone who has a purpose in playing upon his credulity and prejudice, that he is not interested in the general industrial development of the country. If the foes of protection had been able to prevent protective tariff legislation, this country would still have been an agricultural dependency of Europe, with Europe fixing the price both of what we had to buy and what we had to sell.

The introduction of manufacturing industry on a large scale in the United States has not only cheapened things the American farmer has to buy, as compared with the prices that would prevail if he had to purchase his necessities from importers and alien producers, but it has provided a near at hand market for what the farmer produces that is worth many times more than any market in Europe or Asia. It is this upbuilding of home industries that makes land valuable in the United States, while it remains cheap in western Canada and in other parts of the world where manufacturing industry remains undeveloped.

If the anti-protection gloom spreaders will possess their souls in patience a few months longer even they will be convinced against their wills that manufacturing activity and general prosperity means more to the American farmer than all the nostrums of the economic quacks who are continually telling the farmer that they are going to lift him over the fence by his boot straps. What the farmer needs is a brisk demand for his products. The nearer home it is the better for him. Whatever promotes domestic prosperity tends to make the farming business profitable.

Every American factory put into operation means more demand for the things produced by the farmer, both in demand for raw materials and in the things needful to supply the needs of producers who, through employment, are made buyers. This is the fact many of those who have set themselves up as leaders and teachers of the farmers choose to overlook. Such a doctrine does not go well with the preachers of class consciousness and class hatred who attempt to prove their special loyalty to the farmer by trying to breed antagonism among the farmers toward all non-farmers, especially toward all manufacturers,—both a stupid and un-American proceeding.

The prime need of the American farmer is markets, not credits. Certain class conscious so-called "labor" politicians have been promoting huge schemes of making farmers out of artisans, in order to increase a shortage in necessary labor which is already taxing the farmer heavily through increased cost of what he has to buy. Some of the agrarian politicians and professional farm leaders have formed a combination with radical political and economic elements which have interests antagonistic in some respects to those of the farmers. These elements are trying to make the farmer believe that he must look to foreign lands for profitable markets and depopulate the factories to creat over production on the farms. This is a beautiful scheme, which hamstrings the farmer both ways,—by increasing his own competition and by forcing up the prices of what he has to buy through the creation of abnormal production costs in the industrial field.

While the demagogues and deluded theorists who are doing the bidding of the radical anti-protectionists and anti-Republicans are telling the farmer that the adoption of the protective policy is hurting him, the return of prosperity [illegible] has put to work three or four million wage earners who were idle a year ago. Under the stimulus of the increased purchasing power of these workers, the price of farm products is going up. Even with big crops this year the American farmer will be able to market his output at a profitable price. When this happens the farmer will remember the prophecies of the anti-tariff calamity howlers with contempt.

The average American farmer is a broad minded, patriotic American not easily fooled by socialistic clap trap, appeals to class consciousness and class hatred and arguments to the effect that the way to build up the farmer is to tear down everybody else. If those posing as leaders of the farmers' movement in this country do not get up to the level of the farmers' common sense they will find themselves out of a job as agitators. The logic of events is making its inexorable answer to their specious pleas against the Republican policy of building up the home market through protective legislation.—National Republican.

This year's ground hog is the most truthful one we ever heard about.

"Another new wrinkle on Buck's horn." The women over at Lawley had a hen party.

Mr. C. W. Wade is making some extensive improvements of the Downs property on South Sixth Street, where he will have his automobile sales agency in the future. He will handle the Chevrolet Automobile in this territory.

Pretty weather for the past week has allowed the roads of the county to recuperate some, and the saw mill men have also made extensive recovery from their long faces by moving quite a lot of their surplus lumber to the markets.

County Court of Chilton County was in session Tuesday trying some cases that were continued from the regular February term the First Monday in this month. Elsewhere will be found a complete report of the proceedings.

We would like to inquire if anybody could tell us where we could buy a light car that is better than a Ford. We have a Ford, but it is not satisfactory, and therefore would consider trading it in for some other kind of light car if we could locate anybody that would make us an offer.

It is not going to hurt the Alabama Power Company to pay taxes in Alabama. And deep down in their hearts, we expect that the men back of that concern are perfectly willing else. That is the way any good man will look at the tax question; and we do know that the Alabama Power Company is made up of, and backed up by some mighty good men.

If it takes tax exemptions to enable Alabama to compete with North Carolina in securing cotton mills, why has not Alabama in the last sixteen years gotten those mills which went to North Carolina? During that period of time we have been offering them entire exemption from taxation, while North Carolina taxed them at the rate of fifteen cents on the hundred dollars.

We are glad to have an expression from the Alabama Power Company this week saying that they are going right along with their program endeavoring to bring developments and industries to Alabama in spite of the repeal of tax exemptions by the legislature. They say that they are willing to accept the mandates of the law-making body of the state, and fight on in the best possible way for our state. We commend them for that spirit.

Dudley Collins says some mighty good things to the farmers this week in his little short letter about fertilizers. We have long held to the belief that some of the so-called commercial fertilizers which are sold to the farmers are made of most anything else besides that which it takes to make the cotton and corn grow and flourish. We suggest that the farmers of this county think seriously about this fertilizer question. If you are not familiar with the fertilizer game, see Mr. Collins or Mr. Dennis or somebody else who does know about it. They can be of much help to you in the proper selection and preparation of your guano.

The reason Alabama has not gotten very many of the cotton mills that have been coming South is because we have fooled ourselves into believing that tax exemption business would do the work of bringing them here and that was all there was necessary. But we can see now that such notions are not altogether correct. North Carolina has been getting these industries because the people over there went out after them and showed them that they wanted them to locate in that state. We must do the same thing in Alabama. If we will show a concern the advantages which Alabama offers in a thousand and one ways, it will look so good that the tax question will be forgotten until the tax collector calls to see them.

Mr. J. Stealey Jones, of Coopers, was a visitor to The Union-Banner Tuesday. Mr. Jones was not feeling so very young this time. He had some kind of a slight accident on last Sunday from which he is suffering with a broken rib.

We are glad to have this week a public expression from Dudley Collins in favor of Clanton's drainage project. Mr. Collins is a live wire, who is always quick to see the point in any good or bad proposition. And when he calls it good or bad, you can always be pretty near safe to follow him. He pronounces the drainage of swamps as a good thing. We hope that it will not be long before we can get some kind of a meeting of citizens together to start some definite action along this line. The quicker this drainage project gets under way, the quicker we will stop talking and writing about it. But we could not promise to stop even then. For when it is completed Clanton will be so well satisfied and so greatly benefitted that not only a few of us, but every citizen in the town and around it, and every visitor who comes this way will be spreading the joy that will come for such a wonderfully constructive and advantageous accomplishment. That will just be the time to begin to talk.

SHOULTS NEWS

For the last few days we have been having some weather that we can really call winter. When the thermometer registers 15 1-2 below freezing point, as this was the case Sunday morning, we may know it is time to look for our overcoats that we have had hanging behind the door for some time. It has been very hard to stay comfortable in the house, as we freeze on one side and burn on the other. After all we are glad to see this cold weather, so we may have some distinctions between our seasons. We always think of the season winter, bringing us the cold breezes from the north, and without this we cannot appreciate it.

The B. Y. P. U. gave a box supper at the school house last Saturday night which was quite a success. A large sum was made on the boxes and as much on a box of nice fruit for the prettiest girl. She, being Miss Daisy Latham. The sum made was $50.85. This will go for the benefit of the church.

Before the supper a comic was given by Myrtle McAfee and Allie Walker, which caused laughter throughout the audience.

Mr. Jeff Ellis, who has a very good position at Cole Valley, above Birmingham, shipped his furniture to that place about a week ago. He came back last Saturday for his wife and children. They left for Birmingham on the early train Sunday morning.

After spending a week with homefolks, Miss Birdie Hall returned to her work in Montgomery last Wednesday.

Misses Sallie Lee and Lula Mae Bearden, formerly of this community, now of Stanton, were visitors here last week-end.

Mr. W. M. Oden has no objections to the cold weather. On last Friday he dressed ten large porks and shipped to a Birmingham market the following day. Mr. Oden does this every winter. More of the farmers should think about this, as there is money in it.

Maness—Reynolds Wedding

A pretty wedding of the week was that of Mr. A. C. Maness and Miss Ethelyn Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Reynolds of Plantersville, which took place at the home of Rev. Sam Dunlap of Lawley, on Saturday evening, Feb. 17.

Mr. Maness is a prominent man of this community, who has a host of friends.

Miss Reynolds, a teacher of the Shoults school, is a beautiful lady of charming personality. She is an attractive member of the younger set.

They will make their home with the mother of the groom, Mrs. P. G. Maness. Their many friends wish them a life of much happiness and prosperity.

Mr. Horton Walker, who is attending B. C. H. S., spent Friday night with parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Walker.

Miss Stella McGee dined with Miss Mattie McAfee Sunday.

One day last week Miss Myrtle McAfee received a letter from a cousin, Fernando Moore, of Los Angeles, California. He has been at this place for two years. He stated in his letter that he would soon leave the country. Perhaps he has reference to coming back to the sunshine homes of Alabama. Tho he has talked of going to South America. Mr. Moore was only a boy in his early teens when he left home but is now making great success. It takes determination to accomplish anything in life, but with this and without an effort, life is a failure.

Death of Mrs. C. Hall

On the morning of Feb. 8, at the hour of 10 o'clock the community and home of Mr. Calton Hall was made sad when the death angel carried away a beloved wife, mother and friend to a mansion that has been prepared for her.

Mrs. Hall had been sick for more than a month, tho not thought serious which made her death a great surprise. She was born July 22, 1866. She was a woman of a loving disposition, always to be found in the rooms of the sick. In any way she could render help it was a pleasure to her. Her burdens always seemed light as she conceded them with a pleasant smile.

She is known as a true Christian, always found at every service. To see her seat vacant, something had to prevent her coming. Visiting friends and strangers were received by her with a warm welcome to the church.

She is dead yet she will continue to live in the lives of those who knew her.

She leaves a husband, Mr. Calton, five daughters, Mrs. G. C. Garner, Misses Eva, Birdie, of Montgomery, Rosa, Etta Mae, one son, Robert, of D'lo, Mississippi, and a host of relatives and friends.

To the bereaved ones we extend our heartfelt sympathy. God knoweth best and doeth all things well. Let us prepare to meet her.

Messrs. Connell & Kendrick are offering a mighty interesting proposition to their customers now in the way of nice dishes to be given away free to the lucky purchaser. Every dollar you spend with them entitles you to enter the contest. Read full particulars about the proposition in their advertisement in this paper.

MAPLESVILLE NEWS

The tacky party given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gwin Saturday night, Feb. 17, was indeed a great pleasure for the people of the town. The sum of 25c was charged. This party was given for the benefit of the Methodist church. The church is in need very bad for light. So the proceeds will go to buy lights for the Methodist church.

We had a very cold spell of weather with us last week, which caused many of the beautiful flowers to be killed, so you may know how much the ladies appreciated the cold weather.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Earnest and Misses Vennye Fox and Bertie Lee Coleman spent last Thursday in Selma shopping.

Mr. Aubrey Sparks made a business trip to Selma one day last week.

THORSBY SECTION
(S. E. NORTON, Manager)

Thorsby was favored with a visit from Rev. Malcom Dana, D. D., for two days last week.

Dr. Dana says his "Parish is the United States" and his particular business is stimulating improved conditions in "Rural Life." Most people would consider that to be a large order for any one man! But somehow, wherever he goes he seems to inspire in the minds of all who hear him a possibility of a better environment, through self sacrifice and co-operation. Speaking at Chapel in Thorsby Institute last Wednesday morning, he took for his theme what he termed "The Doughboy's Sermon" whom some one found among the mud and rats in the trenches, at the front, asked him. Well, "Buddie, what are you getting out of all this?" He replied, "I'm getting a lot out of it! And I'm mighty anxious to finish up the job, and go home to lick Dad. He always taught me that money will buy anything! When I enlisted I had two automobiles, a steam yacht, and was just about to buy a flying machine, I thought I was having a bully time, but now I've learned that what makes life worth while is what you can do with and for the other fellow! In his remarks Dr. Dana gave some very practical suggestions to young men and women who go away from home to school, many of them from homes and communities where there is no very keen desire for education or improvement outside their own door-yard. His advice was to those who learn of new and better ways, to organize some sort of club, league or society, when they go back home, and help to "put over" something which will be helpful to improve conditions, such as repairing and painting the church house, or anything else that will help to awaken the community spirit and show the folks at home that they are not being educated away from useful and good things but are ready to pitch in and give the home folks some benefit of what they are learning. Dr. Dana also visited and spoke at our overcrowded public school, and gave to some Thorsby citizens his opinion, that it is simply disgraceful to attempt to educate our children in such environment, but there never will be much improvement until we adopt methods which are employed elsewhere where conditions were as bad as in Thorsby and vicinity. We can do it if we will.

Mr. Grover Bice, postmaster at Thorsby, went to Birmingham Tuesday to attend a convention of post-office employees. These conventions are held annually and are largely attended (not compulsory) by post-office officials and employees who receive instructions in up-to-date methods for improvement of the postal service of the country.

Mrs. Cora B. Williams, wife of W. H. Williams, of Tracy City, Tenn., and who lived several years in Thorsby, previous to 1916, died last Friday and was buried Sunday at Jemison, where Mrs. Williams was born and reared. Besides her husband she leaves a young daughter, Margaret, and two step-daughters, Miss Giula, a music teacher at Elora, Tenn., and Jessie Bell Keetton of Boston, Ala.

A Card of Thanks

Mr. and Mrs. James Bosworth of Thorsby, desire to express their deep appreciation of and thanks for the many acts of kindness and sympathy manifested by the good people of Thorsby who helped so much in the care of their father, Mr. Thomas J. Bosworth, during his illness, death and funeral. Signed

Mr. and Mrs. James Bosworth.

The Ladies' Guild of Thorsby, will meet on Thursday afternoon, Feb. 22nd, at the home of Mrs. Ed Piper, when a Washington birthday program will be put on.

The Congregational Ladies' Aid Society will meet Thursday, March 1st, at the home of Mrs. J. H. Goddard, on Montgomery Highway.

Misses Agnes and Ruth Gerald and Miss Inga Erdahl went to Birmingham Saturday, and Misses Agnes and Ruth remained over Sunday with Mrs. Walter Morgan, formerly Olga Soberg.

A big truck load of young people and some others in cars went to Clanton last Wednesday night to attend the Bob Jones revival service.

The annual meeting of Thorsby Lutheran church was held at the said church on Monday afternoon, Feb. 19th. Rev. Wilhelm Petterson, pastor of the church, presiding, and Mrs. A. E. Reagan serving as Secretary. Minutes of the last annual meeting were read and adopted. The pastor's report showed 36 services held, 15 in Swedish and 21 in English; 13 meetings of the Luther League, 3 meetings of a social nature, 6 confirmed (3 boys and 3 girls), one communion service, on Confirmation Sunday, Dec. 17th, 3 baptisms, and one funeral. The work of the Ladies' Aid Society showed splendid results. Rev. W. Petterson, who has been pastor of the church since Easter 1922, was reappointed to serve during 1923. He thanked the congregation for kindness shown him in the past and expressed the hope that the Lord would bless his labors during the coming year. Regular services in this church will be held on the 3rd and 4th Sundays each month. Morning service Feb. 25th and both Sundays in March will be in Swedish, and all evening services wil lbe in English.

A letter from Miss Orra A. Angell at Greenville, near Providence, R. I., reports more snow and ice, than seen there for many years. Miss Angell will be remembered as a very efficient Librarian at Thorsby Institute a few years ago. She is now caring for an invalid sister at their old home.

Dr. G. A. Brandell, of Rock Island, Illinois, president of Augustana Lutheran Synod, and one of the foremost Lutheran churchmen of America, visited Thorsby, on his tour of inspection of the Lutheran field in the South, on Wednesday of this week, delivering an address, in Swedish, in the church at 7 p.m. and conducting services at 7:45 p.m. in English.

The Annual Declamatory Contest of Thorsby Institute will be held on Saturday evening, February 24th at 7:30 o'clock. A prize of five dollars will be offered to the best speaker among the girls and a similar amount will be offered to the best speaker among the boys. The program is as follows:

Resolutions of Respect For Thomas Bosworth

Whereas it has pleased the Great Grand Master of the Universe to call our beloved and honored brother, Thomas Bosworth from this life of activity to the life beyond:

And whereas we the undersigned have been appointed as a committee to draft resolutions in his memory and to give the expressions of our lodge as to the love and confidence we had in him;

Be it therefore resolved that Thorsby Lodge No. 759, A. F. & A. M., take this method of expressing our love and esteem for Brother Bosworth as a Mason and a citizen. We feel that his life has been a blessing to those who knew him and an example worthy of imitation by brother Masons and all good citizens.

To those of his immediate relatives and friends who are most heart-stricken at the loss we have all sustained, we have nothing of this world's consolation to offer. We can only sincerely, deeply and most affectionately sympathize with them in their afflictive bereavement and commend them to the Infinite Father who looks down with compassion upon the fatherless in the hour of their desolation. He will fold the arms of His love and protection around those who put their trust and confidence in Him.

Ford
THE UNIVERSAL CAR

FOUR REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD BUY YOUR FORD CAR THIS MONTH

I.
The unprecedented demand for Ford Cars throughout the winter months has taken the entire output of the Ford plants working at capacity, indicating that the demand this Spring will be far in excess of the number of Ford Cars tha tcan possibly be built.

II.
January was the tenth consecutive month in which retail deliveries exceeded 100,000 Ford Cars and Trucks. Requirements for February, the month when preparations are already under way for Spring business, called for 148,407 Cars and Trucks—more than 24,000 in excess of the number we can possibly produce.

III.
Ford dealers in many parts of the country are already finding it necessary to specify future delivery dates on Ford Products because there are no reserve stocks to draw from.

IV.
Your order placed now will protect you against delay or disappointment later on—It is the only way you can be assured of reasonably prompt delivery.

We consider it important to give you these facts, so that if you are planning to purchase a Ford Car, Truck or Fordson Tractor for use this Spring or Summer you can list your order at once and take advantage of our dealer's first opportunity to make delivery.

Alabama Power Co. Is Not Downcast

Work For Development of State Will Be Pushed Forward In Spite of Adversities.

The Union-Banner has received a very interesting letter from the Alabama Power Company relative to the efforts of that great organization to further the progress and development of our state in an industrial way. We are glad to note that they are still determined to push and pull for Alabama, even if the state does require them to pay taxes.

We publish below the letter in full so that our readers may get the full spirit and meaning of its expression:

"Birmingham, Ala., Feb. 13, 1923
Editor Union-Banner:

"No doubt you have been keeping tab on the recent activities of the State legislature and have full knowl edge of these activities as they had to do with the Alabama Power Company. This letter is to assure you that, while the actions of the legislature were rather disappointing to us, they have in no way dampened our ardor and enthusiasm. The united efforts of the constructive forces of the State can accomplish much in the face of any kind of adversities. I am still of the opinion that Alabama is the best state in the union, and that we will eventually make it the leading commonwealth in America.

"I have before me the very trying task of convincing the textile interest of the NewEngland states that Alabama is the logical location for their cotton mill extensions. We have in no way altered or changed our plans for the forthcoming International Textile Exposition, which is to be held in Boston during the coming fall, notwithstanding the fact that the Carolinas offer cotton mills a tax rate of 15c on $100.00, as against a rate of $1.15 in Alabama. We have other advantages which, I hope, will overcome this great disadvantage. As you probably know, every cotton mill is dependent on coal to a certain extent, and Alabama is the only state in the cotton belt which offers this essential. Too, it is a recognized fact that Alabama offers the cheapest and most continuous power service of any State in the South. I believe that these distinctive advantages will, in a large measure, overcome the disadvantage in the matter of taxes.

"This letter is merely for the purpose of letting you know that we are not downcast, but just as optimistic as ever; and that our efforts to build up our state by bringing payrolls into it and industries that will consume our raw materials will not be weakened in the least. All of our interests and investments are in Alabama, and we propose to continue doing business at the same old stand, and by your co-operation, we will yet be able to accomplish those things which we have been striving for during the past year.

"Thanking you very heartily for your past co-operation and assuring you of our sincerest effort in behalf of Alabama, I am

Yours very truly,
W. J. BALDWIN."

Everything moving on at about normal—strong in the Republican faith.

Indeed, one Republican lady in Chilton county says President Harding, Judge Reynolds and Hon. W. M. Wyatt are among our best officials.

George Smith has returned from a visit to relatives at Aliceville.

Pratt Crumpton and Hughey Waldrup have their new residences completed, which are "things of beauty as well as joys forever."

Isaac L. and John S. Waldrup have returned from an extended visit to relatives at Birmingham. They report a great time. They attended Judge Rutherford's great Bible lecture at the Jefferson Theatre Sunday afternoon, where thousands of admiring listeners heard him discuss "The World or Age Has Ended, and Millions Now Living Will Accept the Overtures of Life and Never Die."

Ernest Smith has moved from the Bush farm to the Hester place near the Southern railroad.

Miss Lizie Fleming, daughter of John Fleming, was married Sunday to Mr. Kilby of Birmingham.

Just as this section was growing bananas and discussing Satsuma oranges with cabbage heading, the Frost King came down and locked the streams in icy fetters.

Wallace Watkins has located on C. G. Glass' farm.

Mrs. Isaac Waldrup, who has been feeble quite awhile, is improving.

Rev. Smitherman, of Randolph, has been very low with the flu. He is now reported better.

By the grace of the boll weevil and Harding's wise administration, this section is much revived.

Mrs. Francis Headley and daughter Lois, are spending a few days with relatives in this community.

Mr. J. W. Cagle has purchased himself a new Ford car. We hope him a "speedy" time.

Misses Lee Doll Bowen and Bernice Davis, Messrs. Willie Bowman, Jessie Patterson, Curtis Hann, Huff Burkhalter and Dewey Huett went down to New Prospect to the singing Sunday afternoon and report a nice time.

THE PRIZE TURNIP

Visitors at The Union-Banner office are expressing much surprise when they look upon the huge turnip that was brought to us by Jim Driver the other day. When we put it on the scales it registered exactly five pounds, and it was not weighed until it had been taken out of the ground four days. We think Mr. Driver can justly claim the prize for the biggest turnip of the season.

Jackson Culver, of Birmingham was a visitor to Clanton on Saturday. Mr. Culver is now employed in the mill of the Conners Steel Company, the same company with whom he worked at Helena a few years ago.

We were very glad to welcome the visitors from Friendship and the other communities.

The society will not meet at Oak Hill next Sunday as the people are going to Oak Grove's new church to spend the day. There will be singing in the afternoon. Our next singing evening will be at Union Grove the second Sunday in March. Everybody come and help to make this the best singing we have ever had.

Robert Bean, of Collins Chapel, came to see The Union-Banner editor Saturday, and brought along a nice club of subscribers, among which was the name of our good friend Bill Benson. I've Got A New, Sure-Death For The Boll Weevil

My name is L. D. Hill. My father was Dr. J. C. Hill, of Drone, Ga. The Hill family have been living in Georgia for 71 years, and I have been raising cotton, corn and hogs, since I was old enough to hold the plow handles. During the last 25 years, I have run my 14 plantations at Gough in Burke County, Georgia, near Augusta, and in 1922 raised 604 bales of cotton on 812 acres planted in cotton.

By close observation, unceasing effort and practical experience, I have perfected a boll weevil poison that is revolutionary, in that THE WEEVIL SEEKS IT!

Go Ahead And Plant Your Cotton And Leave The Boll-Weevils To Me and you'll be raising more cotton to carry to the gin than you ever dared hope to raise since the Mexican boll weevil moved into the Southern States. You can kill off the weevils on a year's crop of cotton at a minimum cost per acre, and the only machinery you'll have to have will be an old tin can or bucket, and a mop made of a stick and a rag.

Now Let's Get Right Down To Business!

The real money crop of the South is cotton, and the way to make money in the South is to raise cotton. But—how are you going to raise cotton with the boll weevil, is what every farmer in the South wants to know.

Many methods of controlling the weevil have been tried, with varying success. Thousands of farmers have invested their money in machinery which did not work, and their time and cotton in methods which were experiments, and did not protect their cotton.

But I have proved on my own 812 acre farm, and on the farms of scores of my neighbors in Burke County, that you can beat the boll weevil by a sure, cheap method, and that is by the application of

HILL'S THE BOLL WEEVIL EXTERMINATOR MIXTURE

It's sure death to boll weevils! It draws them like a leak in a syrup barrel draws flies. It kills them as dead as a hog that's made into boiling bacon. And, it don't kill just a few of them—it kills them all!

Hill's Mixture is in liquid form, with calcium arsenate as a base, and molasses as a binder, to hold it on the plant. But the feature that makes it a success, is the secret ingredient which attracts the weevil from the bottom of the stalk to the one part of the plant that you have touched.

You can put Hill's Mixture on in the daytime, without machinery, with inexperienced labor. One colored boy or girl can cover six acres a day. A rain of under one-half inch has no effect on it, and it costs from one-half to one-fifth of the dusting method.

Hill's Mixture Has Never Had A Failure!

ON 1% OF THE ACREAGE I RAISED 4% OF THE COTTON IN BURKE COUNTY IN 1922

My neighbors first used it in small quantities, but the news of its success spread so fast that hundreds of farmers used it last year, and thousands of acres in Burke County were protected from the boll weevil by Hill's Mixture last year. Every farmer who used it last year is going to use it again.

LET ME SHOW YOU THE PROOF!

If you want proof of Hill's Mixture before you buy, my agent will show you copies of wonderful letters of recommendation, from some of the oldest and ablest farmers in this section of the State.

The price of Hill's Mixture is 77c per gallon, delivered in Alabama, in 50-gallon barrels, plus small cost for container, which cost will be refunded to you when the barrel is returned. Small freight charge other states.

Mrs. Laura Hendrix, Gracemont, Okla., says: "I want to express my appreciation of "Mother's Friend." I am the mother of six children, expecting another one soon. I have used "Mother's Friend" with every one of my babies. I think it is the grandest help that has ever been discovered for the expectant mother. I can't do without it. I recommend it to all expectant mothers. I can't say too much for it."

"Mother's Friend" was originated by an eminent physician. It has saved thousands of expectant mothers from useless suffering. It is externally applied; aids the muscles and tissues to relax easily and readjust themselves to the changes during expectancy and up to the moment baby arrives.

"Mother's Friend" is safe and beneficial, and contains no narcotics or harmful drugs. Avoid mere greases and useless substitutes.

Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradfield Regulator Co., BA-14, Atlanta, Ga., for a free illustrated book containing information every expectant mother should have. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all drug stores —everywhere.

Old Bill Tariff Holding Down Job

Washington, Feb. 20.—"Evidently our old friend the tariff is on the job, and when he is working there is work for those who were benched by the Democratic tariff policy," says the Republican Publicity Association, through its President, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr. "Industries have been stabilized by the new tariff. They know where they are at and what to expect. They are going ahead to achieve maximum production.

"Reports from the Middle West show a remarkable decrease in unemployment, and the practical elimination of the bread lines. The chief cause given is improvement in industrial employment. In the Northwest there is a large demand for lumberjacks, building workers and common labor. From Detroit comes the report that more men are now employed than ever before in the city's history. Indianapolis reports employment so nearly normal that no effort has been made to check the total out of work. Louisville says the unemployed are not numerous, and in St. Louis unemployment has fallen from 45,000 the winter of 1921 to 5,000 now, among the unemployed being a large number of former brewery workers.

"There has been a marked falling off in unemployment in Illinois and Iowa. Wisconsin reports employment conditions as satisfactory. Duluth steel mills closed in 1921 now employ 3500. In Sioux Falls, South Dakota unemployment is reported negligible, and in Minnesota there is a 60 per cent improvement in employment. Minneapolis fed hundreds at the bread lines in 1921 and practically none this year. Only a normal number of unemployed in Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska, North Dakota, and Minnesota, according to the survey of the U. S. Employment Service at Kansas City.

"Such reports as mention bread lines only comment on the fact that they no longer exist, except for Oklahoma City which reported a bread line of about 50. The improvement in unemployment is borne out in the want 'ad' columns of the newspapers in the large cities, where there is a marked shrinkage in the situations wanted and an increase in the help wanted columns.

"The protective tariff is reflected all along the line. The emergency tariff law, enacted in 1921, and operative until succeeded by the general tariff, created better prices for the products of the farm. Exports since the passage of the new tariff have been tremendous, utterly confounding the predictions of those who declared that the restoration of protection would mean the cessation of purchases of our goods by foreign countries because of their inability to sell to us. The Department of Commerce estimates that imports will reach $3,000,000,000 during the first year of the new tariff law. In November 1922 we exported $376,000,000 worth of goods, compared with $289,000,000 in November, 1921, an increase of 30 per cent the second full month under the operation of the new law. The outlook is good for a favorable trade balance for the first 12 months of protection restored to $1,500,000,000, without having to rely on a foreign war to stimulate export trade, and with full knowledge that commodity requirements created by war's aftermath have practically ceased.

"During the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1913, under the protective policy, our favorable trade balance was $653,000,000 with a total foreign trade of $4,279,000,000. In 1914, (nine months under the Democratic tariff law) it fell to $470,000,000 with a total trade of $4,259,000,000. During the five months, April-August, 1914, the balance was running against us. Present indications show an increase in total trade for the first year of the new tariff, over 1913, of 77 per cent, an an increase in favorable balance of 100 per cent at the lowest calculation. What Democratic tariff law has ever shown such remarkable results?'

What is IN The Bag?

A fertilizer may contain just the right elements of plant food, in just the right proportions, for your soil and the crop you want to grow.

BUT—is each element in such a form of availability that the plant is able to use it at the right time and over the proper period of growth? Are the three different elements thoroughly mixed? Chemically blended? Or, will one plant starve for lack of one essential element, and another be "gorged" with the second?

Since you can't see quality in fertilizers and must buy them on faith, your best guide is the reputation, experience and facilities of the people who make them.

"A A Quality Fertilizers have behind them the largest manufacturing organization and are supported by the experience of leaders in the industry.

No man need ever guess what's in the bag if the brand is "A A." It contains maximum fertilizer efficiency.

"Feeling Fine!"

"I was pale and thin, hardly able to go," says Mrs. Bessie Bearden, of Central, S. C. "I would suffer, when I stood on my feet, with bearing-down pains in my sides and the lower part of my body. I did not rest well and didn't want anything to eat. My color was bad and I felt miserable. A friend of mine told me of

CARDUI

and I then remembered my mother used to take it. . . After the first bottle I was better. I began to fleshen up and I regained my strength and good, healthy color. I am feeling fine. I took twelve bottles (of Cardui) and haven't had a bit of trouble since."

Thousands of other women have had similar experiences in the use of Cardui, which has brought relief where other medicines had failed.

If you suffer from female ailments, take Cardui. It is a woman's medicine. It may be just what you need.

LAWLEY NEWS

As a result of the hen party given by the W. M. U. last Saturday afternoon, sixteen hens were shipped to Birmingham last Monday. Another coop will be shipped this week. The money will be used for the benefit of the church. The W. M. U. is indeed very grateful to the ladies who are not members, for giving hens and other gifts. That shows their good spirit towards the society and towards their church. We pray that our Heavenly Father may bless each one with the richest of blessings, which we are sure he will, for he always blesses a good and honest deed.

Many more are becoming interested in the W. M. U. work of which we are very much delighted. Next meeting will be at the school house next Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lawley and three children, of Tuscaloosa, spent last week-end here with Mrs. Lawley's father, Mr. Newt Latham.

Mr. W. P. Collins and several others of this community, attended court at Centerville last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton McGee and three children, Wendell, Ralph and Margurette, of Randolph, spent Saturday night with Mrs. Celia Hicks, and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ed McGee.

Little Glenn McGee, of Plantersville, spent last week with his grandmother, Mrs. Celia Hicks.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Poer have moved into the house formerly occupied by Mr. Farmer Shoults.

Mr. W. P. Collins is making preparations to build a new house on the lot he has just bought here in Lawley.

TIMBER AND TARIFF

In shipments and orders in the lumber business, the first five weeks of 1923 overtop the first five weeks of 1922 by about 60 per cent, while production shows an increase of 12 per cent. Blame it to the tariff, you Democrats! But the Republicans will blame it to industrial stabilization and the prosperity growing out of increased sales and employment which go hand in hand with protection.

The Value of Land Abstracts

It is not safe to buy land or to lend money and accept land as security without first investigating the title of the land. Often there are unpaid mortgages, judgments, or other liens affecting the title, which an abstract would set out. Therefore, when buying land or lending money thereon, it is important that an abstract of title be furnished. A few dollars spent for an abstract is cheaper than going ahead and having a law suit a little later on.

MR. LEEMON JONES DIES

Mr. Leemon Jones passed away Feb. 15th after an illness of over a year. He was a member of Chestnut Creek church for a number of years and a consecrated Christian. In his death we have lost a very good man, one whom everybody loved.

Funeral services were held at Chestnut Creek church, a great number of friends attending, Brother Joe Raines officiating, by the special request of Mr. Jones before death.

He is survived by a wife and six sons, all of whom were present at funeral except one son who lives in Florida and was unable to get here.

Though we are separated in life, we have the blessed assurance of meeting him in a world where partings will be no more, if we only live as we should.

COMMISSARY FOR EUROPE

Last year 14,000,000 Russians had to be fed to prevent them from starving. This year the total is 8,000,000. Probably the United States will be looked to for the bulk of the foodstuffs. Meanwhile the soviet army is ready to assist the Turks against the Greeks or to help Germany in case of a renewal of the war against France. The food denied to the Russian peasants is requisitioned to keep the soviet army in the field. Foodstuffs sent from this country to supply the deficiency is a direct aid to the enemies of Greece, France and Poland.

Notice to Patrons of Clanton Public School

There was a time when the teachers thought nothing was classic unless it was written by some of the old masters centuries ago. When I was a child it was impressed upon my mind to read Shakespeare, Tennyson, Carlyle, Burns or Dickens. Those men wrote classic literature I admit, but it is not literature which creates in the child a love for reading and a burning desire to read. A horse will eat "rag weeds" if put in a pasture with nothing but that kind of food there. This does not prove that "rag weeds" are the best food for the horse. If you fasten a child up with Howe, Burns and Dickens, that child will read all right but you are likely to develop in the child a dislike for books altogether. In this present day with every town flooded with a perfect torrent of cheap magazines each of which caters to the lower instincts of the boy or girl, thus turning the mind into a channel it should avoid, it seems to me parents ought to seek to stimulate a love for reading books with at least some value. "Hot Dog," "Snappy Stories," "Whiz-Bang" and such like kill the desire for clean wholesome reading. I have selected some books of the fiction class which have begun to be recognized as suitable for a school library. The list below no doubt will be criticised by some of the ultra-cultured type who can see no good in the modern writers. I think my teachers were as strictly classical as any who have borne the name and they certainly tried to cram "culture" down my throat as to literature. They failed miserably in their efforts to make me see the fun of some of Dickens' or Hawthorne's books. Greek nor Latin nor French nor German ever made me classical enough to say Hawthorne was an interesting writer and Dickens is unsurpassed. I say if we judge by the standards of the old literary critics, the writings of both these men are undoubtedly good literature. But does that make it interesting? "You can lead a horse to water but you can not make him drink; you can send a child to school, but you can not make him think." To a person who has never studied music nor heard light opera, the sounds of Faust are "as sounding brass and a tinkling cymbal."

I have selected these books from a catalog wherein they were arranged in groups. The Clubs of Clanton have been good to the Public School, but I am calling to their attention these lists to see if the various Clubs will not consider the matter of giving a set.

"A Model State Legislature"

Legislature Should Consist of One Body

When our forefathers adopted the Constitution of the United States they provided that the legislative function of government should be composed of a House of Representatives and of a Senate. It would be interesting, but it is not material in the present discussion, to give the reasons why this was done. It is sufficient to know that the Federal Government in this respect was accepted as a model and was followed by all of the States of the Union. The experience of more than 100 years has demonstrated that the two-branch legislature, at least so far as the various States are concerned, has been very unsatisfactory in its results. One of the fundamental requisites that should always exist in any legislature where universal suffrage prevails is to enable the citizen to properly place responsibility either for the success or the faiulre of legislation.

In every legislature composed of two branches the finishing touches on practically all legislation are made by conference committees. A bill that has passed one branch and then been amended in another one must go to conference for adjustment of the differences between the two houses. These conference committees in all two-branch legislatures are absolutely essential in order that anything may be accomplished. Experience has shown that it is within the privacy of the conference committee room that jokers get into legislation, and that provisions of law demanded even by a majority of both branches of the legislature are sometimes not included in the finished product. When a bill is in conference it is necessary that compromises be made in order to secure any legislation. It very often happens that the most important features of legislation are put into the bills while they are being thus considered. Members of conference committees are often compelled to surrender on important items where no surrender would be even demanded if consideration of the legislation were in the open where a public record could be had of the proceedings. When the bill emerges from conference it is not then subject to amendment. It must be accepted or rejected as a whole. The conference is held in secret. There is no record vote on any proposition decided at the conference. The public is excluded from the deliberations, and the only thing that emerges from the conference is the final agreement.

The individual legislator must then vote upon a conference report without any opportunity of expressing by his vote his opposition to anything that the bill in this form contains. The citizen is deprived entirely of an opportunity to pass a just and fair judgment upon the result. In conference, provisions are often put in and other provisions taken out, where an entirely different result would be obtained if the action took place in the open where a record vote could be had upon all provisions of the bill.

A one-branch legislature would obviate all these difficulties. There would be no way for any member of the legislature to conceal his opposition upon any legislative propositions that come before the body. The citizen would be able to absolutely and without difficulty place responsibility where it properly belonged for every act of the legislature. It would thus be easy to punish those whose records are unsatisfactory and to reward those whose services are meritorious.

It is quite a common thing in a double-branch legislature for one house to shift responsibility for failure upon the other house. Bills are often passed when it is known by those who pass them that the bill is to be killed in the other house, and in like manner bills coming from the other house are pigeon-holed in the first one. Responsibility for failure is thus divided, enabling participants in the fraudulent procedure to conceal their own records and to cover up their own tracks.

In a one-branch legislature it would be impossible to thus obscure the record by parliamentary tactics and proceedings that make it impossible for the ordinary citizen to properly judge the record of his representative. It is not only the unworthy legislator that ought to be exposed, but the faithful one ought to be able to make his record clear to his constituents without the necessity of a long and tedious explanation of the various parliamentary predicaments into which existing conditions placed him. A single-branch legislature would simplify the entire record. The ordinary citizen, without becoming a parliamentary expert, could easily satisfy himself as to whether the official conduct of his representative was satisfactory or otherwise. Adroit politicians would be unable to cover up their practices, but every act would be performed in the open, and the record would be simple and easily understood.

Legislature Should Be Small in Number

One of the evils of our legislatures is that they are entirely too large. In theory a large legislature is supposed to give a larger and more complete representation of the entire citizenship. In practice, however, it has been demonstrated that a large membership is detrimental to real representation. We should avoid either extreme. A large body of men, in order to accomplish any legislative results, must of necessity surrender many of the individual rights and prerogatives of its members. Members must deny themselves the right in large bodies, on important matters of legislation, to even offer amendments. They must surrender to committees the right to determine procedure. The very size of the bodies sometimes makes it impossible for the necessary and proper deliberation and discussion that should always take place before legislation is enacted. The House of Representatives in Washington illustrates this point. The members of the House are, as a class, both able and conscientious. They are moved by the highest of motives and are a picked body of fine men. And yet any constructive critic will say that their work is not only incomplete but is very unsatisfactory and often ill considered. This result comes about entirely and solely from the huge size of the body. In order to accomplish anything whatever they are often compelled, in the most vital kind of legislation, by special rule and otherwise, to deprive themselves of the right to offer amendments and of the right to debate and thus point out errors or suggest corrections, and the result is not only disappointing but it brings about all kinds of errors in the final enactment. Members are thus often compelled to vote for bills containing provisions that in their own judgment are absolutely wrong in order to get what, in their judgment, is right and proper; or they are compelled to vote against bills because, in their judgment, the evil contained is greater than the good. It is true, of course, that in the final passage of a bill through any legis-

A VERY DESIRABLE SITE IS OFFERED FOR A COTTON MILL IN CLANTON

The Unoin-Banner is pleased to announce to the people of Clanton this week that there has been offered for the location of a cotton mill here one of the most desirable and most suitable pieces of property that could be found anywhere for this purpose.

The site is a twelve-acre piece of land which is at present owned by Mr. W. J. Calloway, and is situated one and one-fourth miles south of the Clanton depot. On the west side the property is touched by the right of way of the L. & N. Railroad; and on the east side it is bounded by the right of way of the Birmingham-Montgomery Highway. All of this land is high and dry, and every foot of it would be most ideally suited for the use of a cotton mill industry. What could be better? You would think there is nothing that could be better, but there is:

Mr. Calloway says he knows of one man who has land adjoining his twelve acres, who will donate five acres to go with his, for the use of a cotton mill business.

The land of Mr. Calloway is not offered as a gift. Mr. Calloway says he is a poor man, and is not able to give his place away. But he assures us that he would sell it at a very reasonable price, taking into consideration the fact that it would be used for the establishment of an industry of such vital importance to the growth and development of the town and county.

We all know that Mr. Calloway is not able to give his little place away. No one would expect him to do this. What Clanton ought to do now is to grab this opportunity to buy Mr. Calloway's place, twelve acres, then add to it the five-acre donation of the other man next to it. Then with that as a starter, we could go out to the world and have some chance of interesting capital in the location of a cotton mill in our city.

It is also a good point to remember in connection with this property that it is in sight of the big transmission line of the Alabama Power Company which extends from Lock 12 to Selma and Montgomery. This seems to be another distinct advantage.

Clanton ought to take this matter up and give it some serious consideration. The Chamber of Commerce would do well, it seems to us, to take the matter in hand and determine whether or not it would be wise for us to consider this as the starting point in our efforts to get a cotton mill or some other manufacturing industry located here.

We have got to start somewhere. We all know that our town must have such an industry in the near future if we are to keep the pace of development which we have so splendidly begun. Let us see if this is a suitable proposition to adopt as our beginning. It looks good to us.

HOW WOULD A COTTON MILL HELP CHILTON COUNTY?

First, we must agree that any industrial establishment that will draw money from hundreds and thousands of miles away; and bring it here to be turned loose in as many avenues as it has employees to begin its circulation in our midst; could not be otherwise than better than it would be to allow the stream of money to be turned the other way and go from us instead of coming to us.

We have almost every reason why a cotton mill should be here. We have the proper climate, we have the cotton right here in adjacent fields, with no freight bills to pay as the northern mills must. We have good water, a good class of people as laborers, and we have the electric power generated right near by. In fact, we are the nearest consumer.

Would it help the business of Clanton to have a cotton mill here? Suppose we had a mill employing 1000 people. That would mean at least 3000 souls, counting the laborers and their dependents. In other words it would be a population, of itself, nearly twice over equal to that of Clanton now, and it would be people who have a pay day, say, every two weeks during the entire year. As a rule these are people who are rather free to spend their money. The pay roll would probably be considerably more than $30,000.00 every two weeks.

Who but our business men would get most of that money? Again when the cotton season was on, farmers from every part of the county as well as adjoining counties would bring their cotton here because of a better market.

Naturally a considerable part of that money would stay right here where they would do most of their trading instead of in their home town as it now is.

Again, when a good sum of money was dumped into circulation, locally, every two weeks, some of it would naturally find its way to nearly all of us whether we were farmers, merchants, doctors, lawyers or others, and this would result in all of us having more to spend and make business better.

Would it help the farmers of Chilton county to have a cotton mill in Chilton county?

Suppose we had that additional population of 3000 to feed and that from a class of people who bought most of their milk and butter, and eggs and chickens, and fruits and vegetables, etc. Say they spent $1.00 per week with the farmer for each individual, certainly it would be more, but for sake of argument let us say only $1.00 per head or $3000.00 per week which multiplied by 52 is $156,000.00 per year that the farmer in this community would get that they are not now getting.

But let us stop a moment and think who pays the freight and the expense of marketing our cotton today. You, Mr. Farmer, you are the man who must stand the expense of getting your cotton on the market, both the freight and the cotton buyers expenses and profit must be paid by you. That is why you can get from one to two cents per pound more where there is a cotton mill than you can get in Clanton.

Nobody is to blame for it. You can't expect men to put their money and time and risk of loss, in buying your cotton without a profit. Neither do you expect the railroads to haul your cotton hundreds, perhaps thousands of miles, without pay. But, if you had your cotton mill here at home and sold it on the yard without touching it after it was ginned and the buyers part and the railroads part all came to you and you realized an extra $10.00 on the bale above what you get today, you must confess it would be a real treat.

This year there were 12000 bales produced in this county. When we tried to quit cotton a few years ago and the boll weevil was at his height, we got down to about 4000 or a little below. Our biggest crops, just before the weevil came, were above 20,000 bales for Chilton county. So, you see this year's crop is about an average between the largest and smallest on record. $10.00 per bale on 12,000 would mean $120,000.00 per year that is now unnecessarily being spent for freight and marketing Chilton county's cotton crop. In ten years, this item alone would aggregate $1,200,000.00 which would be enough to build one of the finest factories in the state.

There are many other ways such an industrial establishment would help all of us, in fact, they are too numerous to mention.

Going back to the two items mentioned above that is almost a clear saving to the farmer, of $120,000.00 per year extra on his cotton crop and $156,000.00 per year for feeding this increase of population at $1.00 per week, you would have a sum total of $276,000.00 per year that our farmers would profit.

Now, someone has said that every dollar in circulation pays seven dollars debts. If this be true, seven times $276,000.00 would be $1,932,000.00. Or, in round numbers, $2,000,000.00 paid per annum with the savings of these two items alone.

I don't know how much we owe, but it appears to me that it would not take us long to pay up most of our debts and have enough left to buy a car or two.

Our Chamber of Commerce is doing its best to call the attention of capitalists to the situation. If they do not succeed in this, I think our business men, farmers, professional men, and "all hands" should get together and have a cotton mill regardless of a failure to attract capital from the outside.

Just think how many carpenters, masons, machinists, electricians and others would be drawing wages during the construction of such a mill; and how many laborers would be getting regular pay after it was in operation.

In a recent article found in one of our state papers it was mentioned that in Alabama a bale of cotton brought a little over $100.00 and was shipped to a mill in the Carolinas or Massachusetts and became worth anywhere from $500.00 to $5000.00. Why not this increase of wealth at home, why let it go elsewhere?

In the last day or two, a couple of men who own property adjacent to Clanton and along the L. & N. railroad have come to me and said that they were ready to make a donation, one of five acres and the other of ten acres of land, to help on a mill site. That looks good. What will you do? Who is for a cotton mill and who is for a drainage project? Let us hear from you. If we all want it it's bound to come.

MEETING CALLED TO CONSIDER DRAINAGE OF SWAMPS NEAR CLANTON

In calling a meeting for consideration of the proposition of draining the swamps around Clanton, the following statement is made for publication by Dr. V. J. Gragg, Mayor of Clanton, and President of the Clanton Chamber of Commerce:

I am requested to announce through our local papers that there will be a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and the land owners who would be interested in a drainage project for the vicinity of Clanton, at the Court House on Wednesday, March 7th, at 2 p.m. All who are interested come. An effort will be made to have someone for a speaker who is conversant with the carrying out of such projects.

V. J. GRAGG.
Pres. Chamber of Commerce.

We urge all citizens to take note of this announcement, and make due response thereto by attending this important meeting. Let us make this meeting the beginning of a movement that, when successfullp terminated, will mean more for the growth and development of Clanton than anything that has been done here in ages past. Especially is it desired to have present all those citizens around Clanton who have land in the swamps.

Death of Hugh F. Mullins

Hugh F. Mullins, age 63 years and eight months, died at his home near Mt. Zion Church on February 23, and was buried at the old Mullins cemetery February 24th. He was born and reared in the same community where he lived all his life, and now his remains lie at rest beneath the peaceful shadows of the hills that were home and happiness to him throughout his natural life.

In early life he was married to Miss Ella Farrell, and their union was blessed with seven children, six daughters and one son. His wife and all children, except one daughter, survive the husband and father.

Mr. Mullins was a faithful and consecrated Christian man. Many years ago he united with Mt. Zion Baptist Church, at which place his membership remained until his death. It is noteworthy that this man lived in the community of his birth all his life, and never changed his church membership from the place where he first enlisted as a soldier of the Cross. He always bore the record of being a good Christian citizen and a peaceful and kind neighbor. He suffered numerous afflictions during his life, but he always found comfort in his hope of everlasting life in that land above where the aflictions of the body cannot mar the eternal happiness of a victorious soul.

Mr. W. I. Mullins, of Clanton, is the only brother who survives the deceased. He has three sisters living.

THE BIG RABBIT HUNT

Editor Union-Banner:

As per our call of the Chilton County Rabbit Hunters Association, we met on last Thursday, Feb. 22nd. We had present forty-two men and twenty-three dogs. At 9:15 the dogs were cast out and every heart in both dogs and men was beating with joy, every effort being made to locate a rabbit, which was done by Mr. Tom Wyatt, and all men and dogs were gathered together around the little hair, so up he went, dogs and men after him down to the Maddox Mill Pond and under a rock he went. So we had to bid him good by and look for another, which was quickly located. So we kept it up until 12 o'clock. Then we met and had dinner and fed our dogs, and then started for another hunt in the afternoon, and stopped at the Dutton farm; and the first thing noticed was a large brier patch which was getting larger and then smaller and low, and behold, on examining we found it to be so full of rabbits until every time they would get their breath the briars would widen out, and there we had more fun than could have been packed in a jug with no bottom in it.

We want to thank the ones who joined with us for their nice behavior during the day. We also thank all who helped us in any way to make it a day of joy. We especially thank Mr. J. C. Jones for the kind leave of absence he granted to our executive officer, as there is always a hitch in any organization when the officers fail to be present.

We are thinking of meeting as often as twice each year. If we do we will let everybody know it.

We caught twenty-four rabbits, and elected the same officers as we had for 1922.

COMMITTEE.

MEMBER OF FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

POOR ORIGINAL

lature, members in deciding how they shall vote must weigh the good and the bad and vote as their judgment dictates; but in a smaller body of men there would always have been an opportunity to offer amendments striking out bad provisions and to offer amendments suggesting good ones, so that the record of the member upon all provisions of the bill would clearly appear. If this right were not denied, it would mean better legislation and enable members to keep a correct record of their own positions. It would often occur that if the right to debate and the right to offer amendments had not been denied, bad provisions would be excluded on a roll call and good provisions put in.

The exact number that should be contained in the membership of a State legislative body would undoubtedly vary somewhat with the different States. Having in mind a State about like Nebraska, I should say that the membership should not exceed 20 or 30. This would make it absolutely impossible for any member to cover up his record in any respect or to shift any responsibility. It would enable a citizen to be fully informed upon the record of his representative without the necessity of doing anything more than to read the news while the legislature was in session. Punishment could be meted out to those who deserved it, and the faithful could be properly rewarded. It would give to the State a business administration. It would result in full discussion, complete deliberation, and the highest possible wisdom in the enactment of laws.

Salaries of Legislators Should Be Increased

A State having the kind of legislature I have outlined would be able to increase the salaries of its members. Under existing conditions it is a well-known fact that it is extremely difficult in many instances to secure good men in State legislatures, because the ordinary individual can not afford to leave his business and expend the time necessary to attend the sessions of the legislature. The result is that we not only get a less desirable membership but the good legislator, who is induced to sacrifice himself, must give the greater portion of his time to his private business and never becomes really posted on the propositions that come before the legislature. Existing conditions afford inducements to the dishonest and corrupt, who avail themselves of the opportunity to become candidates for the legislature with a view of recouping themselves after election by their official conduct. There are, of course, many honest and able men who are members of the State legislatures. Undoubtedly, a large majority of them could be thus designated; but it is oftentimes much easier to deceive the honest man than it is to buy the corrupt man. The ordinary farmer or business man who goes to the legislature with the very best of intentions is often deceived by lobbyists and evil influences. He is in attendance upon the legislature but a short time, and devotes the balance of his time to his business or occupation, and it is a physical impossibility, whatever may be his desire, to properly qualify himself for the duties of his office.

A member of the legislature ought to be paid a sufficient salary so that he could devote his time to the duties of his office. This would not only attract better men for the position but it would enable good men to perform better service. He ought to be paid a salary that would command all of his time, and he should, in my judgment, be elected for a term of four years. This term, with the right of the people to recall their representative, would not, in my opinion, be too long.

The Proposed Plan Would Be Economical

The plan I have outlined would not only result in better legislation but it would save money for the taxpayer. If members of such a legislature were paid a salary equal to the salary of other State officials whose entire time is required in the performance of the duties of their offices there would still be, in most cases, a large saving of money on the salary item alone. We would not only get better legislators and not only have the benefit of their entire time but we would do it all with a less cost than under present conditions. Better results for less money would be the outcome.

Partisanship Would Be Eliminated

The members of the legislature should be elected by districts upon a nonpartisan ballot. The business of the legislature of a State is in no sense partisan. The evils that creep into State management and State legislation on account of such positions being coupled up with national questions of politics are exceedingly great. Men are often elected to the State legislature because they happen to be candidates on some particular party ticket, while the duties they are to perform when elected have nothing to do with the national administration or with the welfare or success of any political party. If politics were eliminated, members would be elected according to their qualifications for the State legislature. The State would be similar to a gigantic corporation and the members of the legislature would be members of the board of directors.

Without being handicapped on account of any partisanship matters, they would be able to give the best that was in them for the welfare of the State. Their duties would be mainly of a business nature. How illogical it is to elect a man to the legislature because he believes in a tariff for protection, or because he is a free trader, or because he believes in a Federal subsidy to the national merchant marine or is opposed to such subsidy, or because of his ideas on the League of Nations, or, what is more probable, he belongs to some political party and will follow that party regardless of what course it takes, when, as a matter of fact, the duties of the office for which he is a candidate have nothing to do, either directly or indirectly, with any of these partisan questions. Why should we not divorce the business of our States entirely and completely from such partisan influences? Why not elect a legislature that shall become a business organization, looking solely after the interests and the welfare of the people of the State? It would not be difficult to have a legislature entirely divorced from partisan politics, and the smaller the membership the more easily would it be possible to make it a business institution entirely independent of partisanship.

The Elimination of Corruption in Legislative Proceedings

A legislature such as I have outlined would be much more free from corrupt influences than would a two-branch legislature or a legislature composed of a very large number. I know that many people at first blush do not realize the truth of this statement, but I am sure that the candid student, especially one who has had experience with two-branch legislatures, will agree that this is true. The corrupt legislator, or the one who in reality represents some special interest, is always looking for a place and an opportunity to cover up his tracks. The two-branch legislature gives him many opportunities to ply his trade without being found out. He is able to shift the responsibility. Through various parliamentary maneuvers and proceedings, and often through the instrumentality of conference committees, he is able to deceive the honest citizen. If there were no opportunities for this deception he would not be a candidate for the legislature. He would know in advance that he would be a one-termer, and if the recall existed in his State he would probably not serve even one term. But the lobbyist not only deals with corrupt men—he often deceives honest men. In fact, the actual cases of honest men being misled are far more numerous than the purchase of dishonest men.

With the increased salary we would get, to begin with, men who, on the average, would be high class and more difficult to deceive than we do now. The opportunities for deception or corruption would be greatly lessened. The men, therefore, to be deceived would be much less, and the man who would try to practice the deception would be almost powerless, and we would have a legislature that would be untrammeled and to a great extent untempted. A legislature that is known to be incorruptible would be practically free from attempts at corruption. It is said, I know, that a small legislature could be purchased easier than a large one, and that one branch could be more easily deceived than two branches. If the opportunities for deception and the caliber of the membership were the same in both instances, then this statement would be true; but when the possibility of covering up the tracks of those who want to deceive is practically wiped out and when the morale of the membership is raised to the highest possible point of the citizenship of the State, then this argument falls to the ground. Who would say, for instance, that the judges of our various States are corrupt and argue that, therefore, we should have five or six judges instead of one presiding at a trial? And yet if we had the kind of a legislature I have outlined the members would stand as high as the members of our judiciary. They would become as expert in their line as the judges are expert in the construction of laws. Perfection, it is true, would not be attained; but the morale and the standing of our State legislatures would be on the same high plane as our judiciary.

Mr. J. Mat Johnson was in our office Tuesday and gave us some interesting information about his hog business. He has a sow five and a half years old which has brought a total of 135 pigs. These pigs were sold at five to seven and a half dollars each, bringing him a total of $750.00. Her last litter numbers fourteen. Mr. Johnson says he now has these pigs for sale; but the sow is not for sale.

THANK YOU FOR THE ORANGES, UNCLE BILL

The Union-Banner force were delighted on Tuesday morning to receive a large crate of nice fresh oranges from a friend in Bartow, Fla. The very minute the express man delivered the package, all the presses and machines in the shop came to a stand-still. Work was not resumed until every one of us had become fully qualified to pass judgment upon the quality of Florida's golden fruit "fresh from the vine."

We guess the gift was from the hand of "Uncle Bill" Wyatt, a relative of the Union-Banner. He lives in Bartow, and being the only person there who is known to us, we therefore lay the "mischief" on him. If you are guilty, Uncle Bill, we certainly thank you.

KU KLUX KLAN MAKE A RINGING STATEMENT

Declare to the Public That They Will Stand Behind Officers for Proper Law Enforcement

Following the statement of Sheriff Tom Littlejohn, made in The Union-Banner a few weeks ago, we are requested this week to publish a statement which comes to us by mail from the Ku Klux Klan of Clanton. This organization declares in the document mailed to us that they strictly endorse the stand that has been taken by our Sheriff in dealing with the bootleg whiskey business, and further declare that they are determined to stand squarely behind all the officers of the town, county, state and nation, for a proper and full enforcement of justice to everybody.

The following is the statement of the Klan:

Be it resolved by the Ku Klux Klan of Clanton that we heartily endorse the action taken by our Sheriff, Tom Littlejohn, to put down the whiskey traffic in Chilton county, and in reply to a statement made in Feb. 15th Union-Banner by Tom, we wish to advise that we stand ready as a body and as law-abiding citizens, to aid him or any other officer of the law in the enforcement of the laws of our nation, state, county and town.

We stand for law enforcement, and our hearts go out to the schools and churches of our great land.

We want no poor women and children to suffer; but men, if you love your family and are fooling yourself up, thinking you will get by with the game, just keep it up a while longer and if you are not paid a visit by the Sheriff or his deputies, we'll be fooled.

Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be mailed to the two county papers, also that a copy be spread upon the records of our Klan.

(Signed) KU KLUX KLAN.

Now, there you are boys. We got it and don't know who or where it came from; but we'll wager it is the pure stuff, with some good hard backing behind it. The assertions made in this resolution are in keeping with the contentions of the Klan all over the country that they stand for law and order, and decency and honesty in all things. We commend them for the open assertion that their hearts are in the welfare and success of the churches and schools of our great country. Any bunch of men who are right in matters of churches and schools are pretty apt to be right on the other civic and moral issues with which they come in contact.

We are glad indeed to have the expression of the Klan assuring Sheriff Littlejohn that they are with him in ridding this county of bootleg whiskey. All right thinking people are ready to admit that we would be much better in every way if the whiskey traffic were stopped. Any agency, be it Ku Klux Klan, or anything else, that will join hands with our officers in the way the above resolution pledges, will surely receive the hearty endorsement of the best of our citizens.

Visitors to Clanton last Saturday were impressed with the novel store of Mr. Fox and Uncle Billie Wright, which establishment appeared on the streets overnight and unheralded, and opened its doors for business within the twinkling of an eye. It is one of the "cutest" little things you ever saw. The whole thing is not bigger than your kitchen pantry, but there is a place in it for a little of everything you usually find in an ordinary store. Uncle Billy can stand in his tracks in this unique store and without taking a single step hand out to his customers anything they want. At present this store is located next to Tom Kemp's. It can be transported at will to any place desired.

We notice a big drainage project soon to be inaugurated to reclaim a large area of swamp lands in Autauga county. Let us make Clanton the next one on the list.

If we wait for something to happen, it will happen all right; but it will happen in some other place besides the place where we sit and wait. Other towns in the south are not waiting but they are working.

If Clanton is not going after a cotton mill, we would suggest that the farmers of the entire county get after the matter and see what they can do. A mill here would be of more real advantage to the farmers of the county than any other class of people.

If you want some real food for thought in regard to the possibilities of a cotton mill for Clanton and Chilton county, we commend to your attention the letter of Dr. Gragg which is published in this week's paper. He presents the matter in a pure dollars and cents proposition, and the figures which he makes are not to be denied, in our opinion.

There ought to be right at this time some definite movement on the part of Clanton people, and those who own lands in the swamps around town, to start the ball to rolling in our drainage project. While the waters are flooding the swamps is the proper time for the engineer to come here and look them over. Can't we have some kind of a meeting right away and start something in this direction?

The Alabama Power Company is flooding the east with advertising matter showing the advantages of Alabama for the location of cotton mill industries. If Clanton had a suitable site for a mill all shaped up to turn over to anyone who would utilize it, we feel sure the Power Company would be glad to carry that information to the east for us. In that way it would seem to us that we would stand a much better chance to get something than if we sit here and wait for something to happen.

Don't you think that Clanton could well afford to give fifteen or twenty acres of land for the location of a cotton mill here that will employ a thousand people for all time to come, and thereby secure the stable advancement of our business and commercial activity for the future? We know of some towns that even went so far as to secure a site and build a suitable building for a cotton mill and rented it to a concern of this kind for a period of years in order to induce the location in their midst. Clanton must work out some kind of a plan in this direction if we are to accomplish our desires to have a cotton mill located here.

If Clanton ever gets a cotton mill located here, we are first going to have to get it firmly located in our own minds that we are going to have it whether or not. When we finally decide this question for ourselves, we will then be at the proper place to begin our campaign to go out after it. We believe that the people of the town will have to offer a site for the enterprise as the first item of our claim for such a business. We know of other towns that are making such offers, hence it will be necessary for Clanton to do likewise. We know of no other piece of property that would be as fitting for a cotton mill site as that of Mr. W. J. Calloway, just south of town. And if Clanton ever intends to offer any inducement to a cotton mill to come here, we believe the first step we should take would be to secure this property so that we could put it at the head of our list of "inducements."

Mr. J. N. Dennis, Treasurer of the Peoples Telephone Company, has placed with The Union-Banner for publication, the financial report of the company's business for the year 1922. The same will be published in next week's paper. It did not reach us in time to get in the paper this week.

A MODEL STATE LEGISLATURE

We publish this week an article from United States Senator George W. Norris, of Nebraska, entitled, "A Model State State Legislature." We wish to offer the explanation before you read the article of Mr. Norris that he is not referring to the Legislature of Alabama.

With the knowledge and experience of the writer in the recent session of Alabama's Legislature, as compared with many of the assertions of the Senator from Nebraska, we are deeply impressed with the truthfulness of his statements.

It is evident to any sensible man who will take the time and trouble to observe our system in the legislative branch of our government, that the same is a miserable mess of inadequacy, duplication, politics and red tape from start to finish. Not only is this true of Alabama, but of every other state that is following this plan of legislation.

Some day we believe we shall see in this country a system worked out whereby our state legislatures will be made to function in some manner more effective than the present system. Whether it will be according to Senator Norris's plan or not, we are unable to tell.

When that time comes it will be a better day for the people of the different states.

Minister Says It Has No Equal

Widely Known Baptist Divine Praises Tanlac For Restoration of Health.

It is doubtful if there has ever been a medicine endorsed by so many ministers of the Gospel as has Tanlac. Indeed, there is scarcely a faith, creed or denomination in all the land in which one, or more, of the clergymen has not publicly expressed their indebtedness to the Premier Preparation for the benefits they have derived from its use.

One of the latest to speak out in this connection is Rev. B. M. Bridges, a widely-known and beloved Baptist preacher, residing at Mooresboro, N. C., whose statement follows:

"Tanlac has given me a good appetite, toned up my system and renewed my strength in such a gratifying way that I am glad to recommend it to anyone who is in a run-down condition. For ten years past I have had such a severe case of indigestion that I could not find anything to eat that agreed with me. Finally I became very nervous and could get but very little sleep or rest.

"It seems that I took nearly everything trying to get myself right, but nothing helped me until I ran across Tanlac. My nerves are so much better now that my sleep is sound and refreshing. I enjoy my meals and have also gained weight. I can say from experience that Tanlac is a splendid medicine and tonic, for it has built me up wonderfully."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 35 million bottles sold.

WOCO-PEP COMING TO CLANTON AND CHILTON COUNTY

A Wholesale Distributing Center to Be Established at Clanton for This Territory.

Mr. John T. Ellis informs us this week that he has made a deal whereby he will establish at Clanton a wholesale distributing station for this territory for the handling of the famous Woco-Pep brand of gas and motor oils.

For this purpose he has bought a piece of land which lies between the Montgomery Highway and the railroad, just south of Clanton, in front of what is known as the old "Hot Well" property. He will put in at that place all the necessary storage tanks and other equipment, including trucks for conveyance, enabling him to distribute this line of goods to all intermediate points in this territory. A spur track will be put in by the railroad to handle all freight shipments and deliver the goods directly from railroad cars to his tanks.

The Pneumonia Month

March is a typical pneumonia month and usually gives a high rate of mortality for the disease. After a long and hard winter, the system loses much of its resistance and people grow careless. When every cold, no matter how slight, is given prompt and intelligent attention, there is much less danger of pneumonia. It should be borne in mind that pneumonia is a germ disease and breeds in the throat. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is an expectorant and cleans out the germ ladened mucus and not only cures a cold but prevents its resulting in pneumonia. It is pleasant to take. Children take it willingly.

The choice is largely up to you. If your blood lacks red corpuscles, you're going to be fagged and dragged out, you're going to lack "pep," to look sallow and unhealthy, to grow old before your time.

MR. J. WILEY FOSHEE'S TRIP FROM ALABAMA TO THE LAND OF FLOWERS

Lakeland, Fla., Feb. 18, 1923.

Editor The Union-Banner:

A number of friends back in Chilton county, who anticipate coming to Florida in the near future asked us to write them how we like down here, also of the trip through the country.

Now, since a big majority of the people who asked us to write are subscribers to The Union-Banner, we will take advantage, (provided, of course, the editor permitting), and economize a little on postage and a lot of time by writing a short sketch to our friends through The Banner.

We left Coopers, Ala., on Feb. 6, at 11 a.m., a Ford truck being loaded and one Ford touring car landed us safely down in South Florida. We had exceedingly good luck on the road, excepting tire trouble, and once the timer went bad on the truck. Also broke right rear spring on the truck, but we were fortunate enough to have a good Ford doctor along that quickly administered the proper doses it took to put the wheels to rolling.

We were on the road six (6) days. The first three days were very hard on us, it being cold and raining part of the time. The remainder of the journey was very pleasant and enjoyed very much as we had all the luxury and comfort that camp life affords. We came by Dothan, Ala., and crossed over the line into Florida a few miles north of Campbellton and headed due east, going through Tallahassee and Madison. Near Madison we saw our first orange grove, it being the first oranges that part of us had ever seen growing. We couldn't pass it by without experiencing the joyous sensation of picking oranges from the tree and eating them, so we spent enough time there to look over the grove and eat enough oranges to make any ordinary human sick. We left there inspired by the talk of the owner of the orange grove of what a wonderful place north Florida was, thinking that if the northern part of the state was so great, then the farther south we went the better it would be, so we made up our minds that we would go as far as Tampa or Lakeland and there pitch our tent on the "flowery beds of ease" and live a care-free life the remainder of our days. With all speed possible, we headed for Lake City, where we hit almost a bee-line south passing a lot of tobacco farms which was something very interesting to those who had never seen anything like it before, and a number of other sights that were very interesting but too numerous to mention.

Now, just a few words about south Florida. I haven't been here very long and can therefore, only give you a vague idea about the environs of Lakeland; (mostly hear-say from real estate men). South Florida is truly said to be the land of opportunities, but there are so many people here that make their living by graft, you sure have to keep your eyes open. I have heard it said that money could be made by the barrels—perhaps that statement is true, but you sure can't rake it up by the shovel full. There is one thing that I do know to be facts, South Florida has a wonderful climate but the people up north even as far north as Clanton who think it doesn't get cold, have one more guess coming, for we have had some pretty cold weather for the last few days but the beauty part, it doesn't last long.

Lakeland is a beautiful and prosperous little city, having seventeen (17) lakes inside the city limits and a lot of other interesting things too numerous to mention. I was told the other day by a man who has lived in Lakeland a number of years, that a few years after the city began to grow the people needed a cemetery, not for the benefit of the Florida Crackers (for they live forever, then dry up and blow away) but for the northern Yankee.

We have been awfully busy since we landed here, Mr. and Mrs. Foshee riding all over the country with real estate men and "us" boys working.

Now people, when we learn more about this part of the state we will write again, then you can pack up your duds and hit the trail to the land of sunshine.

DEWEY FOSHEE.

MRS. J. H. GANDY DEAD

On Wednesday morning, Feb. 21, 1923, at Lathrop, Ala., the beautiful spirit of Mrs. J. H. Gandy made its flight into that great beyond.

This good woman had been confined to her bed only a few days when the end came. All was done that husband, children, doctors and nurses could do, but the Lord had need of her and took her home.

As a Christian she simply lived it, as a wife the word "faithful" fades into oblivion, before the radiant light of her service. Every thought, word and deed was lived for that which was right and for her husband. His interest and desires were her study.

As a mother, she was the personal friend, the companion of her children. No service was too great for her to render, no sacrifice too hard for her to endure. As a friend and neighbor she had few equals. She loved company, and loved to visit, but when trouble came she was always present, with cheerful encouragement, a warm heart and willing hands to do what she could.

The community in which she lived has lost an unselfish, useful Christian woman. The appreciation of her love were shown in many ways on the day of her burial, by the presence of many of her friends and their many beautiful floral designs.

Mrs. Gandy would have been 67 years old if she had lived until March 24, 1923.

Mrs. Gandy was a member of the Christian church, and had been from early girlhood. Funeral services were conducted by Dr. Simpson, pastor of First Christian church of Birmingham, from John's Chapel. The scripture readings were from the fourteenth chapter of St. John, eighth chapter of Romans and the fourth chapter of 1st John. Two beautiful songs were sung by a lady, "Abide With Me," and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus." The body was laid to rest in Elmwood Cemetery, Birmingham. She has gone to join her two darling babes which preced her.

The deceased is survived by a husband, Joseph H. Gandy, one daughter, Mrs. W. H. Harris of Plantersville, Ala., four sons, J. M. and C. L. of Birmingham, W. H. of Fairfield, and A. C. of Greenville, O.; three sisters and one brother, Mrs. S. B. Batton of Plantersville, Ala., Mrs. Susie Jones of Texas; Mrs. George Bess of New Mexico, and Mr. Jim Radford of Texas. These have lost more than human language can express. May they catch the light of her peaceful unbroken trust, and as they "cross the river" one by one join her at the pearly gates, where she is patiently waiting their coming.

MRS. MINNIE BATTON GAY.

If the 1923 cotton crop is over 13,000,000 bales, which, however, seems improbable, although possible, the effect on the price may be disastrous.

We think there is no question but that the area planted to cotton in 1923 will be large. No fear of the boll weevils, nor any scarcity of labor will prevent the planting of a large acreage.

With any crop like cotton which must be all sold, that is, cannot be fed on the farm, like corn, for instance, it is highly important that all supplies required be produced on the farm. This is the only insurance against the disaster of low prices for cotton and high prices for food and feed products.

Experiments conducted by the N. C. Experiment Station show that acid phosphate is the best source of phosphoric acid and nitrate of soda; is the quickest and most efficient source of nitrogen for cotton; phosphoric acid inducing fruitfulness and early ripening, and nitrate of soda makes the body or frame of the plant for carrying the fruit.

Farming Success Depends Largely on Good Fertilizer Judgment

With the farmer of today it isn't a question of using fertilizers, but which fertilizers. He knows that intelligent selection of the RIGHT fertilizers may make the difference between extra-profitable and just ordinary crops.

Right fertilizers—goods correct in formula, complete in availability, timely in action—are crop insurance. "A A Quality" Fertilizers are founded on that basis—as an honest and reliable aid to farming success.

What Every Expectant Mother Should Know--

Mrs. Laura Hendrix, Gracemont, Okla., says: "I want to express my appreciation of "Mother's Friend." I am the mother of six children, expecting the stork one soon. I have used "Mother's Friend" with every one of my babies. I think it is the grandest help that has ever been discovered for the expectant mother. I can't do without it. I recommend it to all expectant mothers. I can't say too much for it."

"Mother's Friend" was originated by an eminent physician. It has saved thousands of expectant mothers from useless suffering. It is externally applied; aids the muscles and tissues to relax easily and readjust themselves to the changes during expectancy and up to the moment baby arrives.

"Mother's Friend" is safe and beneficial, and contains no narcotics or harmful drugs. Avoid mere greases and useless substitutes.

Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradfield Regulator Co., BA-14, Atlanta, Ga., for a free illustrated book containing information every expectant mother should have. "Mother's Friend" is sold by all drug stores everywhere.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK "STEPS OUT" AGAIN

Capital Stock Increased to $50,000; Surplus Fund Raised to $10,000; Same Officers Re-elected

The interesting announcement is made by Mr. John C. Page, Cashier of the First National Bank of Clanton, that this progressive and growing business institution has recently received the approval of the Comptroller of Currency at Washington, authorizing them to increase their capital stock from $30,000 to $50,000 and also to raise the amount of their surplus fund to $10,000.

This movement on the part of the First National Bank is only a natural consequence of the rapid growth of that splendid institution. The bank has been in operation here for four years and during that time has enjoyed a most phenomenal success. Its management has been in line with the soundest and most accommodating policies known to the banking business, and the men who have steered its course are to be congratulated upon the success attained.

DR. EILAND BUYS HOME IN CLANTON

Dr. R. J. Eiland informs us that he has closed a deal with Mack Ruffin, whereby he becomes the owner of the old Ruffin Home on Fifth Avenue, immediately in front of the Central Alabama Hospital. This is in one of the most desirable residence sections of the city, and we fellows who live in that part of the town are glad to have Dr. Eiland and his family as our neighbors.

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager)

A wave of sadness swept over Thorsby last Monday morning when it became known that Mrs. John Carlson was very seriously ill at her home on the Montgomery Highway, about three quarters of a mile south of town. Although not in good health for several months, Mrs. Carlson had continued about her work and had partaken in social activities as recently as the previous Saturday night, and was about the house Sunday morning. In the afternoon she was feeling badly and went to bed where she rapidly grew worse until about 3 o'clock Monday morning when she lapsed into unconsciousness which continued until she passed away about 5 o'clock Monday evening. Dr. S. C. Wood, who was the family physician, pronounced diabetes as the cause of her illness and death.

Mrs. Carlson was one of the great number of women of our time who are home makers and home lovers, of a retiring disposition, yet always ready to perform her share of the activities in the community and church life around her. Her ideals were of a high order and she had the love and respect of all who knew her. She was the mother of three children, the youngest of them died in infancy. A son, "Raymond," after graduating at Thorsby Institute, went to Augustana College at Rock Island, Ill, and later later prepared himself as an expert accountant and has been for several years engaged in this work in Chicago. He arrived in Thorsby on Tuesday and will remain at the family home for a few days. The daughter, "Pearl," has grown from early childhood in Thorsby and is now a member of the senior class in Thorsby Institute. At the age of 17 she has many of the attributes of her mother, a sunny disposition and a smile for all. Mr. John Carlson and his family have ever since they came to Thorsby been considered as among the substantial and honorable citizens of the town, and in their great loss they have the sincere sympathy of the whole community.

Mrs. Carlson's funeral, Rev. Wilhelm Petterson officiating, will be held at the family residence at 1 o'clock p.m. today, Thursday.

The matter of Public School facilities, although "scothed" at the bond election last fall, seems to be like "Banquo's Ghost" and "Will Not Down."

The subject is on the minds of a good many of our people, and on the nerves of others. While the need for enlarged and better school facilities is great in Thorsby, it is no more acute than at Collins Chapel, Cross Roads and Pates Chapel, having a combined school population of upward of 500 children. The sensible and modern idea in such cases is a consolidated school similar to those that have recently been established in at least four places in our own Chilton county, Jemison, Verbena, Maplesville and Shoults. Shall the children of these sections have every advantage of up-to-date school facilities while we in the very heart of it all still cling to antiquated and inefficient buildings and equipment.

Whatever is done from now on should be with a view to making this consolidated school for these four districts the ultimate end of our plans.

No one district can now afford to undertake any permanent improvement of their school facilities without considering that the interest of all can best be served by a get together policy. Let none be of the mind that the logical location for such a new enterprise is just at or about where the old one now stands. The whole enterprise is a step forward and there ought to be good men and women in each community who have vision broad enough to lead in this matter and be willing to work with others for the general good of our children.

Miss May Parnell spent Sunday at her home in Thorsby, coming from Guntersville, Ala., where she is employed in a law office.

Mrs. Herbert Peterson was a delightful hostess to the following ladies Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 21st: Mesdames Anna Villadsen, J. M. Graham, Hattie M. Gerald, Carl C. Petersen, Nels Petersen, Chas, Peterson, C. M. Lucas and J. H. Goddard.

Mr. S. Woods, of Birmingham, was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Robinson last Sunday.

Mr. Lawrence F. Gerald and family of Clanton, spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Hattie M. Gerald.

Miss Jennye Robinson from Howard College, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Robinson. Having graduated last year from Thorsby Institute, she was considerably interested in the Declamatory contest among the students which was held at Bates Hall last Saturday night.

Mr. John Wesley, of Simpson High School, formerly a student at Thorsby Institute, was a visitor in Thorsby Sunday.

Miss Fay Ruftin, of Helena, Ala., spent the week-end with her sister, Miss Cola Ruffin at Thorsby Institute Dormitory, Miss Cola being one of the participants in the Declamatory contest Saturday night, to which her sister accompanied her.

The neighbors and friends of Mrs. E. N. Dyrhovd helped her to celebrate her birthday anniversary last Monday afternoon, and in spite of the inclement weather they had much to enjoy.

Messrs. Earl Leary and Arthur Villadsen were week-end visitors in Thorsby.

Misses Ruth and Jewell Martin entertained a number of friends at dinner Sunday.

Frequent Headaches

"I suffered with chronic constipation that would bring on very severe headaches," says Mrs. Stephen H. Kincer, of R. F. D. 1, Crippie Creek, Va. "I tried different medicines and did not get relief. The headaches became very frequent. I heard of and took it for a headache, and the relief was very quick, and it was so long before I had another headache. Now I just keep the Black-Draught, and don't let myself get in that condition."

Thedford's Black-Draught (purely vegetable) has been found to relieve constipation, and by stimulating the action of the liver, when it is torpid, helps to drive many poisons out of your system. Biliousness, indigestion, headache, and similar troubles are often relieved in this way. It is the natural way. Be natural! Try Black-Draught.

The B. Y. P. U. of the Baptist church gave a special program last Sunday night, those taking part were Sylvester Robinson, Prof. Harris, Emmett Billingsley, Horace Franklin, Rev. E. P. Lowery, Curtis Billingsley and Mr. Holmes.

Mr. Andrew Littleton and father, C. M. Littleton, of Birmingham, and Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Littleton of Coopers, spent the week-end with Mrs. A. Littleton at Thorsby.

The visit to Thorsby last Thursday, of Mr. J. C. Rogers, Dean of Piedmont College, Demorest, Georgia, was of exceeding interest to members of Thorsby Institute senior class and their friends with whom he spent the day and evening. Having in years gone by welcomed many Thorsby graduates to their college family, and finding them all "high grade," he naturally was anxious to visit the "training camp" where such excellent college material is turned out.

Immediately on arrival in Thorsby he was conducted to Chapel where he made a very interesting address on the life and character of George Washington, in which he emphasized the importance of preparation for life's duties, especially for those who hope ever to be more than mere followers of routine, among the masses, who have no definite purpose for their life.

He also gave some graphic and startling statistics as to the percentage of leaders among professional men and women, and also in business and agriculture, who are drawn from the one per cent of those among men and women who secure a college education, showing that the chances of success in a chosen vocation are about 100 to one in favor of the person who has the college education.

Mr. Rogers spent much of the day interviewing the boys and girls of the upper classes, who are year by year increasing i nthe number of those who determine to secure a college education, and in the evening he met quite a number of the parents and friends of students and former students at a sort of impromptu reception at the Girls Dormitory. He left Friday morning for Demorest, greatly pleased with his visit and his new acquaintances.

On Saturday evening, March 3rd, the Choral Club of Thorsby Institute, will present a singing school of eY Olden Time. The teacher, Miss Mehitable Plunkett will be Miss Medie Swille yand Chester Maddox will take the part of the music director, Squire Bellingham. Sandy McPherson, Haddack Cumstock, Slyvia Nightingale, Mary Jane Morris and others will give solos or duets and others of the club will sing in the choruses. Jerome Wilson as Moses Simpkins, Dorothy Butler as Betsy Martin and Lillian McKee as Julius Caesar, add variety to the program. The entertainment is being directed by Miss Agnes Gerald, teacher of music at Thorsby Institute. The usual admission of ten cents will be charged for non-members of the society.

The term examinations at Thorsby Institute will be given on March 8th and 9th.

A NEW MAIL ROUTE IS PROPOSED FROM CLANTON

A movement has been started for the establishment of a new rural mail route from Clanton. The proposed route will leave Clanton over the Lock 12 road; turn to the right at the one mile post, turn to the right again at Robert Hand's place proceeding thence over what is known as the Wyatt and Miner Road crossing Walnut Creek at Dake's old mill, on by Tom Miner's there taking up a new road that has been established by the Red Jones old place and reaching the old Cooper and Adams Ferry Road near the Aaron Cleckler old place. It will follow the old road towards Coopers to its intersection with the Higgins Ferry Road, then down the Higgins Ferry Road to Elijah Mim's, and then retrace this road back to the Cooper road, and continue towards Coopers to the old Huckabee place. From the Huckabee place it will come straight to Clanton by Poplar Springs Church, reaching the south highway at the Bob Smith place.

This new route would thus take care of a long stretch of Verbena Route 2, which has been rendered almost impossible for mail service by the back waters of Cargyle Creek at Salem Church. This old Verbena Route is likely to be discontinued from where it crosses this creek all the way around by Providence Church and on to the Huckabee place.

It is hoped that the postoffice authorities will grant this new route, as it will bring to the door of many families a daily mail service which they have not heretofore had.

On account of the funeral of Mrs. John Carlson on Thursday the Congregational Ladies' Aid Society will meet with Mrs. Herbert Peterson on Friday, March 2nd, instead of with Mrs. Goddard on Thursday as announced last week. Note the change from Thursday to Friday and from Mrs. Goddard's to Mrs. Herbert Peterson.

The boys at the Institute have begun to practice pole vaulting and jumping, in preparation for the annual track meet to be held on Commencement Day, June 1st.

Work of changing up Clanton's railroad facilities is now in progress. About 100 men and a construction train are now employed on the work. The side track accommodations are being considerably extended, and the freight platform will be extended one hundred feet to the south. The dirt is being taken from the cutting, which will give a clear view through and do away with the old curve. The cost of the work is estimated at $7000.00.

IN LOVING REMEMBRANCE OF MRS. NANCY CARROLL

On the morning of Feb. 19th, at 11 o'clock the death angel visited at the hospital at Mobile and carried Mrs. Nancy Carroll safe home above. She was the wife of Mr. Elzie Carroll who, at the time of her death was living in Pascagoula, Miss., where Mr. Carroll was taking government training. The sudden occurrence of this death was a great surprise to her people and many friends.

Before she died she sang "I'm going home to die no more," and "No sorrow there." She was a great helper in the church and always did her part toward church service. She would always meet you with a smile, and her smiles will be greatly missed by her many friends.

She leaves a husband, mother, one child, about five months old, one sister, three brothers, and a host of relatives and friends to mourn her death. She was 24 years old and a member at Chestnut Creek church.

Her remains were laid to rest at Chestnut Creek Cemetery Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Hughes officiating, by a special request of her's before she died.

Weep not dear mother, husband and friends for she is at rest. We know to lose such a lovely, affectionate child and friend will bring a dark shadow, but remember that light will break through sometimes and there will be a glad and happy reunion in the great beyond. Her spirit will only wait a brief period when in sweetness and in love she will meet her dear mother, husband and friends. One thing can surely be said, she was a loving wife, faithful mother and a Christian friend.

BREEDING OF MOSQUITOES

Where do malarial mosquitotse breed?

In water—in still water and in the pools and grassy edges of running water.

How do these mosquitoes breed?

They lay their eggs on the surface of the water. These eggs float, and in a few days hatch into larvae, or "wiggle-tails." These live in the water, and in time turn into pupae, or "tumblers" which turn into mosquitoes. There are four changes in the development of mosquitoes just as for butterflies; the eggs for both; the larvae in place of caterpillars; the pupae in place of the crysalis, and the mosquitoes in place of the butterflies. For mosquitoes all these changes must take place in water, and for Anopheles will take from 12 to 16 days in summer weather—longer in cool weather.

Can one tell the larvae of Anopheles? (Malarial Mosquitoes).

Yes. The Anopheles larva lies at the top of the water and parallel to it, for all the world like a basking pike. The larvae of other mosquitoes hang from the top, head downward. If the latter are touched, they will always dive. If the Anopheles larva is touched, while it may dive it will generally "scoot" backwards along the top of the water. They are not a bit alike, and once seen no one will ever mistake one for the other.

Is it important to recognize the larvae of Anopheles?

Yes; it is far more important to recognize the larvae of Anopheles than the mosquito themselves, because this enables us to find their breeding places and hence to destroy them.

In what kind of places do Anopheles breed?

They prefer to breed in clean water, in small, shallow, shady pools with grassy edges; if with grass growing in them so much the better. A marshy piece of ground with many small pools, among bull-rushes and sedge, is an ideal place. The grassy edges and quiet pools formed by obstruction on small streams are also favorite places, as are cattle tracks. They have no objection to running water unless running swiftly. Some species breed well in large ponds.

Do they breed in such places only?

They occasionally breed in almost any collection of water, unless it is very foul; shallow wells, water barrels, tin cans, etc., especially if they have leaves or grass in them or the greealgae "frog moss." Generally, however, they avoid barrels, cans, and other artificial containers unless they have grass, moss, etc., in them.

How long must a pool last to breed Anopheles?

Since it takes usually about 14 days for the egg to produce the mosquito, if a collection of water dries up completely in less than 14 days, it is not likely to breed Anopheles mosquitoes.

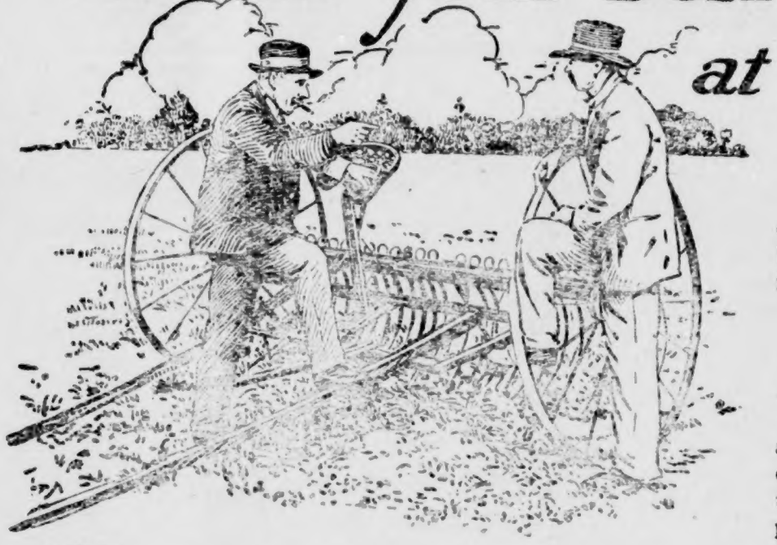
I'll kill your boll-weevils at less cost and trouble



Not a few of them, nor half of them, but every single one of them, until you won't be able to find a live weevil in your cotton fields.

No Machinery—
No Night Work

Just a bucket, and a mop made of a rag and a stick, and one of your tenant's boys or girls to go through the rows, touching the top of each cotton plant one time, in passing by, with HILL'S MIXTURE.

You can raise a full crop of cotton if you'll use---

HILL'S THE BOLL WEEVIL TRADE MARK EXTERMINATOR MIXTURE

There are three elements to HILL'S MIXTURE—arsenate as a poison, molasses as a binder, and a third (secret) element which ATTRACTS the weevil. When a small quantity of the mixture is put on the top of a cotton plant, the weevil will hunt it out, eat it and die.

This secret ingredient makes it unnecessary to waste calcium arsenate by covering the entire plant, as in the dusting method, and the molasses holds every atom of the arsenate on the plant. It takes a heavy rain of half-an-inch or more to wash it off.

"Touch The Top—And Off They Drop"

Tests have been conducted by county agents and responsible farmers, where one daub of HILL'S MIXTURE was applied to the top of the cotton stalk and in from ten to fourteen hours, every boll weevil on the plant (sometimes 50 in number) were dead.

I've got no guns or sprays to sell you, which might get out of order. The simplicity of applying my mixture is one feature that has made it as popular as its efficiency. Then, too, it can be put on in the daytime, by inexperienced labor.

My Agent Can Show You The Proof!

I will be glad to send you, or my agent whose name is shown below, will be glad to show you a booklet containing scores of testimonial letters from scores of Burke County farmers (both white and black), and from the President of the American Cotton Association, endorsing my mixture. The price of HILL'S MIXTURE is 77c per gallon, in 50-gallon barrels, delivered in Alabama (slight freight charge for other states), plus cost of barrel, which will be refunded upon return. My agent will give you full particulars. Every farmer who used Hill's Mixture in 1922 is going to use it this year. Sheriff's Forces Busy Saturday and Sunday

Sheriff Tom Littlejohn and his deputies had a busy time of it last Saturday and Sunday. Starting out Saturday morning they seemed to get into "business" every where they turned until they wound up about noon Sunday with a big still raid in the western part of the county followed by an encounter with a bunch of men at Keener Roper's place which began to look real interesting as a big shot gun was brought upon the scene.

The first item in the proceedings was the arrest of Cull Goodman at Mitchell Dam Saturday morning for public drunkenness.

Saturday night the force was divided, some going south to Coopers, and Sheriff Littlejohn going north to Thorsby and Jemison. Just as the Sheriff passed Thorsby and was going along by the planing mill he heard some loud talking near the road. Upon investigating the matter he discovered that it was three negroes, one of whom was Gilbert Jackson, a Baptist preacher. He stopped and asked them if they wanted to ride as far as Jemison. Before they had proceeded very far, the sheriff inquired if he might get some liquor, stating at the same time that he was on his way to the hills for that purpose. The preacher promptly volunteered the information that he could furnish plenty of liuor qwithout going to the hills. A bargain was struck and together they went to Jackson's home to get the liquor. After the jug had been secured and its contents placed in the hands of the sheriff, the preacher got suspicious, and began to show signs of retreating. Whereupon the sheriff made an effort to grab him, and what followed was very interesting to see, and very destructive to a patch of small timber nearby. The preacher joined the bird gang. When he came to the Sheriff's office Monday to "fess up" he begged Tom to let him off light, saying that he had to pay for an acre of good timber which he tore down while getting away.

After the incident with the negro preacher the Sheriff proceeded on to Jemison to "attend" a little show which he knew to be in performance there. He had hardly arrived upon the scene before he found himself all mixed up with a bunch of fellows who were drinking liquor and having a great big time in general. When he made a swipe at the gang he came out with his hands fastened securely upon John Henry, whom he brought to jail at Clanton.

As he had not had time to see the show while in Jemison, the sheriff decided to go back up there after he had placed Henry in jail. This time he was accompanied by Will Culp and Harvey Foshee, who also wanted to see the show. Just about the time they got back to the show grounds a big fight was being pulled off inside one of the tents. The officers got interested in this little affray and came out with three fellows arrested, Horace Retherford, Marvin Armstrong and Eugene Killingsworth. There was some liquor mixed up in this affray.

Having an early Sunday morning engagement at Jew Town, the sheriff pulled out down there after he had finished up with the show at Jemison. He arrived at Jew Town just before daylight, and made his bed in a pine top to await the coming of day. He noticed that the place where he lay down was mighty bumpy, and upon trying to smooth his straw bed a little by removing the rocks and chunks from underneath, he discovered that it was not rocks and chunks that he was lying on, but bottles of liquor which had been concealed in the pine top. Feeling that he had luckily fallen into the very place to have some fun he lay still. Soon after daybreak a man appeared upon the scene and proceeded to load up his pockets with bottles preparatory to a good day's business of peddling. At the proper time the sheriff emerged from the other side of the pine top and arrested the fellow who was none other than Cull Goodman, the same man who had been arrested on the morning before for public drunkenness.

Upon returning to Clanton it was time to make a trip to the western part of the county to see about some "reports" that had come into the office from over there. When they arrived upon the scene they found that they were a little too late. There was a big still with the fire yet going, but the run had been completed and the operators disbanded. The outfit was destroyed, together with some new beer that was in process of ripening.

As the officers returned to town they were intercepted at Keener Roper's by a car placed across the road. They stopped and quite an interesting time was had for a few minutes. Mr. Roper came out of the house with a shot gun but its use was averted by proper maneuvering of the officers.

Sheriff Littlejohn makes the following statement about the situation in the western part of the county:

"Some people over in that section think that by their bully methods they will scare the officers out of that region so they will be at liberty to proceed with their affairs to their own liking. But I want it thoroughly understood that if anybody there or in any other part of the county is fooling with liquor, I shall do my best to clean them up. None of their bullying will frighten me away. I promised to discharge my duty as Sheriff of this county, and I shall do that regardless of everything. I am going to clean up this county if it takes all my forces and all the federal and state forces in Alabama."

Gowan and Goodgame In Lumber Business

Dr. J. Earle Gowan and Mr. Burns Goodgame of Clanton have formed a lumber company for the purpose of working up about three million feet of very fine yellow pine timber which they have bought in Coosa county. Their acquisition includes what is known as the Bailey and Womback property located on the back waters of Mitchell Lake along Weogufka and Hatchett creeks. This is one of the finest pieces of virgin timber that is known in this part of the country, and the developers of this enterprise expect to consume quite a lengthy period of time in its commercialization.

Their plans are to cut the logs and raft them across the pond to the old D. S. Robinson pleace near Salem Church, where their mill will be located for cutting the timber. They will put their products on the market at Clanton or Coopers.

Aside from the commercial value of this proposition, Dr. Gowan is jubilant over the fact that he has secured a vast area of land that is in the heart of the "Sportsman's Paradise" which is created by the back waters of Mitchell Lake up Weogufka and Hatchett creeks. He says he has on his property hundreds of sites that are especially suited for the location of summer camps for recreation.

Fight Against Malaria in Alabama

Montgomery, Ala., March 5.—Following is the fifth installment of questions and answers in the mosquito catechism prepared for use in the fight against malaria in Alabama:

When a mosquito injects malarial parasites into a man's blood what becomes of them?

The parasites which she injects enter the red blood cells. They are then extremely small. They grow by feeding on the blood cells and get bigger and bigger. Then their edges become scalloped. Then they divide into a number of wedge-shaped pieces meeting in the middle something like the slices of a pie. Then the blood cell break up and set the young parasites free, and each one of them starts off as a new parasite on its own account and tries to enter another red blood cell and repeat the process of its mother parasite.

Into how many parts does a parasite divide?

Into from 8 to as many as 24 or 32, according to the kind, so they may increase very rapidly.

Are there different kinds of parasites?

Yes; there are at least three kinds, each of which produces a different form of malarial fever.

How long does it take from the time the parasites enter a red blood cell until they divide into daughter parasites?

It depends on the kind of a parasite. One kind, the tertian, takes about 48 hours, or two days. Another, the quartan, 72 hours, or three days. A third, the estivo-autumnal, from about 24 to 48 hours. This last form is much less regular in its time than the other two; indeed two different forms may be included under this name. It produces the worst kind of malarial fever.

What causes the chills and fever of the man with malaria?

When the infected red blood cells break up they liberate not only the bunch of daughter parasites, but a small amount of poison which the parasites have formed, and, when a large number of them do this at the same time, this causes the chill and fever of the sick man, which occur just after the cells break down. It has been estimated that at least 150,000,000 of parasites must divide at the same time to liberate enough poison to produce a chill—generally many times more than this.

Do all parasites in the red blood cells divide into others, as you have described?

No. Besides the sexless forms which divide and produce chills there are two other forms of the malarial parasites in the blood cells. These are the male and female forms of the parasites. These do not seem to affect the health of the man in whose blood they exist, but it is by means of these that the mosquito becomes infected when she sucks them up.

How does the mosquito become infected with malarial parasites?

By biting a man who has these male and female parasites in his blood. If she sucks up both kinds—male and female—she may become infected.

Now in Washington

Miss Mae Parnell writes The Union-Banner from Washington, D. C., requesting us to send her paper to her there. She states that she is working in the research department of the Civil Service Commission. Her address is V. W., Room 301, Government Hotel. Her letter says "Best wishes to all in Clanton." The many friends of this splendid young lady in Clanton and Thorsby wish her success.

Reductions Made in Federal Appropriation

Washington, March 7.—"It is not only a matter of record but is common knowledge that the Congress which recently adjourned has surpassed all expectations by the reductions it has been able to make in Federal appropriations," declares the Republican Publicity Association, through its President, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr. "This has been brought about through the close and harmonious co-operation of the Committees of Congress and the heads of the Executive Departments.

"Probably no other one thing helped more in this regard than the establishment of the Budget Bureau and the consolidation of House committees that report on appropriations. Instead of numerous committees reporting bills, without knowing what other committees were doing, one committee has passed upon all bills before they were submitted to the House, and thus it became easier to 'cut the garment to suit the cloth.' The House of Representatives has also been extremely fortunate in its new chairman of the Appropriations Committee, Martin B. Madden, of Illinois. The high standard set by the Republican majority, under the leadership of Madden, was attested during the closing days of the session by a leading Democrat. Representative Gallivan, of Massachusetts, speaking on the last appropriation bill submitted, introduced his remarks by saying:

"I want to take this opportunity to say to my colleagues that in my eight years of service on the Appropriations Committee, having served under some of the ablest men in this country as chairmen of that committee, I have yet to meet the equal of the present chairman. It is with pride and satisfaction that I am permitted to stand here on this floor and say that in my judgment Martin B. Madden, of Illinois, as chairman, has been a nonpareil.

"Let our Democratic friends remember that Mr. Madden was nominated by Republicans, was elected by Republicans, aided by a goodly number of Democrats who know a good man when they see his record, and was chosen chairman of the Appropriations committee by a Republican majority in the House. The Republican party is entitled to full credit for the good work Mr. Madden has done and the good work his committee has done. Exactly the same can be said of the work of the Appropriations Committee of the Senate, which, under the chairmanship of Senator Francis E. Warren, of Wyoming, has done its part in the work of curtailing Federal expenditures.

"The splendid work that has been done will be presented to the country for its consideration in the campaign of 1924. It is our guess that it will receive the commendation of the voters with the same heartiness that was apparent in the remarks of the Democratic Congressman from Massachusetts."

National Campaign for Boll Weevil Control

Atlanta, Ga., March 7.—The National Campaign for Boll Weevil Control, which was launched in Atlanta last week, does not seek to supplant any existing agency for combatting the insect pest but has the purpose of mobilizing new forces and throwing additional strength to the support of those who have conducted warfare upon the "Billion Dollar Bandit" in past years, according to Dr. Miller Reese Hutchison, the Alabama scientist and inventor, who is managing director of the campaign.

"The widespread effects of the boll weevil's ravages make this problem a matter of concern to the entire public," Dr. Hutchison said. "One of the objects of this campaign will be to mobilize a 'civilian army,' the strength of which will be added to that of the 'regulars,' the fedreal and state agricultural agencies. Just as the regular army constitutes the backbone of the war force when fighting another nation, so are the established agencies for combatting the boll weevils the primary factors in this warfare."

The National Cotton Conference on Boll Weevil Control held here last week assembled leading figures of all branches of the cotton industry, scores of agricultural research and extension workers from the Southern states, representatives of the United States Department of Agriculture including Dr. W. D. Hunter and completed the campaign organization with Dr. Hutchison as supreme generalissimo of the forces of the North and South fighting the "Mexican Invader."

At the present time, according to Dr. Hutchison, war will be waged on the weevil with all the known weapons at hand in order to save as much as is possible of the 1923 crop from destruction by the pest. This work will be carried on by means of a campaign of practical information and demonstration in all the cotton growing counties of the South. Demonstration farms in these counties, under the direction of experts, will give to the planters the best methods of fighting the weevil in their particular area by use of known poisons, scientific use of fertilizers and intensive cultivation.

In addition to this work experiments are already under way to devise new and better means of exterminating or controlling the insect. At Dr. Hutchison's request, experiments are now being carried on at Clemson College, S. C., with the idea of fighting the pest through sterilization of the eggs by means of X-rays stored in chemical salts. Another experiment, suggested by Hudson Maxim at the Conference, will be conducted shortly with the idea of developing a sex-lure for the weevil which can be used with a suitable poison and thus attract the insects to their doom.

President Warren G. Harding has pledged every resource of the technical and scientific agencies of the United States to the war against the boll weevil.

The Vote That Was Denied in the Senate

Washington, March 7.—Although the Democrats in the Senate led a filibuster against the Merchant Marine bill, sentiment among members of that party was not unanimous against the bill nor was it unanimous in favor of the filibuster. One Democratic Senator, Ransdell of Louisiana, believes in an American merchant marine and could see no practicable method of insuring the permanent maintenance of an adequate merchant fleet under the American flag without resort to the means of encouragement proposed in the administration measure.

There were others who, although opposed to the merchant marine bill, could not give their sanction to the filibuster as a method of delay or defeating final action on the bill. Among the latter is Senator Underwood of Alabama. In discussing his attitude on the subject he said:

"I am opposed to the shipping bill; I have never voted for a subsidy of any kind. I have never voted for a protective tariff on any article. I have never voted for any other subsidy in that class of legislation, and I don't believe in it. I am opposed to the present shipping bill for that reason although I should be very much delighted if the great shipping of the country could be developed and made to function along legislative lines for which I could afford to vote.

"But I am opposed to the defeat of the shipping bill by indirection. There are certain great principles that may be involved in votes in the Senate where human rights and human liberty and fundamental principles of our government are at stake when I would not hesitate for a moment to use any legislative power I possess to prevent the passage of a bill. But when it comes down merely to a question of dollars; when it is purely an economic question, I think a majority have a right to register their position. I believe the shipping bill is fundamentally wrong but being a purely economic question I am willing to have a vote on it. The majority have the right to register the result of their conclusions because they are the majority of the Congress. If you can command a majority you are entitled to have the will of the majority placed on the statute books."

The view expressed by Senator Underwood was practically the same as that expressed by President Harding when he went before Congress and urged action on the shipping bill. He asked that it be brought to a vote so that if a majority favor it it may be enacted and if a majority oppose it it may be defeated, and the Shipping Board thus be advised what the attitude of the government is toward the merchant marine problem.

Notwithstanding the broad view taken by Senator Underwood, a majority of the Democrats in the Senate were not only opposed to the shipping bill but opposed to a vote on its passage. Hour after hour they continued to debate every sort of question under the sun in order to prevent the matter coming to a vote.

The Poor Editor

Flowery and long is the wedding notice which the editor printeth. The minister getteth ten bones. The groom standeth the editor off for a 12-month subscription. All flesh is grass and in time the wife is gathered into a silo. The minister getteth his bit. The editor printeth a death notice, two columns of obituary, three lodge notices, a cubit of poetry and a card of thanks. And he forgeteth to read proof on the head and the darned thing cometh out: "Gone to Her Last Roasting Place." And all that are akin to the deceased jumpeth on the editor with exceeding great vigor. And they pulleth out their ads and cancelleth their subscriptions and they swing the hammer unto the third and fourth generation.—Arkansas Thomas Cat.

Tom Littlejohn says he is determined to do his duty as Sheriff of this county, and the Ku Klux or anybody else who wishes to do so may help. "They all have a cordial invitation to help me," says Tom.

We rise to the privilege of complimenting Brother Ezell for the sermon he delivered at the Clanton Baptist church last Sunday morning. Those who are not hearing him are indeed missing something wonderfully fine.

We notice a great move on foot in the South now to get rid of the boll weevil. It would be nice if we had the money that has been wasted in dipping our cows to use in this effort to suppress the little million dollar Mexican bandit.

If Clanton expects to do anything toward getting a cotton mill here, the first thing necessary, in our opinion, is to fasten enough land for a suitable location. We can't go wrong on such a step, provided of course, that we secure a site that is suitable for such use.

When you bait your hook with the right kind of worms, you are pretty apt to find a fish somewhere that will bite it. When we start fishing for a cotton mill, we must have the right kind of bait, which, in our opinion, is a suitable piece of property that we can donate for a location.

We hear reports from different parts of the county which say that conditions are improving as to lawlessness and disorder. Don't know whether to blame Tom Littlejohn or the Ku Klux for this improvement. But we are proud to know that things are getting better, regardless of who is responsible for it.

Why don't more of you good old country Baptists come and hear Ezell preach every Sunday night? You are welcome to our church. It is no strange place. You will see there just plain people who used to live (and not so long ago) in the country just like you do. Come around to see us brothers, and bring along the sisters.

In this cotton mill proposition, Clanton ought to take a lesson from the incident at the close of Bob Jones' revival where the Methodist congregation subscribed enough money at one swoop to build a new thirty thousand dollar church. If we would do what we ought to do, and what we could easily do, we would have within the next week a tract of land which we could offer to any concern that would come here and build a cotton mill.

Sheriff Littlejohn made a trip to Montgomery Wednesday to see Governor Brandon on some business.

NEW METHODIST CHURCH

The Methodists of Clanton are busy as they can be with the preliminary work necessary to beginning of work on their new church building. We understand that is a practical certainty now that the new building will be erected on the site of the old one. We have not been able to learn just what the complete details of the new edifice will be, but it is stated upon good authority that it will be a building something on the general order of the new Baptist Church in character of construction, material, etc., with somewhat different interior arrangement for the accommodation of the Sunday school and other auxiliaries of the church.

A party composed of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Wilkerson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Wade, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Page, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Nix and Mr. and Mrs. Macy Jones, left Tuesday morning for Hartford, Alabama, for the purpose of looking over a new church building there. Their purpose is to get some ideas about the arrangement of the building that will aid them in adopting plans for the new building here. It is stated also that there is a man at Hartford who has had considerable experience in building churches, and they have an eye on him for this job here.

As soon as this committee return to Clanton and report their findings to the church, it is very probable that something will be started immediately toward clearing the grounds of the old building and assembling material for the new one.

The Pneumonia Month

March is a typical pneumonia month and usually gives a high rate of mortality for the disease. After a long and hard winter, the system loses much of its resistance and people grow careless. When every cold, no matter how slight, is given prompt and intelligent attention, there is much less danger of pneumonia. It should be borne in mind that pneumonia is a germ disease and breeds in the throat. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is an expectorant and cleans out the germ ladened mucus and not only cures a cold but prevents its resulting in pneumonia. It is pleasant to take. Children take it willingly.

OAK HILL

Rev. L. H. Jones filled his regular appointment here Sunday and delivered good sermons both morning and evening. In the afternoon we had some fine singing as usual. The Oak Grove class was with us and did some good singing. Providence, Center Hill and Jemison were also represented and did their part in making the singing the great success that it was, and we feel sure that it was enjoyed by all present, for as we looked over that great crowd of singers composed of almost every denomination from all parts of the county and heard them sing those beautiful songs we could almost hear them echo from the shining shores of the beautiful city of God, and we were made to rejoice in our hearts and say with the Psalmist David of old, Behold, how great and how good it is for brethren to dwell together in peace. The class was called to order and arranged by President E. L. Glasscock. Mr. L. R. Cobb, president of the Oak Grove class sang the opening song, followed by prayer by the pastor, Rev. L. H. Jones. Then the following directors were called who directed from one to four songs each: Paul Wilson, Lassie Northcutt, Hurley Mims, W. J. Northcutt, Burl Martin. By this time we were getting a bit tired and thirsty, but our kind president gave us a few funny stories and a short recess which we appreciated very much. At the tap of the bell we reassembled very much refreshed. E. L. Glasscock directed the first song, followed by J. P. Bean, Ira Grant, Vester Campbell and A. H. Glasscock and a quartet by the Stump's Hills quartette. Organists for the evening were Misses Esther Atkinson, Flossie Cobb, Syble Langston, Bertha Martin and Loyd Eagle. After singing that beautiful sweet song, Wonderful Jesus, and prayer by C. C. Conway, the Society adjourned to meet with Union Grove next Sunday at 2 p.m. We invite everybody to come and take a part and enjoy these great blessings with us. You are always welcome.

We have Sunday school here every Sunday morning the year around—preaching every first Sunday and Sunday night. Come and help save our boys and girls, for if we fail to do our duty, their blood will be required at our hands at the judgment, then we will have to say amen to our own condemnation and cry unto the rocks and mountains to fall on us and hide us from the face of a just but sin avenging God, and receive the reward of the unjust steward and go away into everlasting punishment where there is weeping wailing and nashing of teeth where the worm dieth not and where the fire is never quenched, but the smoke of their torment ascends forever. Now let us wake up and be about our father's business while it is called today for tomorrow may be too late, for death is on our trail and we know not the day nor the hour when it may overtake us, for we must remember that in the midst of life we are in death.

More than half of the land titles have some flaw in them, and should be investigated and corrected before it is too late. People are now living perhaps that could give the proper paper or make the proper affidavit to cure the defect and it will be too late when those people are dead. Therefore, it is not safe to buy land or lend money and accept land as security without first investigating the title of the land. Often there are unsatisfied morgages, judgments or other liens affecting the title, which an Abstract would set out. Therefore, when buying land or lending money thereon, it is important that an abstract of title be furnished. A few dollars spent for an abstract is cheaper than going ahead and having a law suit, and perhaps losing your land or the money loaned on it a little later on.

NEWS FROM STATE CAPITAL

New Gasoline Tax Law Will Require Dealers To Make Report of Gasoline Sold.

Montgomery.—Every retail dealer in gasoline and other motor fuel in Alabama will be required to render a statement of gasoline sold, to the state tax commission, under the law levying a tax of two cents a gallon on motor fuels. This opinion has been given the state tax commission by Harwell G. Davis, attorney general, in interpretation of the gasoline tax law.

The attorney general having been consulted as to ambiguities in the law.

The choice of words only will prevent retail dealers from avoiding the law. One section in defining persons involved in the act, stated that "The retail dealers shall include any person herein defined as 'distributor,' who is also engaged in the sale of gasoline as herein defined at any place in the state in broken quantities." If this was followed literally a retail dealer not engaged also in the business of distributing gasoline (wholesaling) would not be required to make reports and pay the tax to the tax commission.

But Attorney General Davis cited decisions of the court to show that the terms "shall include" does not exclude the general meaning of the word and that since the general meaning of retail dealer is a person who sells in broken quantities, retailers must make the report.

Acting under authority granted by the Brower bill which became a law in February the public service commission has issued a formal order for a revaluation of the property of the Mobile Gas Company and set the case for consideration March 12. Formal notice was given to the Mobile Gas Company by certified copies of the order.

The city commission of Mobile has voted to pay one third of the cost of revaluation. Work will be started without delay and the public service commission proposes to make a minute inquiry into all elements which are recognized by the law in the establishment of a valuation on the property of the company.

The Mobile Gas Company is resisting in the federal court the valuation of $1,700,000 placed by the former commission under an order for a reduction in rates, which was based on the valuation. The commission will seek to show the revaluation order has rendered the case in the federal court a moot one. The city commission of Mobile is interested in the revaluation because even if the previous order for a valuation of $1,700,000 should be sustained and the rates based on this valuation consumers of gas would be saved from $50,000 to $60,000 annually, according to the estimates.

With all members present the recess code committee has begun the work of reading and revising the draft of the state code prepared by Judge James J. Mayfield code commissioner. Sessions will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday until the task has been completed and a report prepared for submission to the legislature at the adjourned session which will begin in July. Judge High D. Merrill, speaker of the house, is chairman of the committee, Henry R. Howze, of Jefferson is vice chairman.

Will Blackman of Jefferson, negro convict, sentenced to death in 1918 for murder and whose sentence was commuted to life imprisonment by Governor Henderson, was killed by Sam Hardwick of Talladega county, short-time convict, at farm No. 4, Montgomery county, while the two engaged in a fist fight.

Copies of the general acts of the recent session of the legislature, in leaflet form, have been forwarded by Secretary of State S. H. Blan, by mail to all state and county officers, so that they may be able to observe the proper application of the newly enacted laws.

David Roberts, a trustee of the Montevallo Mining Company, has concluded negotiations with Governor Brandon and the state board of convict supervisors for the labor of state convicts.

No decision is expected to be rendered by the supreme court of Alabama on the Mobile port amendment question before April when they hold their regular session.

Jim Hundley, Calhoun county convict, sentenced to five years for manslaughter has been released on parole by Governor Brandon.

For the first time in many months there were fewer convicts in state prisons at the end of February than at the end of any other month. The total number imprisonment when the records closed for the month was 3,076, compared with 3,112 at the beginning of February.

All records of the capture of stills were broken by the state law enforcement during the shortest month of the year. The total for the month was 124 or two more than the less previous months.

Judge Reynolds on Cattle Dipping

Clanton, Ala., March 7, 1923.

Editor Union-Banner,
Clanton, Alabama,

Dear Sir:

Several weeks ago the Commissioners Court called a mass meeting of all the citizens of the county interested in cattle dipping. In response to this call citizens assembled from every precinct and community in the county, aggregating probably seven hundred people. The proposition was then put to the people relative to cattle dipping, and they agreed unanimously to leave the matter in the hands of the Commissioners Court to appoint inspectors to investigate the cattle of the county, and make arrangements to dip only the cattle that were tick infested, it being understood that no tick free cattle are to be dipped. The other matters as to building and replenishing vats were left in the hands of the inspectors to be appointed by the Commissioners Court and other details to better effectuate and complete this task once and for all.

The State and Federal men were here on that date and agreed to the proposition that the people assembled had submitted and also the Commissioners Court agreed to abide by their decision in the matter.

The Commissioners Court in furtherance of the plans as submitted has appointed Mr. W. G. Conway, inspector for the Northern part of the County, Mr. Wade Harris for the Western part of the County. These being the only portions of the county in which ticks are found. Mr. Lewis will represent the State.

Arrangements will be made in order that the cattle of the county may be shipped in a few days.

The Commissioners Court has simply yielded to the desires of the people in this matter as was submitted by them at the mass meeting spoken of, and the Court is hopeful that it may have the hearty co-operation of all the people. Let's hope no politics will creep into the matter and no prejudices will be raised as this will simply aid in delaying the business and costing the county unnecessary expense as it has already experienced. The mass meeting presented the plan and voted unanimously to support the project to which the State agreed and now we hope we will have the support of the county. There are ticks present only in Northern and Western part of the County, so let's all work together and be ready to assist in this work as we are able and dip the infested cattle, and get through with the business once and for all.

Respectfully,
L. H. REYNOLDS,
Judge of Probate.

The Drainage Meeting Wednesday Afternoon

As called by Dr. Gragg, Mayor of Clanton, a number of property owners assembled at the Court House Wednesday afternoon to consider the drainage proposition for the swamps around town.

THE BIBLE

The Bible contains the mind of God, the state of man, the dome of sinners, the way of salvation and the happiness of believers. Its doctrines are holy, its precepts are binding, its histories are true, and its decisions are immutable. Read it to be wise, believe it to be safe, and practice it to be holy. It contains light to direct you, food to support you and comfort to cheer you. It is the traveler's map, the pilgrim's staff, the pilots compass, and the soldiers charter. Here paradise is restored, heaven opened, and the gates of hell disclosed. Christ is its grand subject, our good its design, and the glory of God its end. It should fill the memory, rule the heart, and guide the feet. Read it slowly, frequently, prayerfully. It is a mint of wealth a paradise of glory, and a river of pleasure. It is given you in life, will be open at the judgment, and be remembered forever. It involves the highest responsibility, rewards the greatest labor and condemns all who trifle with its holy contents.

Resolutions of Respect

Billingsley, Ala., March 6, 1923.

To the Worshipful Master, Wardens, and Brethren of Century Lodge, Number 567, A. F. & A. M.

We, the undersigned committee, respectfully beg leave to submit for your approval and adoption the following preambles and resolutions:

Our departed friend and Brother, William Crawford Dickinson, was born July 12th, 1954, and departed this life February 28th, 1923. He married Miss Julia M. Faulkner, January 11th, 1880, and there were born to this happy marriage the following children: L. C. Dickinson, W. C. Dickinson, of Billingsley, Alabama, R. H. Dickinson, of Montgomery, Alabama, J. O. Dickinson, Scottsboro, Alabama, and Mrs. B. D. Colley, Enterprise, Alabama, all of whom together with his widow and a host of friends survive to mourn the loss of our esteemed friend and brother. Brother Dickinson was made a Mason June 7th, 1901.

Brother Dickinson was a true and tried Mason, church worker and loyal citizen. During his entire life in Chilton county, he devoted his time to his fellowman and his services for God and man, were prompted by that honesty of purpose and ruggedness of zeal which won for him admiration and respect from all those who knew him. And even till the time when his soul was wafted to those sublime celestial heights above, his life was characterized by that noble sacrificial and unselfish spirit, which has made his absence on this earth greatly felt.

Brother Dickinson was laid to rest with Masonic honors at Billingsley, Alabama, March 1st, 1923, with Century Lodge, No. 567, officiating together with a large number of visiting Masons where the last funeral rites were paid to this worthy brother. Reverend F. A. Gibson conducted the funeral services.

Therefore be it resolved, by this Lodge that in the death of Brother Dickinson, his family has lost a kind and affectionate husband and father and, that in this their great loss, and in this their hour of bereavement may their pangs of sorrow be ameliorated by the Divine thought, that he lived a life on this earth that was acceptable in the eyes of God, and now resides in those heights above where all is gladness. We extend to the bereaved widow and family our heartfelt sympathy and commend them to the Heavenly Father above who alone can ease the heart aches of this world.

Be it lastly resolved, that in the death of this esteemed Brother that Century Lodge has lost one of its most devout members, an honest man and Brother, a valuable citizen, whose life and character stands forth as a paragon of truth and goodness and whose precepts we can all follow with the assurance that we shall meet in that bourne from which no traveler ever returns and in that land where all good Masons hope at last to meet.

Respectfully submitted,

NEWS FROM STATE CAPITAL

New Gasoline Tax Law Will Require Dealers To Make Report of Gasoline Sold.

Montgomery.—Every retail dealer in gasoline and other motor fuel in Alabama will be required to render a statement of gasoline sold, to the state tax commission, under the law levying a tax of two cents a gallon on motor fuels. This opinion has been given the state tax commission by Harwell G. Davis, attorney general, in interpretation of the gasoline tax law.

The attorney general having been consulted as to ambiguities in the law.

The choice of words only will prevent retail dealers from avoiding the law. One section in defining persons involved in the act, stated that "The retail dealers shall include any person herein defined as 'distributor,' who is also engaged in the sale of gasoline as herein defined at any place in the state in broken quantities." If this was followed literally a retail dealer not engaged also in the business of distributing gasoline (wholesaling) would not be required to make reports and pay the tax to the tax commission.

But Attorney General Davis cited decisions of the court to show that the terms "shall include" does not exclude the general meaning of the word and that since the general meaning of retail dealer is a person who sells in broken quantities, retailers must make the report.

Acting under authority granted by the Brower bill which became a law in February the public service commission has issued a formal order for a revaluation of the property of the Mobile Gas Company and set the case for consideration March 12. Formal notice was given to the Mobile Gas Company by certified copies of the order.

The city commission of Mobile has voted to pay one third of the cost of revaluation. Work will be started without delay and the public service commission proposes to make a minute inquiry into all elements which are recognized by the law in the establishment of a valuation on the property of the company.

The Mobile Gas Company is resisting in the federal court the valuation of $1,700,000 placed by the former commission under an order for a reduction in rates, which was based on the valuation. The commission will seek to show the revaluation order has rendered the case in the federal court a moot one. The city commission of Mobile is interested in the revaluation because even if the previous order for a valuation of $1,700,000 should be sustained and the rates based on this valuation consumers of gas would be saved from $50,000 to $60,000 annually, according to the estimates.

With all members present the recess code committee has begun the work of reading and revising the draft of the state code prepared by Judge James J. Mayfield code commissioner. Sessions will be held on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday until the task has been completed and a report prepared for submission to the legislature at the adjourned session which will begin in July. Judge Hugh D. Merrill, speaker of the house, is chairman of the committee, Henry R. Howze, of Jefferson is vice chairman.

Will Blackman of Jefferson, negro convict, sentenced to death in 1918 for murder and whose sentence was commuted to life imprisonment by Governor Henderson, was killed by Sam Hardwick of Talladega county, short-time convict, at farm No. 4, Montgomery county, while the two engaged in a fist fight.

Copies of the general acts of the recent session of the legislature, in leaflet form, have been forwarded by Secretary of State S. H. Blan, by mail to all state and county officers, so that they may be able to observe the proper application of the newly enacted laws.

David Roberts, a trustee of the Montevallo Mining Company, has concluded negotiations with Governor Brandon and the state board of convict supervisors for the labor of state convicts.

No decision is expected to be rendered by the supreme court of Alabama on the Mobile port amendment question before April when they hold their regular session.

Jim Hundley, Calhoun county convict, sentenced to five years for manslaughter has been released on parole by Governor Brandon.

For the first time in many months there were fewer convicts in state prisons at the end of February than at the end of any other month. The total number imprisonment when the records closed for the month was 3,076, compared with 3,112 at the beginning of February.

All records of the capture of stills were broken by the state law enforcement during the shortest month of the year. The total for the month was 124 or two more than the less previous months.

Judge Reynolds on Cattle Dipping

Clanton, Ala., March 7, 1923.

Editor Union-Banner,
Clanton, Alabama.

Dear Sir:

Several weeks ago the Commissioners Court called a mass meeting of all the citizens of the county interested in cattle dipping. In response to this call citizens assembled from every precinct and community in the county, aggregating probably seven hundred people. The proposition was then put to the people relative to cattle dipping, and they agreed unanimously to leave the matter in the hands of the Commissioners Court to appoint inspectors to investigate the cattle of the county, and make arrangements to dip only the cattle that were tick infested, it being understood that no tick free cattle are to be dipped. The other matters as to building and replenishing vats were left in the hands of the inspectors to be appointed by the Commissioners Court and other details to better effectuate and complete this task once and for all.

The State and Federal men were here on that date and agreed to the proposition that the people assembled had submitted and also the Commissioners Court agreed to abide by their decision in the matter.

The Commissioners Court in furtherance of the plans as submitted has appointed Mr. W. G. Conway, inspector for the Northern part of the County, Mr. Wade Harris for the Western part of the County. These being the only portions of the county in which ticks are found. Mr. Lewis will represent the State.

Arrangements will be made in order that the cattle of the county may be shipped in a few days.

The Commissioners Court has simply yielded to the desires of the people in this matter as was submitted by them at the mass meeting spoken of, and the Court is hopeful that it may have the hearty co-operation of all the people. Let's hope no politics will creep into the matter and no prejudices will be raised as this will simply aid in delaying the business and costing the county unnecessary expense as it has already experienced. The mass meeting presented the plan and voted unanimously to support the project to which the State agreed and now we hope we will have the support of the county. There are ticks present only in Northern and Western part of the County, so let's all work together and be ready to assist in this work as we are able and dip the infested cattle, and get through with the business once and for all.

Respectfully,
L. H. REYNOLDS,
Judge of Probate.

The Drainage Meeting Wednesday Afternoon

As called by Dr. Gragg, Mayor or Clanton, a number of property owners assembled at the Court House Wednesday afternoon to consider the drainage proposition for the swamps around town.

Mr. J. M. Moore, State Commissioner of Agriculture, Mr. Hazelhurst of the State Board of Health and Dr. Griffis, a famous malaria expert were present and offered very valuable suggestions on the matter under consideration.

Time will not permit us to give a complete report of the meeting. We will do that next week.

But we can assure our readers that the meeting Wednesday was the beginning of our drainage. It is a sure go. Every property owner around here will be seen by a commitee right away. Let us rejoice, people. We have found the starting place from which Clanton is going on to greater things.

Read about it in The Union-Banner next week.

THE BIBLE

The Bible contains the mind of God, the state of man, the dome of sinners, the way of salvation and the happiness of believers. Its doctrines are holy, its precepts are binding, its histories are true, and its decisions are immutable. Read it to be wise, believe it to be safe, and practice it to be holy. It contains light to direct you, food to support you and comfort to cheer you. It is the traveler's map, the pilgrim's staff, the pilots compass, and the soldiers charter. Here paradise is restored, heaven opened, and the gates of hell disclosed. Christ is its grand subject, our good its design, and the glory of God its end. It should fill the memory, rule the heart, and guide the feet. Read it slowly, frequently, prayerfully. It is a mint of wealth a paradise of glory, and a river of pleasure. It is given you in life, will be open at the judgment, and be remembered forever. It involves the highest responsibility, rewards the greatest labor and condemns all who trifle with its holy contents.

Our departed friend and Brother, William Crawford Dickinson, was born July 12th, 1954, and departed this life February 28th, 1923. He married Miss Julia M. Faulkner, January 11th, 1880, and there were born to this happy marriage the following children: L. C. Dickinson, W. C. Dickinson, of Billingsley, Alabama, R. H. Dickinson, of Montgomery, Alabama, J. O. Dickinson, Scottsboro, Alabama, and Mrs. B. D. Colley, Enterprise, Alabama, all of whom together with his widow and a host of friends survive to mourn the loss of our esteemed friend and brother. Brother Dickinson was made a Mason June 7th, 1901.

Brother Dickinson was a true and tried Mason, church worker and loyal citizen. During his entire life in Chilton county, he devoted his time to his fellowman and his services for God and man, were prompted by that honesty of purpose and ruggedness of zeal which won for him admiration and respect from all those who knew him. And even till the time when his soul was wafted to those sublime celestial heights above, his life was characterized by that noble sacrificial and unselfish spirit, which has made his absence on this earth greatly felt.

Brother Dickinson was laid to rest with Masonic honors at Billingsley, Alabama, March 1st, 1923, with Century Lodge, No. 567, officiating together with a large number of visiting Masons where the last funeral rites were paid to this worthy brother. Reverend F. A. Gibson conducted the funeral services.

Therefore be it resolved, by this Lodge that in the death of Brother Dickinson, his family has lost a kind and affectionate husband and father and, that in this their great loss, and in this their hour of bereavement may their pangs of sorrow be ameliorated by the Divine thought, that he lived a life on this earth that was acceptable in the eyes of God, and now resides in those heights above where all is gladness. We extend to the bereaved widow and family our heartfelt sympathy and commend them to the Heavenly Father above who alone can ease the heart aches of this world.

Be it lastly resolved, that in the death of this esteemed Brother that Century Lodge has lost one of its most devout members, an honest man and Brother, a valuable citizen, whose life and character stands forth as a paragon of truth and goodness and whose precepts we can all follow with the assurance that we shall meet in that bourne from which no traveler ever returns and in that land where all good Masons hope at last to meet.

Respectfully submitted,
J. M. GAINES,
C. D. FOSHEE,
L. P. MILLS,

NEWS OF JEMISON

We take great pleasure this week in introducing the Town of Jemison to the readers of The Union-Banner. Our plans are to have a regular Jemison Department in the paper every week hereafter. Therefore we hope that your knowledge of this splendid little Chilton County Town will not terminate with this mere "meeting," but that you will grow into a pleasant acquaintance with Jemison and Jemison people as you read about them from week to week in The Union-Banner. We have obtained the partial consent of a very capable person in Jemison to write the news of the town for us every week. We expect to be able next week to announce the completion of our arrangement and continue this department under the management of this party, whose names will be announced upon final acceptance of our plans.

We feel that your acquaintance with the Town of Jemison should properly begin with a full knowledge of the Jemison High School—what the school is and what it is doing. This opinion as to the importance of the Jemison School has impressed itself upon us because during the past year we have observed a great awakening at Jemison insofar as school spirit is concerned. In fact it appears to us that Jemison has turned her attention in a large measure to the establishment of a school that is fully adequate for the needs of the community, believing that with the proper establishment of the school, all other things will naturally come to them.

At the beginning of the present school session last fall Jemison started out to make their school conform to the requirements of the state educational department for a fully accredited high school. To this end they began last year the erection of a handsome school building. The new building was not completed for the opening of the session, nor is it yet fully completed; but it has progressed far enough to be used to accommodate the school. The school plant was moved into the new building some time ago. All material for the completion of the building is now on the ground, and its various details will be worked out this summer so that it will be ready for business in its entirety at the beginning of the session next fall.

A recent visit was made to the school and the town of Jemison by a representative of the Superintendent of Secondary Education of Alabama. When he had fully taken in the situation at the school, and observed the splendid spirit of co-operation that exists between the faculty and students of the school and the citizens of the town, his verdict was at once rendered in favor of giving the Jemison High School a place on the list of accredited high schools of Alabama.

When the announcement was made that the School had been placed on this accredited list, the faculty and students took a half a day off from their work, and organized a parade to stage a great celebration of the event. In this they were joined by the citizens of the town, and the net result of the occasion was to make everybody in hollering distance of Jemison fully realize that something had happened of which everybody was mighty proud.

There are many things which are yet to be done by the school and the citizens who are backing it. Next year will see first of all the full completion of the building which will contain necessary class rooms for all work from primary grades to and through the eleventh grade of high school work. There will also be rooms for music, manual arts, domestic science, laboratory equipment, special work in biology and chemistry, farm experiment work on the seven-acre tract of land adjacent to the school building, and a nice library which has already begun with the collection of over 300 volumes of useful books. A large auditorium is to be erected as a wing of the new building which will be a splendid accommodation for Jemison as an assembly hall.

The principal of the school, Rev. Buford Lawrence, is highly pleased with the accomplishments that have been made possible by the splendid support he has received from the people of Jemison and surrounding community. He is assisted by the following members of his faculty: Prof. W. T. Edwards, Mrs. W. T. Edwards, Miss Jane Anderson, Miss John Lee Thacker, Miss Belle Hammonds, Miss Christine Johnson.

Miss Bertha Johnson is music director for the school. The school already has a splendid new piano, and when the building is completed the music department will be enlarged so as to more fully take care of that side of the school activity.

The school trustees are Monroe Hubbard, John Cooper and Sam Reynolds. These men, together with other citizens of the town and community, have been doing their part by the school, and the result is manifesting itself by the outward appearance of a school spirit that has never before been visible in Jemison.

There is a senior class of eight members who will graduate this year. They will be the first class ever turned out by the Jemison school with full high school credits for their work. The members of this class are Leonard Glass, Clayton Letcher, Seymour Reynolds, R. B. Johnson, Lera Glass, Sibyl Langston, Bettie Mae Reynolds, Rosalie Martin.

The success of this school marks a great victory for the people of Jemison, and they should congratulate themselves for it. To illustrate just what this victory means we will use a little story of an incident that happened, or a conversation that took place, when Prof. Lawrence first informed the state educational authorities that he was going to Jemison to help the people there build a high school.

The party to whom he was talking, a high educational official of the state, said to Mr. Lawrence: "You cannot do anything with a school at Jemison. The people there will not co-operate with you. They have not got the school spirit."

Mr. Lawrence did not lose faith with this discouragement. He took it good naturedly, believing that he had already seen evidences of a revival of educational spirit among the people of the community. He determined to push harder than ever, and informed the official that he believed the people of Jemison were of a mind to come out of their slumbers and have a good school.

Developments of this year have proved the wisdom of Prof. Lawrence's observations. He did not misjudge the people of Jemison. They have indeed won a victory by setting aside their slothfulness in educational matters, and taking upon themselves the spirit of progress. To win such a victory is worthy of the efforts of any people.

The editor of The Union-Banner spent a few hours in Jemison last Friday, and while there visited the school and a number of the business houses of the town. We found everybody in splendid spirits, enjoying a reasonably good business.

Messrs. W. A. Darby and H. T. Watkins, proprietors of the Darby Drug Company, are new people in Jemison. They came here last fall and bought out the drug store of Dr. McNeill. They state that they are well pleased with their new location. Their business is constantly growing. They have a nice store, carrying a full line of drugs, medicines, drug sundries, and in fact everything that is usually found in an up-to-date drug store of this day and time. They have a prescription department that is in charge of Mr. Watkins, who is himself a registered pharmacist.

Jemison is talking about the proposition now of getting some kind of electric light and power service in the town. They would like to hit upon some plan to get the Alabama Power Company to furnish them juice. The town should have this service. There are enough homes and business houses, and general users of electricity to make it worth while for the town. We hope they can get their wishes in this matter soon.

R. M. Hubbard was at his place of business as usual, ready to serve his customers. He says he is handling a good bit of fertilizer for the farmers around Jemison. He is well pleased with the prospects of the farmers this year for a good crop. He expressed some little fear that the farmers might go in too heavy on cotton.

Mrs. Lloyd Eagle has established a new store at Jemison, which is of particular interest to the ladies. She carries a full line of the latest creations in millinery. Her goods are neatly displayed in her store.

"Anything from a pound of butter to a one-eyed mule." That is the range of business that is being done by the Reynolds Mercantile Company, according to Herbert Wright. This big store, one of the largest in the county, is managed by Sam Reynolds, assisted by Mr. Wright. They handle fresh meats, shipping about two tons a week away from Jemison, as well as retailing from six to eight hundred pounds for local consumption. A general line of merchandise is carried, including dry goods, notions, groceries, hardware, furniture, farm implements, produce bought and sold, wagons and buggies. According to Mr. Wright, you can either sell or buy at their place, anything that you might happen to have or anything that you might want.

The Jemison Lumber Company is a new business that has been recently started by Bill Goodgame and Will Duke. They operate a planing mill, turning out all kinds of finished lumber, moulding, building material, etc. In connection with their plant they have just installed a large steam dry kiln, which enables them to furnish a fine quality of lumber for the markets. They buy lumber from local mill men around Jemison, and after putting the finishing touches on it, place same on the markets of the country. They do a wholesale and retail business in both rough and finished lumber.

Mr. S. P. Shaw says "You can tell the people of Chilton county that we are still here, and are preparing to have better facilities than ever before for ginning cotton next season." Mr. Shaw, with his brother, C. N. Shaw, operates the Shaw Brothers Gin and Warehouse. They will move their warehouse this summer to a location near their gin, thus making it easier for them to handle the cotton that is brought to them.

George Collum, one of the livest little hustlers you ever ran across in your life, was busy as a bee in a tar bucket waiting on the farmers who were dropping into his place buying various things with which to start their farming operations. George is running the business that was established by his father, B. E. Collum, and is making a splendid success of the same. In addition to his retail trade, he carries on a jobbing business, whereby he puts out lots of goods to the little country merchants all over the northern part of the county. He handles everything that is usually found in a general store. He buys cotton during the marketing season, having handled something over 700 bales last year.

While in Jemison we noticed a number of new homes being built. Upon inquiry we found that they were the property of J. F. Wells, Proctor Nix, and N. Duffey.

The Jemison Hardware Company is a well established business that is owned and operated by C. C. Conway and J. A. Sims. These men are the pioneers of the hardware business in Jemison. They have built a substantial business, handling a general line of hardware, building material, automobile supplies, etc. They are making a special offer now to their customers in appreciation of the splendid trade that has been accorded them, whereby somebody will be given free on May 19th, a fine Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet. A chance on this cabinet is given to each person who spends a dollar at their store.

Mr. D. L. Langston of the Jemison Cash Store was busy when we called on him. A glance at his store made a good impression on us, as it was neat and well arranged, crowded to the gunnels with a fine line of nice merchandise of all kinds. He handles all kinds of dry goods, nice dress fabrics and millinery. He stated that he is well pleased with the future prospects of business.

Probably the oldest business house in Chilton county is the general store of A. J. Atkinson at Jemison. He stated when we visited his store that he had been in business there for forty years. That is a record that is not attained by very many business houses. We are sure that Mr. Atkinson and his store have a very splendid and substantial record. The 40-year life of the buhiness in the same location bears testimony to this fact.

We called to see Lucien Bean at the Farmers Hardware Company; but he was out for a few minutes. Later we found him on the street just as we were leaving town. Mr. Bean has a nice hardware business which he established two or three years ago. He is enjoying a splendid trade, carrying a general line of hardware, building material, roofing, etc.

Mr. J. D. Cooper is another substantial citizen and business men who has been doing business in Jemison for many years. He was at his store ready to serve his customers.

The Langston Drug Company is still doing business at the same stand where they have been for several years. The store is in charge of Mr. Jim Langston.

There are several other stores in Jemison which we did not have a chance to call on, owing to the fact that our visit was a little hurried. We hope to have something to say about them in this department of The Union-Banner at a later date.

Mr. W. J. Northcutt, the blacksmith, was seen on the streets of Jemison while we were there. He is still doing business at the same place, we presume, although we did not get to talk to him.

The editor of The Union-Banner wishes to make special note of the courtesy extended to us by Uncle Tom Hubbard while in Jemison. Everybody knows Uncle Tom; and his fame as a good old congenial and accommodating friend is known wherever he is known. He is living in Jemison with his children now; but says he is liable to go back to his old home place any time the notion strikes him. One of his daughters said that Uncle Tom had become so attached to "City ways" that he could not be induced to move back to the country, but we are inclined to think that she realizes the uncertainty of his residence in town. We enjoyed having dinner with this good old friend at his home, and most heartily appreciate his courtesy.

Another good "old timer" whom we met while in Jemison was Mr. Y. O. Freeman. In fact Mr. Freeman and Uncle Tom Hubbard kindly "took up" with us, and started to come back home with us; but when we stopped in Thorsby they skipped, and we have not seen them since.

Mr. W. C. Erwin was at his post in the depot, holding down the job as station agent and telegraph operator.

Government officials who are engaged in the crusade for the suppression of the trade in narcotics have appealed to the medical profession for help. They'd get quicker results if they could induce judges to discontinue fines and impose the limit of punishment in the form of imprisonment.

Banquet Given By Lumber Dealers

A get-together dinner was given Saturday night by the heads of Reynolds Brothers Lumber and Manufacturing Company to wholesale lumber men as well as bankers and other business friends of the city at the private dining room of the Tutwiler Hotel, Birmingham, celebrating two years successful operation of the business, and to express the appreciation of the two brothers and their associates to their local business friends. It proved a delightful affair.

Judge L. H. Reynolds, of Clanton, probate judge of Chilton county, acted as toastmaster and called on practically everyone present for some remarks or other contribution to the entertainment of the company.

Among those responding with short talks were the following heads of their respective firms: Sam C. King, president of the Bank of Ensley; T. H. Johnson, American Lumber and Export Company; C. G. Duffee, Duffee Lumber Company; J. J. Laumer, Laumer Lumber Company; J. F. Watson, Birmingham Sash and Door Company; H. C. Bar Association Passes Resolutions in Memory of Bosworth

At a meeting of the Jay County Bar Association, Indiana, Friday, the following resolutions were passed in memory of Thomas Bosworth, former well known attorney and member of the bar, who died at Thorsby, Ala., last Sunday and whose funeral was held from the Liber church, Friday afternoon:

"Thomas Bosworth was born in Jay county, Indiana, on July 31, 1836. He was the son of Jacob and Nancy (Westlake) Bosworth, who settled in this county shortly before the county was organized, and who came from Massachusetts.

"He was educated in the common schools of the county and at Liber College, and received a very good English education for that period, and for a number of years engaged in school teaching, and was elected school examiner of the county.

"In July, 1861, he enlisted as a private in Company C, 39th Indiana Infantry, which was the first Jay county command to be mustered into the service and sent to the front. This regiment saw much hard service, under the command of Gen. George H .Thomas, and the battles of Shiloh, Tennessee, Bridge Creek, Mississippi, Dry Bridge, Kentucky, Middleton (twice), Liberty Gap, Dechard's Ford, all in Tennessee, Davis' Cross Roads, Chicamauga, Tunnell Hill, Nick Jack Gap, Stony Face Point, in Georgia, were among the engagements it participated in. He served the full period of his enlistment, three years, with this command, and was a corporal at the time the regiment was mustered out.

"He studied law with the late John W. Headington, was admitted to the Bar of Jay county, in 1873, and practiced his profession until 1896.

"Mr. Bosworth was a lawyer of high order of ability, and was an honor to the profession, bringing to the service of his clients a strong and well cultured intellect, sterling integrity, and a fearless devotion to duty. He was a man of great moral courage, who never feared openly to advocate what his judgment and conscience told him was right. His habits of life were moulded and fashioned by the moral precepts and practices of his Christian parents and his conduct a wholesome and beneficient example to others. He sought not the applause of the multitude nor "salutations in the market place," but guided his course in all things by his own sense of right. Had he been more circumspect and less forthright, he might and doubtless would have arisen high in the councils of his party and his state and been called to those honors which his ability and worth so richly merited, but he would not have been himself. As teacher, school examiner, soldier, lawyer, and citizen he fulfilled each duty with conscientious desire always to be right, never slighting an obligation or evading a responsibility, but giving to all his work the best efforts of a courageous, true and constant spirit. Our past associations with him at the Bar of this Court will ever be recalled with interest and pleasure.

HOW NEWSPAPERS HELP

The newspaper starts in
When you are born;
Relates about your excellence
And tells about your sweetness.
It follows you to school,
And prints the honor roll
If your name is found there.
It tells of your graduation
And speaks of the excellence
Of your magnificent essay;
It tells of your progress
During your college career
And then dilates much about
The choice of your location.
Then it gives a nice notice
About your marriage
And praises up the blushing bride,
Till her kinsfolk don't know her,
Then, in due course of events
It tells about the bouncing baby
That happens in your family—
Thereby beginning its life work
All over and over again.
The newspaper does all this
And it does also much more.
It tells of the progress
Made by city and county
And boosts all enterprises;
Gives free advertising
Worth thousands of dollars
To its own home town.
There are scads of things
That all good newspapers do
For which they cannot be paid.
That is why every citizen
Should do his darndest
To support the newspaper
In every possible way
And all the time.
Yassum.
I thank you.—Palatka (Fla.) News.

Through the courtesy of Mr. E. C. Brooks, of Raleigh, North Carolina, who is Superintendent of Education of that State, we have collected some bits of information regarding Consolidated Schools, that we believe will be of interest to those among our readers who have any interest in improving educational facilities for the children of Thorsby and adjacent school districts.

The number of children transported to Consolidated Schools in North Carolina, increased from 150 in 1915 to 7936 in the fall of 1920 and approximately 10,000 last fall.

"The progressive farmers of North Carolina are now realizing with the farmers of other progressive states, that a really efficient country school cannot be built up within walking distance of the pupils."

Given the initiative in Massachusetts in 1874 this movement has extended from Maine and Vermont on the north, to California and Oregon on the west, and to Louisiana and Florida on the south, embracing within its scope more than thirty-two states. Thus it will be seen that the matter is not an untried scheme, but a time tried and most approved method for country schools.

Enough such schools have bene organized in Alabama and even in Chliton county to demonstrate that the State has already provided the machinery for such organization, where the people want it.

"The typical Consolidated School and the School Truck, make possible for the country child, a country school, equal in every respect to the best city schools, yet within reach of the farm house. No other system has been tried or even proposed that can accomplish this or guarantee to the country child the same educational advantages that are offered to the city child without taking him out of his home and to the city."

The inevitable consequences arising from a small unit of population, too small to vitalize the school makes school spirit feeble, and ambitious country boys and girls anxious to get away from it and go to the city to live.

What is IN The Bag?

A fertilizer may contain just the right elements of plant food, in just the right proportions, for your soil and the crop you want to grow.

BUT—is each element in such a form of availability that the plant is able to use it at the right time and over the proper period of growth? Are the three different elements thoroughly mixed? Chemically blended? Or, will one plant starve for lack of one essential element, and another be "gorged" with the second?

Since you can't see quality in fertilizers and must buy them on faith, your best guide is the reputation, experience and facilities of the people who make them.

"A A Quality Fertilizers have behind them the largest manufacturing organization and are supported by the experience of leaders in the industry.

No man need ever guess what's in the bag if the brand is "A A." It contains maximum fertilizer efficiency.

Mother To-Be!

Do You Realize this Fact?

AN eminent physician has shown why there is so much useless suffering on the part of many expectant mothers, for months before baby comes, as well as when baby actually arrives. This same great doctor found the way to avoid much of this suffering. Mother, your baby's nerves, its whole structure should be free from any influence caused by your months of useless misery and pain. You yourself can be free from much of it. Here is a little message to all expectant mothers:

Mrs. Ida Milton, 108 N. Tremont St., Kansas, Ill., says: "I am forced to say something in regard to your wonderful 'Mother's Friend.' Just one application gave me such relief I could hardly realize I was in pregnancy. Before I used it I was suffering with pains all over, and today, I am able to do my house-work with all ease and without pain."

"Mother's Friend" is applied externally, and enables the muscles, nerves and tissues to relax and readjust themselves with the growing changes during pregnancy, and at child-birth. It should be used for some time before baby comes—the sooner the better.

"Mother's Friend" contains no narcotics or harmful drugs. It is safe. For three generations "Mother's Friend" has relieved expectant mothers of much useless suffering. Mother! you must avoid mere greases and useless substitutes. Begin using "Mother's Friend" today. It is sold at drug stores—everywhere.

Hill Addresses Boll Weevil Conference

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 26.—One of the most interesting and enlightening speeches at the recent boll weevil conference here, was the talk by L. D. Hill, the practical Georgia farmer whose boll weevil poison, "Hill's Mixture" is the sensation of the cotton growing South. Mr. Hill's address follows:

Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen:

I am not a speaker, only a farmer and a business-man, therefore I will have to ask your permission to read my little message to this assembly, instead of attempting a speech.

In 1916 the Boll Weevil appeared in Burke county on one of my plantations and I immediately began to investigate the methods then in use for the eradication and control of the weevil.

Upon making these investigations, I found that the methods advocated at that time were so unsatisfactory and expensive, that I decided to see if I could not originate something that would fit my conditions better than the methods then in use.

I made very pains-taking investigations in Alabama, and later on the weevil became prevalent in my home county, and I had better opportunity to watch, day and night, the methods then advocated by our Federal Department of Agriculture.

Feeling that these methods were too expensive, and required such an outlay of capital, mules and labor, that the prices obtained from cotton that could be raised under boll weevil conditions would not compensate the farmer for the expense, therefore, through my knowledge of the cotton plant, and my continued study of the habits of the weevil, day and night, I conceived the idea of making a poison that could be applied in the day time, without the use of machinery, without the use of mules, and with labor that could not be used profitably for the cultivation of the crop. In other words, I tried to work out a proposition by which to use the children, profitably on each farm, thereby husbanding my resources in labor, so that my crops could be profitably cultivated.

My first preparation was worked out by the use of a poison that I found out, after completion of this preparation that there was not enough of it in the United States to use commercially. Therefore, I had to turn this poison to Calcium Arsenate which I used as a basis for my poison.

My first method is known all over the South as "Hill's Molasses Mixture" and this is the preparation which Mr. E. R. Coker, of Hartsville, S. C., is now selling and advertising.

This formula was sent to Mr. Coker by myself, through his Superintendent, Mr. R. H. Bass, in the hope that it might do him some good, but later on I found that this mixture was only effective early in the season, and when the cotton began to bloom that the boll weevil left the molasses mixture and turned to its natural food, which is the pollen of the cotton blossom.

After finding out that this preparation would not carry the crop through to maturity, I began to develop a preparation that would contain the taste and aroma of the cotton blossom, and after an expenditure of thousands of dollars, and much time, this preparation was perfected, and is now used, and is known all over the South as "Hill's Mixture."

In the originating of calcium arsenate, Dr. R. B. Code of the Delta Laboratory, has made a lasting contribution to the Cotton World, and he will go down in history as one of the greatest benefactors of the human race for the invention of this article, as it is today used as the sole basis for every known poison that is being used for the control and eradication of the weevil.

Besides having originated what I consider the most effective remedy for the control of the weevil, I have also figured out a plan that I think, when the cotton world finds out it is feasible, will be adopted for the total eradication of the Cotton Boll Weevil, which is to eliminate 19-20's of the cotton crop in the early fall by plowing up the stalks. This will assemble the weevil upon the 1-20 that is left growing, and they can be very easily and inexpensively poisoned, as it will only require 1-20 of the poison and labor to poison them under the above plan, and by this method they will be reduced to a minimum before they go into winter quarters, and then, by the use of my mixture early in the spring, when the weevils begin to emerge, they will be either reduced to a minimum, or totally destroyed.

The year 1923 is going to be the most trying year in the history of cotton production. The farmers in the cotton belt are financially crippled, and many of them have lost largely of their negro labor, and they cannot work and produce a full crop of cotton, even if we had normal conditions and the weevil was totally eliminated.

Then, in addition to the above, we have this one fact staring us in the face; that there is not enough calcium arsenate in the United States, today, to protect 1-30 of the cotton crop.

There is one other thing I want to call especial attention to, which is that no protective method now, or to be invented, will ever produce one boll of cotton, and that the farmer must produce cotton by proper preparation, intelligent cultivation and fertilization.

Protective methods are only used to protect the fruit of the plant against its deadly enemy, known as the Boll Weevil.

In conclusion, I want to say to this assembly, and its Chairman, that I have a little organization that I have been rounding and educating, for the last five years, in studying out the habits of the weevil, and the methods to control him, and that this little organization can be useful in the undertaking that is now being put on, which is not only a national one, but an international one. The services of this organization, are at the command of the proper authority.

In conclusion, gentlemen, I will say that it will be a pleasure to me to have anyone that is interested in the welfare of the cotton industry, to visit Burke county, my home county, and where I am now, and have been, known since my childhood, and see the actual results that have been obtained by the use of what is known as Hill's Mixture, and it will do you good to see the farmers that were two years ago utterly discouraged, buying new mules, cleaning up ditch banks and hedge rows, re-shingling houses, and going to work with that spirit of confidence that is born of the knowledge that they can accomplish the purpose for which they are working, which is the profitable production of cotton under boll weevil conditions. The basis of the hopes of the planters in Burke county for the year 1923, is placed solely upon the protection that they know from experience and observation they have had for three years, that Hill's Mixture will take care of the fruit that they are able to put on a cotton plant by proper cultivation and ferilizing methods.

Cox is Elated Over Big Gain

Declares Tanlac Ended Stomach Trouble and Built Him Up 25 Pounds.

M. E. Cox, of Hapeville, Ga., valued employee of a large Oakland City manufacturing concern, is still another who declares he has found the Tanlac treatment a safe and sure road to health, strength and working efficiency. In telling his experience he said recently:

"For three years I suffered from stomach trouble and was in an awful run-down condition. I had indigestion so bad I could not eat anything but what it caused the worst of pains in my stomach. My nerves were all undone, and altogether I got no rest day or night, and could do no work.

"When I started on Tanlac I weighed a hundred and twenty pounds, but now I tip the scales at a hundred and forty-five, a gain of twenty-five pounds. After taking seven bottles of Tanlac I am sound and well, working steady every day, and I am glad to make a statement for the good it might do others.

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Take no substitute. Over 35 million bottles sold.

Walter Poole's Chicken Farm

It seems that the poultry business in Chilton county is getting to be quite extensive. This fact is evidenced by the chicken farm which Mr. Walter M. Poole has just established on his place near Clanton. Mr. Poole proposes to raise thoroughbred White Leghorns, and says he will keep the pedigree of his chickens straight.

Extensive facilities have been provided for this work, and he now has about 120 of the above named fowls. From these, Mr. Poole says, he gets on an average of about 55 eggs per day. And this average is not just for a season but continues the whole year around.

There is no reason why the poultry business cannot be made to pay, as Dr. Mastin and his sons have been running a large chicken farm a few miles north of town for several years and they report it a very profitable business.

PROMINENT CITIZEN SHOT THRU WINDOW

J. Tom Jones, Prominent Farmer, Was Shot With .22 Rifle From Unknown Hand on Last Sunday Night.

Early Sunday night hundreds of residents of Clanton and nearby territory were severely shocked when news was scattered that J. Tom Jones, farmer, living two miles north of Clanton, had been shot and killed. The Sheriff's forces were called and came at once to make investigations. Inside of a few minutes after the shooting occurred a large number of men were on the scene investigating the surroundings and trying to get some clew as to the party commiting the atrocious act. Reports say that tracks were traced in the yard and around the house but led immediately into the public road and could be traced no further. As yet no veritable clew has been established as to the guilty hand.

On Monday morning at 10 o'clock a coroner's inquest was held over the body, which resulted in a verdict of death from an unknown hand. Justice of the Peace, J. L. Wilson acted as coroner, and the following citizens were jurors: W. S. Willis, W. E. Maddox, John VanDerveer, Roy Foshee, Jeff Ruffin and Lee Wells.

Mr. Jones was in his room holding his baby and peddling the organ for the little one to play when the shot was fired through a window a few feet from him. He turned to his wife and asked, "What was that," and fell on his face lifeless.

The deceased was 52 years old, the son of E. Jones, who lives a mile north of Clanton. He has three brothers, Rube Jones, Bud Jones and Robert Jones, and one brother dead. There are four sisters, all living. He leaves a wife and ten children, seven from his first wife who died several years ago and three from his present wife.

The remains were laid to rest in Jackson's Chapel Cemetery in the presence of a great host of friends on Monday afternoon. Rev. M. J. Parrish preached the funeral.

More Building In Clanton

We notice that there is quite a boom in the building of residences now in the Gowan Addition to Clanton. There are some half a dozen bungalows contracted for, and about half of them are now under construction. Four of these, we are informed, will be small four-room houses, while two are to be larger ones. These buildings are being erected by the Lyman Lumber Company, and Messrs. Jim Huckabee and Emmett Singleton have the contract for the building in charge.

Clanton now has on the biggest building campaign that it has ever had, and we are proud to say that this time it is mostly in the residence sections. For several years there has been an urgent demand for more residences in Clanton, and lots of times people have come here with the idea of locating, and have been forced away on account of not being able to get a house to live in. But we believe this demand will be adequately supplied when the residences now under consrtuction are finished.

Go To Sunday School April 8th

Whereas, the only hope for civilization lies in the knowledge and application of the principles of Christian religion and Christian ideals can best be made dominant in life and character through the Christian nurture and training of childhood and youth and no educational system can produce the highest type of character and citizenship without religious training, and

Whereas, the appalling prevalence of crime and the disregard for law in this Commonwealth and even among the youth make it imperative that a greater influence should be used to bring about the right motivation of the rising generation, and

Whereas, the State should provide an efficient system of general education, the church likewise must provide an efficient system of religious education. Such a plan in no wise interferes with religious liberty. In our great State there are more than a quarter million boys and girls of the school age receiving no definite religious training, growing up in superstition and ignorance, which tends to crime. In order to give these boys and girls an opportunity and make Alabama a righteous State they must be taught religion. The Sunday school is the factory of the church for this training and every boy and girl in the State in their respective churches and organization should be given an opportunity through the Sunday schools for this religious training, and we can well afford to set apart in each year a special Sunday for the purpose of arousing greater interest and enthusiasm in the Sunday school in the State should appoint committees and visit families and bring into the Sunday school those who are not now being trained in a religious way, in order to bring about a better condition and more interest, in religious training.

Now, Therefore, I, William W. Brandon, Governor of the State of Alabama, do hereby proclaim Sunday, April the 8th as a state-wide go to Sunday school and stay for church day and call upon the press and the people of the State to observe this day set apart especially for creating a better sentiment and bringing into the Sunday schools every child within the borders of this Commonwealth. All pastors and religious workers of all denominations and creeds are asked to join their respective denominations in making state-wide go to Sunday school and stay for church day a red letter day for stressing the importance of religious training. The boy of today is the citizen of tomorrow and every influence should be brought to bear to bring him into closer relation with any movement that tends to give him religious training.

I urge the pastors throughout the State to preach on the need of an adequate program of religious education on the above day to the end that in this State we may have a better citizenship, a more consecrated people, thereby diminishing crime and creating a greater respect for law. It is urged that those in charge of the Sunday schools in this State use their energies for the upbuilding of our citizenship and the moulding of Christian character of those who are to be the leaders of the future.

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed at the Capitol in the City of Montgomery, on this the 9th day of March, 1923. Wm. W. BRANDON, Governor.

By the Governor:
S. H. BLAN,
Secretary of State.

The High School to Have Entertainments

Beginning next Friday night the high school will put on a series of entertainments before making final preparations for the commencement season in May. The series will open with a negro minstrel staged by the boys of the school. If you do not relish a little fun now and then, if you do not believe that variety is the spice of life, if you do not want to laugh until your sides burst, you are invited to remain at home. A small admission fee will be charged. The funds are to be used for the purchase of equipment for the baseball team.

The annual champion debate between the Tutwiler and Lanierian Literary Societies will be held Friday night, March 23rd. The subject for discussion is "Resolved that the Moving Picture Theatre as now conducted is Beneficial to the Public." The program will be interspersed with spirited songs and yells. Next week's paper will carry a full program for this occasion. Contests will be held at the same time in readings, declamations, etc.

The annual senior play will be staged Thursday evening, March 29. The senior class outnumbers the class of last year by ten members. They are putting forth every effort to make their play in keeping with the splendid literary record made so far this year. Since the opening of school they have set the pace for other classes in scholarship, a higher per cent having made the honor rolls from month to month than any other class.

These ultra-curriculum activities deserve a very important place in the educational development of our boys and girls and much emphasis is placed on same. You are cordially invited to attend any or all of those entertainments.

Economy Begins First at Home

In an interview at the close of his administration of the Department of the Interior, Secretary Fall illustrated the difficulty of solving some governmental problems by telling of his experience with a man who had given considerable thought to public questions. This man had spent six months trying to frame up a plan to rehabilitate international finance and had wound up with the firm resolution to use five gallons less of gas a week.

There is a wealth of wisdom in that illustration. Many a man has stood on a box on the street corner complaining of the industrial ills of the nation and striving to teach his hearers the fundamental principles of economies when he could have done far more to help the world and his own country by taking off his coat and going to work at some useful occupation. Many people complain of the heavy burden of taxation when the taxes imposed by national, State and local governments are inconsiderable as compared with the taxes they impose upon themselves for luxuries, many of which are needless and others perhaps harmful. The man who resolves to use five gallons less of gas per week undoubtedly did more to solve the economic problems of the country than he could have done by publishing the results of his six months' study of the subject in the abstract.

Consumption of gasoline is but one item in our great program of extravagance and wastefulness. It sometimes seems as though the world has gone mad in its search for pleasure, for new thrills, for new methods of trying to outdo our neighbors in the gratification of vanity. What the people of this country need more than they need anything else is self-instruction and self-discipline in the matter of needless expenditures, and the adoption in practice of the idea advanced by the gentleman mentioned by Secretary Fall who decided to do his part in rehabilitating the finances of the world by cutting down his consumption of gas five gallons per week.

Marion Gore's Building Is Nearing Completion

The second story which Mr. M. A. Gore is putting on his feed store on Sixth Street and Second Avenue is now about ready for the roof. Farley Brothers and West Danforth have rushed this job to a finish. Record time has been made all during the work. If agreeable weather is had the second story will be ready for occupancy in a few days now.

The large brick building being constructed by Mr. Wade on Main street is just about completed, and when the finishing touches are put on, which will be in a short time, it will be occupied by Mr. Wyatt's Garage and storage for cars.

The two-story building of Mr. G. C. Walker, at the Miss Muse old stand is being finished this week, and the ground floor will be occupied by Mr. Tom Parrish, who is putting in an up-to-date general merchandise store. The second story of this building is being arranged for offices, part of which will be occupied by Mr. Walker for his law offices.

Major Achievements of Congress

Washington, March 12, 1923.—No other Congress in American history has accomplished so much as that which recently adjourned. Taking the record of Congress, together with that of the executive departments, this Republican administration has to its credit in the first two years of its incumbency the following major achievements:

Termination of the Democratic deflation by reviving the War Finance Corporation, liberalizing credits and increasing the funds of the Farm Loan Board.

Repeal of some Federal taxes and reduction of others, thus lessening the tax burden about one billion dollars annually.

Negotiation of the treaties settling controversies in the Pacific and providing for limitation of armaments.

Enactment of a tariff law protecting American industry against destructive competition yet promoting both imports and exports.

Funding of the British debt on terms satisfactory to both Great Britain and America, and stabilizing world finance.

Restriction of immigration to a 3 per cent basis, shutting out hundreds of thousands of undesiarbles.

Ratification of the Colombian Treaty terminating a controversy between Colombia and the United States.

Reduction of the army to 125,000 enlisted men and the navy to 86,000.

Authorization of appointment of twenty-four additional Federal Judges to relieve congestion in the Federal Courts.

Enactment of the Maternity law which is expected to result in saving the lives of 30,000 infants annually.

Enactment of legislation controlling speculation in grain.

Market value of Liberty Bonds brought approximately to par.

Deficit in the Postoffice Department reduced fifty per cent.

DRAINAGE PROJECT IS IN PROGRESS NOW

Property Owners Will Be Called Upon With Petition in the Next Few Days By Local Men.

The preliminary work necessary to the organization of the drainage project in the swamps around Clanton is moving forward steadily and surely. The ground work was thoroughly mapped out at the meeting last week under the direction of Hon. J. M. Moore, the State Commissioner of Agriculture.

When Mr. Moore went back to Montgomery he prepared all the necessary papers to start the ball to rolling, and has already sent them back to Mr. Fox, the local chairman of the movement. Mr. Fox has placed the petition in the hands of parties who agreed to see the land owners and secure their signatures, and this work is now in progress. Within the next week it is planned to see in person every man who has land in these swamps and give him a chance to sign the petition asking for the establishment of the drainage district.

The men who are carrying the petition around are also prepared to explain all the details of the way and manner in which the law prescribes this drainage work, so that every man who has property in the swamps may be fully acquainted with the matter in which it is proposed to engage.

All of this matter has to be done under compliance with a law in Alabama providing for such processes. The legal matters will be looked after by a local lawyer, in connection with Hon. W. W. Monroe, an attorney of Fayette, who has already had the experience of organizing one large drainage project which is now under construction. Mr. Monroe is well known in Clanton, having been a citizen of our town for four years. He will no doubt be of much service to us in this matter by virtue of his experience, and his help is duly appreciated.

We urge the men who own land in these swamps to co-operate in this movement, as it means everything to the future progress and development of this part of the country.

The proposed area to be drained starts on Pole Bridge Creek at the west line of Jodie Mim's land; on Goose Pond Creek at the east line of the Trav Headley place near Liberty Hill Church; thence down the above named creeks to their junction, which junction forms Walnut Creek on the eastern borders of the City of Clanton, thence down Walnut Creek to the old Dake Mill place. Then there will be lateral ditches to take in the lands up Black Snake Creek and Hurricane Creek, and other tributaries of the main creeks.

A STANDARD OF LIVING

As the old fellow said when first saw a giraffe: "There ain't no such animile." There is no real standard of American living.

Most of us live right up to the limit of our incomes. Some go even beyond and land in debt—sometimes in jail. Those who earn much, spend it, and those who earn little, spend what they have. High prices intoxicated most folks and they started right out to paint the town a ruby red and show 'em all how real guys could separate themselves from their coin. Queer Feelings

"Some time ago, I was very irregular," writes Mrs. Cora Robie, of Pikeville, Ky. "I suffered a great deal, and knew I must do something for this condition. I suffered mostly with my back and a weakness in my limbs. I would have dreadful headaches. I had hot flashes and very queer feelings, and oh, how my head hurt! I read of and of others, who seemed to have the same troubles I had, being benefited, so I began to use it. I found it most beneficial. I took several bottles .... and was made so much better I didn't have any more trouble of this kind. It regulated me."

Cardui has been found very helpful in the correction of many cases of painful female disorders, such as Mrs. Robie mentions above. If you suffer as she did, take Cardui—a purely vegetable, medicinal tonic, in use for more than 40 years. It should help you.

Parent-Teachers' Association Meet

The Clanton Parent-Teachers' Association met last Friday afternoon. If you were not there you missed a real treat. A special program was arranged for Fathers Day. We regret that so few of the fathers were present. The program was interesting, the spirit of the association was lively, and the time was altogether profitable. Better try to be with us on the 13th of April to find out what we are doing.

No one could attend that meeting and say that the Parent-Teachers' Association is dead. Enthusiasm was bubbling over. Everybody seemed to be full of it. Come next time and get filled with the common zeal for the good of the children. Again I tell you the schools are your schools and you ought to come around and see what we are doing. If you had eight persons working in your mercantile business nine months in the year do you think you would be too busy to go around to see what they were doing? You have eight workers at the Elementary school alone and I dare say some of you never have been to see what is being done. We want you to come to see us. If you like what we are doing, we are just human beings like other people and appreciate your telling us you like our effort. "Don't wait until we are dead, to place a wreath upon our head." If you don't like us tell us, not your neighbor.

No report of this meeting would be complete without praising the work of the social committee. Mrs. Jasper Calloway, Mrs. Nix, and Mrs. Heard; the mention of these names is sufficient to convince you; had charge of the social period. They are never known to fail in duty and their efforts Friday bear conclusive evidence of their ability. Delicious refreshments were served to the largest crowd of the year.

Hoping that some of you people who were not present at this meeting will make it a point of order to be on hand at our next gathering, I am,

Respectfully,
IRA PEGUES, Supt.

Kill the Hawk and Save the Partridge

I. T. Quinn, Commissioner of Conservation, declares that the hawk family is one of the most destructive agencies to the partridge (bob-white quail), and has designated March 26th-31st as anti-hawk week in the State of Alabama.

He appeals to every citizen of the State who owns a gun to kill at least one hawk during the last week of March, and report to the State Department of Conservation at Montgomery.

Anti-Hawk Week should appeal to every sportsman in the State. It should appeal to every farmer who has chickens on his farm.

Every sportsmen's Club in the State should organize a drive against the hawk during this particular week. It will be great fun. The season is closed on all game, save the wild turkey gobbler, and the sportsmen should enjoy this opportunity of another day or so afield.

Every hawk you kill may save a covey of quail. Save the Quail!

Cotton is now selling at the highest price in two years. Yet the South will not give the Republican party one whit of credit for improved conditions.

Before Baby Comes

THERE are thousands of expectant mothers who undergo much useless suffering for months before, as well as at the moment when delivery occurs. These months of suffering, with nerves and vital organs weakened, leave their effect upon the child. An eminent physician found the way to stop much of this unnecessary suffering—the same easy way which thousands of mothers have used for three generations.

Mrs. Walter S. Hadley, Bridgeport, Ind., says: "Before my little boy came I was so paralyzed in my hips and limbs I could hardly walk, and some days after a little extra exertion I couldn't walk a step. I felt it coming on this time; in fact, I could hardly get up when I sat down, but now, after using one bottle of Mother's Friend, I am so much better. I feel that I almost owe my life to Mother's Friend."

"Mother's Friend" is applied externally to the abdomen, back and hips. It penetrates remarkably, permitting the easier relaxation and distension of muscles, nerves, tissues and ligaments, and their constant easier readjustment during expectancy and at child-birth. Have no more fear or dread, mother! Start using "Mother's Friend" now—the sooner the better.

Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says: "With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse, and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used Mother's Friend and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor, because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes."

"Mother's Friend" contains no narcotics or harmful drugs. It is safe. For three generations "Mother's Friend" has relieved expectant mothers of much useless suffering. Mother! you must avoid mere greases and useless substitutes. Begin using "Mother's Friend" today. It is sold at drug stores—everywhere.

Every Trace of Flu Disappears

"I have reaped such great benefits from taking Tanlac that I can tell the world it is a truly wonderful medicine," recently declared A. W. Wheeless, 185 Peachtree St., Atlanta, Ga., special representative of the Wright, Co., dealers in hotel equipment.

Then in this run-down state, I was stricken with 'flu' and it left me in a very critical condition. I had no appetite, could not digest properly the little I did eat, and was too nervous to sleep.

"Hearing of Tanlac through some friends I concluded to test it for myself. It ended my indigestion, built me up eighteen pounds, and ever since it set me right I have enjoyed excellent health. I gladly recommend the treatment, not only for what it has done for me, but also for the good it has done a number of my friends and relatives."

"Drainage" is the slogan now. Don't forget it. Tell it; talk it; sing it; pray it; DO IT, and DO IT NOW.

Mr. Fox says he doesn't mind to hear the mosquitoes sing; but what gets his goat is when they kneel down to prey.

Is it good business to buy land worth $100 per acre for the price of ten dollars an acre? If you think so, then put your swamp lands in the drainage district.

Wouldn't you like to know that one more summer will be all that you will have to dread the mosquitoes in Clanton? If so, you will sign your name to the drainage petition when it is presented to you within the next week.

The cord that is binding the future development and progress of Clanton and the surrounding communities is the vast area of swamp lands on every side. Let us cut loose that cord now. There will never be a better time to do it.

Hurrah for the United Farmers of America. We knew they would be heard from before long. They have taken up the canning factory proposition; and we predict that they will make a howling success of it in less time than it takes to tell it.

Let everybody get up behind this drainage project now and put it over before we quit. We have behind us the "daddy" of the drainage business in Alabama; and he can be trusted to steer us right. He has done it over in Fayette county, and he will do it in Chilton county. Let us thank Mr. Moore for his help, and show our appreciation by taking advantage of the tremendous opportunities which he has opened up to us.

The best arrangement under which Clanton and Chilton county could possibly have a cotton mill would be to have the enterprise owned, managed and operated by Chilton county people. We had as well have for our own the profits from a cotton mill as to give them to foregin capitalists. The home capital idea is always the best when it can be worked. And it can certainly be done in this instance where one man offers to put up over half of the money.

Does this sound like Clanton can build, own and operate a cotton mill? One man in Clanton says he will put $51,000.00 in a $100,000.00 cotton mill, or $110,000.00 in a $200,000.00 cotton mill. Don't you believe if one man in Clanton will do that much, the rest of us can turn the balance of the trick? We believe we can. And further we are in favor of starting the racket right now. This is a matter not for Clanton alone, but for the whole of Chilton county as well. It should be made a county-wide proposition, with the whole people behind it. Will some gentleman make a move that we now start and take up this very attractive offer of one of our citizens?

OUR JEMISON DEPARTMENT

The Union-Banner is pleased to announce that the Jemison News Section of the paper, which was inaugurated last week, will be handled hereafter by Mrs. Lloyd Eagle. The first of Mrs. Eagle's contributions appears in this issue, and we are sure that citizens of Jemison and the entire county will find the same of much interest.

Mrs. Eagle will handle all business for The Union-Banner in Jemison, in addition to doing the weekly correspondence for us. Any person in Jemison who may desire to subscribe for the paper can leave same with Mrs. Eagle at her place of business in Jemison, and it will be duly attended to. Any orders for advertising or printing of any kind can be placed with Mrs. Eagle.

The Union-Banner has hundreds of readers at Jemison and in the surrounding communities, and we believe an advertisement placed in the paper by Jemison merchants would be worth many times the cost to them. We hope some of them will try it and see if they think it will pay them to advertise.

The Union-Banner again assures the people of Jemison that it shall be a pleasure to us to give them this space every week in the paper. We hope you will co-operate with us by using our columns for the best interests of your town and community.

NEWS OF JEMISON

(Mrs. Lloyd Eagle, Correspondent)

After Mr. Wyatt has given Jemison such a flattering write-up in the last week's issue, we feel that it is only proper for us to first thank him for the nice things he said, and to assure him that we appreciate the interest he has shown in our school and the different business houses of the town.

The readers of The Union-Banner must not expect too much of us, but we hope to make the different items of Jemison interesting, to some of you at least.

Of course, since we have been so successful with our new school building, we are liable to attempt other improvements, and make this a real live town after all.

There seems to be prospects of the town getting electric lights. Monday, Mr. Thigpin, who is with The Alabama Power Company, and Mr. Foss of the Thorsby Bank, were in town in interest of the Alabama Power Co. in view of bringing the power here. After a canvass of the town the proposition looked very favorable.

In the event that we get the electric light and power service here, the citizenship will place quite a few manufacturing enterprises here that will consume abundance of their current.

County Supt. of Education, Howard L. Foshee, with W. J. Billingsley and L. A. Calloway, members of the County Board of Education were visitors to the school Friday afternoon. The pupils, as well as a goodly number of the parents, enjoyed short talks from each of these gentlemen. Also, Mr. Edwards, one of the teachers of the High School, and Mr. Sorrell, a citizen of the town, made interesting talks.

The B. Y. P. U. meets on Sunday evenings, and we cordially invite the young people near town to come be with us in these meetings. The programs are interesting as well as beneficial. Ralph Glass is president of this Union.

Mrs. W. A. Darby and daughter, Constance, spent Monday in Birmingham.

Mrs. Dr. McCloud, of Bay Minette, and Miss Belle Hand of Mobile, Ala., are guests of Miss Mattie Hand.

Mrs. Henry Jefferies went to Birmingham Monday shopping.

Dr. J. M. Broady of Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, Birmingham, filled his regular appointment here Sunday evening.

There is preaching at the Methodist Church on 2nd and 4th Sundays of each month with Mr. Ross as pastor.

Mrs. O. B. McNeill and children are spending a few days with Mrs. M. F. McNeill. Mrs. McNeill and babies will leave next week to join her husband in Buffalo, New York, where he holds a position with the Semet Solvay Company.

Just at present the Baptist Church here is without a pastor, although we boast of a very live Sunday school with Mr. Columbus Conway as Superintendent.

The Pneumonia Month

March is a typical pneumonia month and usually gives a high rate of mortality for the disease. After a long and hard winter, the system loses much of its resistance and people grow careless. When every cold, no matter how slight, is given prompt and intelligent attention, there is much less danger of pneumonia. It should be borne in mind that pneumonia is a germ disease and breeds in the throat. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is an expectorant and cleans out the germ ladened mucus and not only cures a cold but prevents its resulting in pneumonia. It is pleasant to take. Children take it willingly.

She was a sister of Mr. Will Morris.

CANNING FACTORY TO COME TO CLANTON

The first success has been scored in Clanton's campaign to locate some industries in this vicinity. The project is to be a canning factory to take care of the tomatoes, vegetables and fruits that are being and can be grown by the farmers of the county.

The plan is a co-operative arrangement which is to be under the supervision of the United Farmers of America. Mr. M. W. Lamb, the national business agent of the United Farmers, Mr. A. B. Baxley, the state manager of this organization, Mr. O. H. Mastin, the county business agent, and Mr. Victor Heard of the Clanton Chamber of Commerce, together with the membership locally of these two organizations, are all combined in the effort to establish the business. The preliminary details are being worked out by these men as fast as possible.

In connection with the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce and the United Farmers of America, Mr. Harry E. Clay, industrial engineer of the Peterman Construction and Supply Company of Chicago, is in Clanton looking over the situation. He has been convinced of the feasibility of the proposition and the desirability of Clanton for such a location, and has decided to go ahead with the proposition just as soon as all local details can be worked out.

Mr. Mastin of the United Farmers assures us that within the next wetk all things will be ready to begin the solicitation of stock for the enterprise. As further developments take place, we will publish the details in a complete form in order to fully acquaint the people of the county with this very valuable proposition.

MRS. D. S. MARTIN DEAD

Mr. Monroe Payne and wife motored down from Siluria to see parents Sunday.

Mr. Leech, Misses Bertha Johnson and Mamie Cofer dined with Jewel Scott Sunday.

PATE'S CHAPEL

The people of Pate's Chapel and community show a growing interest in our singing. Not only our singing but also our Sunday school. We make our community what it is. Everyone knows the difference in a community where there is a strong Sunday school and church. Everywhere we see the difference in a community where there is a good church and Sunday school and where the people meet and sing Praises to God, and the community where there is nothing going on to keep the community in touch with God and each other. There is always something to be gotten out of singing. At Pate's Chapel we try to give the people of this community and surrounding communities something really worth while; going to on every second and fourth Sunday evening.

We were glad to see so many visitors Sunday evening. We sure extend to them a hearty welcome again on next fourth Sunday evening. Some of the people who directed were Jas. Franklin, Harrison Hayes, Chester Maddox, J. A. Cleckler, Nora Franklin, Mae Maddox, Nettie Hodgens, Hazel Maddox and Callie Edwards. A quartette was sung by Prof. Jas. Franklin, Harrison Hayes, Monroe Franklin and Alphus Littlejohn. Come and listen to them sing on next fourth Sunday afternoon. Organists were Miss Nora Franklin and Miss Mae Maddox. After closing song, were dismissed by Mr. A. Maddox.

MR. JEAN EVANS ILL

The many friends of Mr. Jean Evans throughout Chilton county will regret to learn that he is seriously ill at his home in Clanton. Mr. Evans was for many years a merchant here. He retired from active business some years ago on account of ill health. We hope he may soon regain his health.

VERBENA CONSOLIDATED SCHOOL PRESENTS A PLAY, "DEACON DUBBS"

"Deacon Dubbs," a comedy drama in three acts was presented in the school auditorium in Verbena Friday night, March 9, by the high school pupils. The auditorium, as is usual with school performances in Verbena, was crowded with an appreciative audience, and that the play was well received was evidenced by the numerous outbursts of applause that from time to time were given clever interpretation of parts. The highest compliment that has been paid it is that it was better than "Fifty-Fifty," the commencement play of last year.

It would be difficult to select any particular star, for the players were well adapted to their roles, and little improvement could be asked over the rendition of the respective parts.

Paul Dansby, as Deacon Dubbs, from Sorghum Center, State of West Virginia, portrayed truly the rugged, honest, and dependable old-type farmer with an ease and naturalness that was refreshing; Miss Sara Maude Pattillo, as Miss Philipena Popover, with her eyes on the Deacon, pursued him in that naive romantic style of one whose love is finally requited. Dolphus Harris, as Deuterony Jones, and Miss Lorine Messer, as Yennie Yensen, furnished ample diversion from the serious side of the play, and their troubles in courtship were always sources of amusement for the audience. Miss Mary Stonecipher, as Rose Raleigh, the brave little school mistress, handled with decided ability the leading role, her interpretation of certain emotional scenes well nigh approaching the professional's art. William DeRamus, as Amos Coleman, played opposite Miss Stonecipher, was especially clever in handling the melodramatic role in dealing with the villain of the show. Crayton Norris, as Rawdon Crawley, in the difficult role of self-centered, calculating villain, showed versatility and ability in portraying the type without exaggeration.

Pearson Hatchett as Major McNutt, the auctioneer, carried his "documents" with him, and at the auction typified the country auctioneer. Miss Nolan Meroney, as Trixie Coleman, niece of the Deacon, was amusing and full of mischief, playing pranks on the Deacon and Miss Philipena, and cleverly added youth and levity at opportune moments. Miss Jean Gardner, as Emily Dale, the rich girl of the village, acted well her part as meddler and coquette.

The play includes a village auction, a wedding morning, a huskin' bee, and Virginia Reel. Serenades and choruses give the necessary musical feature, which, with the high class of clean lines and clever setting make it one in which these young people have been able to favorably display their talents.

"Deacon Dubbs" will show at the picture house at Mitchell Dam Friday night, March 16, beginning at 8 p.m. An admission fee of 35 cents to adults, 25 cents to children, will be charged. Proceeds will go toward school improvements.

Chilton Hi Wins From Thompson Hi Team

The Chilton County Hi boys hopped off to a good start when they defeated the Thompson Hi boys 3 to 0 last Friday afternoon on the Chilton Hi grounds.

The stars of the game were "Rigs" Burnett and "Slack" Littlejohn.

Burnett pitched excellent ball throughout the game. He struck out thirteen men and did not give up a hit. He also was the batting star, getting two of the four hits that Chilton got.

Littlejohn saved the game in the third inning by making a beautiful running catch with two men on the bases.

The boys have started out to have a successful season and we believe that it is going to turn out in their favor.

Thorsby Hi will be the next team to play. They will come here next Friday.

The Proof of Your Method Is the Cotton You Raise

I'm a practical Georgia farmer, and spent $23,000 in money, and five years in time on my Burke County plantations, in an effort to perfect a poison that would protect my cotton from the Boll-weevil. Hill's Mixture is the result, and in the past two years the boll weevil has gotten practically none of my cotton.

And I raised 604 bales on 812 acres in Burke County in 1922. (This was 4% of the crop for my county, on 1% of the planted acreage.) I was enabled to do this by protecting my cotton with "Hill's Mixture," preventing the boll-weevils from getting one pound of my cotton!

You Can Raise Cotton

If you'll protect your crop with HILL'S MIXTURE—economical, efficient and the easiest boll-weevil poison to apply, on the market today.

Hill's Mixture is a liquid poison, composed of calcium arsenate, molasses, water and secret ingredients which form a combination that we are convinced, from results obtained, attracts the boll weevil,

HILL'S A BOLL WEEVIL TRADE MARK KILLER MIXTURE

Six gallons will give protection to an acre of cotton. Compare this with the cost of dusting.

The molasses in Hill's Mixture acts as a binder, and a rainfall of less than a half-inch has little effect on it! It can be PUT ON ANY TIME OF THE DAY, and requires no machinery for its application. Make a mop out of a stick with a rag tied on the end, and pass up and down the rows, touching the bud of each plant with the mop.

Unqualified Endorsement of Users!

Hill's Mixture was tried out last year by scores of farmers on thousands of acres of land, and EVERYONE OF THEM ARE GOING TO USE IT AGAIN IN 1923! Let me send you their letters endorsing it. The President of the American Cotton Assn. made a special trip to Burke County to investigate Hill's Mixture, and endorsed it as the best boll weevil poison on the market.

Hill's Mixture is mechanically mixed, every ingredient being put in in the exact proportion. None of the uncertainty of "mixing your own."

Warning in Regard to Mad Dogs

Montgomery, Ala March 12.—With the advance of spring and the increasing number of dogs reported affected with rabies, the State Health Department is again calling attention to the best method of protecting the public and at the same time save the unnecessary expense of treatments where such could be avoided by waiting a few days before killing the dog suspected of being "mad."

The policy of the State Pasteur Institute is to advise treatment when in doubt as well as when the examination shows positive.

If the dog is killed in the early stages of the disease it is possible for the examination to show negative, yet the symptoms are such that there is doubt. In such cases treatment is advised.

Wherever possible the dog should be confined for a number of days after the first symptoms appear and if he shows no lucid periods, it is a pretty sure sign that he is affected with rabies; then kill him and send his had to the State Laboratory for examination.

Under the new method of treating people bitten by mad dogs, it is not necessary for the patient to go to Montgomery as the treatment is administered by the family physician at home; and where the patient is unable to pay for the treatment, it is furnished free.

Important things to remember: Confine the dog immediately after signs of rabies appear; if he has bitten any person, kill him after three or four days, provided he continues to show signs of rabies. Watch his symptoms closely during the time he is confined and let no one go near enough to be bitten. By following this method, it is possible to avoid expense and anxiety, as well as materially aiding the Pasteur Institute in determining definitely whether the dog was mad or just "angry."

More than half of the land titles have some flaw in them, and should be investigated and corrected before it is too late. People are now living perhaps that could give the proper paper or make the proper affidavit to cure the defect and it will be too late when those people are dead. Therefore, it is not safe to buy land or lend money and accept land as security without first investigating the title of the land. Often there are unsatisfied morgages, judgments or other liens affecting the title, which an Abstract would set out. Therefore, when buying land or lending money thereon, it is important that an abstract of title be furnished. A few dollars spent for an abstract is cheaper than going ahead and having a law suit, and perhaps losing your land or the money loaned on it a little later on.

The large dining hall was tastefully decorated in orange and green representing the two prominent divisions of Ireland both religious and political. Contests of various kinds were participated in. A pig contest between Walton Bracken and Jerome Wilson, wherein a potato was given to each as material of which to produce a carving of a pig. HOW A CANNING FACTORY CAN HELP CHILTON COUNTY

Business prosperity is the result of business enterprise.

We might compare a community with an individual. If the individual hustles, introduces new ideas into his business and is thrifty he will succeed.

A community must do the same thing. There must be an organized spirit of progressiveness. There must be initiative to launch new ideas and new methods. There must be a spirit of thrift that will strive to curb waste and discover better markets for products raised.

Some communities jump ahead by leaps and bounds—others lag. What are the reasons? Organization—or lack of it—there is the answer. The condition of any town or community is a reflection of its business leaders.

No new enterprise comes into town unless some one makes a move for it. And no town can grow materially without the addition of new enterprises.

The greater the hum of industry—the greater the prosperity and the more money there is in circulation.

A canning factory in a community means the farmers will grow more tomatoes, vegetables and fruits and they will find a ready sale for them through the canned goods market.

Thousands of dollars worth of perishable produce that formerly went to waste each year will then be saved and turned into money.

It means more cash in town and more savings accounts for the bank.

It means more money in circulation and greater prosperity for everybody in the community.

Reasons Why Our Community Should Have a Canning Factory

1. Every community needs a localized money making industry. This can be had in a strictly up-to-date commercialized vegetable and fruit canning factory and the proper place for a canning factory is right where the vegetables and fruits are grown.

2. The demand for canned vegetables and fruits is growing rapidly—towns and cities are increasing in population by leaps and bounds and these people are large users of canned goods. Canned goods are not luxuries but absolute necessities.

3. Because of the above mentioned reasons the growing demand for canned vegetables will require many more canning factories than are now in existence.

4. The farmers will receive large and profitable returns from their land by becoming raisers of tomatoes, vegetables and fruits for canning.

5. A local canning factory assures the farmer of a reliable market for all he can produce.

6. By canning vegetables that otherwise would perish, thousands of dollars can be saved every year, which, were they not canned, would be absolute waste.

7. The farmer can turn land that may now be producing practically nothing into a highly productive state by raising tomatoes and other vegetables for canning.

8. By canning his products the farmer gets cash quickly and thereby is better able to pay his bills and keep a savings account in the bank.

9. A canning factory is a good money making proposition—therefore an investment that pays good dividends for those ones of it.

10. A local canning factory gives employment to local people. This means more money in local circulation. This means more business for local merchants.

11. It gives the land a greater dollar yield per acre—it thereby increases the actual value of the land.

12. A canning factory eliminates waste—saves many by-products—stops spoilage—increases the prestige and standing of a community that in this way gives evidence of thrift and business ability.

Mr. Evans was born in Atlanta, Ga., in 1860. He came to Clanton in early life. For forty-three years he conducted a mercantile business here during which time he became the friend of great numbers of people all over Chilton county. Failing health caused him to retire from active business some four or five years ago.

He was a charter member of the Clanton Methodist Church, was devoted to its doctrines, was upright in his life, loved to read God's word, and did so constantly as long as he was able.

In 1899 Mr. Evans and Miss Glennie Tallulah Phillips were married in Clanton. Their oldest son, John, died at the age of eight years. Together with Mrs. Evans, the other children surviving him are five sons, Clarence, Leon, Robert, Julian Phillips and J. D., and one daughter, Mrs. Evan Parrish. There is one brother, Tom Evans of Birmingham, and two sisters, Mrs. Anna Chestnutt of Birmingham and Miss French Evans of Clanton.

There is not a man in Clanton who had more friends than Jean Evans, and his death has brought universal sorrow to the hearts of every one.

METHOD OF BUILDING CANNING FACTORY

The Peterman Construction and Supply Company of Chicago, is in charge of the canning factory proposition which is being fostered here by the Chilton county division of the United Farmers of America. Mr. Harry E. Clay, an engineer representing the Peterman Company, is now, and has been for the past week or more, on the ground, to look after the matter in the proper way.

It may be interesting to our readers to know the exact plans under which this enterprise is to be developed. In order to give you this information The Union-Banner has secured from Mr. Clay the following statement as to the methods of the Peterman Company for helping a community develop its own enterprises. Mr. Clay's statement is summed up in ten brief paragraphs as follows:

1. Our first purpose is to determine definitely whether or not the land surrounding a proposed canning factory location, will produce sufficient raw material.

2. We then send an Organizing Engineer to make a complete survey of conditions and to organize the proper public spirit and to find out just how many people can be counted upon to help support such an enterprise.

3. When all preliminary arrangements have been made which will assure the proper co-operation to make the enterprise a complete success we proceed with the actual construction work.

4. We design and erect the necessary buildings. These buildings are made to conform to the most scientific and economical methods of operation.

5. We supply and install a complete system of canning machinery designed to meet all local requirements and conditions.

6. We secure for the plant the services of an expert Processor.

7. We help to select and instruct a competent manager. We see to it that this man is thoroughly trained in all the methods and processes involved and that he understands completely the exact system of sound business management.

8. We assist and advise in marketing of the canned products.

9. We lay out a system of plans for the most economical operation—the right way to buy materials and supplies—how to provide for growth and expansion—how to maintain a low overhead and get quantity production.

10. We render an assistant and advising service whenever local management may feel a need for it.

The above conveys a very accurate idea as to the one side of the proposition. There is another side to the matter, just as important, if not more so which involves that part of the work which is to be handled by the United Farmers. When more of the details are available, you will find the whole story in The Union-Banner.

GOING WEST

We understand that Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Pickens will leave Clanton immediately and go to the west, on account of the health of the latter. Mr. Pickens has sold his interest in the Downs Hardware Company to Elijah Jones and brothers.

THE OLDEST BANK In Chilton County

A STANDARD OF LIVING

As the old fellow said when first saw a giraffe: "There ain't no such animile." There is no real standard of American living.

Most of us live right up to the limit of our incomes. Some go even beyond and land in debt—sometimes in jail. Those who earn much, spend it, and those who earn little, spend what they have. High prices intoxicated most folks and they started right out to paint the town a ruby red and show 'em all how real guys could separate themselves from their coin. Now it is over, and the remedy is —SAVE. Use our bank. We will be glad to help.

Frequent Headaches

"I suffered with chronic constipation that would bring on very severe headaches," says Mrs. Stephen H. Kincer, of R. F. D. 1, Cripple Creek, Va. "I tried different medicines and did not get relief. The headaches became very frequent. I heard of

Thedford's

and took it for a headache, and the relief was very quick, and it was so long before I had another headache. Now I just keep the Black-Draught, and don't let myself get in that condition."

Thedford's Black-Draught (purely vegetable) has been found to relieve constipation, and by stimulating the action of the liver, when it is torpid, helps to drive many poisons out of your system. Biliousness, indigestion, headache, and similar troubles are often relieved in this way. It is the natural way. Be natural! Try Black-Draught.

Mrs. M. Snyder Gains 20 Pounds

"Tanlac built me up twenty pounds and I am as happy over my new health as my little boy was over his Christmas toys," declared Mrs. Mary Snyder, 383 Estes St., Charlottesville, Va.

"For two years I suffered from stomach trouble, rheumatism and a nervous, run-down condition. I was almost a skeleton and got to the point where, when I went to bed nights, I wondered if I would be able to get up in the morning. Rheumatism in my shoulders was so painful, and I was so thin and weak that I did little of anything except try to get well.

"I was in despair when I started taking Tanlac, but nowm y troubles are all gone and I am as healthy and happy as I could wish to be. Tanlac has earned my undying gratitude."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Over 35-million bottles sold.

THE CHANGE TWO YEARS HAVE DONE

Washington, March 20.—"Comparing the status of the American industrial world in 1923 with conditions that existed at the time the Harding administration came into control of national affairs in March 1921, the improvement to be seen is indeed marvelous," asserts the Republican Publicity Association, thru its President, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr. "In March 1921 the industries of America were in the depths of despondency. It is estimated that there were four million men out of employment. Farmers were selling their crops at far less than the cost of production, where they were able to sell at all, and many of them were facing bankruptcy. This was particularly true of the cotton growers of the South, of the grain growers of the Middle West, and of the cattle growers of the Mountain and Southwestern States. Producers of wool were unable to find a market at any price; many copper mines were closed down; lumber mills were inactive; textile mills were operating on part time; the country had just gone through a period of deflation started under the leadership of men who were then in control of the Federal Reserve System.

"Under such conditions as those the Harding Administration came into power and was expected to restore order out of chaos and start the country on a return to normal.

"There was no hesitancy on the part of the administration in applying measures believed to promise beneficial results. One of the first acts was to restore to activity the War Finance Corporation which the Wilson administration had permitted to die. Under President Harding's directions and the management of such men as Eugene Meyer, Jr., and Dwight F. Davis, the War Finance Corporation became immediately active along constructive and yet conservative lines. Money was loaned to finance the export of such American commodities as found inadequate market at home. Funds were loaned where most needed to finance the sale of American cotton; American tobacco, American wheat, American wool, American copper, and American live stock. As expressed in the law and in the provisions of the loans made, this money was advanced to assist in the 'orderly marketing' of these products.

"But this was not all the Republican administration undertook to do to assist in restoring stable financial conditions. The funds available for the Farm Loan Board were increased and loans made to needy farmers at reasonable rates of interest. Coincident with this, President Harding named to membership on the Federal Reserve Board a man who was earnestly in favor of a more liberal policy in the matter of credits. There was an early reduction in the rediscount rates, followed by reduction of interest rates charged in the commercial world.

"Almost coincident with these measures a special session of Congress enacted an Emergency Agricultural Tariff law. This gave American farmers some measure of protection against destructive competition from abroad, and, together with the other measures that had been taken by the Harding regime, aided in restoring confidence in the basic American industry, agriculture.

"No one of these measures alone could have accomplished the desired result. Not all of them combined could accomplish the desired results immediately, but in the two years that have passed since the Harding administration came into control of national policies a wonderful change has been wrought."

ONE OBJECT—TO CIRCUMVENT THE WEEVIL

When a man has bred a thoroughbred colt and gotten him in fine form for a great race, it is disappointing if another mounts him and rides away. That seems to be the plight in which the American Cotton Association seems to find, or to think itself.

None will quarrel with the American Cotton Association. It set a good piece of machinery in motion, and for that it will be credited.

The National Campaign For Boll Weevil Control, under the direction of Dr. Miller Reese Hutchison, will go on. It has but one aim. Its brains and energies are concentrated in the endeavor to discover a remedy for the weevil pest and promote the profitable production of cotton.

It is not interested in marketing. It is not concerned with cotton prices. The weevil is the enemy that it sees and the weevil is the enemy that it would defeat.

The State believes that this enemy is formidable enough to call for a great array of the resources of scientific intelligence backed by plenty of money to oppose it. The cotton supply of the world is menaced. The cotton production of the South is crippled. Unless the producing power of the South is restored, cotton production will be transferred to other regions.

The National Campaign For Boll Weevil Control has begun its work in a manner to command confidence. It is summoning together and coordinating the agencies that already have made progress in the warfare against the pest. The co-operation of trained minds and hands is invited; it is exhibiting the common sense that underlies all good generalship.

Above all, it has but one aim—to circumvent the weevil. Men with money to spend fighting the weevil will really to its support, adopt it as their fighting machine.

No quarrel has anyone with the American Cotton Association. Good luck to it.

OAK GROVE

The health of this community is very good at present.

Our people seem to be somewhat blue about the weather being so cold and unfavorable for farming, but we trust it's all for the best.

Our Sunday school is progressing nicely. Have a large number on roll and good attendance and hope for better when spring comes. We elected teachers and officers last Sunday for the coming quarter, and reelected our faithful Supt., Mr. W. J. Northcutt.

The singing last Sunday was good. We had a very large crowd, considering the bad weather, and among the visitors was the Center Hill class which was a help in singing. We are always glad to have visitors.

Regardless of the rain, we had a good crowd at our B. Y. P. U. Sunday night, and a very good program. Miss Rosalie Martin's group was in charge. Mr. Vester Campbell, Mr. Ivy Matthews, Mr. Lassie Northcutt and Mr. Paul Wilson furnished music, which was real good.

The Junior B. Y. P. U. is equally as good or better than the Seniors.

We are glad to see Miss Golda Williams back home again after a few weeks stay in Birmingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Northcutt and Mr. and Mrs. Lassie Northcutt enjoyed dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cobb Sunday.

Miss Eula Barnett spent Sunday and Sunday night with friends at Oak Grove.

There will be a concert at Oak Grove next Friday night. Everybody is invited to come.

If you own any land in the swamps within three miles of Clanton, Mr. W. W. Fox wants to see you when you are in town. Call on him at his store. He has something good to tell you about the drainage project. Don't forget it!

Where is the petition for our drainage district? Keep it going boys. Don't let it lodge in some pigeon hole and forget where it is.

We want all the push possible behind the canning factory; but at the same time we want to keep the road hot in pursuit of the drainage project.

If you are one of those who own land in the swamps around Clanton, make it convenient to see Mr. Fox the next time you are in town. He has something of interest to say to you about the drainage project.

Here is a suggested program that will give Clanton and Chilton county something to work on for the next year: Drain the swamps and get rid of mosquitoes; help the United Farmers build a canning factory; then all hands and the cook join in the crowning achievement of building a cotton factory.

Our readers will notice this week that The Leader is using printers' ink very freely to tell you about the great Celebration Sale which is to come off right away. This event will no doubt be of much interest to that great number of people who have learned during the past year that they can get real money-saving bargains at "The Leader."

The United Farmers of America should take particular pride in the canning factory, which they propose to build and operate in Clanton. This will be the first project of the kind to be fostered by the United Farmers, and members of that organization throughout the entire South will no doubt look upon the matter with much interest. Let Chilton county lead the other farmers of the South by showing them just what success can be accomplished by a real spirit of co-operation through the U. F. of A.

NEEDS OF THE NAVY

The needs of the navy will be one of the pressing questions to confront the next Congress. It is estimated by experts that the navy is now between 300,000 and 400,000 tons short of the 5-5-3 ratio established by the Washington armaments treaty. The deficiency is in scout vessels rather than in capital ships, and there is urgent need for eight modern cruisers, fleet and mine-laying submarines, airplane carriers and the like, to bring the fleet up to full efficiency. It is reported also that the fleet is undermanned to the extent of 108,000 men. These are the opinions of naval officers, instructed at government expense in order to give expert advice on matters connected with the navy. It remains to be seen whether their recommendations will be followed next year, or cast aside for the advice of civilians. While the country needs to practice the most rigid economy, it should not undermine our defense on the sea, which is the insurance of all our national wealth.

WOMEN MURDERERS

It is to be noted that those two New York women recently convicted of slaying men who, they alleged, had wronged them were carried from the courtroom bewailing their lot, raving at the jury's verdict rather than against the furies that led them to commit the deeds for which they must now pay.

Doubtless the New York verdicts will tend to discourage the murderous impulses of women who think they can slay and get away. Juries in other jurisdictions would do well to study the findings of the convicting juries in New York. The law does not exempt a woman, no matter how pretty or winsome she may be, from penalty for murder.—Washington Post.

MORE ABOUT CANNING FACTORY

We call the attention of our readers this week to the article which we are publishing, setting out the reasons why Clanton and Chilton county should have a canning factory, and the different ways in which such an institution would benefit our people, our county and our town.

As stated last week the work of getting this project under way is now being arranged by the United Farmers of America (Chilton County Division) in consultation with Mr. Harry E. Clay of Chicago, an expert engineer representing an organization which makes a specialty of such jobs. Mr. Clay has gone over the situation here in its every detail, and has pronounced the matter as worthy of serious attention. He has concluded to go ahead with it to the finish, which decision alone speaks enough for the advisability and advantage of such an institution here.

Let us give thanks to our Chamber of Commerce for its activity in providing the initial impetus which has brought our town and county into the favor of the people whom Mr. Clay represents.

And while we are casting the bouquets, let us not by any means forget the United Farmers. They are going to do what perhaps the Chamber of Commerce could not do, in taking hold of the proposition and putting behind it the united efforts of perhaps two thousand farmers all over Chilton county. Nothing could be more assuring of the success of the canning factory than this enlistment of the United Farmers.

Some folks thought last year that Clanton was wasting time and money in its efforts to locate the state headquarters of the United Farmers of America here. But it begins to appear now that our courtesies to this organization were well placed. By the proper perfection and establishment of the canning factory in Chilton county the farmers are going to show themselves worthy of the support and co-operation which they asked us to give. Long live the U. F. of A. and may their numbers and strength increase.

NON-WAR BUDGET BELOW 1916

Mr. Harding's two years of drastic economy have cut the cost of government to the lowest possible figure. When we subtract the expenditures directly due to the war, such as interest and principal payments on the national debt, soldier relief, etc., and make proper allowance for the increased cost of labor and material, it is found that the Federal appropriations now being made are actually below those for 1916, the year before we entered the war. That compilation takes no account of the growth of the country in the last seven years, which would be complete justification for much larger appropriations than those actually made.

Not only have expenditures been cut to the bone, but tax receipts also have been slashed to the limit. The administration has recognized the burden under which the taxpayers have been laboring for so long, and they are now being called upon for money only just sufficient to meet governmental necessities, as determined by the Bureau of the Budget. The balance that now exists between Federal receipts and expenses is not likely to be disturbed by the next Congress, either through increase or reduction of the tax laws. The people are reconciled to the situation. They know that for every dollar spent by the government at Washington they are getting a full dollar's value, and that a dollar is never spent unless the need for it has been convincingly shown to the Budget Bureau and to Congress.

ABOUT TIME

The National Security League reports that eleven states now have courses of instruction in the Constitution of the United States, and bills to establish such courses are now pending in the legislatures of twenty other states. The league is sponsoring a movement to have the Constitution taught in every school in the country. There is no more effective way to meet the red menace in the country, than to famaliarize the rising generation with the fundamentals of the government under which they live. The instructors who handle the subject ought to be thoroughly impressed with its importance, and prepared to explain the paragraphs of the Constitution so that the students can absorb their full significance.

THE HAAG SHOW

Now and then this town gets a good show and the Mighty Haag Show, which exhibited here Wednesday proved to be of that sort. Good, very good. Good as I ever saw. These are the verdicts variously pronounced by patrons of the show. It was as elaborate and complete as one could expect to see passing overland through the country. The management was courteous in every way and they will receive a warm welcome should they ever return.—Monterey Weekly News, May 26.

The Mighty Haag Show consists of 250 people, 115 horses, ponies and mules, 2 camel, 3 large elephants, 10 cages of living wild animals, dogs, ponies, monkeys and reptiles and travels overland in 40 conveyances, trucks, cars and wagons and is pronounced by press and public to be the best old time one ring show enroute so you take no chance in attending.

This show will be at Clanton on Friday, March 30th.

IMPORTANT MEETING FOR BAPTIST OF UNITY AND CHILTON ASSOCIATIONS

There will be a very important meeting of all pastors and W. M. U. leaders and all Baptists in general at the Clanton Baptist Church Wednesday afternoon, March 28th, 3 p.m. Also another important meeting at night 7:30 p.m. Dr. B. C. Henning, Superintendent of Home Mission Work for Southern Baptist, and Dr. W. T. Smith will be the speakers. This is a rare opportunity for our Baptist folks to hear one of their great leaders. You can not afford to miss these services. No collections will be taken.

S. J. EZELL, Pastor.

A CARD OF THANKS

For want of a better medium of which we would avail ourselves were it possible, the bereaved family of Rev. D. S. Martin are taking advantage of the courtesy of your paper to extend the gratitude they feel toward the multitude of friends in Equality, Eclectic, Nixburg, Wetumpka, Alexander City, Rockford, Deatsville, Clanton, Marvel, Jasper, Tuscaloosa and elsewhere, for the kind tokens of love and sympathy in the irreparable loss of their precious wife and mother. All of these we hopefully pray that we may be able to cherish not only in this life but that we may even carry them on to the great beyond where as an angel band we may tell 'Mama" about it there.

REV. D. S. MARTIN & FAMILY.

The Pneumonia Month

March is a typical pneumonia month and usually gives a high rate of mortality for the disease. After a long and hard winter, the system loses much of its resistance and people grow careless. When every cold, no matter how slight, is given prompt and intelligent attention, there is much less danger of pneumonia. It should be borne in mind that pneumonia is a germ disease and breeds in the throat. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is an expectorant and cleans out the germ ladened mucus and not only cures a cold but prevents its resulting in pneumonia. It is pleasant to take. Children take it willingly.

Will Turn Water on Wilson Dam

Florence, Ala., March 19.—Col. W. J. Barden, commanding officer at Wilson dam sent out notices today to the owners of land which will be overflowed by the completion of Wilson dam to the effect that all timber, minerals, buildings and improvements, the ownership of which was reserved when the land was sold to the government must be removed on or before January 1, 1924.

This is taken to mean that the officers in charge of the work at Wilson Dam believe that they will have completed the work to such an extent by that time that practically all the land which was bought will be overflowed.

Splendid progress is being made on construction and there is every indication that practically all of the concrete work on the spillway section will have been completed before the first of next year.

DAMAGE TO STRAWBERRIES AT THORSBY HEAVY

According to advices reaching us from Thorsby, the damage done by the freeze this week will mount up to the thousands of dollars on the strawberry crop alone. It is said by some that the crop has been damaged to the amount of $25,000, which means the complete destruction of the first crop. They say that the second crop will not be worth near as much as the first would have been.

Freight Wreck on Thursday Night

Derailment of several box cars on a south bound freight train of the Louisville and Nashville railroad, five miles south of Clanton shortly before midnight Thursday night, accounted for a complete tie-up of traffic on that railroad system between Birmingham and Montgomery for several hours. No one was injured.

Due to the wreck, the south-bound Pan-American train, scheduled to arrive in Montgomery at 12:45 o'clock was seven hours late and the North bound Pan-American, scheduled to arrive in Birmingham from Montgomery and New Orleans was several hours late.

L. & N. officials were conducting an investigation to determine the origin of accident Friday morning had reached no conclusion Friday afternoon. J. A. McFerran, master mechanic for the L. and N. in Montgomery stated that the most serious damage sustained by the road from the wreck was the delay in arrival and departure of trains. Mr. McFerran stated that the box cars that were derailed were in the center of the string of cars comprising the train. The engine was brought to a halt before it was thrown from the rails. Only nominal damage was done to the railroad track, according to McFerran.

Safe Farming Urged By Farming Expert

Montgomery, Ala., March 20.—If the farmers of Alabama and other southern states plant a record acreage in cotton this year and produce an unusually large yield more work and less money will be the net result in the opinion of John S. Kernachan, president of the Alabama Farm Bureau Cotton Association.

In his work throughout the state Mr. Kernachan is pleading with farmers not to go "too far with cotton," and emphasizing to them that "the safe policy is to provide first for ample food and feed crops for home use and make cotton the surplus cash crop."

In discussing the outlook, Mr. Kernachan said: "Cotton growers have received for each small cotton crop as much money as they receive for a large crop and there is, therefore, nothing to gain by a record acreage. For every individual the wise thing to do is to enjoy the income from a good price and at the same time he is in position to stand the disappointment of a possible small yield and low price."

Under boll weevil conditions Mr. Kernachan added that it is dangerous to attempt to raise more cotton than can be given proper attention. Thorough preparation, ample fertilizer, and frequent cultivation are essentials.

Mr. C. Williams of Plantersville was in Clanton Monday to attend probate court. He stated that people in his part of the country are getting ready for farming, and are making plans to put in a great deal of cotton. Mr. Williams has already planted some corn himself, but says he expects to have the fun of planting it again.

PRAISES SHERIFF'S WORK

Editor Union-Banner:

Please allow me space in your paper to thank Sheriff Littlejohn for the good work that he is doing in enforcing the laws of our state and nation. He is cleaning out fence corners that haven't been cleaned out in five years. From the way he is building fences and cleaning up new grounds, he must have been raised on the farm.

Everybody invited.

Miss Tommie Millsap of Birmingham spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. T. M. Millsap.

Quite a bit of repair work is being done on the Crysell building. As yet we don't know what this building will be used for.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Cost are spending a few days at Trafford, Ala., with Mrs. Cost's parents.

Mrs. P. F. Harris of Inglenook spent the past week-end with her mother, Mrs. Catherine Collum.

Mrs. Geo. Collum spent Monday and Tuesday in Birmingham shopping.

Mrs. Nash of Birmingham is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Duffey.

Mr. Sam Edwards was in town Saturday, bringing his neice, Miss Edwards to enter her in high school.

Mr. Luther Davenport, who is with the Goodgame & Duke Lumber Co., is expecting to move his family from Thorsby here as soon as he is able to secure a house.

Mrs. Charlie Shaw of Jemison, with the other children, of Mr. Dolby Atkinson of Shoults, wish to thank the people of that community for their kindness, and to especially thank Mrs. P. G. Maness for the many nice things she carried them during Mr. Atkinson's illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wright spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Wright. Mrs. Wright returned to town with them for a few days visit.

There seems to be quite a demand for houses to rent here. The planer mill has brought several new families here, and no doubt there will be others who would like to buy or rent places here before the next school term in order to get their children in high school. Would it not be to the interest of the citizens who have vacant lots to build a few houses to rent? Our efforts toward getting a high school have proven so successful, and this should cause us to want to continue growing. Why not help build up the town?

The most noticeable thing in town last week was farmers from the surrounding communities hauling out fertilizer.

Quite a number of families are moving into town, among them are Mr. Osborn and family from Tuscaloosa and Mr. J. N. Scott from Pratt City, Ala.

The ladies of the M. E. Church gave a chicken dinner and oyster supper Saturday, realizing quite a nice little amount, which will be used to pay for painting the church.

Mr. H. A. Williams and Mr. G. E. Summers will in a few days open up a wood finishing shop here in town.

Mr. Robert Kincaid of Mitchell Dam was visiting relatives in town Tuesday last.

Irby McNeill and family have moved to Oxmoor, Ala., where Mr. McNeill holds a position with the T. C. I. Co.

Mrs. C. C. Conway has been very ill, but we are glad to know she is improving.

Several from here attended the singing at Collins Chapel Sunday, among them being Mr. and Mrs. Arch Glass, Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Sorrell, Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Glass and Miss Elizabeth Edwards.

FROM A FORMER CHILTONIAN

Editor of The Union-Banner:

Will you please give a small space in your good old home paper for a few words? Although I am a long way from dear old Chilton county, I want to thank the good sheriff of Chilton for the good work he has already done in enforcing the law. Mr. Littlejohn, will you please continue the good work to the end. I saw a write-up in the Banner of you and deputies with the wild cats, and it is joy to me to think that one time in life the long lane has turned. I have a father, mother, brothers and sisters in dear old Chilton county, besides many friends, and my prayer is that God may help you all to rid the country of the dirty conduct that has been caused by the men and boys.

Just think friends, of the homes that have been ruined by the rotten thing called liquor. We have widows and orphans in Chilton county that if it had not been for such stuff they would have had a husband and father with them today. Just think of the wrong that has been done by old Barleycorn and bad men and boys together. Again I want to thank the sheriff for his good work.

Dear friends, you all help the officers to rid your county of the liquor traffic. If you will just help them a little it will do your county good and God will bless you all.

THORSBY SECTION

Freeze Did Much Damage at Thorsby

Never in the history of Thorsby has there been such widespread and severe injury to growing crops as hit this section last Friday night and Monday all day and night, the mercury ranging at and below 20 degrees above zero on Tuesday morning.

Strawberry fields aggregating more than 250 acres, owned by about 175 members of Thorsby Fruit and Truck Growers Association and a few others, which the middle of last week gave promise, by bloom and partly grown berries, of an early harvest of the largest and finest strawberry crop ever gathered here, were frozen stiff, with an estimated loss to the growers aggregating $25,000 or fully half and by far the most profitable half of the season's crop.

While there is likely to still be something of a crop, the season of harvesting it has been set for about a month hence and will of necessity be short. Furthermore the berries must be marketed in competition with those from fields further north where there was no promise of an earlier crop.

One lamentable feature of the whole matter is the fact that many of the growers are this year making their first venture in a business which for the past fifteen years has proved to be a fairly successful money maker, with now and then a poor season. These men are apt to be discouraged and cling to cotton as a money crop which certainly has had and probably will continue to have good and bad seasons.

Fred Howard is the principal grower of peaches, pears, apples and other tree fruits in or near Thorsby. He told the writer that the late peaches, Elberta, Belle of Georgia, etc., which bloom earliest, were in full bloom and it looks as if they were all killed, while early peaches, Mayflower and etc, not yet in bloom, do not appear to be seriously injured. He also has quite a lot of young Japanese Persimmon trees, set out last year, which he fears are ruined by the freeze. But since "Hope springs eternal in the human breast" most of the men affected by these untoward conditions will ignore their losses and take a fresh start, knowing that "The fellow who lays down will not get there."

Thorsby Public School closes March 28th, with appropriate entertainments to which the public is invited.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Littleton are spending several days with his mother, Mrs. Aaron Littleton, before moving to Birmingham.

Rev. Wilhelm Petterson was called to Tuscaloosa this week, where he has a daughter, a student in a woman's college. She has been ill for several days and will be placed in a sanatarium where she can receive the best of care.

School Meeting of Much Interest

The union meeting of Thorsby Chamber of Commerce and Thorsby Parent-Teachers Association, Rev. J. W. Davenport presiding, brought out a full house at the Congregational Church last week Tuesday night. The meeting had been advertised as an "Open Forum," and people came who were not members of either of the organizations represented. Thorsby Concert Band lent interest and spice to the occasion by playing several popular airs.

The principal speaker of the evening was Mr. R. E. Ledbetter, State Superintendent of Rural Schools and people who live in the vicinity of Thorsby who were not present and yet are, or should be, interested in better rural schools, missed a lot of valuable information as to "The Trend of the Times," regarding this matter in Alabama. He told especially of Consolidated Schools far from "The Marts of Trade" where the people, with some State aid, had built new school houses costing from $40,000 to $90,000. This right here in Alabama. He also told how Iowa is abandoning the one and two room schools and transporting thousands of children to just as fine schools as can be found in the cities. A feature of the Iowa law provides that no vacated school building shall be torn down within two years from the time the district becomes a part of a consolidated school, and stated that not one school district has ever wanted to go back to their old school methods. He also stated, from a wealth of personal experience as an Alabama teacher, how it is impossible for a teacher to give half the time to recitations that the new plan provides, and almost no time for supervision or assistance in studies between recitations. And because of these facts much of the time the boy or girl spends in the school room during the five to seven month terms and with the poor equipment of both school room and teacher, is actually wasted. For be it known first class teachers can seldom be induced to accept a position in a district where the ideas of and facilities for modern education of our young people are so limited, and the tragic aspect of the whole business is the fact that any community that clings to these old methods will, as the years go by, be able to retain among them only the boys and girls whose minds are undeveloped and faculties stunted to intermarry and propagate their kind. The white children of most communities in Alabama are capable of wonderful development, if given a chance and it is up to the parents to see that they get it even if they have but little education themselves. Alabama is an Empire of wonderful natural resources which more than ever is attracting attention from home-seekers and investors of capital for its development which is bound to come and come fast, and only those of our young people who have awakened and trained minds will be fitted to hold responsible positions either in field, factory or commerce. Remember this: To the person who says it can't be done it is impossible, but to one who says I'll try wonderful things are achieved.

The meeting resulted in arousing considerable interest in better school facilities for this section, and it is hoped that it will extend and embrace the surrounding districts and result in the establishment of a modern Consolidated School, as good as anybody's children have.

Mr. M. Lande of Clanton was a visitor in Thorsby last Thursday afternoon.

On April 2nd Mrs. Clarence Bice will open a private school to cover two months, occupying one room in the public school building. Enrollment will be limited to 25 pupils.

We regret to learn that Miss Bertha Littleton and her mother are on the sick list, and hope for them a speedy recovery.

The Sunday school convention of the second district was held at the Baptist Church at 2 o'clock Sunday. Mr. Felix Eiland was elected president and Rev. E. W. Butler secretary. The following appointments were made for visitors to Sunday schools in the district on Sunday, April 8th, which has been designated by proclamation of Governor Brandon as "Go to Sunday School Day" for every white person within the State of Alabama.

For Thorsby Baptist Church, Rev. James W. Davenport; Mr. Ben L. Davenport to Congregational Church, Thorsby; Mr. Felix Eiland to Cedar Grove; Rev. E. W. Butler to New Salem; Mr. Tommy Maddox to Collins Chapel; Mr. W. J. Billingsley to Pates Chapel, and Mr. R. A. Turner to Pleasant Grove.

Mr. Thomas Ellzey, wife of the secretary of the State Sunday school association, was present and gave an interesting talk.

The various Sunday schools are urged to make arrangements to send one or more delegates to the State Sunday school convention, which meets at Birmingham April 18th and lasts three or four days.

A very enjoyable social affair was the Luther League banquet, at Bates Hall last Monday night. Owing to inclement weather the attendance was not as large as it otherwise would have been, but those present were highly entertained not only with edibles but with intellectual refreshments also.

The program was as follows:

Devotions led by Rev. J. W. Davenport.

Address of Welcome.

Piano Solo—Miss Inga Erdahl.

Vocal Solo—Miss Agnes Gerald.

Piano Duet—Miss Naemi Turnquist and Miss Inga Erdahl.

1. Capt James B. Hutchinson—What Kind of a World Did God Plan?
2. Mr. Reagan—Why Has This Plan Failed, and Why is This World Not What God Planned it to be?
3. Mr. Bradford—Resolved, That the World is Growing Better.
4. The Rev. Mr. Davenport—Local Conditions, and How a Young People's Society May Help to Improve Them.
5. Mr. Harris—How Education is Helping to Make the World Better.
6. Miss Jenkins—Will Education alone be Able to Make the World Better?
7. The Rev. Mr. Butler—How Mathematics Has Helped to Make the World Better.
8. State Senator Adams—What America Has Done to Make the World Better.
9. Mr. C. R. Foss—The Economic Basis of a Better World.
10. Woman and the Better World—Rev. Wilhelm Petterson.

On Sunday last the pulpit at the Congregational Church was occupied by Rev. J. B. Mills, State Superintendent of Alabama Anti-Saloon League. The house was well filled with a very attentive audience. Among the startling statements made by the speaker, was the fact that for the past ten years our public schools have been teaching youngsters how to erect and operate a whiskey still, this being done by illustration and diagram as well as printed matter in one of the regular text books of the school, which has just been eliminated, although the publishers were anxious to furnish it for less than cost which only leads to the inference that somebody is willing to stand for the loss. An experienced teacher having a large school in another county related the fact that some of his students were detected in the act of erecting a still under their school house.

On Saturday evening, March 17th, the Debating Club entertained its audience with the following program:

Vocal Solo—Miss Agnes Gerald.

Debate—Resolved, That the Motion Picture Theatres as Now Conducted Are Beneficial to the Public.

Affirmative—Truman Pierce, Forrest Glenn.

Negative—B. F. Dykes, Spurgeon Kelly.

Declamation—John Lessley.

The debate was the main feature of the evening, and it was a treat indeed to hear the argument, pro and con, so entertainingly and persuasively rendered by these young speakers. The subject is one that is arousing deep interest all over the United States today, due to censorship committees, and the actions of Will Hayes.

The decision of the judges was given unanimously in favor of the affirmative.

New song books for use at the Chapel exercises at Thorsby Institute have long been needed but the cost of the books has prevented the purchase. Mrs. C. C. Perry, who retains an interest in the school since her visit here a year ago, has made a gift to the school of one hundred copies of Hymnal for American Youth. These books are splendidly adapted to the Chapel exercises and it is expected that it will be possible to have most inspiring singing by the student body. The students and faculty appreciate to the fullest extent Mrs. Perry's thoughtful and generous gift.

At the Chapel exercises on March 19th, Rev. James Davenport, of the Congregational Church, delivered a short speech on Truth. This was the first of the series of talks on Important Traits of Character that Mr. Davenport is giving at the Chapel exercises for this week.

CHAMPION DEBATE COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL FRIDAY EVENING

A variety of musical numbers will be rendered between the various contests. Decorating committees will leave nothing undone in displaying the colors of each society. Most elaborate arrangements have been made to make this the best program of its kind since the organization of these live literary societies.

The following will contest for honors Friday evening:

Negative (Lanierian) — Charles Moore, Udah Curlee.

There will be no admission. You are cordially invited to attend. The Senior play will be presented Thursday evening, March 29th.

Kill the Hawk and Save the Partridge

Sportsmen in Chilton county who are interested in the preservation of quail should gladly co-operate with the Alabama Department of Game Conservation in the observance of anti-hawk week. All sportsmen are urged by this department to kill a hawk during the week from March 26th to 31st. Every hawk that is killed means more quail for the field next season. County Game Warden J. L. Easterling has asked The Union-Banner to urge all field sportsmen in the county to make an effort to kill a hawk during the week above specified.

Facts About Child-Birth

AN eminent physician has shown to thousands of expectant mothers just how to be free from dread, and from much of the suffering which many mothers experience for months, right up to the moment when the Little One arrives!

Mrs. Wm. Washington, 107 Louise Ave., Nashville, Tenn., says: "There is positively no woman on earth that would be without 'Mother's Friend' during expectancy if she only knew the value of comfort."

"Mother's Friend" is externally applied to the region of the abdomen, back and hips. It relieves the tension on nerves and ligaments as month follows month. Finally, it makes child-birth a joy instead of a painful dread.

Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradfield Regulator Co., BA-47, Atlanta, Ga., for a free wonderful book containing information every expectant mother should have. Get a bottle of "Mother's Friend" today. It is sold by all druggists—everywhere.

ALABAMA STATE NEWS

John Lewis, of Wilcox county, whose parole was revoked by Governor Brandon February 27, when advised that he was wanted in Jefferson county on a charge of assault with intent to murder, has been granted another parole by the governor. The second parole was issued when the governor was informed by the solicitor of Jefferson county that the report regarding the charge against Lewis had proved to be an error.

Dr. D. A. Morton and Dr. W. E. Noel have been exonorated of charges of negligence in performing a surgical operation by a jury in the circuit court at Gadsden. A $50,000 damage suit was brought by Mrs. Mattie Stewart who alleged that her husband, J. L. Stewart, died at the conclusion of an operation due to negligent administering of choloform but the jury returned a verdict for the defendants.

Twenty-one members of the graduating class of 1923 in the school of arts and sciences at the University of Alabama have been elected to membership in the Phi Beta Kappa honor fraternity, acknowledged the highest honor that can come to a college graduate. The number selected is the greatest chosen from any graduating class of the University as only 15 per cent can be chosen from any class.

Milk inspection which has been confined to the large dairies serving Gadsden and neighboring cities will be extended to all sources, large and small, by the county board of health, it has been announced. It is said by this means every person who sells milk in any quantity in Gadsden, Alabama City or Attalla, must submit to an inspection and regulation of his premises, barns and cows.

Alabama's capital is looking forward to one of the greatest building booms ever recorded within its limits for the present spring. Almost daily word of a new structure that is to be erected comes in, and business men state that it all indicates that an unprecedented era of prosperity is in the offering for Montgomery.

Assistant Sanitay Engineer H. G. Menke, of the state board of health, has completed his work at Albany-Decatur and returned to Montgomery. Mr. Menke's work was to see that the right dosage of chemicals had been placed into the new 1,000,000 gallon coagulation basin lately put in by the Alabama Water Company for the Twin Cities.

Gas rates in Montgomery and surrounding suburbs will be materially reduced on April 1, according to a scale of rates announced by the Alabama Power Company. The scale, it is said, has been satisfactorily passed by the Alabama Public Service Commission.

COLLINS CHAPEL

Rev. Norris filled his regular appointment here Sunday at 11 o'clock and delivered an able sermon to a large crowd, and was listened to with great interest throughout his discourse.

In the afternoon, regardless of the inclement weather, the United Singing Society met with a large crowd in attendance. Everyone seemed hungry for music and eager to sing—so much that some of them would not be quiet long enough for the president of the anti-saloon league to make a speech on prohibition and the work of the league, but as soon as he was through the singing began again and continued throughout the evening. Those who directed were E. L. Glasscock, Hurlie Mims, Akins Collins and A. H. Gasscock, and between each director a quartet was rendered by the United Singing Society quartet which was composed of A. H. Glasscock, Akins Collins, E. L. Glasscock and David Childress. We had a good singing and a large crowd for a rainy day. Among the many visitors were Uncle Dudley Collins and family from Friendship. Come again J. D.—we are glad to have you visit us any time, and other visitors are always welcome to take part in all services as well as our singing.

Now, let's all go to Oak Hill next Sunday evening and show the class up there that we appreciate their coming down here and helping us, for they never fail; they are always here on time, rain or shine every third Sunday evening and day by day with their help in every way. The United Singing Society gets better and better. Organists for the evening were Misses Gennie Collins and Mattie Mims. Meet us at Oak Hill next Sunday evening for a good time singing those sweet songs in praise to Him from whom all blessings flow.

With the farmer of today it isn't a question of using fertilizers, but which fertilizers. He knows that intelligent selection of the RIGHT fertilizers may make the difference between extra-profitable and just ordinary crops.

Right fertilizers—goods correct in formula, complete in availability, timely in action—are crop insurance. "A A Quality" Fertilizers are founded on that basis—as an honest and reliable aid to farming success.

MAKE YOUR VOICE HEARD

Secretary Mellon of the treasury, in a letter to Representative Fordney, chairman of the committee on ways and means of the house of representatives, says: "Ordinary expenditures for the first three quarters of the fiscal year, 1921, have been $3,783,771,996.74, or at the rate of about $5,000,000,000 for the year. . . According to the latest estimates of the spending departments. . . ordinary expenditures during the fiscal year, 1922, including interest on the public debt, will be over $4,000,000,000.

"The nation cannot continue to spend at this shocking rate. As the President said in his message, the burden is unbearable, and there are two avenues of relief. 'One is resistance in appropriation and the other is the utmost economy in admi.'-tration.'"

R. C. Leffingwell, formerly an assistant secretary of the treasury, whom I have quoted previously in these articles, and who is still deeply and actively interested in securing retrenchment in national expenditures, commenting on this utterance of Secretary Mellon, says: "Why should there be retrenchment in public expenditure? Why does the secretary of the treasury speak of current and estimated expenditures as shocking? What is the evil that we are discussing and what is its effect?

"Government expenditures must be met from taxes. To the extent that they are met promptly from taxes and from honest taxes directly laid upon the incomes of the people, and in proportion to those incomes, exaggeration of the evil of government expenditure is avoided. Government expenditure takes the money of all the people for the supposed benefit of a portion of the people, honestly or dishonestly, equally or unequally, avowedly by direct taxation, or surreptitiously by the indirect taxation which results from inflation of currency and credit and of the public debt.

"Government expenditure takes the fruits of the earth and the labor of the people and diverts them from the productive and reproductive enterprises of men, from the natural enjoyment of the men, who by their prudence, foresight and effort, created the wealth and made it available, to the sometimes benevolent and sometimes belligerent, but almost always economically wasteful, purposes of government.

"Government exploits all of us for the benefit, or supposed benefit, of some of us. Yielding to the vague aspirations of men for a better world or a better distribution of the good things of this earth, government imposes upon all of us ever-increasing burdens in the effort to benefit vociferous and organized minorities.

"Each of the executive departments is concerned to improve its service and to discover new and useful fields of service. The entire organization of the army, of the navy, of each of the departments, independent offices and agencies of the government, is devoted to an important task. Its particular function seems of vital usefulness, even necessity. Experts in each are alive to its defects and to the opportunities for usefulness which have not been availed of.

"The secretary, or other head of the department, drawn from private life, perhaps wholly ignorant at the outset of the nature and extent of its problems, promptly becomes the advocate of the policies and demands of his permanent assistants and bureau chiefs. If he does not become such advocate, he may break down the morale of his organization and possibly lose the confidence of his personnel.

"Behind it all is the pressure of organized interests in the constituencies, which are the beneficiaries of specific expenditures, operating upon politicians, executive departments, senators and congressmen. The strident voice of greed is heard in the market place and in legislative halls; the voice of the people is barely audible.

"The fact that each project is considered separately, without reference, either in executive departments or congress, to ways and means of financing it, prevents concentration of popular opinion on the awful total. All agree that there must be economy, but as each item is presented all seemingly agree that that is not the proper field for economy. There must be economy, but there must be a merchant marine, whatever the cost. There must be economy, but the government must pay high wages to railroad employees and furnish transportation on the railroads at less than cost. There must be economy, but the World war soldiers must have their bonus. There must be economy, but Civil war pensions must be increased. There must be economy, but we must prepare for war, regardless of expense."

You know this is true. The new budget law will help very much this condition, but unless you are interested, continuously, actively, openly interested, your money will not be saved.

HARDING WILL BE CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT AGAIN IN 1924 CAMPAIGN

Definite Announcement Made Last Sunday by Attorney General Daughtery, Who is Closest Political Adviser of the President.

Miami, Fla., March 17.—President Harding will be a candidate for re-election in 1924.

This flat and unqualified statement was made here tonight by Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty, his campaign manager in 1920, and his political confidant and associate of many years standing.

It is the first authoritative public announcement that has been made concerning Mr. Harding's plans for 1924, and coming from the man who is generally accounted the political spokesman for the president, Mr. Daugherty's prediction takes on added significance.

This announcement amounts in effect, to fair warning to other Republican aspirants that their activities in grooming themselves for possible nomination run counter to Mr. Harding's plans.

"President Harding will be renominated almost without opposition," said the attorney general as he gazed out over the blue waters of Biscayne bay, "and in my opinion, he will be re-elected. He will go before the country on the record of his administration. It is a good platform on which to stand, and one that will be approved by an overwhelming majority of the American people."

Looks For No Opposition

The attorney general believes the opposition to Mr. Harding's candidacy within the Republican party will be negligible.

"The party will demand Mr. Harding's renomination," he said, "and the country will demand that he accept. That he will accept I have no doubt, and the party which demands his renomination will see to his re-election.

"I can see but one contingency that might arise and prevent the president's being a candidate for re-election," continued Mr. Daugherty. "That is his health, which at present is good and bids fair to continue to be so, after he has had the benefit of this rest he is now getting. Granted good health, there is nothing, in my opinion, that can prevent the president's renomination and re-election."

There will be "a few other Republican candidates," before the 1924 convention, the attorney general believes, but he does not take them or their chances very seriously. The certainty of defeat, he believes, will act as a deterrent to many ambitions, and the candidates that bloom in 1923 will be withered by 1924.

"There will always be one contender, perhaps," said the attorney general, but the identity of the opposition he had in mind went unnamed. It was left to imagination whether he had reference to Senator Robert M. LaFollette of Wisconsin, or Senator Hiram Johnson of California.

The attorney general believes it is yet too early to predict precisely what the issues of the 1924 campaign will be.

"Much can happen," he said, "between now and the next campaign. But one issue is certain—the issue of law enforcement.

"We in this country have reached the point where a show down is at hand between the forces of sane, conservative, American business progress and the forces of destruction and obstruction, which have their origin in other countries. Property rights and human rights both have their place in American life and they both must be preserved against those who seek to destroy them. Law enforcement will be one of the principal issues of 1924. That much is certain. What the others will be it is yet too early to say. Taxation will be one, perhaps.

Strike Not Mentioned

While Mr. Daugherty did not mention specifically the railroad strike of last autumn and the now famous "Daugherty injunction," it was evident that this was uppermost in his mind when he spoke of the issue of law enforcement in the next campaign.

The attorney general's political observations today were made while he sunned himself in front of the Flamingo hotel at Miami Beach, recuperating from the illness that kept him in bed for many weeks. His visitors have been very few. Outside of the president himself and a few intimates, the attorney general has received no callers since he first became ill.

Here under the broiling hot sun of lower Florida he is making a slow recovery, and is now able to take short daily motor rides and walk a short distance each day with the aid of a cane. He will remain here for another week, and then go to St. Augustine, where he will again join the presidential party.

It probably will be some weeks before the attorney general is again regularly at his desk at the department of justice in Washington, although he now gets daily reports from his office and transacts some official business. After his sojourn in Florida, the attorney general plans to return to Washington for a short time and then go to Atlantic City. A cottage probably will be taken there for the summer, and Mrs. Daugherty will lead a commuter's existence between the capital and the Jersey resort.

President Harding brought his visit to Miami to a close late today and left by special train for Palm Beach, where he will arrive about 8 o'clock tonight and again board the house boat Pioneer for a return trip up the Indian and Halifax rivers to St. Augustine. Both the President and Mrs. Harding appeared greatly benefitted by their stay here in the torrid sun of Miami.

Columbus Conway of Jemison was in Clanton on business for a while Wednesday.

Tom Parrish expects to open up his business in the new Walker building in the next few days. The location is the same place where Miss Minnie Muse once conducted her millinery shop.

Mr. J. C. Brown, the well-known and popular insurance man, was a visitor to Clanton for a while Wednesday. He left here for Wetumpka, where he went to transact some business.

Mr. I. L. Waldrup of the northwest part of Chilton county, was among the visitors to Clanton last Saturday.

Save More Baby Chicks This Year

The very surest way you can save more baby chicks this year is to use the right starting feed. Ordinary grain feeds and home mixed rations kill countless chicks every year. How often you hear the expression "I had bad luck with my chicks. So many of them died." In most cases the trouble is in the starting feed. Make up your mind to save more baby chicks.

Purina Chicken Chowder and Purina Baby Chick Chow

fill every requirement of a perfect feed for baby chicks. With Purina Poultry Chows you can give your chicks a double start.

Double development or money back is the guarantee if, when fed as directed, these two Chows do not produce double growth over ordinary grain feeds the first six weeks.

Order these Chows now before your chicks become stunted for lack of proper nourishment.

"Go ahead and Plant your cotton AND Leave the Boll weevil To me"

You can raise cotton as though there were no boll-weevil, and keep this pesky insect from getting one boll of your cotton, if you'll just follow my advice.

I'm speaking from experience, not theory, as I raised 604 bales of cotton on 812 acres of land in Burke County, Georgia in 1922, by protecting my cotton with my own boll-weevil poison—Hill's Mixture. I spent thousands of dollars and years of hard labor in perfecting this poison, but have made it back on my increased cotton production in the last two years.

No Machinery— No Night Work!

Not only is my poison the cheapest that you can buy, costing half or less than the dusting method, but it requires no machinery for its application, and can be put on any hour of the day! Simply make a mop out of a stick and a rag, and walk along the row, touching the bud of each plant one time, as you pass by. An inexperienced boy or girl can cover 5 to 6 acres a day.

HILL'S THE BOLL WEEVIL EXTERMINATOR MIXTURE

Protect Your Cotton at Minimum Cost

The Price of Hill's Mixture is 77c per gallon. Compare this with the dusting method, which is much less effective, more trouble, and more expensive.

Hill's Mixture is composed of three elements; calcium arsenate as a base, molasses as a binder, and a third (secret) element which ATTRACTS THE WEEVIL, and makes him eat it in preference to any part of the cotton plant! This is the only poison that the weevil seeks! The molasses acts as a binder, and is washed away by only the heaviest rains.

Place your order for Hill's Mixture at once with my agent for your territory whose name appears below; price $38.50 per 50-gal. bbl., freight prepaid in Alabama, plus $3.00 for the bbl. Small freight charge to other states. We will refund this to you when the bbl. is returned in good condition.

Decides on the Best Life Insurance

"Five years ago I was refused life insurance because of my heart symptoms. Doctors said it was caused from a pressure of gas that come from my stomach, but their medicine did not help me and I was getting worse all the time. Three years ago my druggist recommended Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. I took a course of it and believe it is the best life insurance anyonce can buy. It helped my trouble at once." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailment, including appendicitih. SUCCESS IS ASSURED FOR CANNING FACTORY OF UNITED FARMERS

Location of Plant Has Been Definitely Decided Upon; Property Bought in Gowan Addition of Clanton

The headquarters office of the United Farmers of America is all smiles over the success that is coming to the efforts of that organization for the establishment of a canning factory in Clanton. The results of a three-day campaign among the locals of the county has been very satisfactory in every way, and it is evident that the farmers of the county have caught the vision of possibilities for an institution of this kind, and will unite their energy and efforts to put it over in grand style.

There has already been purchased a very desirable piece of property in the Gowan Addition of Clanton upon which to build the canning plant. In addition to the actual buildings necessary for the canning operations, the United Farmers will also erect sufficient buildings in which to accommodate the state headquarters of the organization. It is also proposed that a warehouse be erected in connection with the plant which will be a great convenience to the members of the farmers organization, as well as a producer of revenue from the operation thereof.

We wish that we might be able to impress indelibly upon the farmers of this county what we believe to be the real opportunities that are offered to them by the establishment of this canning factory. One thing which we would be especially careful to have them remember is that this is not a guess-work proposition. This thing is figured out upon scientific knowledge and actual arithmetical computations, and the basis thereby determined does not fall anywhere short of an absolute success for those who go into it.

This is not the first canning factory that was ever attempted in the country. Neither is it the first one that was ever sponsored by the Peterman Construction Company, who are at the head of the proposition here, in cooperation with the state and local officials of the United Farmers of America.

Now don't you know that if other canning factories have made a success (and you know they have) that the people who have had experience in making them succeed would not stake their reputation here upon a half-cocked theory which they do not know will be a success.

There is but one thing that can keep the canning factory from succeeding in Chilton County, and that is for the farmers, the members of the United Farmers if you please, to withhold their support and co-operation. We know that this will not happen.

We believe that the United Farmers will not be guilty of putting their hands to the plough and turning backward. We believe they will succeed right here in Chilton County with the first co-operative canning factory that has been built and operated in this country by the United Farmers of America on a strictly co-operative basis.

By so doing the Chilton County U. F. of A., will have set a high standard of service to its members that well may be taken as the guiding star of other locals throughout the country in achieving the great and noble purposes that are embodied in the ground work of the organization.

Let Chilton County lead the way. Why should we not grab the success that awaits us just ahead, when we know in advance that all we have to do is reach out and get it?

"SHADOWS"

Theatre-goers of Clanton and adjacent territory will be pleased to learn that Mr. Wade has booked for the Wadesonian Theatre on Thursday, April 19th, the famous picture entitled "Shadows." Mr. Wade assures his patrons that this is a production well worth their seeing, and he hopes to have a full house every time this wonderful picture is flashed on the screen.

Mr. Wade is certainly to be complimented on the fine and strictly high-class pictures which he is showing at his theatre both here and at Calera. He says that if he succeeds here with his picture show it will be due to the fact that he has built his patronage up with clean, high-class stories and pictures. Mr. Wade is going to succeed, because the people of Clanton appreciate a good, clean place of amusement—the kind which he is doing his best to furnish.

"The Unfoldment," which was shown last Thursday night, was a picture which everybody in Chilton county would do well to see. It contains a moral which is simply grand even from a religious standpoint. Mr. Wade says that "Shadows" is even a better picture than this one.

Read his advertisement elsewhere in this paper.

SYRUP GROWERS TO HAVE MARKETING ASSOCIATION

Montgomery, Ala., March 24.—Definite decision was made by the executive committee of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation at its last meeting to proceed with the organization of syrup for marketing purposes along the lines similar to that of cotton and hay, which associations are now in operation and rendering very valuable service to the farmers of Alabama.

This decision on the part of the executive came as a result of a report of the syrup marketing investigating committee which was appointed several weeks ago and included the many phases of syrup marketing in its report.

During the discussion it was brought out that Alabama heads the list of states in the production of sugar cane syrup but that under the present marketing system a large part of it is almost worthless from the standpoint of the market because it is not standardized in content or package and for this reason it does not readily sell.

No definite date was decided upon to start the sign-up campaign but it will be done sometime this year and the association will be ready to handle the 1923 crop.

MILLIONS LOANED ON STATE FARMS

Federal Bank Furnishes Alabama Growers Twenty Million Dollars For Work

More than $20,000,000 has been loaned by the government, through the Federal Land Bank, to farmers of Alabama for improving their farms and financing their operations, according to J. W. Brazeal, agent of the bank, who has returned to Birmingham from New Orleans, where he conferred with T. L. Davis, president of the bank, regarding government work among the farmers in the northern part of the state.

Mr. Brazeal stated that loans were made for periods of from 5 to 35 years at 5 1-2 per cent interest, with a small annual payment. Total interest and payments amounts to only 6 1-2 per cent annually and at this rate, if the loan is carried through to the time limit, the mortgage will have been paid in full, he said.

Farmers in need of money are urged to place their applications at once and not wait until the rush of Fall business, Mr. Brazeal said. He stated that the Federal Land Bank is able to give prompt service in making loans to farmers.

Want Road Built From Clanton to Selma, Ala.

A movement has been launched for the designation and construction of a State and Federal road from Clanton to Selma. In support of this proposal a delegation from Maplesville, Stanton and points in Dallas county was in Clanton last Saturday to confer with Judge Reynolds in regard to the co-operation of Chilton county road officials. The delegation here Saturday was composed of W. W. Ernest of Maplesville, W. C. Dyer of Stanton, J. E. Terry and W. A. Sanders of Dallas county. These men stated that the State Highway Commission will hold a meeting in Selma Thursday of this week, and it is their desire to place this matter before the meeting with the hope of having an official designation upon the proposed road.

Following the original idea of the highway department in providing a series of county site to county site highways, it would seem that this proposition to connect Clanton and Selma is an ideal one in support of such policy. It is understood that the officials of Dallas county are ready to lend their support to the proposition, and the same attitude is expected from the Chilton county officials.

Such a road from here to Selma would be in direct line connection with the road now under construction by Chilton and Coosa counties to connect us with Sylacauga and other points to the east.

THE OLDEST BANK In Chilton County

A STANDARD OF LIVING

As the old fellow said when first saw a giraffe: "There ain't no such animile." There is no real standard of American living.

Most of us live right up to the limit of our incomes. Some go even beyond and land in debt—sometimes in jail. Those who earn much, spend it, and those who earn little, spend what they have. High prices intoxicated most folks and they started right out to paint the town a ruby red and show 'em all how real guys could separate themselves from their coin. Now it is over, and the remedy is —SAVE. Use our bank. We will be glad to help.

EVERYBODY WORKED BUT FATHER

"Father's stomach trouble seemed to be getting worse all the time and finally he had to quit work altogether. Two brothers and myself gave up school and went to work to support the family. Father had lost sixty pounds in weight and was yellow as saffron and no medicine helped him. Telling a friend about it six months ago, she advised taking Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. I got a bottle and it helped father at once. He was able to go back to work a month later, has regained his weight and strength and eats like a wood chopper." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, incuding appendicitis. DRUNKEN BRAWL BREAKS UP A SCHOOL CONCERT

Rum and Bad Language Seems to Have Been Plentiful at Hopewell

It is reported that a rough house prevailed at a school concert at Hopewell church near Simmons bridge on Conecuh river about 10 miles west of Andalusia last Saturday night. Rum and bad language seems to have made a liberal display of things.

It is said that everybody in the country was there, good and bad. The bad ones, of course, thought a public entertainment was a good place to display the effect of rum and it is said they had it there in plenty, so plentiful that some drunken man dropped his bottle on a girl's head who sit in front of where he stood in the church while pistols were fired off and profane language was handed out on every side.

The lady principal of the school started some one off to telephone to call the sheriff, but the car broke down before the runner got to the 'phone, hence the sheriff was not notified in time to get on the scene. Besides the brawl it is said that one man and his wife became estranged.

The purpose of the concert was to make up money to finish paying for sanitary out buildings for the school. The collections amounted to $58.45. —Florala News.

He collected two doubles and one triple in four times at the bat. He struck out twelve men.

Burnett has pitched fourteen innings this season, and has given up but one hit and one run. He has struck out twenty-five men while pitching. At the bat he has made five hits in seven times up.

BRANDON CALLS EDUCATION MEET

Citizens Conference Will Be Held In Birmingham on April 6th.

Montgomery, Ala., March 26.—In the interest of bringing about the fullest co-operation of all Alabamians to strive together for the achievement of further educational progress, Gov. William W. Brandon has calelu a conference of citizens to meet in Birmingham, Ala., April 6th. At this conference, which will be held in the auditorium of the Southern Club, beginning at 9:30 o'clock a.m., various educational problems will be discussed.

The call for the mass meeting is contained in a formal proclamation issued by Gov. Brandon Wednesday afternoon, in which he states that advancement of the cause of education is the most important task of the people of Alabama and their representatives in legislative and executive offices. The text of Gov. Brandon's proclamation follows:

"To the People of Alabama:

"Since an educated citizenry is the most important asset of the democratic commonwealth and fundamental to the public health, to material prosperity, to civic righteousness and to all higher cultural and spiritual attainment, the improvement and more adequate support of all the means of education, from the elementary schools, in city and country, to the most advanced work of technical school, college and university, constitute the most important task of the people of Alabama and of their representatives in legislative and executive offices, a task which cannot be accomplished effectively without the full, hearty and inteligent co-operation of all.

"To assist in bringing about such co-operation I am calling a citizens' conference on education to assemble in the auditorium of the Southern Club in Birmingham at 9:30 a.m. on the 6th day of April, and am extending a cordial invitation to all good citizens, and particularly to all state, county and city officials whose duties relate in any way to education, to attend and take part in the conference. All commercial, industrial, civic and fraternal organizations are invited to send delegates.

"Persons attending this conference may take advantage of the special rates made by the railroads for the Alabama Educational Association, which will be in session at Birmingham April 5, 6 and 7.

"For further information about rates and details of the conference, application should be made to H. G. Dowling, secretary of the Alabama Educational Association, Cullman, Ala."

Uncle Tom Hubbard of Jemison was a visitor to Clanton Tuesday. He boasts now of being a high-class fellow, as he maintains a city home in Jemison and a country estate at Macedonia, and divides his time about equally between the two places.

SHOULTS

Editor Union-Banner:

Please give me space for a few words in your paper to tell what the workers here are doing for the Lord; what they hope to do and ask the help and co-operation of those good people that are staying at home from Sunday school, preaching and B. Y. P. U. Of course, some of us older ones excuse ourselves from B. Y. P. U. because it's a young folks affair. Now let's go and encourage those that are young for that very same reason for we are all young until we think we are old.

Bro. W. T. Edwards, our pastor; Bro. Howard Oden, S. S. Supt., and others are trying to improve the church and Sunday school but need and must have more help. Bro. Edwards will be at Pleasant Grove church to help perfect plans to enlarge same Friday, March 30th, at 7 p.m., then Saturday morning at 11 a.m., and Sunday at 3 p.m. He will preach for us. If you don't come you will miss something good.

Last Sunday ended this quarter and those in Mrs. O. S. Shoults' junior class winning the rewards offered by her and getting on the honor roll were Misses Allie Walker, Fay McFee, Master Willie McGee and Lavern Shoults. On April 8th this little class will render a song, "Little Things Have Wonderous Power," and poem, "What Can a Little Chap do?"

Miss Myrtle McGee, a live wire in church and Sunday school, has succeeded in getting lamps and windows for the church with the money taken in at B. Y. P. U. box supper. May the Lord bless this dear girl in the good work she is doing.

After the First 24 Hours

The delicate systems of those fluffy baby chicks are supplied by nature with food for the first two days. Then their sensitive digestive organs must be given a very carefully prepared food. Countless chicks die every year because the feed they receive is not suited to their needs.

supply every element needed in feeding the chicks from the very first feed. Many years of experience in poultry feeding are back of these Chows.

So sure are the makers of these Chows that they will produce results that they guarantee double development or money back on the Chows when fed as directed the first six weeks.

RUM AND BAD LANGUAGE

The Florala News says rum and bad language break up school concert. Those two things will not only break up school concerts—they will break up anything and anybody. They have broken up homes, schools, churches, business establishments; in fact the pathway of rum through the history of the world is strewn with the wreckage of every kind of institution, and the skeletons of every kind of people, who have been the unfortunate victims of this beast of many horns.

Alfred L. Robinson, member of the County Board of Education, was a visitor to The Union-Banner office last Saturday. He brought us a club of subscribers from his community. Mr. Robinson lives near Mitchell Dam.

When a fellow gets ready to tear up things he usually loads his pockets up with a quart of wildcat and a doghead pistol, and fills his mouth full of dirty words. When he gets thus euipqped he is in a very good shape to start a rough house.

That bunch of Wall Street brokers who heretofore believed that the sun rose at the Statue of Liberty and set on the western rim of Monhattan Island, have found out from one Mr. Saunders that the sun sometimes goes as far west as Memphis, Tennessee before the day is done and darkness falls from the wings of night.

Governor Brandon has called a big educational conference to take place in Birmingham on April the 6th, at which time the Alabama Educational Association will also be in session there. Look out now, boys. There is where the educational machine of Alabama is going to try to apply the chloroform to the "superintendent bills" which are pending on the calendar of the legislature for July.

The Union-Banner prints this week an interesting article from Southern Opportunities Magazine, the "hero" of which is Mr. Chas. E. Lucas of Thorsby. Mr. Lucas is a prominent figure of his adopted home town. The story of how he left the north is an interesting narrative. And by the way, we remember once hearing this man say that he would have been a citizen of Clanton, instead of Thorsby, but for the swamps that lie so closely and completely around Clanton. There is no way of telling how many other good citizens Clanton has failed to attract on account of these swamps. Yes, our swamps ought to be drained, and we are going to do it.

Senator King, Democrat, of Utah, says that McAdoo will be the Democratic candidate for president in 1924, and that he will easily beat Harding. If the Democrats expect to step ahead of the present incumbent of the White House in the 1924 race, they will have to hitch their wagon to a star that shines much brighter than does the son-in-law of Woodrow Wilson.

Southern Democrats are clamoring for Underwood for President in the 1924 race. Their voices will not sound beyond the Mason & Dixon line. The South will never again furnish a President for the nation as long as it remains solid Democratic. Presidents are made out of political expediency, and political expediency is not a factor in the politics of the South. This part of the country under the banner of solid Democracy, is bound to political prejudice, which is not the formula for making presidents nor for administering good government.

The petition for the Walnut Creek drainage project is being circulated among the land owners concerned in the matter, and it is hoped that within the next few weeks the papers will be in shape to present to the probate court for official action. Every person who owns lands in the swamps must be approached for an expression on the subject of drainage before this petition goes to the court.

Tyus—Abbott

A wedding of much interest was that of Miss Lillian Abobtt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. F. Abbott, was married to Mr. Cecil Tyus of Notasulga, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Tyus of Clanton. The ceremony was performed in Prattville Monday, March 26th.

Cards have been received from Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Soberg, announcing the marriage of their daughter Clara, to Mr. Daniel K. Henderson, on Saturday, March 24th. Mr. and Mrs. Henderson will make their home at 139 11th Street, N. E., Washington, D. C., where both have been for some time in government positions.

Miss Soberg will be remembered as a great favorite in Thorsby where she grew up from childhood, and was for a time a teacher in our Public school.

Rev. Frank E. Jenkins, D. D., president of Piedmont College at Demorest, Ga., and also president of the board of trustees of Thorsby Institute was in Thorsby Friday to visit his daughter, Miss Helen C. Jenkins, who is principal of Thorsby Institute, and also to visit the school and inspect its properties. He expressed himself as much pleased with the school and conditions as he found them.

Another distinguished visitor last week was Mrs. C. S. Thayer of Hartford, Conn., who is president of the Connecticut Woman's Missionary Union, which for years has been a liberal supporter of [illegible]gregational work in the South. Being able only to stop between the morning and evening trains, Miss Jenkins arranged a sort of informal reception for her at the Dormitory, at which Mrs. Thayer expressed delight at finding so many good things going forward at Thorsby, in which she has long been deeply interested.

We are pleased to note that the Primm family have so far recovered from a long seige of sickness as to enable the children to resume their places in school and the parents to get out to meetings. It is seldom that a family of six people have to contend with so long a period when not more than one or two at a time are able to be out of bed.

Mrs. Clarence Bice, who is to conduct a private school for the next two months, in a room in the Public school building, requests that all pupils be on hand at 9 o'clock a.m. next Monday morning.

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager)

One of the outstanding events of this week in Thorsby, is the series of special meetings being held mornings at 10 o'clock and evenings at 7:30 in Thorsby Congregational church. These meetings are conducted by Rev. Neil McQuarrie, superintendent of Congregational home missionary work in Georgia, Alabama and West Florida, a territory embracing 138 Congregational churches.

Mr. McQuarrie has had long experience as a missionary and evangelist in the southeast and is a man of forceful though pleasing address. He does not indulge in fiery denunciations of everything, except us, but appeals to consciousness of his hearers that they give heed to the strivings of "The Holy Spirit" within them, that they may grow in grace and knowledge of "The Love of God" and by following the precepts and example of eJsus, who "Went About Doing Good." They shall become prepared not for death, but for life here and hereafter. So that "My Joy Might Remain In You and That Your Joy May Be Full."

The meetings are characterized by a deep spirituality, rich in blessing, because it helps all to realize God's love and tender mercies.

These meetings will continue through the week. Much interest has been manifest and several have "Found The Way." You are invited to come and share in the good things we are receiving.

A very interesting incident was the presence, in a body, on Tuesday morning of the children of the public school, with their teacher, who occupy a room in the church building, having been excused during the hour of service. They occupied front seats and received special attention from the speaker who was delighted with the opportunity to address so many bright children, and who was deeply impressed with their close attention and orderly conduct, both during the service and in passing out at its close.

At 6:20 to 7:30 p.m. Easter Sunday, preceding the regular evening service, there will be a special Easter program by the Congregational Sunday school. The program was prepared by Margaret Slattery, a noted writer of Sunday school literature, and is entitled, "The Triumph of Love."

The Public school of Thorsby closed on Wednesday of this week, the "Last Act" being an all day picnic where teachers and scholars assembled for the last time in their former relations, as Prof. Harris, principal of the school, and Mrs. Harris, primary teacher, have announced their intention of giving up school teaching to engage in other business. They will be missed in school circles of Thorsby and Chilton county, and we sincerely wish them success in their new field of endeavor.

The following named pupils have attended the entire seven months fo the 1922-23 term of the Thorsby Public school, and have been neither absent nor trady during the term: Ralph Pate, Charles Clekler, Harold Clekler, Cecil Clekler, Marshall Hughes, Jr., Katharine Lenior, Elsa Turner, Rosalie Collins, Lota Mae Hayes, Louise Collins, Lucille Howard, Ronald Lucas, Verner Carlson, Hazel Collins, Effie Lou Neugent, Maryl Freeman, Ethel Peterson. A remarkable record for a season when there has been more or less serious sickness in almost every family in the Thorsby district. There is an interesting sequel to this matter in the fact that one of our Thorsby citizens offered at the beginning of the term the sum of one dollar to any boy or girl in Thorsby district who would make a perfect attendance record at the Public school for the ensuing school year. The kiddies got their money and it is considered a good investment.

Mr. J. K. Snyder, who has been very ill for several months, was reported on Tuesday to be near to death. His children, Rev. Charles W. Snyder of Ohio, Mrs. Ira Sarber of Elmore and Ed. Snyder of Florida were with him.

Curtis Billingsley, Gresham Lowery and Eugene Davenport attended the B. Y. P. U. Convention in Birmingham at the end of last week.

Mr. Luther Davenport moved his family last Monday to Jemison, where he is employed in W. H. Goodgame's planing mill.

Miss Lena Franklin was a delegate from Thorsby B. Y. P. U. to their State convention in Birmingham at the end of last week.

A few of the old neighbors of Mrs. E. H. Hanson helped her to celebrate the anniversary of her birth last Friday afternoon.

POOR ORIGINAL

Costs a Little More

Gilster's Best is not a cheap flour. It is a quality product, made for those who know and appreciate finer flour. It costs more to manufacture, and sells for a few cents more than cheaper flours.

But the delicious flavor, the dependability of your baking, and the fact that Gilster's Best requires less lard more than make up for the slight difference in cost.

If you prefer a self-rising flour—Gilster's Featherlite or Gilster's Mother's Joy.

A WEDDING OF INTEREST TO COLORED PEOPLE OF CLANTON

One of the colored people of Clanton has written an account of the recent marriage of Rev. J. T. Martin, colored, of Anniston, and Pearl Wright, a colored girl, of Clanton, and at his request we give space for publication of the article below:

Rev. J. T. Martin of Anniston, Alabama, and Miss Pearl Cornelia Wright of Clanton, Alabama, were happily married Monday, March 19th, 1923, at 2 o'clock, p.m., at the home of the bride's parents in the presence of a host of friends.

Rev. N. C. Shephard of Maplesville, Ala., officiated in the marriage ceremony.

Miss Wright is one of Clanton's belles, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Wright. She is a graduate of Selma University, and has the honor of being valadictorian of her class.

The groom was very handsomely dressed, and the bride was beautifully attired in white crepe de Chine over white satin, and veiled with a wreath of orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of white and pink carnations.

Many valuable presents were given them by both white and colored, and the Friendship Baptist Church of which he is pastor, presented them a nice cut glass water set. The reporter failed to get the names of all, therefore they are omitted.

The couple took leave on the 5 o'clock train for 1608 Mulberry Avenue, Anniston, Alabama, where they expect to make their future home.

We wish for them a long, prosperous and happy life.

COTTON MILL SITE

I have some property about 1 1-2 miles south of Clanton which would be very desirable for a cotton mill site. Can sell 30 acres, or more if desired. The land touches both the railroad and the highway near where Alabama Power line crosses the railroad. The Pneumonia Month

March is a typical pneumonia month and usually gives a high rate of mortality for the disease. After a long and hard winter, the system loses much of its resistance and people grow careless. When every cold, no matter how slight, is given prompt and intelligent attention, there is much less danger of pneumonia. It should be borne in mind that pneumonia is a germ disease and breeds in the throat. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is an expectorant and cleans out the germ ladened mucus and not only cures a cold but prevents its resulting in pneumonia. It is pleasant to take. Children take it willingly.

THE COOPER SCHOOL CLOSES

On Saturday the last day of school, the boys and girls of the 7th and 8th grades, with Profs. L. T. and G. D. Graham, motored to the capitol city for a picnic. Everyone seemed to have that spirit which goes to make up a day of enjoyment. The entire class had the pleasure of meeting Gov. Brandon, who gave the class a hearty greeting, with the old time handshake which familiarizes "Bill." After the introduction to the governor he made them an impressive talk, in which he pointed out that the governor is just an ordinary man with heavy responsibilities, and that every boy and girl has an equal opportunity of being governor.

In all, the day was well spent, while the attraction seemed to center on Master Askew Rockett and Miss Lucile Taylor. Askew had the honor of being governor for quite awhile, the entire affairs of the State being turned over to him, while he seemed well suited for the position that was entrusted to him. Miss Lucile Taylor turning flapper, which gave the governor a waiting opportunity for a kiss which seemed very much envied by the other State officials who were present.

From the capitol the class motored to the principal points of interest in the city, after which they motored over to the river bridge and spread lunch. Of course this was the principal feature of the day.

Enroute home the State convict farm at Spigener was visited which showed the boys and girls to some extent the need of an education which will enable them to be better law-abiding citizens.

Frequent Headaches

"I suffered with chronic constipation that would bring on very severe headaches," says Mrs. Stephen H. Kincer, of R. F. D. 1, Cripple Creek, Va. "I tried different medicines and did not get relief. The headaches became very frequent. I heard of and took it for a headache, and the relief was very quick, and it was so long before I had another headache. Now I just keep the Black-Draught, and don't let myself get in that condition."

Thedford's Black-Draught (purely vegetable) has been found to relieve constipation, and by stimulating the action of the liver, when it is torpid, helps to drive many poisons out of your system. Biliousness, indigestion, headache, and similar troubles are often relieved in this way. It is the natural way. Be natural! Try Black-Draught.

FRIENDSHIP SINGING CLASS

The Friendship Singing Class met in regular session on Sunday afternoon, and one of the best singings of its history was had. There was a good crowd present including a goodly number of visitors from other communities. There was a number of singers from Providence there, together with several from other adjoining communities.

Chairman T. G. Wyatt opened the singing at 2:30 o'clock by singing, and prayer was offered by Mr. R. M. Robinson. The following singers directed the class with three songs each: R. M. Robinson, G. D. Retherford, J. W. Cleckler, Rube Miller, Willie Cecker and C. H. Robinson. A quartet was rendered by Messrs. G. D. Retherford, C. H. Robinson, J. W. Cleckler and R. M. Robinson, which was well rendered.

Those performing at the organ were Miss Alice Wyatt, Mrs. Willie Cleckler and Mr. C. H. Robinson.

This singing was a splendid success, and the visiting singers are cordially invited to come back again. We are always glad to have visiting singers with us. The Society meets regularly on the second and fourth Sunday afternoons.

Miss Velma Martin and Mattie Driver visited Miss Hattie Martin Saturday afternoon.

There will be singing at Pleasant Hill next Sunday, and we are expecting the Jemison singing class to be with us with their 1923 song books. Everybody is invited. There will be singing Sunday morning and Sunday school and then dinner will be served. There will be preaching Sunday afternoon. The reason we are having the singing Sunday morning is because we are afraid the Jemison singing class is engaged to go some where else in the afternoon, so we are looking for a large crowd.

Mrs. Wm. Flack, 115 N. 12th St., Leavenworth, Kansas, says: "'Mother's Friend' is the best help in the world for an expectant mother. I am the mother of three children and have found 'Mother's Friend' fine."

"Mother's Friend" is externally applied about the abdomen, back and hips. It penetrates wonderfully, and in this way allows the muscles and ligaments to relax easily and readjust themselves to the changes during expectancy and at child-birth.

Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradfield Regulator Co., DA-15, Atlanta, Ga., for free booklet containing valuable information every expectant mother should have.

"Mother's Friend" contains no narcotics or harmful drugs. It is safe. There is no substitute. Avoid useless greases and plain oils. Start using "Mother's Friend" now—the sooner the better. "Mother's Friend" is sold at drug stores—everywhere.

JUDGE REYNOLDS SAYS ROAD PROPOSAL IS GOOD

The Union-Banner has received from Judge Reynolds a letter of tentative endorsement of the proposed State road to connect Clanton and Selma. His statement is as follows:

Editor Union-Banner:—

A delegation from the western part of the county was here last Saturday, in the interest of a good road from Selma to Clanton, and invited as many of our citizens as could conveniently do so, to come to Selma next Thursday to be at a meeting of the State Highway Commission in the interest of this proposed road.

I intend going to the meeting if I can get off from my office. It seems to me that this road would be a great benefit to Chilton county. It would give us an outlet west that we need, and I feel like our people will be glad to see this road built.

I hope there will be a good number of our people at the meeting.

Respectfully,
L. H. REYNOLDS.

PATE'S CHAPEL

There will be singing at Pate's Chapel the second Sunday evening in April. Owing to the fact that most everyone had a cold Sunday evening we did not have as good singing as we would have liked to have had. We had most a house full of listeners Sunday evening. Don't be disappointed people, but come back again. We always appreciate our visitors.

Someone said Sunday evening that he believed Pate's Chapel was the cleanest and best little community he had ever been in and that visitors seemed to respect the place in this way. We are not going to say any more about it. Come and see for yourself.

Some of those who directed Sunday evening were Prof. Jas. Franklin, J. F. Robinson, J. A. Cleckler, Chester Maddox, Eula Caton, Hazel Maddox and Callie Edwards.

There will be preaching here next Saturday and Sunday by Rev. Lowery.

SEARCH HOUSE AT LOCK 12

Sheriff Littlejohn went out to Lock 12 last Saturday afternoon and searched a negro house, wherein he found six bottles of liquor. In connection with this raid he arrested Marion Cunningham, a negro boy, and a negro girl whom he was "courting" at the place where the liquor was concealed.

FROM THE COLD NORTH TO THE LAND OF SUNSHINE AND SUCCESS

C. E. Lucas, president of the Bank of Thorsby, Alabama, just a few years back was living in Michigan. He was and still is, a man of vision, a man who could see further than his own home county.

He had heard a great deal of the South and its tremendous possibilities for development, its mild climate and its almost wholly Anglo-Saxon population. He began to read and get hold of such facts as he could about the South. He became more impressed than ever with the fact that the big population trend of the next quarter century would be Southward.

Then he secured the names of some former Michigan men who were then, and are now, living in the South. Mr. Lucas wrote to all these men and asked each of them his opinion of the South and its possibilities. For a number of years he had been a sufferer from asthma, and he thought, too, that a milder climate would benefit him.

Convinced that his observations were correct, he moved South in 1914.

He located at Thorsby, in Chilton County, and purchased 30 acres of ground for $1,250, making a small payment on the purchase price. Then for a small sum he purchased a team of oxen which had a reputation for being incorrigible, and a horse.

The way he broke the yoke of oxen to his will, so that he made money enough to finish paying for his land, if he had cared to use it that way, and afterwards selling the oxen at a fancy price, is a source of pleasure to him yet.

He was pleased with the land of his adoption and began immediately to branch out.

He is now president of the Bank of Thorsby and is taking a very active interest in preaching the opportunities in the South, and particularly the section in which he has located.

Note: Thorsby is in Chilton County, Ala., on the main line of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, between Birmingham and Montgomery, and it has a highly developed trucking industry. Nearly two dozen States are represented within a couple of miles of the town.—Southern Opportunities Magazine.

TWO MEN KILLED BY TRAIN AT LAWLEY

(From Montgomery Advertiser)

Two persons are dead and another is in a Montgomery hospital suffering from severe, but not serious injuries as result of a grade crossing disaster in which an automobile and Mobile and Ohio passenger train No. 103, from Artesia, Miss., to Montgomery, figured late Tuesday near Lawley, fifty-eight miles northwest of Montgomery.

T. B. Collins, 30, and Henry Latham, 44, both of whom lived in the vicinity of Lawley, are the dead. Eugene Thompson, 24 years old, drvier of the ill-fated auto, whose home is also near Lawley, is at Hill's Infirmary here, where it was stated that his injuries are not serious.

Collins died on the train en route to the hospital and Latham succumbed shortly before 10 o'clock Tuesday night, about two hours after the arrival in Montgomery. Thompson's injuries are confined mostly to bruises. Both Latham's legs were broken and he was otherwise injured, it was said.

All three men were placed aboard the passenger train immediately after the accident. Upon arrvng at Maplesville, eight miles from the scene of the crash, first medical attention was rendered to the injured men by Dr. C. N. Parnell, a physician of Maplesville. Dr. Parnell continued the trip to Montgomery.

Collins, Latham and Thompson had been engaged in loading lumber and logs on freight cars at the Lawley siding and left for their homes in a one-seated automobile late in the afternoon. The accident occurred at a crossing a half mile from the Lawley station. Thompson owned the automobile and was driving it at the time of the fatal accident, according to reports brought to Montgomery.

A. D. Latham, who accompanied his brother, Henry Latham, to Montgomery, said there is a slight upgrade of the highway at the railroad approach. He also said the railroad track curves in the vicinity of the crossing.

Reports received in Montgomery were to the effect that the automobile was thrown clear of the tracks when the collision happened. The car was almost completely demolished.

Both Collins and Latham were in a critical condition when they were placed aboard the train. Collins was reported in a dying condition when the train reached Maplesville and he lived only a few minutes after the departure from the station.

Leak's ambulance removed the injured men to the hospital when the train arrived in Montgomery early Tuesday night.

According to reports, the automobile approached the crossing from the side of the train opopsite the engineer. The train was in charge of Engineer E. R. Bettis and Conductor N. J. Rogers.

Mr. Latham is survived by his widow and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Noe Latham of Lawley and seven children. Mr. Collins is survived by his widow and mother and two small children.

The bodies will be shipped by the Leak Undertaking Company to Lawley Wednesday morning at 9:05 o'clock for funeral and interment.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL TO BE AT ISABELLA

The Chilton County Board of Education voted last Friday to locate the State Vocational School at Isabella. Both Verbena and Isabella had been approved for the location of the school, but the county board voted unanimously for the institution to go to the latter place.

The establishment of this school means a great deal to the community that is so fortunate to get it. It means a great expansion of the usefulness and service of the school facilities to a community. Isabella, being fully awake to the opportunity, is to be congratulated upon the successful fight they have made for the location of the school in their midst.

All the buildings and equipment are to be provided by the community, and will be the property of the community. This necessary provision will be met by the community by July the first, at which time the vocational work will begin. The course of instruction will be carried on for a full twelve months in the year, and will be under supervision of a thoroughly competent instructor. This instructor will be selected by the County Board of Education under approval of the State Board of Education. The state pays three-fourths of his salary.

The school, under this instructor, in addition to the regular school curriculum, will offer courses in any kind of practical vocational work of value and use on the farm. All students who are interested in this kind of work will have the services of the special instructor all the time in following up their demonstrations and experiments.

Isabella already has one of the best country schools in this part of the state. The addition of this vocational department puts that community on the map much more conspicuously among the communities that are doing big things educationally.

BETHANY NEWS

Health is very good except the illness of little Ethel Hathcock, who is very ill of pneumonia. We all certainly hope her a speedy recovery.

There is a great calm over this community now. Nothing can be heard except the wind and birds. The great stillness of the farms are broken now and then by a low, wailing, "gee" or "haw" from a neighboring field.

Miss Idona Neeley spent Easter Sunday with her friend, Miss Ethel Thomas.

Mesdames, Lula Gray and Leathe Neeley spent Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. C. B. Huett.

Mr. I. D. Huett spent last week in Clanton on business.

JUST A WORD FROM SHERIFF LITTLEJOHN

Clanton, Ala., April 3, 1923.

Editor Union-Banner:

Please state to the citizens of the county that have reported violations to me that just as soon as court is over I will be ready to answer their calls.

When reports are made please sign your name as I will keep it strictly confidential and give way bills to stills clearly as possible for when we have to go and hunt them some one will see us and tip the violators off.

I thank the citizens for what help they have already given me and if they will continue their help we can clean up this county.

Yours truly,
T. J. LITTLEJOHN,
Sheriff Chilton County.

RESULTS FROM ADVERTISING CLANTON IN SOUTHERN OPPORTUNITIES

The advertisement of The Union-Banner, which we are now running in Southern Opportunities Magazine, has brought to us the first inquiry from the north, from a man who wants to locate in the South. The place which he describes in his letter as his ideal is just an exact description of the opportunities that are offered right here in Chilton county.

The letter says: "What we want is a piece of land, 40 or 80 acres on which we can grow peaches, figs and berries, which we wish to can, dry and preserve on the farm. Also have poultry on a commercial scale, and bees; all of which we have been studying specially under Perdue University."

Now could you make a better description of what can be done in Chilton county, than the above statement of what this man wants to do?

The Union-Banner is taking this matter up with this man, and we shall endeavor to have him come and look the situation over this summer. We feel sure that if he will come here and see our possibilities, he will at once settle the matter and locate with us.

And let us remind you again, gentle reader, that it pays to advertise. There are people all over the world who had rather live in Chilton county than any place; but how shall they know about our wonderful opportunities unless we spread the news to them on the wings of printer's ink?

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT LAST SUNDAY AFTERNOON

The big new Oakland car of Mr. Frank Higgins, driven by his son Maury, was wrecked last Sunday afternoon on the highway north of Clanton, near Mr. Jeff Blankenship's place. From the best information obtainable it seems that the driver lost control of the machine, and as it left the road and slid down a shallow bank became entangled in a barb wire fence. The car turned over, but fortunately, none of the occupants were seriously hurt.

Those in the car, all children, were the driver, Maury Higgins, J. P. Crumpton, Robert Alred, Willie Higgins, Marjorine Alred. J. P. Crumpton sustained a broken collar bone, and was carried to the Central Alabama Hospital. The car was damaged considerably.

SCHOOL BOARD CONSIDERING GREAT FORWARD STEP IN EDUCATION

The School Board of Chilton county now has under consideration the adoption of a policy which they believe will be a great advancement of the cause of education in a number of the rural districts of the county.

The plan is to consolidate the following districts into one combination: Clanton, Union Point, Pinedale, Jackson's Chapel, Cane Creek, Macedonia, Lock 12, Shaw's Mill and Mullins Academy. We are informed by the Superintendent that the proposition does not provide for the discontinuance of any one of the schools in the above named districts, but merely seeks to combine them all into one district, with the view to being able to greatly increase the revenue that is now coming to the support of these schools in the way of taxation money on property within this territory.

The development of the plans of the County Board in this matter will be watched with interest by those who want to see the schools of the county prosper and continue to grow in worth and service to their communities.

PULL FOR THE ROAD FROM CLANTON TO SELMA

The Union-Banner has heard it said that there is a great effort now being made to have the proposed state road out of Selma go up by Montevallo and connect with the Birmingham Highway at Calera, instead of connecting with the Highway at Clanton. We think it would be well right now for the people of Clanton, and those who live between here and Maplesville, to get to work in the interest of having the road from Selma come from Maplesville to Clanton instead of to Calera. We understand that the State Highway Commission will have a meeting right away to consider this road, and it would be well for us to be prepared to present our claims to this commission in no uncertain terms.

Mr. Harry E. Clay of the Peterman Construction Company, together with Mr. A. B. Baxley, and Mr. O. H. Mastin, are making a canvass of the entire county, and they report that results of their efforts are very encouraging, notwithstanding the bad weather and other minor hindrances which they encounter.

Our class was not as strong as usual as some of the singers attended the annual Easter singing at Poplar Springs. But we had enough to do some real singing. We had several visitors with us that were real good singers, and we thank them for coming and helping us. Come again and bring someone with you. We are always glad to have visitors to come and help us. We think that we have one of the best classes in the county. We also have one of the best quartets in the county which adds lots to the life of our singing. So come along and help us out in this good work.

ILLEGAL TO HOLD COURT IN STREET, TRIBUNAL DECIDES

Chilton County Man Given New Trial On Novel Plea.—Decisions Announced.

George Kilgore, convicted of stealing an automobile in Chilton county, won another trial in the court of appeals Tuesday afternoon because the trial judge permitted the case to be transferred into the streets of Clanton and permitted one witness to submit testimony while the judge, jury, lawyers and spectators were not in the court room. It was a novel case, and in so far as recollections of attorneys at the capital go a similar one has never come up in Alabama.

Kilgore was charged with stealing an automobile belonging to Ruth Gowan and taking it to Americus, Ga., where it was discovered. In the trial of the case the owner was permitted to give testimony while the court was inspecting the automobile which was stationed near the courthouse. Attorneys for Kilgore objected on the ground that a case could not be tried at any place except in the courthouse. The court of appeals held that the trial judge erred in permitting the witness to give her testimony while standing near the machine.

"The effect of these rulings of the court was practically to remove the trial of this defendant, or a portion thereof, from the only authorized place where he could be tried, "the courthouse of the county in which the offense is alleged to have been committed," to the streets of Clanton.

Said the opinion written by Judge Charles R. Bricken, presiding judge: "The proper place for the trial of criminal cases is the courthouse of the county and not elsewhere, and in the absence of express legislative authority it should not be removed to any other place."

This case was taken up to the higher court by Grady and Omar Reynolds, attorneys for Kilgore. The foregoing report of the case is taken from Birmingham Age-Herald.

William E. Dever, democrat, and Catholic, was elected Mayor of Chicago Tuesday. He was opposed by the Ku Klux Klan, which organization, it is said, openly endorsed Arthur C. Lueder, the republican candidate. The republicans were successful in the Second Congressional District of Illinois, electing Morton D. Hull to succeed the late Congressman James R. Mann.

Preventative Medicine

The tendency of medical science is toward preventative measures. It is easier and better to prevent than to cure. Pneumonia, one of the most dangerous diseases that medical men have to contend with, often follows a cold or attack of the grip. The cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the pneumonia germ. The longer the cold hangs on, the greater the danger. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the first indication of a cold appears so as to get rid of it with the least possible delay. It is folly to risk an attack of pneumonia when this remedy may be obtained for a trifle.

WEATHER CONDITIONS HAVE DELAYED FARM OPERATIONS

According to the statements made by many farmers on the streets of Clanton the past week it would seem that the bad weather of the past few weeks has considerably delayed farm preparation. Very little planting has been done, and in fact only small amount of preparation has been made for planting. Quite a large amount of fertilizer has been bought by the farmers, and it is expected that they will get busy as soon as the weather will permit plowing.

LAWLEY NEWS

On last Thursday morning the death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Reed, and took from them their baby Edith Lorane. About 3 o'clock Thursday morning Mrs. Reed felt the baby was very cold. She wrapped it up, but did not feel satisfied about it. So she made a light and found that it was dead. The baby had been just a little sick, but the parents thought it only a cold. The remains were buried at Rehoboth cemetery last Friday. Rev. Foster Mills of Tuscaloosa conducted the funeral services.

Mr. Dolby Atkinson, of Shoults community, who has been sick for some time, is now here with his daughter, Mrs. Viola Hicks. He is improving slowly.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lawley of Tuscaloosa, were here last Sunday visiting relatives.

Miss Lilla Collins, who is teaching at Antioch, spent last week-end here with parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Collins.

Mr. Emmett Lawrence, who sold his old stock of merchandise some time ago, has put in a new line of goods in the house formerly occupied by Mr. Croff Shoults.

Mrs. Jim Cleveland of Woodstock, Ala., was here last week visiting her mother, Mrs. Fannie Hicks, and her sister, Mrs. T. C. Haley. Mrs. Cleveland will be remembered by her many friends as Miss Inez Hicks, formerly of this place.

Mrs. Minnie Collins went to Vick last Saturday to visit her son Fred. She returned home Sunday.

Mrs. Ed McGee has been very sick with flu for two weeks, but we are delighted to know that she is now much better.

Little Glynn McGee of Plantersville is here visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Celia Hicks.

Mr. Clyde McGee, who moved from this community to Maplesville some time ago, moved back here last week. There is no place like Lawley to the people who stay here long. The people here believe in good church and good schools, plenty of good, wholesome amusements for everybody, and it is generally known that this belief is fully put into reality. Of course, some exceptions exist.

The W. M. U. will give an entertainment next Saturday night, March 31st, at the school house, beginning promptly at 7 o'clock. Charges for admission will be only 10c. Two comical plays will be given. Before and after the plays, refreshments will be served. Everybody come.

GREAT DEMONSTRATION OF GRAY AUTOMOBILE HERE ON NEXT SATURDAY

George Polk promises us something real thrilling next Saturday when he stages his Gray automobile demonstration on the streets of Clanton, the purpose of which is to show that you can't tear up the Gray. George says he wants to pull off this stunt for the special benefit of those timid fellows who tremble at the sound of clashing gears, and whose souls are filled with constant fear at the thought of automobile repair bills.

Mr. Polk says he finds that there are lots of people who do not own and drive automobiles just because of this horror at repair bills, and he is going to show them next Saturday that they need have no misgivings at owning a Gray, and that they cannot tear it up if they should try ever so hard.

It is not given out as to the exact details of the stunts which the Gray is to be subjected to on this occasion, but George assures us that he will do things which nobody will believe could be done with an automobile without tearing it all to pieces. The only way to realize just what this car will stand is to see it do it next Saturday, according to Mr. Polk.

We don't know what it is that the Gray is going to do. It may climb up the big oak tree in front of the Baptist Church and jump out. It may run over some of the brick buildings in town and knock them down. It may run into a freight train at our famous town crossing and knock it off the track. There is no telling what George is going to do with the Gray. Be here next Saturday afternoon and see for yourself.

George says the Gray can't be conquered with rough handling, and he is going to prove that you can't tear it up if you were to try. Come and see who it is that is going to drive the Gray into something that would mean complete destruction for any ordinary automobile. George says look for the Gray to come out smiling as if nothing had happened.

Day by day the canning factory is getting nearer. Acreage is being signed up and stock purchased in a steady and confidential manner. There is no doubt now about the establishment of the plant, and when it is established, there is no doubt but that it will be a success.

A man in the north says he wants to locate in the South where he can grow fruits and vegetables and can them for the market. Don't you suppose Clanton, with its United Farmers canning factory will be interesting to him? He can certainly get the land he wants here on which to grow such truck.

United Farmers in Chilton county need have no misgivings about the success of a canning factory here. We know the fruits and vegetables can be grown here. And we know there are markets for such things when they are put in marketable condition. It does not require anything to bring the advantages of production and marketing together but co-operation. The United Farmers have the co-operation. There you are!

A SPLENDID COMMENTARY

Probably no better indication of restored prosperity can be cited than the request of Secretary of Commerce Hoover that "all government agencies be instructed to hold their building activities to a minimum for the next few months to avoid competition with private construction now utilizing all labor and transportation facilities to the fullest extent." Mr. Hoover argues that the government could be of greater service to the nation by abstaining from adding further to the load already being carried by the construction industry than by entering the field when it could hardly aid an employment situation now approaching a problem of labor shortages in some sections.

It was just shortly after the Republican administration came into power and raised the lid on the horrible mess bequeathed to it by the Wilson regime, that the cry went up for the government to appropriate millions upon millions of dollars for public works and begin construction immediately in order that some relief might be given to unemployment. And now the government is asked to lay off in order that private industries may find some relief from labor shortage. In 1920 the taxpayers were to be sifted in order that the unemployed might buy bread and shoes with federal wages. Today factories, farms, railroads and mines are irritated by the thought of the government being a competitor for the labor supply. They don't want the government in business, even business of its own. What a splendid commentary on Republican administration!

HUDSON MAXIM ON ALABAMA

Everybody who is interested in the growth of States, and at the same time informed about their respective resources and character, usually speaks with enthusiasm about Alabama. Alabama should take such compliments seriously, for they are seriously meant, and they carry weight.

It is undeniably true that Alabama has been "sold" to well informed Americans everywhere whose mental interests include the subject of development.

Recently Hudson Maxim, distinguished American inventor, visited Alabama. Returning to his home in New Jersey, he was asked by Miss Rosalie Armistead Higgins, well known newspaper writer, for an interview to be printed in The Advertiser, and this is what he said about Alabama:

"If a party of engineers should first travel all over the earth, and finally reach Alabama, they might justly exclaim, as did the Indians, 'Alabama, here we rest!' for nowhere on this planet did the Almighty so heap up and intermingle resources and opportunities as he did in this beautiful Southern State. * * * Never have I seen more lovable people."

It is scarcely possible to improve upon praise such as this. And we could not ask praise of one who has a surer insight into the values which he discusses than Hudson Maxim.

Mr. Maxim's high praise of Alabama follows swiftly upon the laudatory remarks, of similar import, made by Roger W. Babson, distinguished statistician and economist.—Montgomery Advertiser.

REPORT OF GRAND JURY LAST WEEK

State of Alabama, Chilton County.

To the Hon. W. M. Lackey, Special Judge of the 19th Judicial Circuit of the State of Alabama.

We, the Grand Jury impaneled at this, the January Term of the Circuit Court of Chilton County, Alabama, beg leave to make this our final report.

We have examined thirty-five cases and eighty-four witnesses and have returned sixteen true bills; we have examined the bonds of the county officials and find same with sufficient sureties to amply protect the county, except the County Treasurer, whose bond we failed to find, the same was not recorded, but when we asked the Judge of Probate about same, he immediately procured a duplicate bond for said officer and assured the Grand Jury that it was a duplicate bond of our County Treasurer, but the original bond could not be had. We recommend that the County Treasurer make a new bond, if the original cannot be had at once and have the same filed in the office of the Judge of Probate, together with the duplicate bond.

We have examined the books of the County Superintendent of Education and find them neatly and correctly kept so far as we could ascertain. We hereto attach his report and mark it "Exhibit A." We have examined the books of the County Treasurer and find them neatly and correctly kept and we hereto attach his report and mark it "Exhibit B."

We find that the County Court has been held regularly as required by law. We find the fee book of the Probate Judge has not been kept as provided for by law; we find that he has a fee book and we recommend that he record all fees in said book as the law requires. We have examined the Sheriff's feed book and found it neatly and correctly kept afar as we could ascertain. We have examined the County Poor House and found it in excellent condition, save a little screening and some repairs on the building. There are fifteen inmates, who seem to be well cared for and contented. We find the jail in a neat and splendid condition. We find the Court House in good condition, save some molding that is falling in the court room and some plastering in the jury rooms.

We find some of our public roads in bad condition. We recommend that the Court of County Commissioners have the road law enforced and amend it so as to have the work done at times of the year best suited to work.

We recommend that Mr. John W. Bateman, our Circuit Solicitor, have a copy of this report mailed to Gov. Wm. W. Brandon and that he be requested to send to Chilton County a State Examiner, and have the books of the County Officials examined.

We want to thank your Honor for the able, clear and impressive charge delivered to us, and it has been of much help to us in our deliberations. We thank the Sheriff and his deputies for the prompt service of all papers issued by us and our Bailiff for his prompt attention to his duty.

Dated this the 31st day of March, 1923.

JOEL H. GULLEDGE.
Foreman.

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager)

The series of special meetings, at the Congregational church, which closed Sunday night have certainly been marked with deep spirituality. Rev. Neil McQuarrie, the leader, has a wonderful facility in the interpretation of the Scrptures both in Bible study class and in sermons. His messages were both inspiring and instructive which was evident by the large attendance both morning and evening. The full harvest of such seed sowing, as Brother McQuarrie has done in Thorsby during the past week, will never be known. His messages were helpful alike to Christians and seekers after the Truth and will have an abiding influence over the lives of many people for years to come.

Mr. McQuarrie frequently expressed his delight in the associations he was permitted to enjoy among Thorsby people and especially with members of the faculty, the student body, and the character of the work being done at Thorsby Institute. He left Tuesday morning to take up his work in other parts of his field but we feel confident that there is a sort of magnetism about Thorsby and her people that will draw him to it at frequent intervals.

To people who have an idea that since the World War the whole world is going to the bad the report of Rev. Dr. E. O. Watson, statistician of the Federal Council of Churches of Christian America, as published in the Sunday, April 1st, Birmingham Age-Herald, will come as a surprise and ought to be consoling, as the source of the information is unquestionable.

"The increase of church members during the year 1922 was fifty per cent greater than at any time during the past five years, the most remarkable gain in the history of the church. In the United States one million two hundred and twenty thousand new members were added, bringing the total for all denominations in this country to 47,500,000. This means that almost one out of every two persons is a church member.

The total religious constituency of the country, meaning by that, all baptized persons, all adherents, and all who in the hour of death turn to a particular Communion, is estimated at 98,900,000 which comes within a few milloin of including the total population of the United States."

The neighbors and a few friends of Mr. E. N. Dyrhood helped him to celebrate the 68th anniversary of his birth Monday afternoon.

Mrs. A. K. Horn was a visitor in Thorsby several days the past week.

The Congregational Ladies' Aid will be entertained Thursday afternoon, April 5th, at the home of Mrs. J. H. Goddard.

The Luther League held a sunrise service with a program of music at the Lutheran church Easter Sunday morning.

Thorsby Institute annual picnic which had been arranged for Tuesday of this week, and postponed on account of rain, will be held Thursday, the 5th, weather permitting.

The Congregational Sunday school gave an interesting and varied Easter program at the church, just previous to the evening service, last Sunday. The house was well filled and the attention good.

Mrs. Hattie M. Gerald and daughter Agnes, will go to Birmingham Thursday night. Miss Agnes is to play the piano before a committee at the Birmingham High school Friday. It is the duty of this committee to pass on the qualifications of applicants for positions as music teachers in the schools of the State.

Mrs. Gerald will probably attend the Citizens Educational conference, called by Governor Brandon, as a substitute for Mrs. Norton who was invited but unable to go.

The primary department of the Congregational Sunday school enjoyed what has become an annual event in their Easter Monday egg hunt, when a variety of kinds and sizes of eggs, or near eggs, are hidden in the grass and leaves in the grove on Thorsby Institute campus and the youngsters are expected to find them. This and other features which are usually introduced make it a gala occasion for the kiddies, and some older ones.

In the death of Mr. James K. Snyder, which occurred at his home about 9 o'clock last Monday morning, Thorsby loses another of her oldest citizens. Coming to Thorsby, from Portland, Ind., with his family in 1897 as one of the early settlers in the then young colony of people from the North, he has so lived among the people here as to win the respect and love of all who knew him. Of a quiet and retiring disposition and deep religious character he has led a Godly life before all men. He was one of the organizers and a charter member of The United Protestant Church of Thorsby (Congregational) and from the beginning of that organization until the day of his death he was a member of its Board of Deacons. Mr. Snyder was in his 79th year and has been in failing health for the past six months. He was the father of five children, Charley W., who was formerly a pastor of Thorsby Congregational church; Ida H., Mamie M., Edward C., and Robert, who died in infancy, all except the baby who died were with him during the last few days of his illness and were present at the funeral, as was also a brother of Mr. Snyder residing at LaFayette, Ind. Mrs. Snyder and all other members of the family have the sincere sympathy of a host of friends in Thorsby.

A notable feature of the funeral which was held at the Congregational church in the afternoon of the day he died was the fact that the house was well filled on very short notice.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. James W. Davenport, assisted by Rev. E. W. Butler. A quartette choir consisting of Misses Agnes Gerald and Claudie Smith, and Messrs. Walton Bracken and Spurgeon Kelly sang several appropriate hymns. Burial was at Elmore on Tuesday.

We are pleased to note a long needed improvement at Thorsby Institute in the installation of several Standard chemical fire extinguishers of a substantial character, in fact they are identical with the kind in use by city fire departments to put out incipient fires, for which purpose they are admirably adapted.

We doubt if there is now an assembly hall anywhere in Alabama, outside the larger cities and towns, better equipped to cope with fire, or safer for an audience in many ways than is Bates Hall, with a substantial stairway on either side near the rear of the assembly hall, its fire alarm syren, and regular fire drills that teach the students to conduct a quick and orderly evacuation of the building whenever necessary.

While it is not expected that these fire extinguishers would be of much use once a fire got well started, they are an efficient and convenient means at hand to cope with small fires, which might grow to large ones.

Among the week-end visitors in Thorsby were Misses Anna Werniss and Inga Erdahl and Mr. Earl Mead.

A Farmer Cured of Rheumatism

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment and told him to use it freely," says C. P. Rayder, Patten Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Liniment; I want it in the house all the time for it cured me."

Queer Feelings

"Some time ago, I was very irregular," writes Mrs. Cora Robie, of Pikeville, Ky. "I suffered a great deal, and knew I must do something for this condition. I suffered mostly with my back and a weakness in my limbs. I would have dreadful headaches. I had hot flashes and very queer feelings, and oh, how my head hurt! I read of

CARDUI

and of others, who seemed to have the same troubles I had, being benefited, so I began to use it. I found it most beneficial. I took several bottles .... and was made so much better I didn't have any more trouble of this kind. It regulated me."

Cardui has been found very helpful in the correction of many cases of painful female disorders, such as Mrs. Robie mentions above. If you suffer as she did, take Cardui—a purely vegetable, medicinal tonic, in use for more than 40 years. It should help you.

A pretty event of the past week was solemnized Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Cox when their lovely young daughter, Miss Lurline Cox, became the bride of Mr. Earl Robinson.

The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Quantities of ferns and palms interspersed with Easter lillies were placed about the reception rooms, forming an improvised altar burning lighted tapers.

To the soft strains of Lohegrin's bridal chorus the bride and groom entered the dining room together. Here the impressive nuptial vows were taken, Dr. S. J. Ezell officiating. During the ceremony Miss Curry played, "To a Wild Rose," softly.

STUDEBAKER WINS SOUTH AMERICA'S RACING CLASSIC

A Studebaker Special-Six, driven by William T. Burke, won the Gran Premio of Argentine—South America's most important race of the year—against a field which included some of the world's highest priced cars. This race is an annual event held under the auspices of the Argentine Automobile Club.

This is the second year in succession that Studebaker has raced to victory in the Gran Premio.

The distance was from Buenos Aires to Rosario and return—about 470 miles—and the winntr's time, 10 hours, 45 minutes, 35 seconds.

Twenty-six cars were entered in the race, including those of the following makes: Studebaker, Packard, Lincoln, Hispan - Suiza, Hudson, Buick, Lancia, Chandler and Paige. Because of bad roads, only 10 of the 26 entrants finished, four of which were Studebakers.

A Lincoln, driven by Pedro Malgor, came in second, time 10 hours, 47 minutes, 29 seconds. A Studebaker Light-Six, driven by Paris Gianni, was a close third, time 10 hours, 48 minutes, 35 seconds.

The record made by the Studebaker entrants in the race is considered remarkable, in view of the Studebaker victory in 1922 and the rivalry that had developed.

The race is far more than a test of speed—it is a test of sturdy construction and endurance, especially under such driving conditions as were encountered this year. The service to which the cars were subjected was greater than months of ordinary driving and strikingly demonstrates the stamina possessed by Studebaker cars.

Gained 20 Lbs. Taking Tanlac

"Back in 1918 Tanlac restored my health so perfectly that I have been happy in mind and strong in body ever since," declared Mrs. Effie Campbell, of 107 16th St., Columbus, Ga., a few days ago.

"Why, by the time I had taken five bottles of Tanlac, I found I had actually gained twenty pounds in weight, and was so much stronger that I felt like an entirely different person. For a year or more my nerves were so shattered that I couldn't bear the ordinary noises about the house, and was so weak and run-down that my housework was simply a burden. I was seldom free from headaches and dizziness, and was so miserable that I was very discouraged and despondent.

"I could get no pleasure out of life until a friend persuaded me to try Tanlac. The medicine soon put me in perfect health, and I have been that way ever since. I feel that Tanlac has added years to my life and I can't praise it enough."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37-millian bottles sold.

The Widow's "Might"

Home of Mrs. Wright at Gough, Ga.

A True Story

In 1922, Mrs. Mittie L. Wright, of Gough, Burke County, Ga., raised 16 bales of cotton on 15 acres of land, with the sole assistance of her children, under most unfavorable weather conditions and the worst boll weevil year that Burke County has known.

In a year when many white farmers were abandoning their farms, and thousands of negro farmers were leaving the South on account of inability to successfully combat the boll weevil, this widow raised more than a bale of cotton to the acre.

She was enabled to do this because she protected her cotton with HILL'S MIXTURE at minimum cost and trouble. The boll weevil didn't get her cotton. Hill's Mixture was put on in the day-time, by her children, without any machinery.

Most Effective and Least Trouble of Any Poison!

Hill's Mixture is a liquid poison, composed of calcium arsenate, molasses, water and secret ingredients which form a combination that we are convinced, from results obtained, attracts the boll weevil.

The calcium arsenate, molasses and other ingredients are accurately measured in the exact proportions, and thoroughly mixed by machines which distribute the poison evenly in the molasses. Every mix is chemically analyzed before shipping.

Hill's Mixture is approved by the Georgia State Board of Entomology as a boll weevil poison.

It can be put on the plant in the day-time, by inexperienced labor without machinery. It is only necessary to touch the bud of each plant, about every 10 days till six applications have been made, and only the very heaviest rain will wash it off.

Protection For Your Cotton.

The price of Hill's Mixture is 77c per gallon, in 50-gallon barrels, freight prepaid to any Ala., N. Car., Tenn., or Miss. point; slight freight charge for other states. $3.00 charge for barrel, which will be refunded when barrel is returned in good condition.

Place your order with my agent whose name is shown below. Hill's Mixture is economical, efficient and easy to apply.

REBECCA DRIVER LOSES LAND SUIT IN COURT

A jury verdict in the circuit court of Chilton county last week was rendered in favor of Mr. Fitzpatrick for the recovery of a tract of land on Coosa River, which has been held and claimed by Mrs. Rebecca Driver for several years past.

This case has been pending in the courts of this county for several months, and has been tried several times. It was decided against Mrs. Driver once before, but her appeal to the supreme court gave her another chance.

The land in question is the old Bill Connell place on Walnut Creek, near Coosa River. It is said that Mrs. Driver will go back to the supreme court with her suit.

BAPTISMAL SERVICES LAST SUNDAY NIGHT

A great congregation of people assembled at the Clanton Baptist church last Sunday night to witness the ceremony of baptism administered to a class of fifteen candidates, by the pastor, Rev. S. J. Ezell.

Before the baptism was begun, Rev. Ezell rendered a short but powerful sermon explaining the methods and purposes of baptism as followed, practiced and believed by Baptists.

The pool which was provided in the erection of the new church building for baptismal services, was used on this occasion. Most everybody in this county who has been baptized, received the ordinance at "the baptizing hole" down on the creek. It is quite a contrast which one draws in his mind as he sits in a nice, warm well lighted church of a Sunday night and observes the baptism of a list of candidates, and thinks back to the time when he himself at the close of the "protracted meeting," was plunged beneath the waters of the creek which invariably flows near the good old time church in the country.

Those who were baptized on Sunday night were M. B. Arant, Ellis Arant, R. E. Bayzer, Ellis Jones, Mack Wyatt, William Hester, Chester Wingard, Alpheus Hubbard, James Welch, Orum Willis, Lonza Parrish, W. L. Feltman, Ruby Thomas, Erin Danforth, Dovie Huckabee.

N. L. Broadhead of Lawley had business at court here the first of this week.

J. W. Cagle, A. M. Mims and J. T. Bowles of Billingsley were here Monday on business.

MARCH MARRIAGES

Geo. S. Wiggins and Miss Leona Setzer; Oliver Mink and Miss Eva Ellison; Henry Gafford and Mrs. Minnie Vinson; James L. Wall and Miss Margery Strock; Alonza M. Vinson and Miss Annie Willis; A. J. Robinson; Geo. D. Miller and Miss Vera Mae Penson; Andrew Mims and Miss Nora Connell; Hiram M. Lane and Miss Nola D. Reynolds; Sie Lockhart and Miss Callie Deaver; Charlie Bates and Miss Minnie Belle Lee; Jackson Cleckler and Miss Ella Dutton; John P. Jackson and Miss Rosa Bates; Robert Grady Walker and Miss Elsie E. Gardner.

FOSHEE—HAND MARRIAGE

Mr. Bennie Foshee and Miss Roma Hand were united in marriage Sunday. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. W. Robinson at the home of Rev. M. J. Parrish, near Providence church.

The young man is the son of Mr. Green S. Foshee of Samaria, while the bride is the daughter of Mr. Robert Hand of Friendship. The young couple has a host of friends around Clanton, who wish them a long and joyful married life.

Prof. and Mrs. H. C. McDonald of Wetumpka were in Clanton Saturday and Sunday. The many friends of these good people were elated over seeing their smiling faces once again.

Before Baby Comes

THERE are thousands of expectant mothers who undergo much useless suffering for months before, as well as at the moment when delivery occurs. These months of suffering, with nerves and vital organs weakened, leave their effect upon the child. An eminent physician found the way to stop much of this unnecessary suffering—the same easy way which thousands of mothers have used for three generations.

Mrs. Walter S. Hadley, Bridgeport, Ind., says: "Before my little boy came I was so paralyzed in my hips and limbs I could hardly walk, and some days after a little extra exertion I couldn't walk a step. I felt it coming on this time; in fact, I could hardly get up when I sat down, but now, after using one bottle of Mother's Friend, I am so much better. I feel that I almost owe my life to Mother's Friend."

"Mother's Friend" is applied externally to the abdomen, back and hips. It penetrates remarkably, permitting the easier relaxation and distension of muscles, nerves, tissues and ligaments, and their constant easier readjustment during expectancy and at child-birth. Have no more fear or dread, mother! Start using "Mother's Friend" now—the sooner the better.

Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says: "With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse, and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used Mother's Friend and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor, because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes."

"Mother's Friend" contains no narcotics or harmful drugs. It is safe. For three generations "Mother's Friend" has relieved expectant mothers of much useless suffering. Mother! you must avoid mere greases and useless substitutes. Begin using "Mother's Friend" today. It is sold at drug stores—everywhere.

We are glad to report that the health of this community is fairly good at present. We are glad to know that Mr. Johnnie McAfee, who has been in bed for several days with measles is able to be with us in Sunday school again.

Our Sunday school is growing fast and we hope more of the older people will take an interest in the work and come and bring their children instead of sending them.

Sunday was our regular preaching day and Bro. Edwards delivered an excellent sermon. His text was "The Crucifixion and Resurrection of Christ." We were glad to have with us Bro. Champion, the former pastor of Mt. Carmel church.

Next Sunday, April 8th, is "Go to Sunday School Day," and we invite everybody who can and will to come to Sunday school on that day. We have a class for everyone, young and old.

Mrs. Stella Shoults, teacher of the Junior class, gave her class an egg hunt Saturday p.m., and a prize was offered for the ones finding the most eggs, and the winners were Miss Allie Walker and Mr. Robert McAfee.

We didn't have any B. Y. P. U. program Sunday p.m., on account of our literature not being here, but we hope to have it by next Sunday and we hope our group captain will be able to render a fine program. We are going to reorganize Sunday and we hope more of the young people will join us. We want to make it a No. 1 union. We have the material, if we will just get to work.

Miss Sallie Lee Bearden from Stanton is visiting relatives and friends of this community this week.

VOLUME X. CLANTON, ALA., THURSDAY, APRIL 12, 1923 NUMBER 51

ABOUT DRAINING OUR LOW MARSHY CREEKS

Petition Being Signed up by Land Owners Who Will be Affected.

In regard to Clanton's drainage project, we will state that the preliminary work is steadily being pushed, and in a very few days, the sufficient number of names will be signed to the petition to turn the matter over to the Probate Judge. Nearly the required number of names have already been obtained, but all whose land the project will affect will be seen in the next few days and urged to sign up.

This is a matter which we cannot afford to let lag. It will mean more to Clanton and adjacent community than anything else that we can do. Clanton has done practically everything it can until these swamps are gotten out of the way, and too, we need not expect any large industries to come here so long as there is such a fine breeding place all around us for malaria. No one can afford to bring hundreds of people here and expose them to such danger of disease as our mosquitoes afford.

So, there is only one sensible thing for the citizens of Clanton and adjacent territory to do at this time, and that is to rush this drainage enterprise to a finish. Every one who agreed to help work up certain sections should do their part at once, and let's get this work started off at an early date.

SAD DEATH LAST WEEK

The whole community was bowed down in sorrow when word was broadcast of the death of M. J., or better known as Bob Farley, on last Wednesday night. He passed away about 10 o'clock, after an illness of less than two weeks duration. The cause of his death was said to have been some sort of heart trouble.

Bob was fifty-two years old, and leaves a wife and two children, Hubert, age 18, and Myrtle, age 7. He was the only brother of J. B. Farley of Clanton, and leaves one sister, Mrs. G. O. Foshee.

Funeral services were conducted from the Seventh Day Adventist Tabernacle Friday morning at 10 o'clock, Elder Stevenson officiating. A great number of mourning friends were present to pay their last respects to the deceased and to share in the sorrows of the bereaved relatives.

The remains were laid to rest in the Clanton cemetery immediately after the funeral.

LAST WEEK'S COTTON MARKET CLOSED AT 29.50

The New Orleans cotton market closed Saturday at the high mark of 29.50, nearly double what it was just a year ago. One of the main supporting influences of the week was the better spot demand both at home and abroad. Also weather conditions over the belt were almost a continuous support for values, as during most of the week too much rain fell and temperatures were too low for the time of the year. Weather conditions seem likely to dominate the market during the present week.

Commissioner C. T. Walker of Shoults was in Clanton Monday looking after some county matters.

GETTING READY TO DIP CATTLE

Dr. P. P. Lewis of the State and Federal Live Stock Board has been in our county for the past few weeks working with our local inspectors locating and quarantining the ticky ranges of cattle in the various Beats of the county. Dr. Lewis says that some infected regions are almost ready to go to dipping, and asks for the co-operation of all the citizens in his effort to rid our county of this menace.

At the present time there is not a great deal of our cattle affected with ticks, and if we go at it right we can rid them completely in a short time; while, if we fool about much and allow our clean cattle to mix and mingle with those having ticks soon the whole county will be back right where we were before we ever took up dipping.

We all dislike this dipping business, and personally we believe it not worth the trouble and expense to us, but it seems that there is no way by except to dip our ticky cattle, so the quickest way to get through with it is the best. Let's dip those that have ticks before we have to dip the whole county again. Don't you think that best?

CLANTON MEN IN FORT PAYNE

We regret to announce to our readers that W. M. Wyatt and M. D. Foshee have seen fit to leave Chilton county. These two men are well known and held with the highest esteem by almost every person in Chilton county, and it will be learned with regret of their departure.

They left for Fort Payne, DeKalk county, Sunday morning, and will return in a few weeks to move their household furniture and families there.

Mr. Foshee was for two terms clerk of our circuit court, and under his charge this office was run most efficiently and to the perfect satisfaction of all the people of the county. So in his leaving we are losing a citizen whom we all will miss to the greatest extent.

Mr. Wyatt has for some eight or ten years been at the head of The Union-Banner in the capacity of Editor, in which position he has attained a circle of friends which is almost innumerable. He is also at present our Representative from Chilton county in the State legislature, which office he will continue to hold until the present term expires. He will also retain half interest in The Union-Banner, while the management of the paper will be in the hands of his brother, Thos. E. Wyatt.

Mr. Wyatt and Mr. Foshee are going to Fort Payne for the purpose of starting up a newspaper at that place. They have already purchased the machinery for an up-to-date plant, which is now arriving at their place of business. The first publication of the new paper will be about April 26th. They have not moved their families yet, but will do so in a week or two.

Although the numerous friends of these gentlemen regret deeply to see them leave, yet we wish them God speed in their new enterprise and hope that they have a bountiful success.

200,000 POPULATION IS BIRMINGHAM FORECAST

Birmingham, Ala., April 9.—As a result of the announcement by the census bureau that Birmingham's estimated population as of July 1, would reach 195,901, it was freely predicted by city officials and others that the city would reach the 200,000 mark within a few months, possibly by the end of the year.

Never has the community experienced such building activity in the opinion of real estate leaders. For the past two weeks banks of Birmingham have shown the greatest percentage of increase in clearings over last year among all American cities, according to Bradstreets.

GRAY CAR STUNTS DRAW BIG CROWDS

Last Saturday there were huge crowds congregated on the streets of Clanton to see Sie Foshee, salesman for the firm of Polk Bros., local dealers for Studebaker and Gray Motor cars, demonstrate the strength and durability of Gray Motor cars.

Sie took a new stock touring car which had not been limbered up, threw it in forward gear and speeded it up to about 20 miles per hour, when Bang-Crash, something terrible occurred beneath the floor boards of the little Gray, the rear end began to jump up and down, sideways, in fact cut up like a Mexican Mustang pony, then it started backward at a furious rate. Sie had thrown the Gray into reverse gear without slipping his clutch. He then repeated this stunt several times throwing it from any forward gear to reverse with the throttle wide open, without slipping his clutch, which is the supreme test that a motor car can be put to. The little Gray car did not seem to mind the punishment at all, in fact Sie said that it was harder on his nerves than it seemed to be on the Gray car.

Sie then loaded 12 grown men in and on the car and started it off in high gear up the slant in front of The Union-Banner office.

He then attempted to repeat the gear shifting stunts for the benefti of some late arrivals. He throttled her up to about 27 miles per hour in high gear then slammed her into reverse, and as the rear wheels began to spin backward they struck the brick side walk across 6th St., which caused a universal joint to break.

The crowds then said that she tore up alright that time, but Mr. Polk immediately told them without inspecting the car that it was only a universal joint broke, which cost only $1.25 to replace and that he would have it replaced in a jiffy and do the same thing over again to prove to them that nothing else was wrong. The Gray was then rolled up to the edge of the side walk, and Mr. Tom Carter, the Gray service man, replaced the universal joint in the presence of all the spectators in 20 minutes. A close inspection of the car showed that nothing else was wrong with the car, then Sie took it and went through the performances again several times.

Sie not being satisfied with what he had shown the people that the Gray would stand, he piled 17 people in and on it, and started her off again in high gear up the slant in front of The Union-Banner office.

After the demonstrations were over the car was parked subject to the inspection of the crowds to see if she was injured in any way.

She had gone through all the tests and come back smiling without any injury whatsoever excepting the one instance of a broken universal joint which was quickly replaced at a cost of $1.25.

Mr. Polk states that this supreme test should prove to the skeptical, beyond any question of a doubt, that the Gray is the most wonderful car on the market at any where near the price. Mr. Polk reports three sales Saturday which proves what the people think of the car.

510 SUBSCRIBERS IN TWO MONTHS

Our special club rate of three subscriptions for three dollars closed Tuesday afternoon at 6 o'clock. For just two months this club rate had been in force, during which time we wrote a total of exactly five hundred ten receipts for The Union-Banner. We consider this quite a record for two months.

We are indebted to our many friends over the county and state for this splendid boost in subscriptions. It was through their interest and efforts that most of these subscriptions were gotten up. And we take this means to thank each and every one who contributed their help so freely in our behalf. There are some who deserve special mention, but we won't begin to name them as too much space would be consumed. But we assure all of you that we sincerely appreciate your efforts, and that we are going to reciprocate by giving you just as good a county paper as we possibly can.

SINGING AT FRIENDSHIP

On last Sunday afternoon the Friendship Singing Society met in regular session. There was a number of visitors present, and a fine singing was had.

This was a kind of joint meeting between the classes of Friendship, Refuge, Walnut, and Providence, a number of representatives being present from each church. It was informally agreed between all four of the churches above named that they all unite their societies and have a singing one Sunday afternoon at one church and the next Sunday afternoon at another, and so on. All the churches did not adopt the plan definitely, but said that they would take it up officially in their next regular session and pass upon the matter. But it was virtually agreed that a singing be held monthly at each church on that church's respective preaching day, and all four of the societies join together, so as to have a better and bigger singing.

The regular round will start next Sunday afternoon at Refuge, being the third Sunday and their preaching day. Then on the fourth Sunday at Friendship, the first at Providence, and the second at Walnut, and so on from month to month.

The idea in this conjunction of the four societies is simply that we may be able to have more singers and leaders, and that we may not be confined so closely to our home churches all the time but that we may adopt the spirit of co-operation and show more fully the idea of unselfishness between sister churches. The result was easily seen and realized Sunday afternoon at Friendship, as there was a house full of singers and leaders to spare.

There was no superior organization effected, but was agreed that the local organizations have charge of the meeting when it was in session at that respective church.

The members of all four societies are asked to help in this move and give your whole-hearted support to it. Of course you are not expected to be present at every singing Sunday, but simply come every time you can and help out.

Dr. P. P. Lewis, whose home is in Coosa county, is in our county in charge of the cattle dipping business. He is at present helping the local inspectors locate the regions of the county that are infected with ticks.

PRESIDENT HARDING BACK OFF VACATION

Chief Executive to Resume Duties, Improved by Visit to the South.

Washington, April 8.—President and Mrs. Harding returned to Washington today from their five-week southern vacation. The presidential party arrived shortly after noon and went directly to the White House.

The trip from Augusta, Ga., where the presidential party spent last week, was made without incident. Mrs. Harding, it was said, was only slightly fatigued by the 16-hour train ride, indicating the gain in strength resulting from the five weeks spent in the South. The improvement in her health was further shown by the fact that she walked to the automobile at the station entrance, whereas on starting the trip the automobile was driven into the railroad yards directly to the steps of the president's private car.

Mr. Harding soon after luncheon visited his office for two hours, there looking over accumulated mail and arranging to resume work in earnest tomorrow morning. Secretary Weeks called at the executive offices to welcome the president back and the two talked for several minutes.

A number of matters of importance will receive the attention of the chief executive during the coming weeks and the president is described as most anxious to get as many as possible, if not all of them, out of the way before the middle of June, the time tentatively selected for the beginning of the proposed western trip.

The president has not as yet finally decided on the western trip, having deferred his decision until after the vacation trip on account of Mrs. Harding's health.

The president, it is expected, will give some attention within the next week or two to the sugar price situation, in which the tariff commission is expected to submit a preliminary report soon; and the merchant marine problem. With respect to the latter, it had been expected that the shipping board would be able to present to the executive by the middle of the month the alternative proposals for disposition of the government fleet.

Several appointments are soon to be announced, including a member of each of the three groups composing the railroad labor board, several of the additional federal judges created by congress, and a member of the federal reserve board to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of Milo D. Campbell.

Another matter that will engage the attention of the president, though to what extent is not as yet known, is the political situation, including various sidelights such as the proposal advanced by the executive that the United States accept conditional membership in the international court of justice. Senatorial members of the presidential party read with interest although without comment the announcement made by Senator Pepper, Republican, Pennsylvania, in Philadelphia yesterday that he planned to bring about conferences between Lord Robert Cecil, a leading figure in the activities of the League of Nations, who is now in the United States, and various Republican senators.

UNITED FARMERS HOLD COUNTY COUNCIL MEET

The United Farmers of America held a County Council meeting in Clanton April 10th.

About twenty-eight out of the thirty-three councils in the county were represented at the meeting.

The meeting was harmonious and enthusiastic all the way through. Expressions of satisfaction were heard from every corner of the house. Many were positive in their statements that no other farm organization had ever secured such results as the U. F. of A. was bringing about. Still the half hath ne'er been told.

The county board of directors was selected with every precaution. From seventeen nominations nine good men were selected to look after the interest of the organization in the county for the next twelve months. These men are as follows: Thos. J. Dorminey, Emmett Wilson, Howard R. Oden, Robert W. Scott, J. Pate Parrish, C. C. Williams, W. J. Morris, J. C. Veazey, M. C. Childress.

From the above men Thos. J. Dorminey, W. J. Morris and J. C. Veavey were selected to compose the county executive committee, who will be very closely connected with the county affairs of the organization.

The three men named above unanimously recommended O. H. Mastin for re-election to the office of county business agent. This met the hearty approval of A. B. Baxley, state manager, and it is hoped and expected to also meet the approval of M. W. Lamb, general manager.

Mr. Mastin will leave within a few days to enter the School of Opportunity at Blytheville, Ark., where he will be trained and educated, at the expense of Chilton County U. F. of A., to class and staple cotton to the finest point and broaden his sphere in general office work.

BIG ENGINE AND TWO CARS DERAILED

About 4 o'clock Wednesday morning, as a heavy freight train was pulling into the Clanton switch yard from the south, some little obstruction in one of the switches threw the enormous engine off the main track, and it continued its course up beside the railroad everlastingly smashing everything in its way The engine and two cars were thrown off before the train could be stopped, and some five or six rails of the main track were torn up and misplaced. But fortunately neither the engine nor the cars were turned over, as the ground where it happened was practically level.

This freight train was only a shrt ways ahead of the north-bound Pan-American, and it is very likely that if this fast train had hit the obstructed switch much damage would have been done and probably numbers of lives lost; but the heavy freight was not making much speed, hence not a great damage resulted.

Two wreckers were caleld to the scene at once and a crew of extra men was put to work on removing the debris and relaying the misplaced rails. The work was not finished until about 11 o'clock, and the whole railroad on both sides of the wreck was full of trains waiting to be let through. There were five passenger trains waiting on the yards until the track was repaired.

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH BUREAU OF PUBLICITY

Montgomery, Ala., April 9.—Evidence that the activities of the Alabama Board of Health is getting results in the fight against malaria, hookworm and typhoid fever is contained in the news from New England that a fight has been started to keep manufacturing industries from coming South, charging that ten per cent of the population is afflicted at all times with these time wasting diseases.

Charges not founded on facts always react to the advantage of the commodity of cause attacked, and the industries which are seeking to get nearer the raw material will not accept these charges as proof of guilt—they will investigate and find that while there are a number of localities in the South where malaria is distressingly prevalent, there are whole counties in Alabama where not a single death occurs in a year and only a few mild cases of malaria exist. They will find also that in many counties where the death rate has been high, scientific methods have greatly reduced the number of cases and that it can be absolutely stamped out.

The low cost of eradicating malaria, hookworm and typhoid fever as compared with the high cost of protecting against zero weather is bound to prove attractive to capitalists looking for manufacturing sites convenient to the raw material.

Preventative Medicine

The tendency of medical science is toward preventative measures. It is easier and better to prevent than to cure. Pneumonia, one of the most dangerous diseases that medical men have to contend with, often follows a cold or attack of the grip. The cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the pneumonia germ. The longer the cold hangs on, the greater the danger. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the first indication of a cold appears so as to get rid of it with the least possible delay. It is folly to risk an attack of pneumonia when this remedy may be obtained for a trifle.

There is no need to say anything regarding the Buick, for everyone knows the standing of this car. It is extensively used in all sections of the country, and has stood the racket from the very beginning of gasoline motordom.

THE UNITED FARMERS

The United Farmers of America is moving onward and upward.

When Mr. A. B. Baxley came into our county about one year ago our people told him that he would utterly fail in his efforts. But now it looks like the old man's train, since it is started, "they will never stop her." Now we throw our hats in the air and shout, "Let her go."

The U. F. of A. is one organization that proves her faith by her works, and her works are becoming more and more manifest each day.

Only a few weeks ago Mr. M. W. Lamb, the founder of the organization, and Mr. O. C. Dobbs, the national lecturer, were heard in Clanton by hundreds of farmers. These gentlemen know their business, and gave some of the most practical lessons in co-operation ever heard in our town.

Then to still further the work, Mr. Dobbs returned the latter part of last week and assisted Mr. Baxley in a number of meetings out among the farmers.

Friday night they were at Shiloh where a small but enthusiastic bunch of farmers were much encouraged by the sensible and practical talk given by Mr. Dobbs. Saturday the speakers were heard in Jemison by a good congregation. It is believed that this meeting will start things to humming around Jemison.

Saturday night Mr. Baxley went to Samaria, while R. D. Horton and Mr. Dobbs went to Union Grove. Much good was accomplished in this meeting.

The work of the canning factory, mentioned previously, is still climbing toward the top. This all goes to prove the United Farmers of America means business. Every citizen in the county should rally to their cause.

WANTED—Graduate of Massey Business College wants small set of books to keep in spare time. References. Apply to Union-Banner office. 1t-p

TOMATO GROWERS

The canning factory is now assured. All who have not subscribed for acreage and are contemplating growing tomatoes, will please notify the United Farmers of America at their office, in Clanton, either in person or by mail, and specify the amount of acreage you will plant.

Boils

S.S.S. will prove to you in your own case the "how" and "why" of its remarkable Blood-Cleansing Power!

There is a reason for everything that happens. Common-sense kills misery. Common-sense also stops boils! S. S. S. is the common-sense remedy for boils, because it is built on reason. Scientific authorities admit its power! S. S. S. builds blood-power, it builds red-blood-cells. That is what makes fighting-blood. Fighting-blood destroys impurities. It fights boils. It always wins! It fights pimples! It fights skin eruptions! It builds nerve-power, thinking power, the tight-fisted power that whirls a man up into success. It gives women the health, the angelic complexion and the charm that moves the world! These are the reasons that have made S. S. S. today the great blood-cleanser, body-builder, success builder, and it's why results have made tears of joy flow from the souls of thousands! Mr. V. D. Schaff, 557 15th St., Washington, D. C., writes:

"I tried for years to get relief from a bad case of boils. Everything failed until I took S. S. S. I am now absolutely cured, and it was S. S. S. that did it."

IN MEMORY

On April 5th the death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Downs and took from us our dear mother and grandmother, Mrs. Mary J. Rollins.

She had been in ill health for several years, but was confined to her bed only one week before she died.

She bore her suffering with patience, never murmuring or complaining.

She was 94 years old and had been a member of the Primitive Baptist church every since she was 18 years old, and was ever faithful to her church until unable to attend.

All was done for her that loving hands and faithful physicians could do but God saw fit to call her home, to a home not made with hands.

She was one of the dearest, sweetest grandmother's that ever lived. A place is vacant in our home that never can be filled. To know her was to love her. We miss her sweet presence so much and are so lonesome here without her but we know she is sweetly resting in the arms of our dear Savior where we hope to meet her some day in that blessed home beyond this vale of tears.

She leaves four daughters and one son, with a host of relatives and friends to mourn her loss.

Funeral services were conducted by Elders J. L. Kelley and J. W. Howell. Interment was made at Eiland cemetery.

Sleep on Dear grandmother,
And take thy rest
We loved you but
God loved you best.
Her grand daughter,
MAMIE G. DOWNS.

J. N. SCOTT BACK HOME

We are pleased to state to our readers that our good old staunch Republican friend, J. N. Scott (better known as Ignorance Drops), has moved back to Chilton county. Some three or four years ago he moved away from his home in Jemison and took a job with the railroad at Irondale, Ala., at which place he has lived since leaving our county. But a recent letter from him requests us to send his Union-Banner back to Jemison. So we are glad that Mr. Scott has seen fit to come back home.

Had Lost Hope Says L. Powell

Suffered So Long From Stomach Trouble He Thought Nothing Could Help Him. Now Well.

"Tanlac is a wonderful medicine and tonic, for it built me up to where I feel like a new man," is the emphatic statement of Luther Powell, well known retired merchant, of 2969 1-2 30th Street, Columbus, Ga.

"I will always bless the day I began taking Tanlac," said Mr. Powell, "during all the sixty-seven years of my life I have never seen its equal. For three years I suffered so from stomach trouble and kidney disorders that I could hardly look after business. I lost my appetite and always after eating would bloat with sour gas and feel miserable for hours. I lost much weight and grew nervous over my seeming hopeless condition.

"After my second bottle of Tanlac I felt a wonderful change. My appetite returned, my kidneys acted much better, had no annoying gas after meals, and the pains left my back entirely. After taking six bottles, I was a well man and have had no further trouble to this good day."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

NOT J. M. DUBOSE

Inglenook, Ala., April 7, 1923.
Editor Union-Banner:

Please allow me space in your valuable paper to say a few words to my many friends in Chilton county and elsewhere. I notice in your issue of the 5th inst., that the one J. M. DuBose was found guilty of violation of the prohibition law and fined $50.00 in circuit court. I wish to state that although I was born and reared at or near Verbena and in or near the vicinity where this offense was committed, that this said J. M. DuBose was not I, as my initials are J. A. and not J. M., but owing to the fact that everybody calls me Jim and as I have already been accused of the offense, would like very much to offer this as an explanation in the case.

Yours very truly,
JIM OR J. A. DUBOSE.

Would Shut Down Gas Works

"My stomach has been so filled with gas for the last three years that I felt I could pretty nearly supply our town. I also had frequent pains in right side in region of the appendix. Doctors didn't help much. One day my neighbor told me about what Mayr's Wonderful Remedy had done for him and I got a bottle of our druggist. I can say that it will do all and more than you claim for it." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. "Purina" Made the Difference!

EQUAL in laying ability. But the hen on the right was fed a common grain ration while the other was fed Purina Chicken Chowder and Purina Hen Chow. Grains have lots of material for yolks, but far too little for whites. As they can't lay yolks only, grain-fed hens lay fewer eggs.

Purina Poultry Chows form a complete ration, containing material for an equal number of whites and yolks. They get the most out of your hens, and cut the feeding cost per dozen eggs.

Drain Clanton's creek swamps and give her a chance to grow. She can't do much more until this is done.

Let's all co-operate with our tick inspectors and get our cattle free from ticks before the whole county is covered again as it was before we began dipping.

Dip your ticky cattle now, and avoid having to dip the whole county a little later on. Co-operate with our local inspectors, and let's get through with it.

The Athletic Association boys of our high school are complaining of not getting enough support from the citizens of the town when they have games here. We owe it to our boys to stand behind them in their athletic activities as well as in their regular school work.

Don't let anybody put it into your head that the draniage enterprise is any ways dead, for it is not. The petition has a string of names to it already that means a go, and others are signing up every day. You know it necessarily takes a little time to do anything right, and we want this drainage done that way.

The United Farmers, with Mr. A. B. Baxley as county leader, are pressing forward in getting their members to pledge certain acreage to different kinds of products to be canned. Just as soon as this is done, the work of constructing the canning factory will be commenced. The farmers of our county need not fear to enter into this movement, because it is a thing which will help you more than anyone else. It will give you a market for what you raise, and you will be given a decent price for your products.

Senator Oscar Underwood charges that the tariff is making the United States a hermit nation. Meanwhile both imports and exports are increasing under the new tariff law, and they are far larger than they were during any normal year under the law which Mr. Underwood fathered. The Alabama Senator and his Democratic colleagues can not convince the people by words alone. The official figures tell the tale of expanding foreign trade and prosperity restored. There is no getting away from the facts.

TO OUR READERS

In taking charge of The Union-Banner and assuming the responsibilities of editor and publisher, I do so with a full realization of the duties that evolve upon me. I have been connected with this paper for over ten years, and have been half owner and business manager for about five years, which relations give me a thorough scope of what it takes to make an appreciative newspaper. So, in the absence of my brother, I am going to use every effort to maintain the high class weekly paper which we have been giving you heretofore. It shall be my foremost intentions, at all times, to give you a paper to read that is well worth your money and at the same time use every effort to upbuild and improve our county.

I want to ask the help and co-operation of my friends all over the county, because without your assistance no one can make a newspaper that would be worth very much. When something of interest happens in your community, write it up and send it in and we shall be glad to make use of it. We want to give you a paper that will be worth your time, and if you will just help us a little we promise to do the rest.

Respectfully,
T. E. WYATT.

BASEBALL GAME
FRIDAY, APRIL 20

The High School Athletic Association announces a baseball game on their ground on next Friday afternoon, April 20th, when they will engage in a battle with Plantersville High School. They promise an interesting game and urge all who can to come out and see it. Game will begin promptly at 3 o'clock.

The people of Clanton are not responding as they should to the efforts that the high school boys are putting forth in base ball. They have had some two or three games this season, and each time there were not enough present to begin to pay the expenses of bringing the visiting players here. This should not be the case; and unless our townspeople show more spirit of appreciation for our boys, the association will be compelled to cancel all games for the future. So bear in mind the date and take a few hours off to see this game. It will be worth your time.

Frank Merchant, C. W. Dawson and W. E. Sims of Jemison, Route 3, were in Clanton last Friday. They brought a club of subscribers to The Union-Banner, which included their own and three other neighbors.

THE CRAZE FOR IMPORTATIONS

A correspondent of the New York Herald writes the editor that the words "American" and "national" appear to have a meaning with which most of us are not familiar. He read in the paper of the establishment of an American National theatre, but later discovered that its director came from Russia and that most of its cast had foreign names. Apparently the only thing American about it are the patrons who pay their good money through the box office window. The theatre is only one feature of our lives that would be vastly improved if we could get away from the notion that Europe is the center of art and culture. The craze for importations extends not only to articles of commerce but to individuals as well—actors, singers, painters, designers, etc. Certain foreigners may be specially gifted by nature so that they may rightfully command high American salaries and the approval of American audiences, but those who owe their success merely to training and education under European instructors have no right to claim a superiority over Americans. It is time we asserted our own standards, not only in the field of art but also in the industrial world, and weaned our people away from the idea that "Made in Europe" is a guarantee of superior excellence.

BREAD ON THE WATERS

Up to March 31, 1923, Great Britain reports the expenditure of £153,000,000 on mandated territories. In the statement of the Chancellor of the Exchequer giving those figures there is no mention of the receipts to the government or to British citizens from those former German colonies. On the face of the report the expenditure appears to be a net loss, but such is not the case. The British share of the mandated lands was about 750,000 square miles in Africa. The countries are partly wild, peopled chiefly by ignorant savages, infested with deadly animals and insects, and subject to virulent epidemics that make human life very precarious. Most of the area has not been surveyed sufficiently to enable an estimate of its natural resources, but enough is known to indicate rich mineral deposits and varied agricultural products.

In such a virgin territory the initial cost of development is bound to be large compared with the receipts. Railroads must be built, ports developed, industries established, mineral reduction plants erected, mines opened, plantations set out and matured, and all the host of other preliminaries that are necessary before a land can become self-supporting, to say nothing of exporting its products to other countries. That process is going on now in the African mandates, and accounts for the expenditures from the British treasury. But Great Britain is not making the investment in any spirit of altruism. She knows that eventually it will be returned unto her and her people many times over.

THORSBY SECTION

(S. E. NORTON, Manager)

Religious Education

In the early days of last November the writer while traveling from Chicago to Thorsby, had as a fellow traveler Mr. J. J. Sullivan, who for the past twenty-five years has been warden of the Minnesota State Penitentiary at Stillwater, Minn., who was on his way to Montgomery for a conference with Governor Kilby, regarding a plan, long in practice in Minnesota, by which any state may make its penal institutions not only self-supporting, but also to furnish sufficient revenue to finance all the institutions for the insane, feeble minded and blind usually supported by taxation.

Our talk turned to the prevalence of crime and the desperate character of the criminals of the present day. Mr. Sullivan said that from his experience in contact with this class of people, he was convinced that the only hope of improvement in the matter was through religious education in our schools and homes of the people.

A matter having a bearing on this subject we find an editorial in the March 8th issue of The Congregationalist, calling attention to recent action of the South Dakota legislature in an appeal to the people of the State along these lines. It was in part as follows:

"Following a lengthy preamble in which reference is made to the unprecedented 'crime wave' sweeping over America, to the increase of prison population in South Dakota by almost 100 per cent, to the multiplicity of bills offering diverse methods of remedy, without effecting any real solution, the Senate of the State of South Dakota, with the House of Representatives concurring, recently expressed the opinion that only religian could effectually meet the need, and passed resolutions calling for an intensified work of the churches and agencies of religious education.

The last two paragraphs in the preamble and the resolutions were as follows:

Whereas, the strength and efficiency of any republic, a government by the people depends on the best development of those people, which experience has demonstrated, and history shows, cannot be without religion. The strength of a republic is in the character of its citizens, their intelligence and their morals, inseparable from their religion.

Whereas, it is uniformly conceded that the remedy must be effected through the inculcation of morality, spirituality and conscience in the young, in church, school and home; therefore be it

Resolved: That the people of South Dakota be enjoined to at once address themselves to renewed effort to restore the balance between the spiritual and the material that our children be reared up in the precepts of fundamental righteousness.

That the churches and Sabbath schools be constrained to intensify their work and to extend it to every child within their respective spheres of influence.

That parents be adjured to exert every influence to restore the old time influence of the home in moulding the lives of their children, for the development of conscience and morality; that the family altar be restored and that in self-sacrificing love the little ones be trained in the simple virtues, of truthfulness, honesty and respect for the rights of others.

That the schools promptly reform their methods so that the rudimentary studies, as well as the sciences be taught only as subordinate to righteousness. That the emphasis be placed upon morality, good conscience, respect for parents, reverence for age and experience, and that all learning is but the handmaid of eternal goodness.

That is the judgment of the legislature of South Dakota that only upon the lines herein suggested can the true balance be restored and the crime wave checked, and civilization preserved."

An Available Source of Information

In a recent conversation with Miss Ellsworth, associate principal of Thorsby Institute, she stated that she thought that the senators and representatives at Washington must have a very efficient force of assistants, because she had applied to Representative Lamar Jeffers, of the Fourth Alabama (our) district, for data suitable for the use of students who are writing essays or other papers on various subjects, such as Conservation of Forests, Vocational Training, Agriculture In The South, Radio, and had always received carefully prepared information each time that was of just the nature wanted and withal written in most excellent English, a matter dear ao a careful teacher's heart. The very next day we found in The Age-Herald an article on the subject of Help for Our Senators and Representatives in which it was stated that Representative Jeffers' "Particular Bright Star" is Miss Florence Tichenir who was for several years Secretary to the late President C. C. Thach of Auburn Institute of Technology and as such she became widely known throughout the State, especially to students who attended at Auburn.

The annual picnic of Thorsby Institute, after being postponed twice on account of bad weather, was held on Tuesday of this week, in the woods about a mile southwest of Thorsby. It was an all day affair and the attendance was large. Stunts and games besides the "eats" were the order of the day.

On Friday night of this week there will be a debating contest between the winning side of a debate on the same subject at Chilton County High School at Clanton and Thorsby Institute. The subject being, Resolved: That Moving Pictures, as now presented are not injurious to the public. The debate will be at Clanton, in the High school building, and Thorsby Institute will be represented by Rev. Ben F. Dykes and Truman Pierce, who will discuss the question from the affirmative side. The names of Chilton high representatives on the negative are not at present known to the writer. Groups are being formed to go from Thorsby by autos.

ALABAMA NEWS HAPPENINGS.

A Resume of the More Important Events of Interest Condensed To An Epitomized Form.

Prosperity in the south which is without precedent during the past four years, is responsible for the shortage in freight cars, according to a letter received by the public service commission from M. J. Gormley, chairman of the car service division of the American Railway Association. Mr. Gormley said the Association had checked the records for this year in comparison with other years and had found that the freight movements in the southern states had shown a greater ratio of increase than those of any other section of the nation.

Following up an extensive plan for paving streets in Tuscaloosa, the city commission has passed an ordinance preliminary to paving Greensboro avenue, from Thirteenth street to the Alabama Great Southern depot, and also parts of the streets near the Alabama Great Southern station. Citizens of every section of Alabama have been called into conference at Birmingham April 6 for discussion of the state's educational problems in an appeal made public by Governor Brandon. Gov. TRIANGULAR LOVE AFFAIR IS FATAL

Montgomery, Ala., April 9.—The end of an alleged love affair came Sunday afternoon when Joe Reynolds, 28, an employee of the Western Railway of Alabama, shot and instantly killed Miss Elmar Hamner, 19, at her home, 322 North Lawrence St.

Reynolds, who is a married man, told the police that he was forced to shoot in self defense.

The coroner has returned a verdict of "premeditated murder in the first degree," against Reynolds.

Mrs. Reynolds was quoted by police as declaring confidence in her husband. She was also quoted by police as stating that Miss Hamner had caused her husband trouble.

Reynolds declares he went to the home Sunday to get some clothes he had purchased and given to the girl. He told police that Mrs. J. E. Brown, occupant of the house, and Miss Hamner, both turned upon him and that Miss Hamner advanced with a knife. Whereupon he fired, he said.

Mrs. Brown told police a different story. She says that Miss Hamner endeavored to get Reynolds to quit bothering her and go back to his wife and children. Reynolds then drew a gun, said Mrs. Brown, and fired, with these words:

"Well then, I'll end it all."

Reynolds has been living here about three months. His wife only recently joined him here.

Queer Feelings

"Some time ago, I was very irregular," writes Mrs. Cora Robie, of Pikeville, Ky. "I suffered a great deal, and knew I must do something for this condition. I suffered mostly with my back and a weakness in my limbs. I would have dreadful headaches. I had hot flashes and very queer feelings, and oh, how my head hurt! I read of

CARDUI

and of others, who seemed to have the same troubles I had, being benefited, so I began to use it. I found it most beneficial. I took several bottles .... and was made so much better I didn't have any more trouble of this kind. It regulated me."

Cardui has been found very helpful in the correction of many cases of painful female disorders, such as Mrs. Robie mentions above. If you suffer as she did, take Cardui—a purely vegetable, medicinal tonic, in use for more than 40 years. It should help you.

Cheap Flour is False Economy

It is a fact that a high-grade flour requires less shortening, less baking powder, fewer eggs. Good cooks have told us that they use just half as much lard when baking with Gilster's Best Flour.

The small difference in cost between Gilster's Best and ordinary flours, is more than made up in the saving on ingredients. It is real economy to use Gilster's Best Flour.

If you prefer a self-rising flour—Gilster's Featherlite or Gilster's Mother's Joy.

A large department store of Sam Mittenthal, which was burned some time ago, has been rebuilt and is now open for business. The store is a very handsome one and has large plate glass windows for the display of goods for both stores. Another new store is Mary's Place, which occupies the corner store of the three new store buildings just being completed by the Carroll Mercantile company.

A burial ground of what is pronounced to be an ancient group of mound builders has been unearthed directly across the river from Albany by Clyde Peacock, a farmer. Mr. Peacock made the discovery while plowing a field which had been under cultivation for many years. The plowshare was caught by a rock, which, investigation showed, was a fine specimen of a mortar.

Acting on a telgram from J. C. Despite the delay in ratification of the naval armaments treaty by France, it appears certain that the treaty will receive final approval in the near future, thus completing the ratification by the five parties to the agreement. Meanwhile France has done nothing in violation of the spirit of the treaty, even though technically she is not bound thereby. She is elevating the ranges of the main batteries on her capital ships, which she has a right to do and which the United States is likely to do under the appropriation granted by the last Congress. The American and French guns will then be brought up to a par with those of the British navy, which were designed for maximum ranges when the vessels were built.

This is a Studebaker Year

Studebaker outsold all other makes of cars in 1922 in Wayne County, Michigan (of which Detroit is the county seat) with the exception of two of the lowest priced ones.

To achieve a record like this in Detroit and Wayne County, which is admittedly one of the most discriminating motor car markets in the world, is a record of outstanding importance to Studebaker throughout the country.

Detroit knows motor cars and motor car values because the majority of the population is engaged directly or indirectly in some phase of the motor car industry. Detroit knows Studebaker because of the large production of Studebaker cars in that city and because of the high degree of satisfaction Studebaker cars give. And Detroit is partial to Studebaker cars for just one reason—the merit of the product. In St. Joseph County, Indiana of which South Bend is the county seat) a similar condition exists.

These records prove beyond any question of doubt that Studebaker is the best value on the market.

Facts About Child-Birth

AN eminent physician has shown to thousands of expectant mothers just how to be free from dread, and from much of the suffering which many mothers experience for months, right up to the moment when the Little One arrives!

Mrs. Wm. Washington, 107 Louise Ave., Nashville, Tenn., says: "There is positively no woman on earth that would be without 'Mother's Friend' during expectancy if she only knew the value of comfort."

"Mother's Friend" is externally applied to the region of the abdomen, back and hips. It relieves the tension on nerves and ligaments as month follows month. Finally, it makes child-birth a joy instead of a painful dread.

Use "Mother's Friend" as our mothers and grandmothers did. Don't wait, start today, and meanwhile write to Bradfield Regulator Co., BA-47, Atlanta, Ga., for a free wonderful book containing information every expectant mother should have. Get a bottle of "Mother's Friend" today. It is sold by all druggists—everywhere.

ALABAMA NEWS HAPPENINGS.

A Resume of the More Important Events of Interest Condensed To An Epitomized Form.

"The fate of the Warrior depends on fair division of the joint rail and water rates," said Col. T. Q. Ashburn, federal chief of inland waterways. "I hope the railroads will show a wilingness to meet the barge line halfway. In that event the barge line will fare well and the railroads will benefit substantially from the additional business created." Col. Ashburn was in Birmingham with Theo Brent of New Orleans, federal manager of the Mississippi-Warrior barge line. He said the fate of the injunction deciding whether the government would recoup the tow boats and barges heretofore leased to the Goltra interests would be decided in St. Louis.

The Sheffield Rotary club has been notified that its attendance record for February was second best in the United States. Four meetings were held in February, with 100 per cent attendance. NEW SCHOOL BUILDING AT ENTERPRISE

A committee of citizens from Enterprise were in Clanton last Friday soliciting public donations to help build a new school house at that place. The cost of the new building is to be around six thousand dollars and will replace the present building which is said to be entirely inadequate for the needs of the community.

The new building will be a five room structure, and will conform to the plans of the State for the most serviceable and modern school building.

Enterprise community has been for several years in the front rank of Chilton county communities in the support of the local school. This move for a new building further adds to their educational standing.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS GETTING BETTER NOW

Prosperity Marching on With All Business Better, Secretary Davis Declares

Washington, April 16.—Prosperity is marching forward and business conditions are steadily getting better, Secretary of Labor Davis announced here Monday. He based his optimistic observations on reports to the Department of Labor from 5,453 manufacturing establishments for March, showing an increase of 2.1 per cent in number of men employes, five per cent increase in total wages, and 2.8 per cent increase in average weekly earnings. A total of 2,135,564 employes, with total earnings in one week of $54,538,778, were reported by these establishments in March as against 2,092,285 employes and total pay rolls of $51,965,545 in February. Comparing March with February, 39 of 43 industries reported increases in employment, the greatest being in the fertilizer, brick, steel, shipbuilding and paper and pulp industries. Glass, leather, slaughtering and meat-packing and chewing and smoking tobacco industries reported decreased employment. Increased payrolls were reported by 42 of the 43 industries, ranging from 19.5 to less than one per cent in the pottery industry. Other increases were brick, 14.9 per cent; steel shipbuilding, 13.1 per cent; milliner and lace goods 11.5 per cent. A combined total of reports in the 43 industries showed that in March 87 per cent were operating on a full time, 12 per cent on part time basis, and one per cent were not in operation. This is an increase over February of four per cent and seven per cent over January in full-time operations. Increases in wages were reported in 41 of the 43 industries, leaders being foundries and machine shops, sawmills, furniture, iron, steel, lumber and millwork.

1,500,000 FOLK BOUGHT NEW FORDS IN YEAR

Detroit, Mich.—More than 1,500,000 new car buyers have joined the great Ford family in the United States in the last year.

This is shown by retail sales records of the Ford Motor Company.

During April last year more than 100,000 Ford cars and trucks were delivered to retail customers in the United States and this record has been maintained unbroken every month since that time. Easter this year completes one full year in which Fords have been going into use at the rate of more than 100,000 a month, bringing the total well over 1,500,000 for the twelve month period.

Since the price reduction of $50 last October, which brought Ford cars and trucks to the lowest level in the history of the Ford Motor Company, and with sales running above the 100,000 mark for the five consecutive months since, the saving to Ford car buyers in that time through the reduction had added more than $25,000,000 to their purchasing power for other necessities and illustrates the thought behind Henry Ford's famous saying, "Buy a Ford and spend the difference."

Ford Motor No. 7,000,000 was turned out January 17 of this year. Since then more than a quarter million more have been produced, and so great is the demand for Ford cars and trucks that at present dealers' stocks throughout the country are practically exhausted.

Nearly 6,000,000 Ford cars and trucks are in use in the United States at the present time.

If you haven't much money but need something, go to the Variety Store. Nothing in the store over $1.
